THEATRE.—On Thursday and Friday evenings, the play of "Pettified" was presented to increasing audiences. It has some attractive scenes, and large scope for low comedy, of which Mr. Graham as "Tom P." a cockney prig, made much. Some affecting and effective passages were well enacted by Mr. Bates as "Jasper Blythe" and Mrs. Bates as "Mrs. Florence Forces." Miss Kent as "Miss Little Warren" acquitted herself with decided ability, showing that she is an improving actress and a very useful member of the company.

For Mrs. Bates' benefit this evening, the beautiful and powerful play of "Love's Sacrifice, or, the Rival Merchants" is announced. This will present opportunity for the manifestation of her artistic ability and dramatic fervor, and with two such accomplished actors as Mrs. Bates as "Margaret Elmore" and Mr. Bates as "Matthew Elmore" a highly successful performance may be predicted.

"Diamonds of Vermont," Mr. Thomas as "Paula la Font," Mr. Graham as "St. Luc," Mr. Margetts as "Jean Rose," and Mr. Dudley as "Eugene de Lorme."

To-morrow evening Mrs. Bates appears in "The Merchant of Venice," and in the powerful role of "Elizabeth" in the great semi-historical play of that name. It is always a treat to see "Elizabeth" enacted with ability in a large house, will be like a picture in itself. Mrs. Bates' assumption of the part of the able and sprightly "Virginia Queen."

Miss Annette Ince, who has few equals and perhaps no superior on the American stage in some characters, is announced for early appearance on our boards.

RAILROAD CASE IN CALIFORNIA.—Mr. Sennel Holt just in from Logan, informs us that the Utah Northern is far from completed, that the cases were run to Cache Valley for the first time on Wednesday. The point reached is about one-half mile from Menden. The brothers of Logan and surrounding settlements are united in a determined resolution to have the line completed to that place during the present winter.

Fatal Accident in Ogden Canyon, October, November 19th.—On Wednesday morning Owen R. and James Dinsdale, sons of Jeffrey Dinsdale of this city, started for Ogden Canyon for wood. In the evening they came down on the running gears of the wagon, both riding on the hind boudies between the toll gate and factory a clevis pin came out, causing the singletree to strike the rear horse. The team took flight and ran, throwing Owen R. Dinsdale off the wagon. After the team had run about four rods, James also fell off, the hind wheel passing over his right ankle, injuring it severely. As soon as possible James returned to the toll gate and procured the assistance of his uncle, James Dinsdale, and Peter McFarlane, and with them returned to his brother, where the wagon was stopped. The boy was conveyed home as rapidly as possible, and the services of Dr. F. L. Anderson secured, and every effort was made to restore him to consciousness, but for a while hopes were entertained that his recovery would never come, all the labors of the doctor were ineffectual, and he remained insensible until his death, which occurred between 5 and 6 o'clock this morning. On examining his body no external marks were visible, but a deep impression of the skin on the left side, just above and the left side of his head. The cause of his death was found to be an injury of the spinal column.
