GOOD THINGS FOR BICYCLE FANS

Downing vs Hehir Tomorrow Night—Special Features on Monday—Big Motor Race—Ogden Events.

America vs Australia will be one of the features of tomorrow evening's program of bicycle races at the Salt Palace saucer. Another leading attraction will be the match race between Hardy Downing and Paddy Hehir. These two events will furnish the headliners for a really good attraction. The "international" race will see Snell and Williams representing America and Nesbitt and Palmer representing Australia. The match race between Downing and Hehir will be best two out of three heats, and they will be a half, three-quarters and a mile. The other events will be a three-quarter-mile handicap professional, a three-mile open lap professional, an Australian pursuit race amateur and an unknown distance lap amateur.

THREE MOTORS TO RACE.

Monday night there will be races at the saucer and Manager Heagren has arranged for a genuine "thriller." The feature will be a 10-mile motor race, Samuelson, Whittler and Turville. The bike fans who have seen this Whittler person wobble about on the track knows what it means when there are three fast machines going at full speed and Whittler's one of them. There will also be a five-mile lap race and numerous sprint races.

PADDY HEHIR.

OGDEN TRACK OPENS.

The opening of the Ogden track, which was delayed owing to the great amount of water which had been left in the arena, is scheduled to take place Sunday night. Arrangements have been made to run a special train from Salt Lake to the Junction City over the Oregon Short Line. It will leave here at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon and return at 11.

There will be a five-mile motor race, Samuelson vs Whittler, on their new machines, a half-mile open professional, a two-mile lap handicap professional, an Australian pursuit race amateur, and a two-mile open lap race amateur.

EXODUS OF TURF FOLLOWERS GOES ON

The exodus of turf followers goes on and it is expected that by tomorrow night practically all of them who hung about the race track during the Utah Jockey club meeting will have shaken the dust of Salt Lake City from their feet. Bookmakers, form writers, trainers and ex-jockeys are leaving today. Among them are "Old Boy" Shannon, ex-Jockey Rutter, "Sandow" Smith, Soulee and his crew, Frank Malay and many others. They are bound for Butte where the ponies begin running next week.

"NEWS" TEAM BEATS "TWILIGHT ROMPERS"

In a game in which there were several costly errors made on both sides the "News" team last night beat the "Twilight Rompers" with a score of 15 to 5, on the Twelfth East and Fourth South grounds, the lineup of both teams follows:

"News."		Twilight Rompers.
Harrow	C.	S. Maxwell
Fletcher	P.	Paul Talmage
Gardiner	1 B.	E. Snyder
Davis	2 B.	Ford
Thompson	3 B.	Taylor

MAY GET INJUNCTION AGAINST TWO "TEAMS"

Unless the police, the sheriff, the state troops or the courts interfere, there will be some terrible doings at Lagoon today when two rival baseball teams clash on the diamond for the world's championship. Efforts were made this morning to induce one of the judges to grant an injunction against both teams, the Press club nine and the Ad club aggregation. These steps were taken when it became known that the Press club had announced the following lineup for the baseball game:

First team.		Second team.
A. S. Brown	1 B.	William Nelson
Paul Armstrong	P.	C. C. Goodwin
Bert Settle	C.	A. N. McKay
G. Earl Garrett	L. F.	H. G. Whitney
Burl Armstrong	2 B.	Parson Simpkin

A. C. White	C. F.	Fisher Harris
F. V. Fitzgerald	R. L.	L. Armstrong

Press club umpire—Parley P. Jensen; mascot, W. D. Rishel.

Lineup for Ad club: John D. Giles, 2 b.; O. G. Cross, c. f.; F. T. Harris, 3 b.; C. R. Brazier, l. f.; C. A. Vincent, c.; George E. Hale, 1 b.; John Janney, s. s.; A. E. Hubbard, p.

Substitutes—Homer Robinson, A. D. McGuire, C. E. Wood, W. P. Cooper, T. F. Thomas, F. E. French.

