

DEDICATION OF GUNTON MEMORIAL

New Chapel of Westminster College Formally Opened With Impressive Ceremony.

DR. PADEN DELIVERS SERMON.

Choice Musical Numbers, and Historical Sketch by Rev. R. G. McNeice.

The new Gunton Memorial chapel of Westminster college was dedicated yesterday afternoon, before an audience from the three Presbyterian and other local Evangelical churches that completely filled the auditorium and Sunday school room beyond. The rostrum was profusely decorated with plants and flowers of various kinds, and on the platform were Revs. Josiah McClain, pastor of the Third Presbyterian church, whose congregation is to worship in the building; Dr. W. H. Paden of the First Presbyterian church, McClain Davis of the Westminster Presbyterian church, Dean R. G. McNeice of the Westminster college, Dr. T. W. Pinkerton of the Christian church, P. A. Simpson of the Phillips Congregational church, D. A. Brown of the Methodist church, F. L. Arnold, pastor emeritus of the Presbyterian church, and Prof. J. C. Lincoln. Music was furnished by a men's quartet, and Miss Nina Beveridge was the organist.

DEDICATORY SERMON.

The dedicatory sermon was delivered by Rev. Dr. Paden of the First Presbyterian church, whose subject was St. Peter's 1: 5 and 7: "For this very cause giving, on your part, all diligence, add to your faith, virtue, knowledge, self-control, endurance; and to your endurance, Godliness; and to Godliness, brotherly kindness; and to brotherly kindness, love for all men." "It is all in the air," he said, "and about it they make you to be neither idle nor unfruitful." Dr. Paden said, in part: "Add to your faith. Faith, you see, is the first quality in the solution. You start with it and it is at the bottom of Christian character; it is at the base of the ladder of grace. Without some faith of some kind your character has no footing, no foundation. 'It is all in the air.' Faith is at the foundation of every life which sums up toward Christlikeness, or amounts to anything good. This church is founded on faith in Christ and contrasted to His service by those who accept and receive Him as Savior and Lord. This being done, and until it is done, we are ready for Christian work. For without faith it is impossible to please God. With it, however, we are ready to take the first ascending steps toward Christian perfection. We have something to build on and something to build with.

Add to your faith-virtue. In its narrow sense virtue is energy, boldness, vigor or courage. In its broader sense it is moral excellence. We must add it in every sense. Faith without courage is of little use to the world, and a source of discomfort to its possessor. A conscience is about the most troublesome thing a coward can have. There is absolutely no doubt about it, but little use in holding convictions which one has neither the courage nor the courage to confess. To be either happy or good we must add to our faith courage.

Add to your moral excellence. So faith without moral excellence is barren and unfruitful. Our faith or faith in Christ must bear fruit in confession, so our communion with Christ must transform us into His likeness. Christian faith must bear Christian character. The best evidence of Christian faith is Christian courage and Christian conduct.

This church not only stands for faith, but for a courageous confession of that faith; not only for positive beliefs, but for readiness to do battle for them. However, as we stand, according to our light, for the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, we stand for Christian morals, all Christian morals. Indeed, our catechism speaks more of duties than of doctrines. We believe as men may of God's world, that while all is love, all is law. For a minister or member of this church to openly and unrepentantly avow that he was living in violation of the laws of God and the laws of man would mean immediate and vigorous discipline. Our church stands for obedience to the moral law.

Add to your virtue knowledge. Courage or conduct of the divine sort is sure to lead us where knowledge will be gained. As we stand up against the evil and find out that he knows the Scriptures better than we do, we must make more of our Bibles. As we fall away from truth, we have lost their light, we must ask for additional light, additional knowledge. As we plunge boldly into the battle of life, and ourselves thwarted or outwitted at every point by entrenched and unscrupulous evil-doers, we must not give up because we have been outwitted. We must rather go into more thorough training. We must address ourselves to St. Peter's sum and add to our virtue knowledge. Even zeal for God may be futile if not according to knowledge.

This church stands for zeal in accordance with knowledge. It is a thinking church, a teaching church, a church which loves God with its mind as well as with its heart. We do not deprecate feeling, but we insist on knowing what our feelings are about. We are not rationalists, but we insist that our faith has a rational basis. We are not afraid to mix our colors with brains. We are not afraid of the light; we are not afraid of the sun. We are not afraid to teach and we love to teach it. We, therefore, believe in education. And as we believe that all truth grows in growth in grace and in the knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, we count that education a failure which does not magnify and glorify the morals and religion of Christ. Next to the "Garden of Eden" and the Christian church we look to the Christian school or college as the chief conservator of Christian civilization.

