SATURDAY NIGHT'S NEWS.

Unsuccessful Conclusion of Negotiations with the Sioux, Regarding Their Lands.

Minority Report Defending the Administration in Respect to the Civil Service.

A Number of Probate Judges for Utah left Unconfirmed by the Senate.

By Telegraph to the NEWS.]

MINORITY CIVIL SERVICE REPORT.

An Able Defense of the Administration.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20. — Senator Blackburn submitted a voluminous minority report from the committee on the operations of the civil service, and asked that it be printed with the majority report. The very elaborate report of the majority, says the minority, gives evidence of many months of careful preparation. No information, it is declared, was furnished the minority of the committee of the purpose to close the case, nor was it even intimated that the end had been reached and the matter summed up. For this reason the minority was unable, in the few days allowed them, to follow out in detail the "tediously stated case," but it would endeavor to exhibit more fairness in dealing with the testimony than the majority have done.

It is declared an effort had persistently been made by the majority against the protest of the minority to limit the inquiry to the time covered by the present administration, and all efforts to bring out the facts as to the operations of the law under previous republican administrations, were invariably denied by a strict party vote. Despite the efforts of the majority, however, the report declares appeared from the testimony of several of their witnesses that all evils and abuses complained of today came down to this administration as an inheritance. Levying assessments upon government officials for partisan purposes was in general, if not universal practice, prior to March, 1885, and discrimination in the matter of appointment because of political views was proven by no means a novel feature, nor one which had been introduced by the present administration. The testimony in regard to the New York custom house, it is declared, shows that nine tenths of the witnesses who testified were anxious to air their grievances and tell what outrages had been perpetrated by reason of their dismissal from office.

The minority report declares after reading the majority report carefully, that the conclusion is well-nigh irresistible, that the improvement of the civil service of the country was not the idea kept in view, but the purpose of the framers was not to enlighten the country as was proposed in the resolution.

Nearly fifty typewritten pages of the report are devoted to an analysis of the testimony taken with respect to New York; Pennsylvania, Maryland and Indiana, and the points made in the majority report are discussed at length: The report concludes:

"If this proof taken from four cities is to be accepted as evidence of the present condition of the public service throughout the country, intelligent men will realize, and honest men will admit, that today, after nearly four years of democratic rule there are ten republicans holding office and drawing pay from the Federal treasury, where there was one democrat in the service on the fourth of March, 1885. Under a democratic administration it is not to be wondered at if, considerations being equal the preference has been given to democratic applicants for office. No system of government, nor code of law has ever been devised by human wisdom that was perfect. Whether the civil service law be good or bad truth and candor compel the admission that its execution has been more just and fair under this administration than ever before. Whether the fidelity with which the President and his subordinates have sought to observe the law was wise may be disputed but the honesty of purpose with which he and they have endeavored to execute it cannot be truthfully denied. An army of holding-over republican officials is today drawing its maintenance from the treasury of the country, and if current report be true, contributing from their salaries. No effort is being made to dislodge them from power by the party at whose sufferance they hold their places. In the light of

and in many instances distorted, as the majority report shows it to be, the question arises was ever a more desperate effort made, employing more reckless and desperate methods to serve or save a more desperate cause? Candor will not permit the claim to be presented that in every instance every officer of the government, superior or subordinate, has been exactly and judicially fair and has acted without regard to natural and inevitable bias that comes from sincere conviction, but fair-minded men will take up the record and will declare this administration has not been lacking in an honest, earnest, persistent successful effort to execute the law and make good the pledges that it and its party gave to the American people.

In respect to removals from the New York custom house for political reasons, the minority report says conclusive proof is given in the testimony, not only of democrats but of republicans, that no removals were made for any political consideration whatever, and that in every instance where a removal was made, charges were made and sustained against the man removed.

Of the inquiry, the report says the testimony cannot properly be so named, as the aim of the committee was satisfied by calling but two persons, who can't be styled witnesses, and the production of certain essays based on newspaper reports. That such matter should be accepted as a basis for grave charges against the President and other public officials to the scandal of our government, is a most glaring exhibition of that blind and reckless partisanship which the committee ostensibly condemn.

