WESTERN BUYERS THRONG NEW YORK

It is Estimated More Than Hundred Millions Will be Spent for Goods.

SAY STRINGENCY HAS PASSED

Local Banking Situation Continues to Steadily Improve-Fair Week in Realty-Revival in Building.

Trade the past week has been very fair; and with the following statement from New York as to the general markets there, it is not too much to expect a speedy and gratifying revival of general commercial conditions in this section of the west. The statement says

"The steady inflow of buyers from the west and south, which began a week or more ago, is constantly increasing and day by day hundreds more are added to the already large army of them in New York. It is now estimated that there are nearly 5,000 of them in New York, each one with orders for arge quantities of goods of every desfor the spring and large quantities of goods of every description for the spring and summer trades. In almost every case the buyers are enthusiastic over the prospects of business for the future. They say that the financial depression of last full has passed away, and that there are nothing but good time in sight. It is estimated that these buyers will spend more than $100,000,000 with New York jobbers within the next few weeks."

The New York Times of the 13th inst. says: "Another distinct improvement in trade was noticed by many wholesale merchants of New York yesterday, who found it necessary to keep their places of business open all day, although it was a holiday. During the day 700 new buyers arrived from out of town, raising the number now here to almost 4,000. More out-of-town merchants and buyers are expected today, and before the great army goes back and before the great army goes back to the west and South it will have made purchases amounting to many millions of dollars. The goods pur-chased yesterday were all spring and summer goods."

LOCAL CONDITIONS.

With the Salt Lake banks, conditions steadily improve. The clearing house certificates used in settlement of bal-ences between the different banks, in of cashier's checks, and all of the banks are now doing regular business at the old stand, as before the yellow apper period. Eastern banking advices report confidence as considerably recovd, with the money market settling wn more into normal conditions, anable funds on good collateral are ntiful, and good borrowers find no lificulty in securing all the accommoda ion they need at comparatively low stes. At the same time, it is reported hat full resumption of business activity that full resumption of business activity is retarded by the refusal of trusts to adjust themselves to the changed conditions. The local clearing house returns continue steady, though, of course, less than the figures of last year, which is to be expected for some time to come. The large decreases reported in both gross and net earnings of railroads is giving stockholders much concern; and a number of comsch concern; and a number of commuch concern; and a number of com-sanies have found it convenient to de-lare their last dividends in either took or other form of security than ash. Monetary conditions in the Salt ake market continue without no-icable fluctuation, and rates of in-crest remain steady and firm.

although no transfers of note. In-maries continue to come in, particular-ly with reference to residence property, and dealers report the chances good for a netable increase this spring in apartent houses. At the same time they ear, this may be overdone, and say hat this class of property is liable to be less remunerative in summer than winter, on account of such houses being so much closer than single houses in the summer time. Property owners continue to hold stiffly to values they set on their properties, which may retard the flow of transfers, unless there is more accommodation to the ideas of buyers.

REVIVAL IN BUILDING.

Contractors and architects report in-dications that there will be more build-ing the coming spring than there was last season, as many plans that were then held in abeyance on account of the fising prices of material and labor, are now to be pushed forward that these prices are lower and more reason able. An immense amount of con-struction work was postponed and held up at that time on this account which is likely to be inaugurated now, if conditions remain favorable. The brickmen are jubliant over the out-look. A Pasadena investor named look. A Pasadena investor named Cummings has already begun building at $35,000 apartment house at D street and First avenue, and has 200,000 brick piled up there. The house will be four story, with 16 four room apartments. George G. Smith will build an $3,000 apartment house on Sixth South street, between West Temple and First West street, three stories high, and basement, and is now receiving bids. If the labor unions and dealers in material will sell at reasonable figures this spring there will be a great movespring there will be a great move-ment in construction.

HARDWARE FAVORABLE.

The hardware trade reports an in-The hardware trade reports an increasing favorable outlook on account of the mining companies. Beginning to resume operations which calls for mining machinery. Then sales of builders' hardware and other construction, while the tion material are increasing, while the call for staples seasonable at this time call for staples seasonable at this time of year, shows no signs of abatement. Retail dealers are stocking up with garden tools, hose, fencing and such goods mostly called for at this season. Harnesses and saddlery goods are selling well, as usual. There is no complaint in hardware lines.

LUMBERMEN IN CONVENTION.