CURIOSITY.

Leads to investigation and truth. What shall we do to be saved? was the title of one of Robt. Ingersoll's lectures. People of faith and people of no faith flocked to hear it. Thousands are asking "What shall I do to get rid of dandruff?" The answer is, "Kill the germ that causes dandruff, falling hair and finally baldness; and the only thing that will do it is Newbro's Herpicide. That is the very latest discovery of the laboratory, and it is the only preparation that claims to, or that will, kill the pestiferous dandruff germ. It also is a delightful hair-dressing, free from oil or grease or sticky substances. Try it and be convinced of its actual merit. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample. The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Z. C. M. I. Drug Co., Special Agents.

Add to your Godliness brotherly kindness. There is love, the power of everyday grace, this gift of heaven, for the life on earth. For though we cannot expect to speak with tongues, we may attain the more blessed gift of speaking the truth in love; the power of meekly instructing those that oppose themselves; the grace of being kind and affectionate one to another; apt at teaching, patient. These are the Pentecostal gifts and graces we need these latter days. The baptism we need is a baptism of brotherly kindness; the union we need is the communion of fellowship and the spirit.

But there is broader Christian grace than brotherhood kindness, and that is all-embracing charity. St. Peter had his eye on this grace when he said, "Add to your brotherly kindness love for all men." We have no right to conduct our prayer meetings, our Sunday schools, church services or a special temple service for an exclusive group of persons or circle, or class, or special membership. There is nothing exclusive or esoteric in the religion of Christ. What it hears in the ear it proclaims on the housetop; what it gets as the gift of God it carries to all the world. The whole spirit of Christ is memory, aggressive, world-embracing. When it ceases to be memory it must cease to exist.

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

Rev. Dr. McNeice made an historical statement in which he said that the beginning of the Presbyterian church in this country was made in 1881, and early in the following year a Sunday school was established on Emerson avenue, with Dr. Silver as superintendent, and that same year (1882) the church was effected. For 15 years the church has worshiped in the old building used last Sunday for the last time, and now the congregation is installed in the new chapel, which was built through the generosity of Mrs. Mary G. Temple of Washington, D. C., in memory of her deceased father, William Gunton, and is of red brick with sandstone trimmings, pleasant gables and handsome tower over the corner entrance. The dimensions are 50x100 feet, and will seat 325 in the auditorium and 200 in the Sunday school room. The building is equipped with parlor and kitchen conveniences, and the entire cost is $17,000.

Cured Consumption.

Mrs. R. W. Evans, Charwater, Kan., writes: "My husband lay sick three months. The doctors said he had quick consumption. He procured a bottle of Ballard's Horehound Syrup, and it cured him. That was six years ago and since then we have always kept a bottle in the house. We cannot do without it. For coughs and colds it has no equal." 50c. and $1.00. Sold by Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

BIG POWER COMPANY.

Utah Men to Harness Shoshone Falls—Company Organized.

Incorporators of the Shoshone Power company met Saturday evening at the Kenyon hotel, preparatory to filing articles of incorporation at Boise early this week.

The officers are to be: President, Francis M. Lyman of Salt Lake; vice president, John A. Bagley of Idaho; secretary and treasurer, Lyman R. Martineau of Salt Lake; directors, A. H. Wiley, Dr. Ephraim G. Gowans and F. M. Lyman, Jr., of Salt Lake.

The company has secured rights from the state of Idaho to 3,000 second feet of water on the south side of the Snake river, for power purposes. Its plant will be located some 23 miles below Twin Falls, and the incorporation will be with a capitalization of $5,000,000 divided into 5,000,000 shares.

The incorporators say they will be prepared to bring into Salt Lake 45,000 horse power within two years, the transmission being 20 miles in length, with branches at Albion, Oakley, Malad and coming into Utah, Cache Junction, Collinston, Brigham and other towns.

OLD HAND AT IT.

Pelletier Had Shady Record in California as a Show Girl Manager.

According to information received from M. D. Cochrane, the proprietor of the Hollywood hotel at Riverside, Cal., J. C. Pelletier who was indicted at Ogden for impersonating a postoffice inspector, is no new hand at the grafting game.