The Drummers.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 20.—This was drummers' day in General Harrison's calendar of engagements. It was estimated that between 2500 and 3000 commercial travelers, including the home organization, participated in the days' demonstration. Large delegations arrived during the morning from Cincinnati, Columbus, Dayton, Zanesville, Lafayette, Fort Wayne and Richmond, Indiana. Several of these clubs were present from other cities. Small parties of a dozen or two were in attendance from New York, Boston, Chicago, St. Louis, Philadelphia, Buffalo, Cleveland, Louisville and other cities. At 3 o'clock the drummers held a parade, marching through the principal streets and out past Gen. Harrison's residence. The general reviewed the procession from his steps, and was enthusiastically cheered. There were about 2500 marchers with ten bands. At the head of the column marched "Uncle Samuel" in typical garb. Immediately behind him came two stalwart Ethiopians leading a monster bull, on whose back sat a drummer in costume personating an hilarious Irishman. The blanket on the bovine read "John Bull rides the democratic party, we ride John Bull." Thousands of people gathered along the route to witness the parade. At half past four o'clock they returned to Tomlinson Hall where General Harrison visited them. The galleries were visited with spectators among them several hundred ladies. The audience numbered nearly 5000. When General Harrison appeared there was a repetition of the wild scenes of two weeks ago, when the Chicago paraders were received. The entire assemblage arose, cheering, and the air was filled with thousands of waving flags, while the galleries were a sea of white cambrics. The ladies vied with the drummers in their enthusiasm. The cheering continued five minutes, when the audience became seated only to jump up again the next moment with renewed zeal. This was repeated three times. There was no introductory address.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

The Indians Refuse—Unconfirmed Probate Judges for Utah, Etc.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Secretary Vilas said today the Sioux chiefs formally notified him that they had rejected by a large majority the propositions made by the President through the Secretary last Wednesday. They submitted a counter proposition agreeing to accept $1.25 per acre, the money to be paid at once. This proposition, the Secretary declared, could not for a moment be entertained by the government. A small minority signified their willingness to accept the propositions. This concluded all the negotiations. The chiefs will be presented to the President this afternoon and will leave for the reservation tomorrow. Secretary Vilas expressed the opinion that one of the principal reasons for the rejection of his propositions was due to the fact that the execution of the law would break up the tribal relations, thus depriving the chiefs of their authority.

UTAH BREVET PROBATE JUDGES.

The following probate judges of Utah nominated by the President, were not confirmed: John Houston, Garfield county; Francis Hammond, San Juan county; Wm. C. McGregor, Iron county; Wm. T. Stewart, Kane county; Thomas S. Watson, Wasatch county; R. W. Cross, Weber county; James A. Melville, Willard county; Samuel Francis, Morgan county.

The President has approved the act making an appropriation for the enforcement of the Chinese exclusion act; the act for a lighthouse on Roe Island, California; the act in regard to the time for the meeting of electors of the President.

THE GEOLOGICAL SURVEY.

About the busiest place in the city now is the geological survey. Major J. W. Powell and staff of scientific men are engaged day and night in the solution of the problem presented by Congress in the new act for the survey of the arid lands with a view to irrigating the barren lands of the great basin between the Rocky Mountains and Central Kansas comprising 1,300,000, square miles, or one-third of the entire United States. A good deal of this cannot be economically irrigated for various reasons, but it has been decided by Major Powell that a quarter of it and perhaps more can be and that it is practical to make it so attractive to settlers that it will bear luxuriant crops and a dense population. If one-quarter were irrigated it would make the other three-fourths valuable as auxiliary timber and pasture lands. Regarding this vast undertaking, Major Powell said to your correspondent:

"I may say we have begun to begin. It is a stupendous project, involving a territory as large as Europe, which supports a population of 250,000,000. I see no reason why the land now unfertile may not ultimately be brought sufficiently into subjection to be desirable for farms and enough of it rendered arable by irrigation to support as many as are likely to seek homes upon it. The selection of sites for reservoirs, canals, etc., rests on a complete topographical survey which is the first factor in the problem. Nothing worth while can be done till this is at least approximately made. A large part of the arid region has been thus surveyed. We are now equipping thirteen parties for this special work in the field. Of course the amount of irrigable land in the west is limited by the amount of water flowing in the streams and the next thing to be done is to find how much water every stream carries. Every stream will have to be gauged. We must also ascertain how much land each stream will serve and this will vary according to the texture of the soil, the character of the irrigation, the aridity of the climate, the methods of irrigation used and a multitude of other considerations."

