The funeral of Raphael Grange was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Third ward meetinghouse. The interment was in the city cemetery.

OGDEN, Aug. 13.—A number of small boys learning to smoke near a haystack caused a fire that destroyed five tons of hay and gave the fire department a long chase to Seventh street and Quincy avenue yesterday afternoon. The hay belonged to William Reid of Reid Brothers' harness store.

They had been sent to the camp to do some work and escaped from there. They were reported as having been seen near the Ogden Canyon sanatorium, but the officers who went in that direction were not able to find further trace of them.

ENCAMPMENT NOTES.

Nine thousand people went to Saltair yesterday, of whom 3,800 went into the water.

The Massachusetts delegates are resolved that the national encampment should be held in cooler weather. They propose to make a move in that direction.

The exodus began last evening when The Engar band of Fremont county, Idaho, has two boys of 14 members. One plays cornet, the other clarinet.

The Ohio veterans propose asking the next Ohio legislature to appropriate enough money to enable the Ohio veterans to take with them the Fourth Infantry band of Columbus to the next annual encampment.

Assistant Adjutant-General John W. P. Johnson for the G. A. R. department of Maine, walked up to the "U" on the side hill, the other morning, on a wager. He returned pretty well dragged out, but pleased at having won the wager.

Yesterday Color Bearer, George E. Tracy, of Wareham, Mass., in the presence of the G. A. R. veterans, said today: "It never will be equalled, but they'll have to get up early in the morning to do so. They never will excel our reception here."

Mrs. Emma Ramsey-Morris, daughter of George J. Ramsey of Illinois, an old veteran who was one of the best known officers in the service while alive, has tendered an invitation to the National Civil War Musicians (drum corps) to attend a reception in their honor at her home this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Music, refreshments and social chat will be the order of the afternoon.

For the first time perhaps at any encampment, one regiment has three of its men as delegates from as many different states. This regiment is the Fifth Pennsylvania volunteers. The three delegates all came from this famous old regiment but were in different companies. They were J. Milton Mischke of Philadelphia, company K; William Williams of Ohio, company C; H. DeGraw, company L.

The Union Pacific band of Ellis, Kas., serenaded Prof. J. M. Clellan, chairman of the music committee of the G. A. R. encampment at the Templeton building, this morning under the direction of E. C. Pearson. Mr. Pearson displayed exceptionally well his triple tonguing ability in the selection of "Ida Polka" on the cornet. The band has been highly appreciated by all who have heard it, and has received much praise from the musicians of this city.

The Lincoln Post G. A. R. drum corps of Topeka, Kansas, has been the musical attractions of the week for it is one of the most rhythmic or-

CACHE ROAD COMMISSIONER.

SERIOUS ACCIDENTS IN ODD FAMILY AT KAYSVILLE

KAYSVILLE, Davis Co., Aug. 12.—Three members of the family of Charles Odd of this place are victims from a series of peculiar accidents which befell them last night. The trouble began when Amos Odd, the son of 16, jumped off the O. S. L. passenger train at 11 o'clock last night, while it was running at a high speed. Young Odd, with a companion, Moroni Stewart, had been to Salt Lake to see the G. A. R. parade. In returning, they were on the Bamberger line as far as Farmington and then went to the Oregon Short Line station to catch a local train for Kayville. Instead of boarding a local train, however, they took the main line train. While going at about forty miles an hour past the Kayville station, Odd jumped off, rolling over and over on the hard ground. A broken nose, in addition to many minor bruises, the boy picked himself up and in a dazed condition walked to his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Odd also went to Salt Lake, the first time they have been away on a trip together for 14 years. They came home on an earlier train and went to bed.

When young Stewart saw how his companion fared when he jumped off the train, he staid on and went to Ogden, then telephoned back to Kayville, asking if they had the corpse yet. Investigation showed that Amos, after plopping up his nose, had gone home and quietly to bed. The first the family knew was when the doctor was called and neighbors came rushing in and got them out of bed with the sad news of the supposed terrible death of Amos. But Amos was upstairs in bed and was doing nicely in the way of recovery from the accidents sustained. The boy was the only one confined to his bed. The extent of his injuries are not yet known.