His former business was that of a show girl manager, and in this capacity he appeared at the desk of the Hollywood hotel, stated that his company of 11 actors were coming in a short time with lots of baggage and trunks of various kinds. After engaging quarters for them, he borrowed $22 and when the company arrived each one had only a satchel of hand baggage. Pelletier then disappeared leaving the company on the hotel premises. The next day a board bill unpaid and the $22 unaccounted for.

SUITABLE FOR CENTRAL UTAH.

Committee Makes its Report on Variety of Fruits for Certain Sections.

RESULT OF THE INVESTIGATION.

Kind of Apples, Pears, Peaches, Cherries, Plums, Prunes, Grapes and Blackberries.

As a result of investigations made by members of the Salt Lake County Horticultural society, a report was recently submitted touching the kinds of fruits best adapted for growth in certain sections of the state. This report covered northern and central Utah and recommended the cultivation of the following varieties:

APPLES.

For Commercial Planting—Jonathan, Rhode Island Greening, Ben Davis, Gano, Winesap, Lowner, Roman Beauty.

For Family Use—Newton Pippins, White Winter Pearmain, Talman Sweet, Gravenstone, Esopus, Spitzenberg, Baldwin, Grimes Golden, Northwestern Greening, Maiden's Blush, Wealthy, Alexander, Twenty-ounce, Yellow Bellflower, York Imperial, Red Astrikan, Yellow Transparent, Duchess of Olden, Elberta, Patten, Roman Beauty, Willow Twig, Northern Spy, Rawley, Jennett, McIntosh Red, English Russett, Red Belshimmer, Crabs, Whitney's No. 29, Maritha, Hyslop.

PEARS.

Commercial—Bartlett, Buerre d'Angouleme, Lawrence.

For Home Market and Family Use—In addition to above, Clap's Favorite, Flemish Beauty, Shelden, P. Barry, Howell, Sickle, Louise Bonne de Jersey, Rosney, Vicar of Wakefield, Winter Nels and Duchess of Angouleme.

PEACHES.

Commercial—Elberta, Globe, Utah, Orange.

In addition to above, Clap's Favorite, Wheatland, For early, before Elberta, Foster, Alexander, Triumph, Hale's Early, Early Charlotte. After Elberta, Late Crawford, King's Cling, Heath's White Cling, For trial, Muir, Snead, Bokara No. 30, Crosby and Champion.

CHERRIES.

Commercial and Home Market—(Sweet), Black Tartarian, Black Republic, Napoleon, Early, Eugene, Dukes and Morellos, Early Richmond, English Morello, Large Montmorency, Rhine Hortense.

PLUMS.

For Commercial and Home Use—(Black or purple), Bradshaw, Blue Damson, Shropshire Damson, (red), Pond's Seedling, Burbanks, Wickson, Muscat, Thompson's Seedling, (white), Niagara and Pocklington.

BLACKBERRIES.

Slide (best of all); for trial, Wilson's Early, Meresear and Erie, Dewberries—Lucetta, Raspberries—(Red), Cuthbert, Rubenboro, (black), Caps, Gregg and Kansas, Curran—Cherry, Fay's, Prolific, White Grape, Gooseberries—Downing, Smith's Improved and Poor Man's, Strawberries—(Imperfect), Crescent, Bubach No. 1, (black, ever bearing or fertilized), Marshall, Jessie, Glen Mary. The fertilized berry should be judiciously planted with the imperfect every third row. For trial, Warfield No. 2, Park's Early.

A FEW SUGGESTIONS.

In selecting trees from the above list you, of course, must take into consideration the following:

AT HIGH WATER.

The Flood Plays Many Pranks.

Rev. William Alexander Smith, prominent as the author of many works on Oriental Travel, has written an entertaining account of his experience in Kansas during the floods in 1903. He says:

"We lived a full mile from the nearest point of the Saline river but when the river overflowed it sent a flood clear into our dooryard and we had to go about in boats many of our neighbors suffering sad experiences both from loss of life and property.

"We—wife and myself had an experience quite unique and thereby hangs a tale. My wife for years past, and myself as well, had been annoyed, pained and worried so greatly at times by dyspeptic trouble as to take much of the joy of living out of life.

"I had seen Postum so liberally spoken of and we suffered so much from coffee that one day, some months ago, I decided to try some Postum for ourselves. We liked its aroma and taste so we were satisfied from the start and we quit coffee.