General Greeley, chief signal officer, in his annual report, invites attention to the inadequate present methods to insure proper instruction in military signalling at army posts. The percentages of successful weather predictions for the year were for weather, 87.4; wind, 75.5; temperature, 74.2—an average of 79.7.

The report of General W. M. H. Rochester, Paymaster General of the Army, has been submitted to the Secretary of War. The total receipts during the year were $16,098,664, and disbursements $14,461,703. In regard to the matter of monthly payments, General Rochester says forty-one posts are now paid monthly, leaving thirty-eight posts to which the system can be extended.

The President reviews the business men's parade in New York next Saturday afternoon.

Rejected nominations: Henry C. Hodges, Assistant Quartermaster-General; George H. Weaks, Deputy Quartermaster-General; Lewis C. Forsythe, Assistant Quartermaster-General.

RAILROAD NEWS.

Indebtedness of the A. T. & S. F.—Illegal Tariff.

BOSTON, Oct. 20.—The board of directors of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway have issued a circular to the stockholders stating that additions to the road since January 1, 1888, have amounted to 2776 miles. During the same time locomotives and new rolling stock have been acquired amounting in value to $7,283,000. The company now owns, exclusive of its interest in the Atlantic & Pacific Railway and roads in Kansas owned jointly with the Union Pacific and St. Louis & San Francisco, 6,391 miles of road. Its bonded indebtedness on the above mileage is less than $20,850 per mile, and the capital stock is less than $11,500 per mile.

The circular reviews the causes which have served to depreciate the earnings of the road and states that the closing up of this new construction comes at a trying period. The present net floating indebtedness don't exceed $5,000,000 exclusive of $141,000 for coal, etc. The funding of this indebtedness it has been decided to postpone until a more favorable period, but in the meantime to protect the company a guarantee fund of $7,000,000 of subscribed money will be secured, which will be called on to any extent necessary. Subscribers will receive the company's notes at par for any money they pay, bearing 6 per cent interest and running three years, but with the privilege of prepayment reserved. It is believed this guarantee is ample to protect all liabilities, and it is agreed that the amount of these notes may be increased to a sum not exceeding $10,000,000 if it be found necessary. The notes are to be secured by a second mortgage of the Atchison main line in Kansas and a deposit of the Chicago, Santa Fe & California line and terminal stocks with the Boston Safe Deposit trustees.

ILLEGAL RATES.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—The transcontinental tariffs, against which the Chicago merchants made so much complaint, have been declared illegal by the inter-state commerce commission on the ground that these discriminate against individuals and localities. Chairman Leeds and Midgely, who have been in conference with members of the commission at Washington, have telegraphed the result to the interested lines in their respective associations.

The decision applies to commodity tariffs, which were the ones that caused all the row. It has been decreed that the disturbing tariff should be withdrawn. In advising the transcontinental roads of this decision Chairman Leeds has directed them to put in force tariff No. 8 in place of the objectionable tariff and apply it to all points between the Atlantic seaboard and the Missouri river. The effect of this is to give all interior points precisely the same rates as on Pacific Coast business that apply from New York, so that Chicago and other western cities will be just as well off as the Atlantic seaboard points and no better. By this arrangement the distance cuts no figure and the short haul has no advantage over a long haul so far as the cost transportation is concerned.

City of Mexico, Oct. 19.—The Mexican Minister of Public Works says no more subsidies will be granted to railways. The Mexican Congress will repeated three times. There was no in- repeated three times. There was no in- repeal the colonization laws in favor of small colonies.

BERLIN NEWS.

William's Travels.—That Interview with the Pope.—Dr. McKenzie, etc.

BERLIN, Oct. 20.—Emperor William is expected to arrive at Drewitz Station, near Potsdam, tomorrow, on his return from Italy. He will drive immediately to the Marble Palace, where he will pass the day in retirement with his family. Emperor William will visit Berlin in the afternoon, where he will receive the congratulations of the municipal authorities upon his return. Wednesday he will resume his itinerary going to Blankenberg, where he will meet the Regent of Brunswick. He will then visit Prince Bismarck, who will probably accompany him to Hamburg, where the Emperor is expected to arrive on October 29th, and where he will preside over the celebration of the entry of that city into the Zollverein. After leaving Hamburg the Emperor visits Leipsic, and on the 31st instant he will lay the corner stone of the Imperial Palace of Justice. He will return to Berlin early in November and will be present at the opening of the new Landtag. It is also designed that he will receive the Czar on the 19th of November.