The Odd family was reported today as doing nicely in the way of recovery from the accidents sustained. The boy was the only one confined to his bed. The extent of his injuries are not yet known.

ENCAMPMENT NOTES.

Each member plays by note and the fine quality of their martial music is quite thrilling. S. E. Hall is leader, and is also musical director of the department of Kansas. He has played 5 flat cornet for 45 years. J. S. Langston is fife major and A. E. Strauss is drum major. The corps has five fifes, six drums, one bass drum.

A souvenir which will be highly prized by the Lafayette school is a photograph of the National Association of Civil War Musicians which that body has presented to the school. The musicians made their headquarters in the Lafayette building during their stay in this city, and for that reason the school was presented with a photograph taken of the veterans during the parade on Wednesday. Col. C. A. B. Fox, secretary of the organization, is arranging the details of the presentation, and the picture will be received by the school early in the fall.

ASSEMBLY HALL CAMP FIRE.

Varied and Entertaining Musical Numbers Were the Main Feature.

With drum corps and other music and several good speeches, the campfire at the Assembly hall last night took on an animated expression in spite of the fact that a number of the speakers failed to put in an appearance. Col. Frank M. Sterrett, executive director of the G. A. R., was to have conducted the meeting but failed to appear.

Judge W. F. O'Neil succeeded in organizing the campfire and entertained with a number of stories.

Aside from the chairman, Capt. W. F. Henry, past department commander of Missouri, delivered a short talk on the little bronze button.

Some entertaining selections were furnished by the Modoc Club of Kansas, among which was the famous cowboy war song.

The drum corps of the National Association of War Musicians played near the entrance to the Assembly hall at the beginning of the program.

Capt. Anderson of the Glen club preceded the first selection with a short address relative to the part he took in the war.

RECEPTION BY DAUGHTERS.

Enjoyable Social Function in Honor Of Commander-in-Chief and Staff.

Among the social affairs of last evening was the annual reception tendered by the Daughters of the Veterans to Commander-in-Chief Nevius and his staff. The affair was held at the Knutsford hotel. The reception opened at 8 o'clock with music by the gation, Col. Ferguson this morning met for the first time since the war B. S. Pearce, department commander of Montana, and Patrick Coney, twice commander of the department of Kansas. They were all members of the company H, of the Fourth New York heavy artillery, which formed part of the celebrated Irish brigade. This is the first time the three have met at any encampment, although Ferguson and Connelly have met before and are like brothers. The meeting with Pearce this morning was very affecting. Col. Ferguson had two brothers and his father fighting on the Union side, and his two uncles and their sons were engaged on the Confederate side. They were in different armies, however, and Col. Ferguson is sure they never met on the field of battle, brother against brother, and cousin against cousin.

Several G. A. R. delegates from Kentucky and Tennessee are to arrive until Wednesday afternoon, owing to railroad wrecks; while two Minnesota delegates failed to show up until yesterday morning. The names of the latter are Joseph Thomson of Northfield, and John W. Thompson of Fairbault. They came west by the northern route, around via Los Angeles, figuring on close connections, but their connections failed to connect because of railroad wrecks. The main Minnesota delegation itself was 12 hours late, not arriving in Salt Lake until Monday morning.

The Engar, Fremont county, Ida., band of 22 pieces, which has been entertaining the crowds this week, will leave tonight for their homes, after having spent four days in the city. They have made an excellent impression. The band has been organized for two months and is made up of the picked musicians of Fremont county, especially in this engagement. It is composed entirely of professional and business men of that county who are enthusiastic music lovers. Charles J. Engar is musical director and manager. The instrumentation is as follows: Three solo cornets, one first cornet, one second cornet, three first clarinets, two second clarinets, one E flat clarinet, three trombones, two alto, one baritone, two tubas, two drums. Mr. Engar, leaving Rexburg, organized a band of 45 pieces from which he expects good results. The band boys feel greatly pleased with the reception they have had and the many compliments received.

Col. W. V. Ferguson, who is in charge of the war relief department, is a member of the department, and who has several times been adjutant-general of that department, is one of the active members of the Colorado dele-
