

SOCIETY

The event of the week was the charity ball given for the benefit of St. Mark's hospital on Thursday night. The various committees had worked with tireless zeal in their different capacities, and every detail was carried out with uttermost success. The hospital, and all concerned in the brilliant charity function are to be congratulated upon the delightful result of the enterprise.

A large affair of the week was the wedding reception (tendered Miss Leona Taylor and Harold S. Daynes on Thursday night at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Daynes, about 150 guests being present to enjoy the delightful affair. The rooms were beautifully decorated, the parlors in white and green, white chrysanthemums and vines artistically arranged. The library was in yellow, chrysanthemums being used chiefly here and the dining room was in pink, the table forming a picture with its centerpiece of carnations and ferns with pink ribbon streamers extending to the corners and chandeliers draped with greens. The hall was in red, carnations and chrysanthemums being used, while one corner was arranged in Japanese design forming an alcove where punch was served. Miss Rea Taylor and Miss Marguerite Daynes presided here and assisting in the dining room were Miss May Taylor, Miss Stella Daynes, Miss Vilette Hardley, Miss May Edwards, Mrs. M. T. McCune. Assisting in receiving were Mrs. J. J. Daynes, Mrs. John W. Taylor, and Mrs. J. J. Daynes, Jr. After November 15 Mr. and Mrs. Daynes will be at home to their friends in the Emery Holmes apartments.

On Monday night Judge and Mrs. Marionaux entertained informally at dinner, covers being laid for eight. The decorations were in yellow, chrysanthemums being the chosen flowers.

Mrs. Theodore Baldwin will entertain at a bridge party tonight at the post.

A pleasant event of the week was the dancing party given by Misses Josephine Gibson, Claire Midgley, Nellie Smith, Winnie Evans and Myrtle Jack. The rooms were prettily decorated, and the evening was delightfully spent.

Mrs. Frank Swindler entertained at an informal bridge party on Thursday, three tables being played. The rooms were decorated with autumn flowers, and prizes were awarded Mrs. Jack Keith and Mrs. F. H. Officer.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Walker entertained at a delightful musicale on Wednesday night in honor of Mr. Charles Read, who leaves tomorrow to visit his daughter, Mrs. Albert Hager, in Manila. The rooms were beautifully decorated in yellow, chrysanthemums being used with vines and palms, and a delightful program being rendered by Prof. J. J. McCallan, Mrs. Edward Schaffnerberger, Miss Edith Ellerbeck, Willard Weihe, M. H. Walker and Karl A. Scheid. About 50 guests were present to enjoy the affair.

Miss Anna McCormick was hostess at a dinner on Thursday preceding the charity ball, the table being beautifully decorated, and covers laid for about seven guests.

Mrs. S. D. Sturgis entertained at a delightful bridge party at the post last night.

Mrs. C. A. Walker was hostess at an

AMERICAN COUNTESS WINS FAME

The Countess Rosslyn, formerly Miss Anna Robinson, the actress, who began her romantic career as an artist's model in Minneapolis, is today considered one of the most beautiful women in the British capital.

Her marriage last March to the Earl of Rosslyn furnished the epicest sort of gossip in London society for weeks. For months before their marriage the earl and the girl were seen together at Monte Carlo.

Although Anna Robinson only played one short engagement in London she was reported to have accumulated a large fortune. She lived in a beautiful house at No. 11 Norfolk street, Park Lane, at the rate of $25,000 a year. Her diamonds are said to represent a fortune of $200,000. After her marriage to the nobleman, about whose reputation there was so much strange gossip, she was reported to have settled on him an income of $10,000 a year.

Last July the Countess leased Thurso Castle, Scotland, with its 50 magnificently furnished rooms, just to entertain her friends during the grouse shooting season. It was stated at the time that the chief reason the former American actress leased the castle was to be near her sister-in-law, the Duchess of Sutherland.

For years Anna Robinson was a spirited figure on the Rhoda of London, and was reported at one time to have engaged herself to marry Stewart Bruce, son of the late millionaire, Senator from Ohio.

number of the friends of the bride-elect were present to enjoy the event.

Mrs. Paul Hammer entertained the members of her schuch club this week.

The opening soiree will be given at Christensen's hall next Wednesday.

An informal reception was held at the Muscular club meeting on Monday night in honor of Lorado Taft, following a delightful musical program rendered by Miss Edna Dwyer, Miss Edna Cohn, Mrs. Stanley Price, Arthur Shepherd, J. William Curtis, Prof. Anderson and Walter Wallace.

Mrs. James Hogle was hostess at a pretty luncheon on Tuesday.

A German will be given at the University club on Thanksgiving eve.

The Doolittle club gives its first dance next Friday evening, Nov. 17, at the Ladies' Literary club.

JAMES HAZEN HYDE AND SOCIETY FAVORITE WHO IT IS SAID WILL WED HIM.

As a result of the prying eyes of the custom house inspectors a bridal trousseau valued at $3,600 was found among the effects of Mrs. Whitney Warren and her daughter, Miss Charlotte, on their return from Europe. The season with the customs officials was occasioned by the contents of the big trunk. Coming up the bay, Mrs. Warren signed a declaration to imported property on which the duty was $240. At the conclusion of the work of the inspectors Mrs. Warren's purchases in Paris were appraised at $3,600, and they were not surrendered to her until a day later when she paid in cash duties amounting to $1,800.

