The clerk was instructed to notify the secretary of the commission to meet with them on Monday, at which time they will consider the matter.

HINMAN SAYS "IF YOU PLEASE."

Mr. J. H. Hinman, superintendent of the county infirmary, and May Hinman, his wife, matron, sent in a petition asking for re-appointment. They called attention to the fact that among other requisites they did as much (according to ability) for the success of the Liberal party during the last campaign, as well as for the past ten years, as any who may apply for the position. They further state that no fault has been found in their management of the institution by either the public or the inmates, and if necessary they can secure the endorsement of a number of good business men who are Liberals, and others who are not. The petition was laid over until a later date.

FROM DR. ALLEN.

Joel F. Allen petitioned for the position of superintendent of the county infirmary. No action was taken, further than to lay over until the next meeting.

TAX ABATEMENT.

The communication of Rideout & Crapo, asking for an abatement of tax, owing to the fact that their stock of goods was destroyed by fire some time ago, was referred to the county attorney.

NO, THANKS.

C. T. Smart sent in the following:

Gentlemen of the Court of Salt Lake County:

I take the pleasure to resign, as I am a true blue Republican and I do not care to serve under the present court. I thank the past court for the great good it did for the Twenty-first district.

Yours respectfully,
C. T. SMART.

Mr. Smart's resignation as road supervisor was accepted.

A RECOMMEND.

IN THE CITY HOSPITALS.

ABOUT FIREPROOFING.

C. E. Stanton, secretary of the joint city and county building committee, sent in a communication with reference to the action taken by the Council upon the recommendation of the committee that Messrs. Doremus and Proudfoot be sent to San Francisco to inspect plans for fireproofing.

REPAIRS NEEDED.

Joseph Muir et al. called attention to the need of having Ninth East street repaired between Twelfth and Thirteenth South streets. The letter was filed.

CAN DO WITHOUT IT.

The following resolution was adopted:

In relation to the communication of the secretary of the joint city and county building committee in regard to the appointment of a committee to visit California to examine and report upon certain fireproofing there done under the Ransome-Smith system; now be it the sense of this court that it believes that the city engineer and the architect in charge of the joint city and county building are better qualified to pass judgment upon proposed fireproofing system than are the members of the court; therefore, be it

Resolved, That it is the sense of this court that it should adhere to and ratify the action of the joint city and county building committee in recommending that City Engineer Doremus with Architect Proudfoot represent the city and county in going to California to examine the work of the Ransome-Smith fireproofing system and reporting to the said committee; provided, however, that this action is concurred in by the City Council and the expenses of such committee be assumed proportionately by both the city and county.

The Best Place for Roots.

The best place to store roots in is a room or cellar that is dry and cool, but frost proof. A damp place will be pretty sure to induce mold, and though this may not prevent the roots from coming through the winter in a living condition it will so injure them that they will be pretty sure to give an inferior crop of flowers.—Ladies' Home Journal.