RACING PROGRAM ARRANGED TOMORROW

At yesterday's meeting of the State Fair association board the sum of $5,000 was appropriated for five days of harness racing. A number of horsemen were present, and it was decided to hold another meeting tomorrow afternoon at which all the local horsemen and those from Ogden, Logan and other points have been invited for the purpose of arranging the program. When it is completed the program will be submitted to the association board and passed upon.

CASTLETON HAS MALARIA.

Clever Salt Lake Pitcher Likely to Quit Baseball.

Atlanta, June 30.—Roy Castleton may quit baseball for good and all if he does not improve in health very soon. Castleton is supposed to have malaria, and in a letter to a friend in Atlanta says he will give up the game for good and all if he does not improve in the next two weeks.

The letter came from Waukesha, Wis., and Castleton must have been feeling pretty blue when he wrote.

"I am going to stay here two weeks," says the letter, "and try to get rid of the malaria. If I am not better then, I shall go back home and quit the game. I am tired of feeling ill."

This will be sad news to hundreds of fans in Atlanta, who had wished Castleton every success with the Cincinnati club.

It may be that a little stay at Waukesha will do him so much good the malaria will be forgotten and he will yet come into his own in the National league.

If Castleton is suffering from malaria the bad effects would be more pronounced after going to a higher altitude.

Naturally he feels disheartened over his continued illness, but Castleton is young, and once on the road to recovery should be all right in a short time.

Evidently the Cincinnati club is meeting with bad luck in more than one instance, for Hans Lobert is with Castleton, having been forced to take a rest.

EASY MONEY

Every day some of our clients are telling us their appreciation for the money we have collected from some old claim for them. The other day we gave T. C. Waltenspiel, the cigar man, a check in settlement of a claim that had been owing to him 16 years, and the same day we settled up an old claim owing to the Calder's Music Co., which company has long since quit business. In every instance the money was paid because of the red streaks of honesty. We collect for thirteen thousand clients scattered from Africa to Alaska. Turn in your claims and we will collect some for you.

The Butte Miners actually won a ball game from the Skyscrapers yesterday down at Walker's ball lot, by a score of 12 to 11, and the game developed into a record-breaking "sawtfest," the two teams hammering out a total of 35 safe hits.

There is absolutely no reason why Butte should have scored the victory. The game was easily Salt Lake's. In the fifth with the score Salt Lake, 11; Butte, 2; the locals evidently thought they were playing some sort of association football and began to boot the sphere all over the diamond. In addition to this the visitors began to hit Hunt with painful frequency and at the end of the eighth led by one tally. Butte used White, Osburn and McAdams. The first two were knocked out of the box. Hunt started off well enough but perhaps the weather was too hot for him as he weakened and Butte cracked out 15 hits. The detailed score follows:

Helena, Mont., June 30.—After playing all around Helena for six innings and holding the senators to one run during that time, poor fielding judgment lost Boise the game in the seventh inning today. In that inning Helena made five runs and added four more in the eighth inning, winning by a score of 10 to 3. Both Pender and Thomas pitched well. Cahill's batting and Gray's fielding were the features. Score:

TODAY'S RACES ON THE THAMES

Great Field Day Tomorrow—College Regatta With Numerous Entries—Comparison of Crews.

The active interest of every college man in town, graduate and undergraduate, is enlisted in today's contests on the Thames river at New London, Conn. This morning, the freshman eights and university fours matched oars over the two miles course, down stream from the navy-yard to the railroad bridge at Groton, the result of which is chronicled in this afternoon's dispatches. But the great race of the day comes at 6 p. m., up-stream, from the railroad bridge four miles, the up-stream race being due to tidal necessities.

