You Are Cordially Invited to Attend Our Opening of Splendid Millinery, Monday, September Nineteenth, '04.

It has been arranged on a scale of Magnitude Justifying Your Attendance, Affording an Insight to Style-Correctness.

1. Presentation of broad and choice selections of Masterpieces from Paris surpassing the efforts of previous seasons.
2. Carefully selected from the American style centers.
3. Exhibit of exquisite creations, offered at compelling prices.

WIDEST POSSIBLE RANGE OF BEAUTIFUL HEAD DRESS.

On the occasion of the opening the Millinery Section will be permeated with an atmosphere of style—a characteristic which not only covers the more pronounced expressions of artistic invention but reaches even to the most inexpensive lines which we shall submit for your inspection. The clientele of this house includes those who demand the best that is wrought by genius.

Our preparedness implies that the opening will be but a forerunner of a most successful season. To this end popular hats are to be shown in conjunction with importations and the leading patterns created in this country. The innovation will be appreciated. Heretofore elaborate openings, while delighting all women, appealed more especially to those in affluent circumstances. Without exception women love the exquisite in Millinery, but the finer conceptions being expensive prohibit the majority from possessing them. But these moderate-priced reproductions of patterns at this time, made by an unexcelled corps of expert workers, in which style-essentials are observed, will win for the Millinery Section the approval of thousands of women who appreciate something really nice at prices within their reach.

We have added experienced help and enlarged our facilities. In no branch of our millinery will prices, other than reasonable ones, prevail—notwithstanding the old impression to the contrary that fine millinery calls for excessive prices.
