THE PATRICE . Wire Gauze Oven Boor IS THE LATEST IMPROVEMENT ON THE

t Produces Practical Results in Baking an Roasting never before attained in any Cooking Apparatus, and will ntioniza the Present Methods of Cook

ITS THEORY
Is that all Food Bakerd or Cooked, should be cooked in fresh air treely admitted to the even. This is done by distarding the close oven door heretofore used, and substituting for it a door containing a sheet of Wire-Gauze nearly as large as the door itself.
Through this Gauze Boor the air freely circulates, facilitating the process of cooking, and producing food that is unsequalled in flavor and nutrition, and arthually cooked with less consumption of fue than in an oven with a closed door.

It makes an enormous saving in the weight of heat.

It also produces larges Loaves of Bread, requires less attention from the cook, and promotes the health of the family by the SUPERIOR QUALITY OF THE FOOD COOKED IN IT.

OPINION OF AN EXPERT. MARY B. WELCH, Teacher Domestic Economy, lows State University, says: "My deliberate judgment is that the oven of the Range, as compared with others, is not only more equally heated in every partront and rear—but as a result of its superior ventilation the food placed therein is better cooked, while retaining a sweeter flavor, and a larger proportion of its best uices. I find, also the consumption of fuel in this Range is much less than any other for same work.

Berry objected.
The bill was referred to the committee on judiciary.
Edmunds immedia to left the Senate chamber, stating in an undertone there would be a meeting of the judiciary committee in about two minutes.

The resolution offered resterday by Blair, Calling on the President for information in the matter of the trial, conviction and execution of Riel for high treason in Canada in 1887, was taken up and a long statement in retaken up and a long statement in reference to it was made by Blair, who based the resolution on the ground that Riel was a naturalized American citizen. Referred to the committee on foreign relations.

Edmunds then reported from the committee on udiciary the bill to pay Chief Justice Waite's widow the balance of the year's many, and as Berry objected to its immediate consideration, the bill was placed on the calention, the bill was placed on the calen-The resolution heretofore offered by mines and mining to inquire and report as to the number- of aliens, foreign companies and corporations owning and working mines in the Territories, was adopted.

The Senate then resumed consideration of the tariff bill, and was addressed by Hiscock. It was proper, he said, to criticise the recent attempt of the President and his party to explain away and to misrepresent the fact and purpose of the Mills bill, which they claimed to be calculated to benefit rather than injure American labor and capital. The issue was fairly drawn between the two political parties. The question was free trade or protection to American labor. Subterfuges nor confessions of faith would not conceal or obscure the real question. The or obscure the real question. The Democratic orators were attempting in the manufacturing districts to shift their ground and to conceal the purtheir ground and to conceal the pur-pose of their party, but the official ut-terances of the President and the re-port of the Secretary of the Treasury, emphasized by the Mills bill, which had been endersed by the National Democratic convention, and which passed the House by a strict party vote, left no daulet whatever as to the true eft no daubt whatever as to the true position of the Democratic party on position of the Democratic party on that great question. The Senate bill left no doubt as to the position of the republican party. Both parties conceded that there should be a reduction of the revenue, and to about the same amount. Therefore, the question of the amount of taxation was not involved in the discussion, but the question was as to the manner in which the reduction should be made. He examined some details of the Mills bill in order to prove that in the preferred reduction they were discriminating in factor of the industries of the Confederate sor of the industries alithe fier of orthe orthern States. Hawley suggested as an explanation of that fact that of the democratic members of the House ways and means committee, which made up the Mills bill, six were from Confederate States and two from the Northern States. Hiscock proceeded with his point with further instances drawn from the Mills bill, and intimated that the mi pority Senators of the committee on norty Senators of the committee on fluance were acting on the same policy. He declared that the assumption of the Mills bill as to the small average duties under his bill to be false, and showed that these figures were made by including sugars, liquors, tobacco and wines, on which the advalorem duties were large, but said that with these articles omitted from the calculation the reduction in the that with these articles omitted from the calculation the reduction in the Mills bill would be from 40 to 50 per cent. The effect of the Mills bill, Mr.

Histock declared, could not be disguised. The Senate bill was equally pronounced in character and principles, It fairly illustrated the reputlican policy of protection, and when its provisions become a law it would defend the american market against end the american market against foreign competition. It was not sectional. Industries everywhere were equally provided for in it. It was the opposite of the Mills bill. The democracy had tendered the issue an inverse effort should be made to meet it fairly.

At the close of Hiscock's remarks Bate obtained the floor and the tariff bill went over till tomorrow.

Edmunds appealed to Berry to withdraw his objection to the consideration of the bill for the benefit of Chief tion of the bill Justice Waite. Berry declined to withdraw his objection, stating that it would be equivalent to his consent to the passage of the bill, which he considered thoroughly bad

Edmunds thereupon gave notice that he would tomorrow morning move to take up the bill for consideration.

Adjourned.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—The Senate bill passed supplemental to the act of February 3d, 1887, providing for the meeting of presidential electors, etc. it provides that certificates shall be forwarded to the President of the Sen-ate forthwith after the first Monday in January.

Burns of Missouri submitted the conference report on the general deficiency appropriation bill.

McKenna of California hoped the report would be rejected, placing his antagonism to it on the ground that the tagonism to it on the ground that the bill contained an appropriation of $276,000 for Chinese indemnity. The bill made the appropriations for 'numane reasons. The President had recommended to the ground of national honor. The calendars of the House were grouning with bills which should be passed for humane reasons and for reasons befitting national honor. If justice were to be done it should first be done at home.

Vandever of California characterized the President's message accompanying his approval of the Calnese exclusion bill as an apology to the Chinese government for his act in approving it.

Burnes said that the State Department was firmly of the opinion that the appropriation of $276,000 should be DUY NORTHERN-GROWN SEEDS. WE ARE THE PRODUCERS OF D seed sold by us. They are the best in the world. They are the best for all climates. They are earlier, more hardy, vigorous and productive than those grown in lower altitudes. We keep a large stock of fresh seed and believe care upon them, we feel justified in saying our seeds are unsurrassup in purity and quality. We'do not pretend to be the "only house in the west selling ORTHERN-GROWN SEEDS." but we do claim that we have the very best see to be had anywhere; and that has not been all over the country, for severars, in commission boxes, as we do not send out any commission boxes all, as so many do. Ask your howk kerchart for our Northern-grown Second out any commission boxes all, as so many do. Ask your howk kerchart for our Northern-grown Second out and afford a fair numeration for the expense and labor attending the proper conduct of the subusiness. We sak a trial order from all who have not used our seeds. We for circulars. Address all correspondence to the UTAH NUMSERY Concernly Western Agency, Salt Lake City, Utah.
