

LONDON FEELING IS BUOYANT NOW.

Prevailing Impression that South African War is Over.

BOERS RETREAT HASTILY.

Almost Surrounded at Mafeking-dorp. They Had to Hurry Off to Escape Capture.

New York, Aug. 29.—A dispatch to the Times from London says:

There is a very buoyant feeling in the city, the clubs and the public offices, and in fact in London generally, due to the prevailing impression that the South African war is running out to its last days. Lord Roberts' last dispatch shows that the silent points on both wings of Gen. Buller's position have been carried in Buller's advance. The troops occupy Mafekingdorp, Pretoria, Kruger's most recent capital. On Tuesday the Boers evacuated this place with great haste, but this was probably due to knowledge of French movements. The British cavalry general had worked right around the north of the Boer lines and was almost opposite Buller's position, and a few miles away from him at Elandsfontein. Thus, on the Boers had been caught between two British columns, and could scarcely have saved their guns and transport. Whether they will be able to reassemble their scattered remnants very uncertain. They were facing Buller's troops in the rocky position called Helvetia, but they cannot stay there long without being surrounded. The English divisions came up. If their intention is to prolong resistance further they only hope seems to be to retire to the mountainous Lydenburg region, subsequently to the northern Transvaal.

There are, however, persistent reports that the capture of the Delagoa Bay railway by Lord Roberts will be accepted by them as final proof of defeat. It is even reported by correspondents at the front that Gen. Buller, after his success, has decided to proceed to the light after their retreat from Mafekingdorp, and that after the surrender of that place they could consider themselves free to disperse to their own homes. Still, it must be remembered that similar reports have been heard frequently enough before, and have turned out to be ill founded.

A curious scene was witnessed at the colonial office buildings recently. Last week some hundreds of destitute Russian and other foreign soldiers, who had been discharged from the army, had gathered at the colonial office. The British government had no legal power to prevent them from leaving, but they were anxious to get out of the office, and the British government had no legal power to prevent them from leaving. The British government had no legal power to prevent them from leaving.

Ronald and Robertson, Ronald did not look with favor upon Robertson's nomination, which meant the defeat of Voorhees, Ronald's candidate for governor. Ronald personally preferred to go down to defeat, but his delegation insisted that he accept the nomination even though it added Rogers by disavowal of Voorhees.

The convention adjourned this morning after nominating Rogers.

She Told Suicide.

San Francisco, Aug. 29.—Mrs. Louisa Santag, runaway wife of Paul Santag, formerly a Pullman employee in Chicago, attempted suicide in the city prison today, when her husband confronted her and Fred Horpke, also formerly of Chicago. Today Santag, who had traced the couple and his children to this city, visited the vicinity of their home, armed with a pistol and a loaded cane, but accidentally meeting one of his little children, he carried it to the city prison where he told his story. The detectives took Mrs. Santag-Rogers and her three children to the prison. Here Santag took charge of his own little child. The woman then drew a pistol and shot herself in the head, inflicting a serious, but not necessarily fatal injury. Santag will not prefer charges against either his wife or Rogers.

Republican Meeting.

Chicago, Aug. 29.—Prominent men from all parts of the country gathered around the tables in the banquet hall of the Auditorium hotel tonight to attend the feast given by the Hamilton club of this city in their honor. The Hamilton club is a Republican organization here, and its chief interest is the great hall was never more handsomely or elaborately decorated. The walls were hung with the national colors, great bouquets and garlands of flowers of the same colors as these in the flag were to be found on every table. The decorations throughout were of a patriotic and military character.

Famous Specialist Dead.

New York, Aug. 29.—Dr. Frank Stephen Milbury, a well known specialist in diseases of the eye, ear, nose and throat, is dead at his home in Brooklyn, aged 41. He was a native of the province of New Brunswick, and after spending for some years in Nova Scotia and in the city of Mexico, he took a thorough course in Europe and settled in Brooklyn. He leaves a widow but no children.