The Cambridge men are far the heavier and "beefier," judging from the pictures, while the Yale crew seems to be built more on the order of the typical Cornell university crew, medium heavy, supple bodied and quick, with lots of dash where and when required. A crew of this latter type is much to be preferred, though unless good judgment is used in spurting and harboring their strength at the right times and places, otherwise superior skill may be lost before a wiser administration of brute strength. The trouble with a heavy crew is that it is likely to be logy, slow in response at critical moments, lacking in dash. Then a great deal depends on the way strength is expended in sending the oar through the water, rapidly in recover, a proper catch at the beginning of the stroke, submergence of oar blade, the carriage of the head and shoulders, the most economical use of the slide, the drive with the legs, and other points that in the aggregate tell with such force.

THE SLIDING SEAT.

Under the conditions obtaining since the introduction into this country of the sliding seat from the English universities, rowing has come to be classed as both an art and ascience; an art in style, form and finish of action—individual as well as in the crew ensemble; a science in the most economic application of dynamic principles to this particular form of action combined with realizing to the utmost muscular possibilities. Courtney, the Cornell coach, seems to have developed scientific rowing to a point which no other coach has ever been able to attain.

The old time Yale coach, Kennedy, has approached it perhaps nearer than other athletic instructors, and Wray, the new Harvard coach, is making a good record along that line. But Courtney appears to have an intuition, a natural born insight into the mysteries which enables him to size up at once all that an aspirant for oarsmanic honors is capable of, and how to make an economic and most effective application of the same in propelling a boat, as well as the rigging of a racing shell, and tactics to be adopted with the best results in handling crew and boat in a race.

GREAT FIELD DAY.

While today is the Yale-Harvard day, tomorrow is the great field day on the Hudson at Poughkeepsie, with the great eastern college regatta, with its numerous entries, and all absorbing public interest.

JACK JOHNSON IS LACKING IN PUNCH

Pittsburg, June 30.—Jack Johnson, colored heavyweight champion of the world, tonight outfought Tony Ross of Newcastle, Pa., in a six-round bout at Duquesne gardens. While no decision was given on account of the provisions of the state law, experts unanimously agree that Johnson had all the better of the go. Ross was floored more than once and was in evident distress at the end of the sixth round. The fight was fast throughout, and while the champion carried the fight to his opponent all the time, Ross showed remarkable willingness.

Johnson was apparently out of condition, but found little difficulty in landing effectively on his smaller opponent. The audience shouted wildly whenever Ross landed a telling blow, but hooted Johnson for his rough work in the clinches. Johnson refused to make any statement after the fight, but Ross pleaded anxiously for another opportunity to meet the champion.

YALE TO WIN ONE AND LOSE ANOTHER

The Yale men in town are feeling happy over the outcome of the ball game with Harvard at New Haven, when the blues triumphed by a score of 4 to 0. Mr. Callahan believes that Yale will win the eight-oared university race, and lose the four and freshman eight-oared races, at New London today. The minor events will be rowed down stream this morning, and the great race up stream at 6 p. m. The belief in local graduate circles is that Princeton will be taken into the Yale-Harvard races next year, and these will be made three-cornered affairs thereafter. Today is commencement at Yale.

JOHNSON'S POOR WORK BOOSTS KETCHEL STOCK

New York, July 1.—The failure of Jack Johnson to knock out Tony Ross in six rounds at Pittsburg last night, occasioned much comment in New York sporting circles and caused the betting on Stanley Ketchel to materially improve.

While the reports show that the black champion gave his fourth rate antagonist a severe drubbing, it was confidently expected that Johnson would be able to put him out in any one of the rounds. His failure to do so, coupled with his recent encounter with Philadelphia Jack O'Brien, who was twice decisively beaten by Ketchel, caused sporting men to figure that Ketchel has an excellent opportunity to grab the heavyweight championship.

If Ketchel defeats Johnson in their forthcoming fight, it is not believed that Jim Jeffries will submit a challenge to the new champion, as he has repeatedly said that he would fight Johnson only because he desired the championship to remain with a white man. Also there is considerable doubt as to Jeffries ever entering the ring under any circumstances.
