

Educational

The dance given by the '62 class last evening was well attended. Many of the professors and instructors were present and participated in the gaieties.

The "Orphans" will hold a class meeting next Thursday, at which an entertaining program is to be rendered. The principal feature will be a debate on the question, "Should the United States maintain a large standing army?"

The girls of the '63 class have organized a society for the purpose of studying parliamentary law and current topics. They expect to meet once a week.

The students of United States history and civil government will begin studying the Constitution of the State of Utah next week. The document has been published in neat pamphlet form, and presents a very creditable appearance.

Dr. J. F. Merrill delivered an address before the Utah Microscopical society last evening.

Prof. Clarence T. Johnson, expert assistant in irrigation, of the department of agriculture, delivered a lecture before the engineering society of the University last Thursday afternoon. His subject, "Irrigation," was well illustrated with stereopticon views. Mr. Johnson was a class mate of Prof. Lyman at Ann Arbor.

BRANCH NORMAL.

Cedar City, March 28.—The quarterly "report card," giving standing of students in the work done since the last one was issued, are to be distributed on Friday. The students show much eagerness to receive them.

It is intended to arrange some more apparatus in the assembly room for work in physical training.

The tennis court is now completely arranged. Students may be seen early in the morning and late at night seeking skill at the game. Some already give promise of becoming good tennis players.

In the manual training department the boys are just finishing the house-models they have been making. The boys were divided into groups of four and each group was asked to build a small one-story house, arranging rooms, doors, windows and closets. Not alone are the walls and partitions arranged, but the floors, ceilings, and roof have to be made, all in proper proportion, harmonizing of colors, and are even making wall paper designs, many of the latter really creditable. If there are not in the south some model "matches" resulting in model houses, then the instruction at the Branch Normal ought not to be blamed.

President and Mrs. David Cannon, of St. George, visited the school on Monday last, and the President spoke to the students in chapel. Brother Cannon has children in attendance at the school. He expressed himself as being deeply gratified with the condition of the school, the instruction, and the progress of the students. He spoke very earnestly of the good work the school was doing for the people of the south.

The Athletic association is planning a splendid entertainment to be given in the near future. The program is to include the performance of the little play "Dream Faves," musical selections, and an original play. Such entertainments never fall here to draw crowded houses, and the association will doubtless realize considerable help from the performance.

At Students' society, on Friday night last, an interesting program was carried out. The reading of the school paper, "The Observer," was one of the features of the evening. The article on the recent "Constitutional Convention" held in the U. S. history class was especially good. The stump speech by Mr. Teltus was highly amusing.

The lecture in "Art in the Schools" last Saturday evening, by Miss Knickerbocker was a fitting close to the public lecture course. A large audience was present and thoroughly enjoyed the talk and the views. The latter were beautifully united and represented several different artists. The pictures were arranged with the idea of illustrating their use in the school room as factors in helping children to form the habit of careful observation.

On Friday the students of the school will have a "field day." The exercises will consist of the following events—100 yard dash, pole vault, standing high jump, relay race—one half mile—two hops and a jump, standing broad jump, and gent's basket ball. The purpose of the contest is to test the relative strength of the students, and so give the athletic management an opportunity to choose the best material for the track team now being organized.

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

Logan, March 28.—The horticultural department is planting something more than 500 trees about the borders of the college farm and grounds. The trees are taken from the abandoned forestry plot of the United States experiment station. Several groups will be planted on different parts of the campus.

The trustees met on Saturday and located the new farm building. Since that time contracts have been made with Architect Mahler, of Salt Lake City for the planning and erection of all the new buildings.

Osborn Whitson, '97, has been employed as an assistant in the department of chemistry till July 1.

Mrs. John T. Caine, Jr., entertained at lunch Thursday, Mrs. Gordon, the Misses Moench, Baker and Richards, Professor MacEwan, Professor and Mrs. Fares, and Superintendent and Mrs. A. M. Merrill.

President Smiley, of the Wyoming University, visited at the college on Saturday, it is rumored to secure a couple of professors for his institution. Inducements were not sufficient to effect a transfer.

Messrs. Close and Linfield returned on Saturday from a tour of institutes. They were fortunately arranged so that the gentlemen could spend their evenings in the capital city, and combine pleasure with business.

Mrs. Annie Beers Petty, '98, is quite ill at her home in the city.

Several of the professors are receiving invitations to go out to conduct county teachers' institutes during the vacation. No definite appointments have yet been made.

Hon. F. K. Nebeker addressed the students at chapel exercises Friday morning.

The entertainment given by Miss Richards at the Opera house Saturday evening was a success from all points of view.

The final examinations for the term take place next Wednesday and Thursday. The spring term will open the following Tuesday.

The seniors will, next term, study the Romantic movement in literature, making special study of the poems from Byron and Wordsworth.

L. D. S. COLLEGE.

Professor Mills went to Ogden on Thursday to deliver a lecture on the Book of Mormon, before the Weber Stake Academy, returning the next day.

At the students' meeting, held Wednesday morning, Professor Mutch spoke to the boys, and Dr. Ellis H. Shippey spoke to the girls, after the separation into different rooms.

The last of the Book of Mormon lectures given by Professor Mills under the auspices of the Young Ladies' Mutual Improvement association, was delivered last Monday evening. A vote of thanks was given Professor Mills.

The Phi Beta Pi of the college will debate with the Beta Gamma of the University of Utah on the 13th of April. Messrs. J. N. Hicks, H. C. Hicks, and Jos. Finlaison will represent the college society. The debate will be held in our assembly hall.