Idaho Fusionists at Loggerheads.

Butte, Ida., Aug. 29.—The Populists and Democrats seem to be as far apart in the matter of the proposed fusion as they were last night, and the prospect of the arrangement being made is distinctly less favorable than it was twenty-four hours ago. Two members of the Populist executive committee have been absent until today. It is said now that negotiations have been held back until their arrival, but none of the parties to the proposed compact seem confident that it will be made.

Those supposed to be opposed to the program are not discussing the matter publicly. Senator Hofford, who is understood to be favoring the fusion, declined this evening to express an opinion or to state what the hitch was.

Utah Doctors Named.

Butte, Mont., Aug. 29.—The Rocky Mountain Interstate Medical association, at its session today, selected Denver as its next place of meeting in September 1901, and elected the following officers: President, Dr. C. R. Fleming, Denver; first vice president, Dr. H. D. Allen, Salt Lake City; second vice president, Dr. F. W. McClinton, Salt Lake City; recording secretary, Dr. E. J. Dorsky, Denver; corresponding secretary, Dr. S. D. Hopkins, Denver; board of trustees, Dr. T. J. Murray, Butte; Dr. James Carter, Wyoming; Dr. R. R. Pike, Utah; Dr. Charles H. Jones, Arizona; Dr. J. H. Dean, Idaho; Dr. A. W. Holmes, California.

The day's proceedings consisted of the reading of papers. Tonight the members of the association partook of a banquet at the McAdams. Tomorrow many of them will leave for a trip through the National park.

Washington Fusionists Agree.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 29.—At an early hour this morning John R. Rogers was nominated for the office of governor by the fusionists in union convention. The eighth ballot, which landed him the nomination stood: Rogers, 24; Fawcett, 21; Voorhees, 11; Neil, 10; Thurston, 5; Daniels, 3. Rogers was not in attendance upon the convention, but he was the convention's favorite, and his crowd around him, King county's candidate for Congress, to agree to the unanimous nomination of

PHILLIES SHUT OUT BROOKLYN.

Orth Takes the Leaders Down a Few Notches.

ALLOWS ONLY FIVE HITS.

The Chicago-St. Louis Game Was Characterized by Costly Errors, Fast
Fielding and Hard Hitting.

Brooklyn took a drop in the percentage column yesterday when the Philadelphia team took revenge for the crushing day previous, by shutting the leaders out. Orth's pitching was superb, and besides shutting Brooklyn out, he managed to hold them down to five hits, while his team stacked up fourteen hits and eight runs.

New York lost to the Bamesters, mainly through error. Their fielding seemed to be unusually poor. The field work of Boston was much better, however, and saved the game, for their pitcher was battered pretty hard. A big crowd assembled at the Chicago game, the feature of which was hard hitting on both sides.

CORBETT IS THE FAVORITE.

Some Betting at Ten to Eight that He Will Defeat McCoy.

A New York dispatch this morning says: At a late hour last night the betting was 10 to 8 that Corbett will beat McCoy tonight at Madison Square Garden. Very few bets were made, however, as most of the big betters who favor Corbett, want to get a look at McCoy before placing their money.

Several bets of even money were made during the day but when Corbett's victory came up last night to bet their money at even money were no takers. The rush of Corbett's money was so great that the Corbett betters were able to put up 10 to 8. Later 10 to 7 was the only price at which the McCoy contingent would talk business.

Many of the well known followers of prize fights say that they do not know who to bet on. At Smith said he could not pick the winner.

"To me it looks like a toss up," he added.

"Honest John" Kelly said: "I will hold on to my money until I see the man in the ring."

James Walsley is in doubt but his chances are that he will back Corbett if he can get even money.

George Considine wants to back Corbett to the extent of about $2,500. He intends to hold out for the best possible figures.

Many of the out of town sporting men arrived last night and crowded the Sullivan benefit. A train load of Chicago
