CLUB CHAT.

The first meeting of the new term of the Daughters of Utah Pioneers was held at the Bee Hive House, and was most interesting. The new president, Mrs. Alice M. Home, presided, and gave an address, and also a sketch of a proposed book to be gotten out by the Daughters to contain portions, or if possible, entire contents of journals kept by pioneers during the days of their pilgrimage and first struggle with the hardships of their desert homes; also poetry, descriptive of the time and scenes. She was followed by Mrs. Charles Smith Williams, who read an interesting extract from the journal of her father, President George A. Smith, and by Mrs. Nebeker and Mrs. Young, who each related incidents of the long trip across the plains, in which they took part. Mrs. Nell Clawson Brown favored the company with a song, and after a brief discussion of business the society adjourned.

WALKER'S STORE. An Astonishing Offer of Women's Summer Shirt Waists. $3.25 to $7.50 for—$2.95. A BIT of Good Fortune that came our way, not by chance, but because we went after it. Some weeks ago the Walker Store bethought itself to send a buye into eastern markets to seek the good things to be found at certain seasons by being "on hand." Several astonishing sales have already been the result and his one by no means the least so. The waists are all white lawns, mulis and mercerized batistes. The styles are the very latest designers had to submit for this summer. In some, dainty fleur de lis embroidery forms the whole front; others have embroidery in combination with tucks of every size, tiny to large; then there are open work effects, hem-stitched patterns arranged in squares, biadere and vertical plaits or tucks, groups of buttons for trimming, Monte Carlo style, straps and so on. Variety is broad enough to please. Every size. Nearly two hundred waists and here is the division of quantity: Thirty-eight waists that should be $3.25 each Ten waists that should be $4.25 each Seventy-six that should be $4.50 each Twenty that should be $4.75 each Seventeen that should be $5.75 each Ten that should be $7.50 each ALL ONE PRICED $2.95

Another Week of the Silks and Dress Goods Sale With Greater Price-Cuts. THE Yearly Spring Clearance for six more days. The stormy weather that began on Monday and lasted the better part of the week is responsible for its repetition. Includes, of course, entire stocks of silks and dress goods, and quite superfluous it seems to say that choosing is almost as good as in the very first moments of the sale. Such a tremendous gathering could not go away even in a week's time and then with inclement weather as a still further help to keep it here—well, abundant variety and plenty of money saving chances. Monday until Saturday. $1 Foulard Silk—50c. Out of 2,000 yards offered last week, possibly half here yet. Henriettas and batistes, up to $1 a yard grades—45c. Fancy Silks up to $2 for—60c. Balance of the sale lot of fancy silks, includes foulards, checks, plaids, and others, values up to $2, in this week's final clearance at 60c. Black Silk Grenadines up to $1.75 for—55c. All now left of the sale lot and kinds up to $1.75 a yard are there at—55c. 50c Colored Taffetas—25c. Until all the sale lot is gone, good quality of taffeta silk for the price—50c a yard, now—25c. Thirty Pieces of Best Scotch Zephyrs, 35c to 50c a Yard for—19c. Dress Goods section, center aisle for these. Thru understanding that wash dress goods were to occupy two places in the store these were assigned the silk buyer. The inconvenience to patrons, was quickly discovered and the plan dropped. This little lot, however, will be sold from the spot in which they fell. Center aisle. Scotch Zephyrs, the very best made, thirty pieces and only one of each pattern design, regular, 35c, 40c, 45c and 50c a yard. Monday and week to make sure clearance—19c. Dress Goods up to $1 for—45c. Suit and Skirt Patterns Half Price. Broadest kind of variety; the season's choicest weaves may be found in this extensive gathering. 90c to $3.00 a yard goods at—HALF PRICE. ENTIRE STOCK OF CHOICEST SILKS. AGAIN THIS WEEK 15 PER CENT OFF. ENTIRE STOCK OF DRESS GOODS—15 PER CENT OFF.