"Gradually my digestive organs have grown healthier and stronger, my sick headache left and we both could eat almost what we pleased without discomfort.

"But was this a result of the discontinuance of tea and coffee?"

"The flood came and found us out of Postum and shut out from all supplies in the village for 8 days. But we got hold of some left over tea and a little coffee and this we used as long as it lasted. This was the only respect in which our meals were different from what we had been using, but a change came over us. My wife thought I had more temper than grace while I, in my turn, thought—well, never mind, only she did not seem to appear to be the jolly creature she was before flood days. She said she did not rest well and that made her irritable and on my part I suffered pains in my digestive organs night and day that would have caused the meekest man to speak unadvisedly with his lips."

"Well, the clouds cleared away, the flood abated, dry feet appeared and we made ready to visit the grocery store and my wife suggested that we needed more Postum. To tell the rest in a few words, when Postum came back the domestic atmosphere became more genial, in fact about normal. Our troubles and sick feelings disappeared and there can be no doubt they were due to tea and coffee for they quickly passed when Postum was used in their place."

PRUNING TREES.

In planting trees care should be taken that the tree is properly planted, both in top and roots. Top pruning should be done with a view of making a well balanced, symmetrical tree as it grows older, hence trees should be well cut back within two or three feet of the ground. Then you can form your top to suit the nature and growth of the tree. Never allow forks or cross growth of limbs in forming the top of the tree. Look well to the root pruning. All bruised and lacerated roots should be cut straight off with a sharp pruning knife. All roots should be put in their natural position of growth, and should be well packed around the roots. In watering the roots when planting, always let the water soak away before adding soil. Always leave the top soil, after the tree is planted, dry, so the dirt will not bake by the heat of the sun. In irrigating an orchard or vines, never let the water run in the row of the trees, but from four to five feet on each side, so the water will soak to the roots of trees or vines gradually. Care should be taken not to irrigate orchards too much. There is more danger in too much irrigation than in too little. Orchards should be well cultivated to retain moisture and make a healthy growth. Weeds and grass growing in an orchard are injurious.

Success in raising fruits in Utah, either for commercial or home use, is attained only by eternal vigilance, and that all the time during the fruit season the horticulturist must be on his toes to make a success, must battle against the many insects, diseases and other enemies of the fruit tree and plant life. This is a great fruit-growing state, unsurpassed by any of our neighboring states, if only the proper diligence and remedies are used. So let our motto be, "Onward and forward, vigilance and determination," and as sure as the sun shines, success will crown our efforts.

MARRIAGE IN SMALL DOSES

In One Case Three Days Was Enough, In Another Three Weeks Was Limit.

After only three days of married life it is alleged that Dr. Charles D. Le Clair deserted his wife, Anna V. Le Clair, hence she seeks for a divorce. The complaint alleges that they were married at Albion, Pa., on July 25, 1903, and that the bride was married on July 28, 1903, and that she failed to support her. She asks that her maiden name, Anna V. Nevilles, be restored to her.

Three weeks of married life was evidently enough for Lawrence Alexander, for it is alleged by his wife, Nana Alexander, who is suing for a divorce, that he deserted her three weeks after their marriage and has failed to provide for her during the past 12 years. They were married at Clay City, Ky., on Feb. 19, 1902. Plaintiff also asks to be allowed to resume her maiden name, Nana Ramey.

A DANGEROUS HABIT.

Gladstone's Physician Gives Warning Against a Growing American Custom.

The growing habit amongst Americans of taking a mint tablet or some other so called digestive after eating a hearty meal, is something that Sir Andrew Clarke, Mr. Gladstone's physician advises strongly against, saying: "It is absolutely dangerous to take into the stomach remedies which are popularly supposed to aid in the digestion of food."

There is nothing known to the science of medicine that can perform the work of the human stomach. Drugs do not and cannot digest the food. They simply decompose it. What can be more revolting or disgusting than the thought of taking something into the stomach that is going to turn the good food you have eaten into a mass of corruption.

The only way to overcome indigestion and its evil effects is to remove all irritation, congestion and inflammation from the stomach, liver and intestines, and M-I-O-N-A is the only agent known that will do this.

When M-I-O-N-A tablet is taken before each meal every trace of irritation and inflammation is removed from the stomach and digestive system, and those organs will extract from the food all that goes to make good, rich blood, firm muscle, steady nerve and a sound healthy body. If you suffer with headaches, indigestion flatulency, spots before the eyes, vertigo, or dizziness, palpitation of the heart, sleeplessness, or any stomach trouble, get a fifty-cent box of M-I-O-N-A from P. C. Schramm, one of our most reliable druggists, whose faith in the remedy is shown by his offer to return the money if M-I-O-N-A does not give complete satisfaction.