The Russian Imperial family will pass through Berlin on that date, and the Czar will repay Emperor William's recent visit. The Czar and family are going to visit Copenhagen, where they are going to join in the silver celebration anniversary of the accession of King Christian to the throne of Denmark.

The Berliners anticipate a dull winter. The court is still in mourning and the leading families are absentees.

It is asserted that King Humbert will visit Berlin in the spring. The result of the Emperor's visit in Rome has, beyond doubt, been a blow to the Vatican's hopes. The semi-official press here has been instructed to maintain a judicious silence and to ignore the Vatican's dissatisfaction. The anger and discontent of the clericals breaks out in German and other Cathelic organs.

It is admitted that the Emperor used the utmost tact in his and Cardinal Rampolla, Secretary of State, but authentic advices from Rome, which are accepted as accurate by official and Catholic circles state that the Pope forced from Emperor William the declaration that Germany could not encourage the Papal aspirations without endangering the present entente with the Italian Government. From a member of the imperial attendants it became known that Emperor William, while telling King Humbert how the Pope had insisted on talking of the question of Rome, said: "I had to destroy his illusions and it was done effectually." The Vatican does not rest submissive nor inactive. Cardinal Rampolla, besides instructing the Bishops to renew the agitation for sympathy with the Pope, has prepared a statement that His Holiness consented to receive the Emperor after obtaining a declaration that the visit did not imply any recognition of the incorporation of Rome with Italy.

At a meeting of the Medical Society here on Thursday last the members debated and approved the report the effect of which will amount to of distorting the facts disclosed by the post mortem examination and of a general divergence from the truth. The ex-Empress is implicated in both Mackenzie's statements and in Gefficken's line of defense. The friends of the late Empress are hopeful that the high character of the ex-Empress will find a vindication in the developments of Gefficken's trial. The group surrounding Dr. Friedberg is gaining much strength so that it may soon have power to influence the abandonment of the prosecution of Professor Gefficken. The charge against him, as now defined, is a treasonable divulging of documents. The least sentence it would be possible to inflict on conviction on this charge is two years' penal servitude. Emperor William is much less desirous that his trial should be proceeded with than is Prince Bismarck, whom the Emperor persuaded to direct an abandonment of the prosecution when his vindictive action appeared likely to recoil on himself.

The Landtag electoral excitement is on the increase, as is also the activity of the police in suppressing the meetings hostile to the government.

Brutal Prize Fight

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Oct. 20.—A thirty-three round prize fight occurred today between George Siddons, of Milwaukee, and Harry Jones of this city. The first part of the fight was tame but later the men got down to business. Jones had the worst of it from the start and was knocked down several times and in the thirty-second round was very groggy and could scarcely come to the scratch. In the last round he resorted to clinching and the third time he did this the combatants fell and Jones dragged himself to his corner with a broken arm. The fight was then given Siddons on a foul. Both men were frightfully punished.

Exposing Spiritualism with the Big Toe.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—The once celebrated Fox Sisters, who are patentees of the method of exposing medium spiritualists, appeared tonight before a large audience at the Academy of music, to expose the fraud of spiritualism. Mrs. Margaret Fox Kane read her lecture in a faltering voice and produced the famous rappings, so they were plainly audible, by a movement of her big toe joint. She thanked God she was able to expose spiritualism.

Important to Every Household.

Nothing can be of more vital importance to any human being than his daily food. So much has been said about Baking Powders and the substances which enter into their manufacture, such as Alum, etc., that in justice to the human stomach a timely suggestion would be acceptable.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder, which has been made for more than a quarter of a century, used in millions of homes, has been found by the heads of the great Universities of this country, free from Alum, Ammonia, Lime or any drug taint.

Thus, in the use of Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder and Delicious Flavoring Extracts you are guaranteed not only greater strength but perfect purity. 1y