The lumbermen are especially interested at this time in the Tacoma, Vash., conventions. There are three Wash, conventions. There are three of these, the Western Retail Lumbermens' association, the Lumber Manufacturers' association and the Southwestern Washington Lumbermen's association and the South-Western Washington Lumbermen's Association Resident Course F. Merelli sociation. President George E. Merrill of the former, and some 15 or 20 other Utah dealers have gone on to attend, Mr. Merrill expecting to be away three weeks. There is no regular program before these meetings, the topics being suggested by the exigencies of the hour. The various chambers of commerce on The various chambers of commerce on the coast are much interested in these conventions, particularly as they have exerted themselves to bring about harmonious relations between the lumbermen and the railroads, so that the latter are more ready now to meet the requests of the producers. The trade reports the sale of 250,000 feet of lumber to the Utah Copper company, also a heavier busitiess than a year ago, although its continuance depends on commercial conditions.

WHOLESALE DRY GOODS.

Local wholesale dry goods men re-port their lines in spring and summer goods complete, with little change in fashions, except that the demand is for port their lines in spring and summer goods complete, with little change in fashions, except that the demand is for plain color staples, with some re-orders on dress fabrics, and such cancellations of orders as there were, recalled in particularly every instance. The local belief is that more goods will be sold this spring than last year. Jobbers report that operations in cotton goods are "buying the market down," which is a new phase in the distribution of this class of textiles, purchasing only very small lots to cover immediate or most pressing needs, lower values not stimulating the movement of goods. Many buyers who will not touch woolens or worsteds, are purchasing cotton-warp fabrics. There is a conviction that this year will prove a hard one in the trade, for little is now anticipated from a quickening in the spring movement, save an opportunity to distribute more freely the stocks accumulating in second hands. Most large merchants agree that the country's purchasing power has received a setback whose extent is as yet undetermined, and can be measured only after patient waiting. That lower values cannot stimulate the movement seems to be a conviction in the primary markets. Brown cottons are more plentiful than a month ago. Prices for sateens are low, with little demand for print cloths, and prices on high count goods being revised. Gingham styles are selling best in print goods. Jobbers are reported working out of stocks of fine lawns, linens, at every opportunity. There is an attempt to develop business a year ahead in finncy white goods and fine fancy woven cottons; and fall napped goods are ready. The hoslery market is flat, with sellers failing in their efforts to force business. Burlap importers are reported discouraged.

SILK TRADE BETTER.

SILK TRADE BETTER. SILK TRADE BETTER.

In the retail trade sliks are selling better than last February, with the call for rough goods in leather and onlon shades. Dinens are selling well, mostly for table service. Dealers are getting in advance spring stocks, by express, the regular shipments not being due to show up until after March I. Owing to the lateness of Easter, the usual spring openings will not be sprung until the last week in March or the first week in April. The glove market is rushing, with the demand for tans.

SHOE FUTURE DOUBTFUL. Jobbers in shoes report contracts at the factories as developing slowly, and work is needed in order to keep the help employed. Buyers appear to be holding off, demanding lower prices. So the question seems to be, Shall the manufacturer yield to the demand and have plenty of work, or continue with restricted business and maintain the high standard of manufacture. For this time of year, trade in many factories is reported unsatisfactory; and it is a time when contracts should be made for the fall trade. Even spring stocks are not complete owing to previous delays, and everybody is moving cautiously. Buyers are picking around, taking samples but not leaving contracts, as they argue that as hides are cheaper, leather ought to be cheaper, and are doubtful of the future. But manufacturers claim that expenses are and are doubtful of the future. But manufacturers claim that expenses are no less, even if times are hard. Leather and findings cost just as much as ever, with the public calling for high grade goods. Lower prices mean lower grade of shoes, and to make inferior goods where heretofore high grade ones have been turned out, is regarded by some showner as commercial entitle. have been turned out, is regarded by some shoemen as commercial suicide. Tranners, finding the demand for leather curtailed, have in turn shortened their production, so there is not much danger of the market being glutted. But tanners of sole leather are reported stocking up with raw material at prices promising a good margin for leather at present quotations. At the same time these tanners have in process of manufacture sole leather hides which cost much more than recent purchases. In order to protect these investments prices of sole leather must be maintained. Manufacturers and dealers in cost much more than recent purchases. In order to protect these investments prices of sole leather must be maintained. Manufacturers and dealers in leather anticipate a heavy demand for shoes later on, so they see no need of lowering prices. The midness of the passing winter has had a serious effect on the sale of heavy goods and overshoes in many localities, so the possibilities of being obliged to carry over until next season large stocks of unsold stock are confronting dealers. At the same time, climatic conditions have stimulated the sale of tan shoes in the cities. This winter, tan shoes of all weights have been generally worn by men and women. It is considered a favorable omen for the spring trade, as once wedded to tahs, separation is not easy. There has also been a noticeable increase in the sale of Oxfords this winter, while for summer, these comfortable shoes will be worn even more. Some manufacturers expect 75 per cent of their orders to be for Oxfords—a notable increase from last summer, when 50 to 60 per cent was the estimate. Clearing sales are in progress at the retail stores in anticipation of spring business, which keeps active a trade that might otherwise be slackening. be slackening.