LAWSON DESCRIBES UTAH CON. DEAL.

How Money Was Made on Utah Property by Selling Stock Before Buying.

WHEN FRENZIED FINANCE RULED

How Methods of Standard Oil Crowd Made Over $2,000,000 Without Running Any Risk Whatever.

"Frenzied Finance," continued in the April number of Everybody's Magazine by Thomas W. Lawson, lends a local tinge to Utah people by giving a description between the Standard Oil people and the Utah Consolidated Mining company, whereby the Standard Oil interests made $2,000,000.

While Mr. Lawson as agent for the Standard Oil was combining the Boston copper stocks, H. H. Rogers turned his attention to the Utah company. In reciting subsequent occurrences, Mr. Lawson says:

"The Boston and New York brokerage house of Clark, Ward & Co. had promoted the Utah Consolidated Mining company of Utah. It was less than two years old, and its 300,000 shares had been kicked from gutter to curb at from $2 to $4 per share. Samuel Undermyer, the astute property lawyer, who, on his own account, and as the representative of a large European clientele, had long been interested in 'coppers,' had taken hold of Utah, and believing it a good thing had bought large quantities of its stock for himself and his European connections. Under the stimulus of my campaign the price of the stock had leaped to 17 or 18, and rumor had it that Utah was a prospective factor in my consolidation. One day Mr. Rogers asked me if I were in any way responsible for these rumors, and I replied that I knew nothing more about them than that they were in circulation.

"Good," replied Rogers. "Do this, then—send word that we propose to issue a deal of stock at a price of 17 or 18, and rumor had it that Utah was a prospective factor in my consolidation. One day Mr. Rogers asked me if I were in any way responsible for these rumors, and I replied that I knew nothing more about them than that they were in circulation.

"Just to keep the conditions of the transaction at this stage before my readers," says Lawson, "I'll repeat that the Clark-Ward-Undermyer people had now given us the right to buy of them 100,000 shares of their stock (at a price $2,500,000 less than we had already sold it for), with the understanding—not in words or in writing, of course, because Standard Oil never makes a promise in writing, but implied as securely as though it had been set down and attested under oath—that we would take and pay for their stock and engage with them in their enterprise, giving them the benefit of our experience, our capital and our prestige.

stock. Could 50,000 shares be sold readily? I assured him that when it once became known that we were even looking at Utah it would be easy to sell 100,000 shares and at constantly increasing prices.

PLANNED A STRATEGY.

"All right," said Mr. Rogers, "if you're sure of this, we'll go ahead. Tell me, it was good, bad or indifferent, well, we'll be liberal, say at 15, and when you mention the price impress upon them that I am well aware it cost them $2 to $4."

"I returned at once and began negotiations, but, as is usually the case, the fact that Standard Oil was nibbling looked out before I had clinched the option, and before we had even begun to examine the property prices had advanced until there was a profit of $500,000 for us in the transaction. To look over the Utah property, Mr. Rogers sent his son-in-law, Broughton, and in a short time I got word to feed out the 50,000 shares on the market at the best prices obtainable, and to borrow it for delivery in such ways that the Clark-Ward-Undermyer contingent should suspect nothing about it. No information was given me as to experts' report, and I was absolutely ignorant whether it was good, bad or indifferent, though from the fact that we were to sell the stock I inferred that it was unfavorable. The public took the 50,000 shares at between 32 and 35, much as an elephant takes it, water after a thirsty tramp across sandy deserts—the shares were just sucked in without a gulp or gasp."

Rogers then compelled the Utah people to give up another 50,000 shares. He then sold 50,000 shares.

SOLD AT PROFIT BEFORE BUYING.

"Just to keep the conditions of the transaction at this stage before my readers," says Lawson, "I'll repeat that the Clark-Ward-Undermyer people had now given us the right to buy of them 100,000 shares of their stock (at a price $2,500,000 less than we had already sold it for), with the understanding—not in words or in writing, of course, because Standard Oil never makes a promise in writing, but implied as securely as though it had been set down and attested under oath—that we would take and pay for their stock and engage with them in their enterprise, giving them the benefit of our experience, our capital and our prestige.
