

INTO OGDEN BY JULY THE FIRST.

Prest. Simon Bamberger Says Track Will be Laid by That Date.

ON THE SALT LAKE & OGDEN.

Right-of-Way Has Been Secured and Difficulties Adjusted With That End in View.

President Simon Bamberger of the Salt Lake & Ogden this morning announced that by July 1 tracks would be laid to Ogden as far as the south bank of the Weber river. In other words, it will be possible for residents in the Junction City to attend the Fourth of July celebration in Salt Lake coming over the all-rail route of the Salt Lake & Ogden.

"The right-of-way matters are practically all cleared up, and with good weather prevailing, there will be dirt flying all along the line in a few days," he said. "If our present plans are carried out we will have the grade complete to the city limits of Ogden inside of ninety days."

5,700 PEOPLE CARRIED.
Total Number of Conference Visitors Hauled by the Railroads.

A canvass of the various railroad offices here this morning demonstrated that the three big lines already had brought into Salt Lake approximately 5,700 conference visitors. In detail the estimates are:

Oregon Short Line.....2,200
Salt Lake Route.....1,500
Rio Grande.....2,000

Total.....5,700

By tomorrow night it is estimated that these figures will be doubled. One of the features of the invasion is the number of people who are coming in from Idaho points. The first train out on the St. Anthony branch brought five coaches. In addition to the regular service, and the train was loaded. Since then three and two coaches have been added to the equipment in order to take care of the rush. From Montpelier and the Soda Springs line it took five additional chair cars to accommodate the crowd bound for Salt Lake, and today the Oregon Short Line has 35 extra coaches, outside of the regular equipment, in service.

It is said that preference will be given to the North German Lloyd, and that a tentative agreement has already been entered into with that company.

An action for divorce between the father and mother of the girl is now pending in the district court.

HE HAD SMALLPOX.

Didn't Know It But Police Were Satisfied on That Point.

J. W. Kelly, who has been employed for some time on the Showell contract of the Cottonwood conduit, appeared at police headquarters this forenoon, and rather unconcernedly stated to Desk Sergeant Cowley Smith and officers present that he believed that he had smallpox. They did not take the matter as coolly, however, as Kelly did, and invited him to "go outside and sit down." He awaited in the street for the coming of the city physician, who ordered that the sick man be taken to the isolation hospital.

SECOND DAY OF THE CONVENTION.

Individuality of School Teachers The Subject up for Discussion.

TIME GIVEN TO SPELLING.

People of Today Expect Too Much of A Boy of 14 Years—Disagree As to Studies.

Upon the opening of the second day's session of the convention of city and county superintendents of schools in the joint building this morning the discussion started yesterday afternoon in regard to individuality of teachers in each school and individuality of courses for each school was renewed, and occupied the attention of the superintendents for more than a half hour. After that discussion was closed the paper of Supt. Orson Ryan of Wasatch county on the subject of the "Purpose of the County Superintendent's Semi-annual Visits," was read.

At the session yesterday afternoon City Supt. of Schools Christensen read a paper on "The Relation of the Course of Study in the City Schools to the State Course." The superintendent went into details as to the more important subjects in the course of the city schools, and told of how each subject is handled and how much time is devoted to each. As an example he mentioned spelling particularly and stated that more time is now given to spelling under the present modern system than was given under the old system. The trouble with the people of today is that they criticize the spelling of a boy of 14, and expect him to be able to spell words in the vocabulary of a person of 30 years of age. The idea of the present system, he said, is to require him to spell correctly only such words as are in his vocabulary at that age.

PROF. STEWART'S PAPER.

Prof. W. M. Stewart of the University of Utah, followed the former speaker and read a paper on "The Relation of the Course of Study of the Normal Training School to the State Course." He contended that the course of study for each school should be an individual one and one suitable to the locality. He also contended that the teacher could do better work by working out her own ideas and by individual effort. He thought that every subject taught in the higher educational institutions should be begun in the elementary schools.

Supt. Christensen, Supt. Allison of Ogden and others took issue with Prof. Stewart in regard to individual courses and individual efforts on the part of the teachers. The discussion lasted until the hour for adjournment was passed, and was renewed again this morning.

Prof. Stewart opened the discussion again this morning and renewed his ideas presented yesterday. Supt. Christensen, Supt. Rawlings of Provo and County Supt. Eggertson of Utah county, took very active interest in the arguments which were very lively for a short time.

Supt. Ryan of Wasatch county then read an interesting paper on the "Purpose of the County Superintendent's Semi-annual Visits." He said that two kinds of duties are expected of the superintendent of schools, namely, executive acts and supervisory work. The latter work he considered the most important, as a superintendent who confines his activities to his office and fails to keep in touch with the school room by frequent visits will lose sight of his most important work and will be out of sympathy with his teachers, with his pupils and with the genuine and practical educational activities.

He said that the visits of the superintendent is sometimes dreaded by the teacher and the pupil. Such should not be the case, as the fundamental purpose of the visits is to aid the teachers in the management of their respective schools, which can only be accomplished by a visit at the proper time. The failure of a superintendent to visit a school, he said, sometimes result in the lack of interest on the part of pupils and teachers, and perhaps the failure of the school.

LUNCH AT UNIVERSITY.

At the close of his remarks the meeting adjourned, and the superintendents went to the University of Utah to take luncheon as the guests of the domestic science department. They will visit the various branches of the school this afternoon, and their session will then be brought to a close.

The committee of superintendents appointed to revise the course of study in the county schools is not prepared to submit a report, as was contemplated for today, hence its report will be received in about ten days.

GRAND JURY DENIED.

Judge Howell Says Officers Are Doing Their Duty.

(Special to the "News.")

Ogden, April 6.—This morning in the district court, Judge Howell took up the matter of the application of District Attorney George Halverson's request that a grand jury be called to investigate the charges made against him by former Mayor William Glasmann.

Judge Howell denied the request, and in passing upon the case, stated that he would not summon a grand jury for the reason that, after a personal investigation into the charges made in Glasmann's papers, he had found they were groundless, and that Halverson had done his full duty. He said that if a showing had been made that the district attorney had been derelict in his duty, then he would have called a jury to investigate the charges.

DELEGATION FROM HEBER CITY.

About 250 Came Down From Wasatch County to Attend Conference.

Mr. John Crook, one of the oldest inhabitants of Heber City, came to Salt Lake this morning in company with a delegation fully 250 strong. He stated that the special Rio Grande train brought down 150 from Heber City, and that another 100 boarded the train at different points along the line. Mr. Crook stated that business conditions throughout the county were prosperous and that the outlook was most encouraging.