This, say the wisecracks, is a confirmation of the reported engagement of the former vice president of the Equitable Life Assurance society to Miss Warren. The young woman, when questioned, replied that she had nothing to say on the subject of an engagement to Mr. Hyde.

The Whitney Warrens have a town house at 145 Madison avenue, but pass the greater part of their time in a beautiful villa in Newport adjoining the home of Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish. Miss Warren is a niece of Mrs. Robert Goetz and Mrs. William Starr Miller, and since her debut, two years ago, has been prominent in the younger social set that includes Miss Gwendolyn Burden, Miss Therese Iselin, the Misses Mills and other ultra-fashionables.

WEDDING BELLS

The week has been a very quiet one in the way of weddings, only a few comparatively having taken place, and these of an informal nature. A number of engagement announcements have been made, which mark some interesting bridal events for the future.

Miss Mildred Cunningham and Dr. W. S. Downie were married on Tuesday at the bride's home, Rev. E. I. Goshen performing the ceremony and only the near relatives and friends being present.

A quiet wedding was that which celebrated the marriage of Miss Olive Pearl Cooper and L. C. Colbert, the ceremony being performed by Rev. J. B. Eddie in the presence of the families and friends and the newly married pair leaving immediately afterward for a trip to Los Angeles. They will make their home at Bingham Junction on their return.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bishop announce the engagement of their daughter, Ethel, to Paul S. Barron. The marriage will take place Nov. 18.

Mrs. A. Drew announces the engagement of her daughter, Vivian, to Frank O. Raymond. The marriage will take place some time in December.

The marriage of Miss Opal E. Hicks and Harry S. Anderson will take place the latter part of November.

On Wednesday at noon in the Salt Lake Temple Miss Lillian Gamble and Mr. Edward W. Braby were united in marriage. President J. E. Widener performing the ceremony. In the evening at the home of Mr. Hammond, 340 east Seventh South street a very enjoyable reception was given. The parlors were very beautifully decorated for the occasion and delicious refreshments were served. Many beautiful presents were received by the young couple. Mr. and Mrs. Braby have a host of friends in this city who wish them long and happy lives. They will be at home to their friends after Nov. 20, at their new home, 715 Seventh East.

A very quiet wedding was solemnized at the home of Mrs. Juliet Croxall, 425 Sixth street, where her daughter, Jet, became the wife of John B. Kelly of San Francisco. The ceremony was performed by President Angus M. Cannon, and the bride was attended by Miss Claire Tregona, while G. C. Mathews acted as best man. The bride was attired in white crepe de chine over tulle and carried bride's roses. After the ceremony a delightful dinner was served. Mr. and Mrs. Kelly left on the midnight train for San Francisco, where they will be at home to their many friends after Dec. 1, at 606 Rush street. Mr. and Mrs. Kelly have a host of friends who will wish them much happiness.

THE LARGER OUTSIDE CITIES

Mrs. Bell gave a very amusing and entertaining afternoon Wednesday to a large number of her lady friends, to whom she had issued invitations to call and bring their scissors. When the ladies were all seated, Mrs. Bell gave each one a needle and thread and a quantity of tissue paper, and told each to make a hat. The work afforded much amusement for a considerable time, as they worked zealously for the prizes. When all had finished their work, they were ushered into the dining room wearing their new hats. They partook of a dainty lunch, and Mrs. Bell awarded the first prize to Mrs. Gus Becker as the best milliner, and Mrs. Abe Kuhn carried away the second prize. The home was prettily decorated for the occasion with cut flowers and ferns.

Mrs. Wherry entertained a few guests Tuesday evening at her home on Madison avenue. Cards were played and dainty refreshments served.

The Ogden High School Alumni association gave its opening ball of the season last evening at Toller's dancing academy, which was largely attended and greatly enjoyed. This was the first of a series of parties to be given by the alumni throughout the winter.

Miss Bealcoat, a popular young lady of Ogden, and Mr. George Duchesnay of Salt Lake City were married Wednesday at the capital.

The Weber Stake academy acorn staff have arranged for a dancing party to be given next Friday evening at the Stevens hall on Washington avenue. The academy students have rented the hall for the season.

The Chrysanthemum fair to be given four days of next week, commencing Monday, will be a very interesting and pleasing event. The young ladies of the Fourth ward have charge of the attraction and will not alone entertain the visitors with a magnificent display of flowers, but will have choice programs rendered. A large building opposite Wright's has been secured for the display.

Thursday evening Mrs. J. C. Armstrong entertained a few friends at cards.

The S. O. O. B. club was delightfully entertained Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Dalrymple. Music, cards and other pleasures were the order of the evening, after which a dainty lunch was served. Chrysanthemums made up the house decorations with ferns.

Mrs. Schanssenbach gave a 500 party Thursday evening to about 20 of her lady and gentlemen friends. Delicious refreshments were served after cards.

The lecture given Thursday evening at the Methodist church by Mrs. Owens on "Love, Courtship and Marriage," was very interesting. A large number of Ogden's leading citizens were entertained by the talented lady for about two hours.

Mrs. Charles Barton gave a Kensington last evening to a number of her friends.

Mrs. Horton of Detroit, Mich., is visiting in Ogden, the guest of her cousin, Mrs. Schanssenbach.
