AN ACT

Pertaining to damage done by Animals.

SEC. 1. Be it enacted by the Governor and Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Utah: That owners of horses, mules, cattle, hogs, sheep and all other domestic animals shall be held liable to pay all damage done by said animals upon the premises of other persons, whether said premises are protected by fences or not.

SEC. 2. Damage done by any animal's trespassing shall forthwith be appraised by any three disinterested qualified voters that can be most readily procured, who may make a reasonable charge for their services; and their appraisal and charge for their services shall be deemed amounts finally determined in law, which amounts, together with any additional expense necessarily incurred in keeping such animal, searching for its owner, or otherwise, may, if payment thereof be refused or neglected, be sued for and collected as in action of debt.

SEC. 3. The appraisers must state in writing the time and place of the damage, the name of the person aggrieved, and, if known, the name of the owner of the animal, the amount of damage they appraise and their charge, if any, for their services, so far as may be a general description of the animal, and a specification of any marks and brands thereon, and sign and deliver their statement to the person aggrieved, and such statement shall be taken as evidence in any Court.

SEC. 4. When the ownership of a trespassing animal is not known, or cannot readily be learned, the person claiming pay for damage shall, as soon as practicable, furnish a descriptive advertisement of said animal for one insertion in some newspaper having a general circulation, or post it in three conspicuous places within his district; and if ownership is not proven within seven days from the insertion or posting up of said advertisement, the aggrieved person in any settlement where a stray pound is not kept for the receiving and taking care of animals, is hereby authorized, after advertising or posting notices to that effect in three conspicuous places within his neighborhood, during at least three days preceding, to sell said animal at public sale to the highest responsible bidder; provided, the nearest Justice of the Peace or Constable superintends said sale and receives the proceeds thereof; and it is hereby made the duty of said Justice of the Peace or Constable to furnish the County Clerk with a description of said animal, which shall be kept on file, also the amount of costs and sum obtained, which shall be recorded in a book kept for that purpose, and open to the inspection of the public; and after paying all charges and costs on said animal, including cost of advertising, recording, and a reasonable fee for his services, to immediately pay all surplus into the Territorial Treasury, to be therein held for the benefit of common schools; and every sale and purchase as aforesaid shall be valid in law; provided that the owner may reclaim such surplus within six months from the time of sale.

SEC. 5. In a settlement where a stray pound is at the time kept for receiving and taking care of animals, and the ownership of a trespassing animal is not known, or cannot readily be learned, the person aggrieved shall, directly after the damage is appraised, deliver said animal and a copy of the appraisers' statement in relation thereto, and such other charges, if any, as may have arisen through keeping said animal and driving it to a stray pound, to the keeper of said pound; and it is hereby made the duty of said pound-keeper to receive said animal and take such care and make such disposition of it as is or may be provided by law for animals placed in his keeping; provided, he hold said animal subject to the payment of such charges as were presented at the time it was delivered to him.

SEC. 6. When the ownership of a trespassing animal is not known, or cannot be readily learned, and there is no stray pound at the time kept within the settlement, and the person aggrieved is unable to keep said animal, he may make arrangements for its being properly kept at customary rates, and the expense thus incurred shall be paid as provided in this Act for the payment of other expenses incurred on behalf of said animal.

SEC. 7. Upon petition stating that a specified region in any county is better adapted to grazing than to other agricultural purposes, if the County Court of said county so decide, then the other sections of this Act shall be inoperative within said specified region during such time as said Court in their judgment may determine.

SEC. 8. Any county in this Territory declaring, by a vote of two-thirds majority of its legal voters, in favor of fencing their farms, and of allowing their stock to run at large, may do so, by the County Court's calling a special election for that purpose. In such case, the foregoing sections of this Act shall be inoperative and void; provided, the stock owned in any such county shall be liable for all damage they may do to any crops growing in an adjoining county that may not have declared, by vote, its exemption from the provisions of the foregoing sections of this Act.

SEC. 9. All laws or parts of laws conflicting with this Act are repealed.

GEORGE A. SMITH,
President of the Council.

JOHN TAYLOR,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Approved Jan. 19, 1865.

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of a law passed by the Legislative Assembly of Utah Territory, and approved by the Governor on the 19th day of January, A. D., 1865, the original of which is on file in this office.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the great seal of said Territory, this 21st day of January, A. D. 1865, and of the Independence of the United States the eighty-ninth.

WESTERN NEWS.

The Reese River Reveille, published in Austin, Nevada, contains an account of seventy three prisoners breaking jail and making their escape on Saturday night, the 14th inst.

The same paper gives the following spicy item in regard to an arrest:

An individual named Tom. Graham has come to grief, from carrying an overload of whisky, and other deadly weapons. On Saturday night, while larking through Upper Austin, he startled the slumbering inhabitants by discharging a pistol. Unfortunately he woke up the wrong person, officer Murphy, who arrested him. He will have an examination before Judge Harrington, to-day.

It would doubtless have a salutary effect, if some of those gentlemen who fire off their revolvers in the night in this city, to the annoyance and disturbance of peaceable citizens, were treated in a similar manner.

—Horace Greeley does not succeed in farming. In a recent speech he said: "Twenty-five acres of my farm, or rather my wife's, is forest, fenced so as to exclude all the grazing animals, and the only part of it which does not cost me more than return."

—Dr. O'Neil, of Lincoln, England, recently, by action of law, recovered three guineas fee from a neighbor who had written a letter purporting to be from a third person who "required his services," but who, the doctor found, was not ill. The "sell" hardly paid in this case.

—The Emperor of Russia has just issued a ukase, extending the abolition of serfdom to Transcaucasia, the only province of the Russian empire where that institution still exists.

—The way the negro guards talk to the Southern chivalry which Gen. Butler has put to work in the trenches: "Hurry up, dar—hurry up Lieutenant! Go on dar—go on wid dat are shubble, Major. Take up dat ar pick, Cappun, and get to work libely, or I'll blow you out ob de ranks."

—A 10-inch Parrott gun costs $4,500; a 15-inch Rodman gun costs $6,500; a 15-inch Krupp's gun costs $29,400; a 12-inch Blakely gun costs $35,000. The two latter are made of steel.
