FRETWELL FAMILY
IN BAD LUCK.

Frank Fretwell and Lady Companion Held Up—Home Also Burglarized.

ROBBER MAKES A RICH HAUL.

Terrific Gas Explosion In O'Neill Saloon—Quibell-Powell Wedding—Briefs and Personals.

Frank Fretwell, residing at 528 Twenty-seventh street, was the victim of a mean holdup Monday night about 11 o'clock. He was relieved of a valuable gold watch and chain and a young lady he was accompanying was relieved of her diamond ring.

Young Fretwell and lady had been to Ringling's circus and afterward walked down as far as Twenty-fifth street. After having some refreshments they returned by way of Grant avenue. It seems that the electric light had turned out on the corner of Grant avenue and Twenty-third street, leaving it as dark as Egypt the entire block. When they reached a place near the Grant school, just under the large trees, a man stepped out before them, put a gun to Fretwell's ear, and commanded, "Hands up," in no gentle tone of voice. Fretwell didn't care to argue the question and instantly obeyed orders. The young lady stood by almost spell-bound while the robber robbed Fretwell, taking from him a $5 gold watch and about $5 in cash. The thief then returned to the young lady and took from her finger a diamond ring. He then disappeared in the darkness.

Fretwell's name is engraved upon the inside case of the watch. It was so dark that Fretwell could give no definite description of the man. He was not even sure whether the holdup was a mask. The police were notified but could do little under the circumstances.

The Fretwell household seemed to be selected for the night, by the crooks and burglars. Frank returned home, and his night's adventures to his family, and went to bed. Frank and Morris were sleeping in one room, George in another and Mrs. Fretwell and her daughter, Mrs. Donaldson, in another room. Along about 2 o'clock Mrs. Donaldson thought she heard some noise in the house. She arose and went to the dining room door and listened, but could hear nothing. She returned to bed, but had not been in bed long before both she and her mother plainly heard a noise in the hall and turned on the switch. The light revealed a man just in the act of putting his hand under George's pillow. George had placed his watch and about $15 in cash under his pillow, and the robber seemed to be on the scent. The prowler went through the door like a flash, in his haste he dropped a pair of trousers, which proved later to belong to Morris. There was a gold watch and some silver in the pockets of the pants. These things the thief failed to get. He had been in every room in the house. The police were notified.

TERRIFIC EXPLOSION IN SALOON.

A terrific explosion occurred last night about 8 o'clock in the basement of O'Neill Bros' saloon. The floor of the bar room was raised nearly two feet in places, and the furniture slightly wrecked. The force was so great that the entire glass front was blown completely out, and glass scattered half way across the street. There were two men, the bartender and a customer, in the bar room and one man in the cellar. The man in the cellar was slightly burned about the face and back, and about the hands. It is thought the explosion was due to a leaky gas line or to an accumulation of sewer gas in the cellar, and when a match was lighted the explosion followed.

And many other painful and serious ailments from which most mothers suffer, can be avoided by the use of "Mother's Friend." This great remedy is a God-send to women, carrying them through their most critical ordeal with safety and no pain. No woman who uses "Mother's Friend" need fear the suffering and danger incident to birth; for it robs the ordeal of its horror and insures safety to life of mother and child, and leaves her in a condition more favorable to speedy recovery. The child is also healthy, strong and good natured. UTAH COUNTY SCHOOLS.

Will Open September 5—Supt. Brown Not Candidate for Re-election—Wedding.

Special Correspondence.

Provo, Utah Co., Aug. 10.—A meeting of school trustees of Utah county was held in the Parker school yesterday.

Superintendent Brown made some remarks relative to the work of the coming school year, and also announced that he would not be a candidate for re-election, as he had accepted a position in the Brigham Young university. The time of opening the schools was fixed for Sept. 5, to continue for 34 weeks, the winter holidays to be from Dec. 23 to Jan. 6.

It was declared the sense of the meeting that the state convention of trustees and teachers be held in the first week in January.

The rules and regulations, adopted last year, were re-adopted, with some amendments.

It was decided to continue the manual training instruction, with Prof. Eastmond and Calvin Fletcher as instructors, and Prof. Eastmond gave some instructions in the matter of materials needed, etc.