TRADE FROM BOSTON.

The shipment of shoes from Boston week shows the pulse of trade well, the number of cases sent the past week having been 68,171, empared with 64,107 cases the week is compared with 64,107 cases the week before, and 90,781 cases the corresponding week last year. For the year so far the shipments have amounted to 199,100 cases, as compared with 272,641 cases in 1907, 306,281 in 1906, 256,044 cases in 1905, 257,258 cases in 1904, 286,923 cases in 1909, 290,372 cases in 1902. in 1903, 290,372 cases in 1902.

BUSINESS NOTES

The week in local commercial stocks has been a rather quiet one, not for any lack of inquiry, but because buyers and sellers have seemed unable to get together. Further slight improvement is noted in the volume of trade, and confidence in the future is also geater, but prog-ress is slow. Nervous Indigestion

The action of digestion is controlled by nerves leading to the stomach. When they are weak, the stomach is deprived of its energy. It has no power to do its work. If you want permanent relief, you must restore this energy. Dr. Miles' Nervine restores nervous energy, and gives the organs power to perform their functions.

"For many years I was an acute sufferer from nervous indigestion; at times I was so despondent life seemed almost a burden. I tried all kinds of remedies sud various physicians with little or no relief, until one night last summer I saw Dr. Miles' Nervine and Heart Cure advertised. I resolved to make one more trial which I did in the purchase of one bottle of Nervina and one of Heart Cure. In a few days I began to feel better, which encouraged me so much that I continued the medicine until I had taken more than a dozen bottles. I am very much improved in every way; in body, mind and spirits since. I make a special point to recommend the medicine, and I feel a sincere pleasure in knowing that several persons have been hone-field through my recommendations."

WEEKLY TRADE REVIEW.

New York, Feb. 21.-Bradstreet's

Widespread stormy weather has had the effect of dulling distributive trade, interrupting railway traffic and re-stricting the movement of grain to market to the smallest volume in 22 months. In addition, floods in the Ohio and tributary valleys have restricted

AMATRICE

Since the world was new, pride in local achievements and products has been a prominent factor in the "make up" of man.

A tourist visiting any community is shown first the points of interest that nature has given the locality and then the curio shop keepers jeopardize their eternal salvation by showing rocks and imitation rocks, claiming them to be NATIVE GEMS.

All this leads up to the fact that every community is proud of its natural resources, and if a locality can boast the production of an actual gem or semi precious stone, its citizens are justily proud and usually very zealous in exploiting its merits.

Amatrice is a Utah gem, and not only a Utah gem, but undoubtedly the most beautiful semi-precious sione in existence.

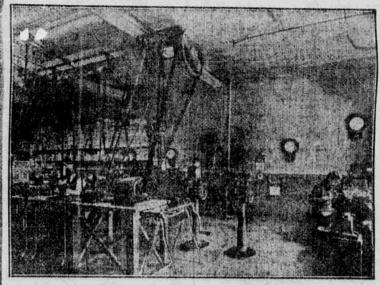

There may be other deposits of amatrice in the world, but as yet they have not been discovered, which adds interest and value to this wonderful Utah stone.

The color is blue and green and brown and yellow, combined in artistic ensemble only possible to produce by the hand of nature. It costs from 50c to $4.00 a carat, according to the size and color of the piece, it is harder than turquoise, the matrix polishes as lustrous as the stone itself, it never fades, and it is not so abundant that it will ever be common.

People travel over the world paying fancy prices for take Scarabs from Egypt, Scientific Rubies from Ceylon, cracked Jade from China, Rubber Coral from Naples, Chewing Gum Pearls from Rome, Plate Glass Opals from Mexico. and Gutta Percha Cameos from Florence.

Now, Why not buy a piece of Amatrice and add a real gen to the collection -one that is genuinely real and beautiful, and produced from our own mountain sides? It is worth the admiration of the world, and we want the world to see it this week at our store, where, as usual, we have the exclusive sale on the only line of cut and polished Amatrice in the world.

We mount Amatrice and other stones in rings, brooches, scarf pins, sleeve links, belt buckles, lavaliers, bracelets, and all sorts of special jewelry. Our Shop is the best and most skillfully manned of any in the west, and we want orders for a piece of genuine Amatrice, or Jade or Malachite or Azurite or Turquoise or Tourmaline mounted to order in some artistic form.
