THE EVENING NEWS.

Monday, - - Jan. 11, 1875.

BE CAREFUL WHAT YOU SAY.

In speaking of a person's faults,
Pray don't forget your own;
Remember those with homes of glass
Should seldom throw a stone:
If we have nothing else to do
But talk of those who sin,
'Tis better we commence at home,
And from that point begin.

We have no right to judge a man
Until he's fairly tried,
Should we not like his company,
We know the world is wide.
Some may have faults—and who have not?
The old as well as young;
Perhaps we may, for aught we know,
Have fifty to their one.

I'll tell you of a better plan,
And one that works full well:—
I try my own defects to cure,
Before of others tell;
And though I sometimes think I have
No more than some I know,
My own shortcomings bid me let
The faults of others go.

Then let us all when we commence
To slander friend or foe,
Think of the harm one word may do
To those we little know.
Remember curses sometimes do,
Like chickens, "roost at home:"
Don't speak of others faults until
We have none of our own.

The Pilgrims and the Puritans

The Providence (R. I.) Journal draws a distinct line between the forefathers of New England, saying—

"In reality, however, the Pilgrims who settled at Plymouth were very different people from the Puritans who, eight or ten years later, came to Salem and Boston, and subsequently spread themselves over what they called New England. So different were they that the two would not have crossed the ocean in the same ships or dwelt together in the same settlements. The Pilgrims were by far the meeker and more self-denying people. They had much less lofty notions of their mission in the new world. They had separated themselves from the English Church for conscience' sake, and had ceased to be members of it. They were not grasping or domineering in the exercise of power. They had gone to Holland, because in that age they could not live in England without being persecuted as separatists. They came to America in order that they might be in English territory and within the general protection of English power, and that they might maintain their own worship and institutions without being mixed with foreigners, as they had been in Holland. They had no thought of using the civil sword in religious matters.

"The Puritans, on the contrary, when they left England, were still members of the Anglican Church, although they had long desired and struggled to promote a more complete reformation of its worship and institutions. They disliked prelacy because they had suffered from it; they disliked ceremonial worship because a portion of it had come from the Church of Rome, and through that church, from the Pagan mythology of earlier ages. But before leaving England they had by no means become either Congregationalists or Presbyterians. They were simply a party in the Established Church that had been persecuted to the limit of endurance by the ecclesiastical and civil tyranny of their opponents. They still retained Anglican notions both of the Church and State, and of the relations between them. They had not advanced a step beyond the Anglican idea of religious freedom, and did not believe in the essential liberty of the human soul. They had not determined beforehand precisely what religious institutions they should establish in their colony, and it is evident that in some important particulars they founded their ecclesiastical ideas from the Pilgrims who preceded them, and who were far simpler and more charitable in their sentiments and beliefs. Neither of them thought that the church and the State could exist separate from each other, but the Pilgrims were much nearer this idea than their more arrogant neighbors and rivals who settled on the shores of Massachusetts Bay, and became the masters of New England.

"It should not be forgotten, however, that the Mayflower and Plymouth Rock and the 22d of December belong exclusively to the Pilgrims. The name of Puritan, unless it be in a very qualified sense, is not to be used in connection with these. Forefathers' Day, as we call it, had nothing to do with Boston and Salem and Cape Anne, but only with the bleak shore that stretches from Roxbury to Cape Cod. That alone is the country of the Pilgrims. That was the home of Bradford and Carver and Brewster and Miles Standish, the first forefathers of New England. To use the day of their landing for eulogizing Governor Endicott and Governor Winthrop or the Puritans of Massachusetts Bay is just as much a perversion as it would be to devote it to the first planters of Rhode Island or of Connecticutt."

On the same subject the New York Journal of Commerce:

"Here is the beginning of a feud, which may require endless New England dinners to compose. Vice-President Allen, of the Rhode Island Historical Society, at a late meeting, declared his opinion that 'the type of character shown by the Pilgrims of the Plymouth colony was far nobler and broader than that exhibited by the Puritans of Massachusetts Bay.'"

RECORDS! RECORDS!

WE ARE NOW PREPARED to receive orders for BRANCH and WARD RECORDS, of a new and improved form, which has been approved by the presiding Bishopric and others.

We shall make them of four, five and six quires each, holding 2,040, 2,560 and 3,090 names each, respectively, and the price will be, for four quires $12.00, five quires $13.00, six quires $15.00. Each book will contain a suitable Index, and be well bound in Cloth and Russia Leather, with ornamental lettering pieces for name of the Ward on the side. The book being of a large size, we do not think it advisable to make them over six quires.

Specimens can be seen at this Office, and orders received for size of book required.

Bishops in the country desiring Records can order by mail, and we will make accordingly and forward to them.

TESTIMONIAL.

Editor Deseret News:

I had a son who appeared to be in ill health, being in a pining condition. I was unable to determine the nature of the disease which ailed him. A few days since I placed him under the treatment of Dr. Plant, who, within a few hours, and without pain or inconvenience to the lad, freed the patient of a tape-worm about forty feet long, since which time the boy has been improving. I wish you to publish this circumstance, as much for the benefit of people afflicted similarly to my boy, as to award credit to Dr. Plant, whose skill in that line of complaints can be relied on, besides his charges are moderate.