The following resolution, introduced by Levi Colvin of Payson, was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we, the trustees and principals of Utah county, deprecate the bringing of our schools under the influence of party politics, by changing the time of the election of a county superintendent in November to the general election in November.

We believe that the best interests of the county schools require that politics be made a consideration in the choice of a county superintendent, but that educational qualifications and character alone should be considered. That it be the sense of this meeting that political parties refrain from nominating a superintendent of schools, with a view of placing on their respective tickets a person for the position, to be suggested by a non-partisan convention. That a committee of five be appointed for this meeting to confer with the chairman of the two political parties, with a view of carrying out the resolutions and to advise the board for the nomination of a county superintendent.

The following committee was appointed for the purpose of conferring with the county chairman of the two political parties: Levi Colvin, Payson; Quet Johnson, Spanish Fork; Morgan Evans, Lehi; C. B. Harper, Pleasant Grove; A. G. Jensen, Santaquin.

A vote of thanks was unanimously tendered Superintendent Brown for his efficient work in behalf of the schools during his term of office.

HOLDEN.

MRS. DAVID JONES DEAD.

Death Suddenly Follows Surgical Operation—Poor Crops—Cattle Business.

Special Correspondence.

Holden, Millard Co., Aug. 9.—A very sad death occurred here yesterday. Mrs. Marinda A. Jones, wife of David Jones, was in her usual health until last Wednesday, when she was taken seriously ill. Dr. Robinson of Fillmore was called in, and decided that an operation was necessary, which he successfully performed. The patient rallied nicely, but had a relapse later, gradually sinking until death relieved her of her suffering. She leaves a husband and four children, the youngest about six months old, besides numerous relatives and friends to mourn her untimely end. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Stevens, pioneers of this settlement; was a noble woman, and had been an active worker in the ward.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hunter received a telephone message yesterday from Greenville, Utah, that Mr. Jos. Morris (father of Mrs. Hunter) was lying at the point of death. They left immediately for his bedside.

The hay crop was below the average for the season, while there is but little grain, on account of the scarcity of water. Prospects are generally discouraging in this section, on account of the long continued drought. The dullness in the stock market also greatly affects us, as we are all more or less interested in the stock industry.

THE MAKING OF TIM.

Mr. Professor good mornin' sir! I'm glad your looking so well.

I was little afraid after that last book you wrote you might be havin' a spell.

It shows a heap of book learnin' but them agricultural schools.

Can't allus see us farmers any really hard and fast rules.

But layin' aside all politeness and getting to business, here's Tim.

We thought like as not you could make a book farmer outen o' him.

My family you see, is the old fashioned kind, there's Henry and Thomas and Jim.

And Daniel and David and last of 'em all come, this little runt of a Tim.

Andrew and Sam are both married and settled down right close at hand. But I started 'em off by giving each one a tolerable good slice o' land.

But shucks! I can't get them to work it, they think farmin' don't pay.

And while I help to support 'em they go and work out by the day.

Henry's cut out for a lawyer, and Thomas as a doctor will be.

And David and Daniel are scholars but they're all a boardin' with me.

They've all of 'em got a profession except of course little Tim.

And we thought perhaps you could make a book farmer outen o' him.

He was never big and smart like the rest, and to work very hard he ain't able. The only time he does his share of the work is when he sits down to the table.

He guffins around with the chickens and watches the calves and the bees.

And scribbles whole pages of nonsense about the rocks and the trees.

And lately he's taken to readin' your books and doin' things different from me.

So that's where we got the notion he'd make a book farmer you see.

It's sort of an easy vocation, I guess, 'tain't much like workin' the farm. Perhaps he could make a good livin' without doin' very much harm.

He'd get his name in the papers and folks would look up to him.

So we thought perhaps you could make a "book farmer" outen our Tim.

—P. A. Hayes in Green's Fruit-Grower.

A GET-RICH-QUICK SCHEME.

Charles M. Schwab, during a recent visit to Europe, met an impoverished French nobleman.

The nobleman had no English, but Mr. Schwab speaks French well. Thus the two had many talks about the opportunities that America offers to the poor.

The other day Mr. Schwab received a letter from his French friend. The letter was, to his surprise, in English. The nobleman said in it that he had been studying English with a tutor, and he ended with these suggestive words:

"In small time I can learn so many English as I think I will come to the America and go on the scaffold to lecture."