Arrangements for an athletic contest between the college and the B. Y. Academy of Provo have been definitely arranged, to take place some time after conference. So far as can be learned, a very large number of our boys and girls will go, cheap rates having been secured on the railway, and the usual pubmanous patriotism having been aroused. Today the preliminary contest was held on the eighteenth ward square.

It has been decided, Principal Hinchey tells us, that the business department of the college will not close as usual in June, but will remain open during the summer. This arrangement being understood, students are entering almost every day, as they formerly did at the fall opening. Among those who entered this week are Charles Thomas and Porter Tharpe, the former being a son of R. K. Thomas, the latter hailing from Virginia.

BRIGHAM YOUNG ACADEMY.

Provo City, March 27.—Clinton Ray, an old student of the academy, visited his friends here last Tuesday, and spoke in devotional exercises.

The Utah county teachers held their institute in room D last Saturday. Professor Hickman delivered the morning lecture.

Heflie will occupy most of the time in the concert next Friday night.

The pedagogics class is now working on an important psychological question relating to the management and control of the temper. The data are to be gained from personal experiences. The class is also studying home life and how to make it complete and happy.

A movement is on foot to employ the students who remain in Provo during conference, in fixing up the park, which a year ago was granted to the academy as an athletic ground. The improvement will be welcome to the athletes who have found out the disadvantages of campus practice.

Mrs. Urquhart Lee, the accomplished parliamentarian of New York, opened her series of ten lessons in parliamentary law last Saturday at four o'clock. About three hundred students began the course and since then many more have entered the class. Mrs. Lee is an illustration of the principle that one who is self-possessed can control many. Her thoughts are clear and well expressed, and her English is unusually pure. When Mrs. Lee introduced the lady, she related an incident that happened in a convention of the "Daughters of the Revolution." They had invited a gentleman to preside, but at the end of two days he was taken from the room overcome with this malady of beauty. Mrs. Lee replied to this by saying, "I do not blame the poor man, for of all maddening things it is presiding over large assemblies. I have tried it, and I know how tiring it is."

In order that the lessons may be completed by conference time, evening classes will be held all this week, and no societies will convene except a concert under the direction of Professor Lund, which will be given next Friday night. After the concert a dance will be given.

Last Friday was a glorious day in the life of the academy. Before the town people were around for three blocks on east Main, one might have seen a line of men, in working attire, using the pick and shovel with mighty strength. Over three hundred of the academy boys were using their hands as well as their brains in digging a sewer trench. They worked in class sections, and many were the class yells and jokes that ran along the line. People said it was a several day's job, but the students completed it before noon. The unusual sight of so many men working in unison attracted many visitors, who could not say enough for the patriotism of the school.

While the young men and teachers were working here, the girls were not idle, for a bounteous repast of sandwiches, cakes, oranges and bananas was being spread. When the boys were through they were greeted with the tempting sight of five heavily laden tables running the entire length of room D. Before luncheon was served the boys indulged in a little boisterous class patriotism, but this left no ill feelings and only added to the zest of the day. Altho so much work had been done and fatigue was common, the dance in the evening was crowded. Those that were not dancing had the privilege of going into the college hall, where Professor Lund was holding a concert. Everything was as successful as could be expected, and has left a good impression both in and out of the school. It was a day to be long remembered.

BRIGHAM YOUNG COLLEGE.

Logan, March 28.—Our new electrical plant was tested last Thursday, and furnished light for the ball given by the college graduating class Friday evening. Mr. Guy Wilson is to be congratulated for his successful work in installing same. He hopes that it will be a great saving of expense.

Members of the basketball team were highly elated with the results of the game last Saturday. The score stood 8 to 10 in favor of the home team. The game was a good one from start to finish, both teams contesting with considerable energy and skill for the victory.

Friday, the 29th, the Weber Stake academy boys visit us. The last game played between the college team and Ogden was won by the B. Y. boys. Both teams are confident of success.

Prof. Hall leaves today for Chicago. He has been granted a leave of absence for the spring and summer months to study in the University of Chicago. Prof. Hall will occupy his old position at the opening of school.

Arrangements are being made for a summer school to be held in the college. There has been considerable demand for such a school, and while the teachers feel that their services will not be remunerated so far as money is concerned, still they are desirous of giving an opportunity to other teachers to improve themselves.

Logan is an ideal place for a summer school as the summer is not so oppressive here as in Salt Lake City and farther south. Attendance at a summer school in Logan, therefore, will be more in the line of recreation than otherwise.

Classes will be organized in the common branches of education, and opportunity will be given for those who desire to do advanced work in science, pedagogy, literature, language.

SALT LAKE HIGH SCHOOL.

President W. J. Newman of the board of education attended the Wednesday morning exercises.

Miss Stokes' geology class has examined the model of the South Swansea mine in the Atlas block.

Mr. Travis' civics class discussed government ownership of the railroads Friday. The leaders were Florence La Due for the affirmative, and Ethel Lewis for the negative.

An interesting quotation contest from the "Anchored Mariner" took place in Miss Corbin's English class Friday. Para Dalton was the winner.

Ten of the best students in quotations from classical (a) and commercial (b) are having an interesting contest from the first book of the "Iliad." The championship has not yet been decided but the commercial division is ahead.

Senator and Mrs. Rawlins have been called east on account of the illness of their son Athol, who was in school last year.

Connie Peekies and Marcia Lewis have completed their senior work. They have both gone to Ogden for a vacation, after which Connie will go to Los Angeles to study music, and Marcia will return to Salt Lake.

The "Easter Egg" by Burgess Young and Joseph Richards, made its appearance Thursday. It is a bright publication, and the boys report sales beyond the four hundred mark.

The cadets have placed their order for uniforms, and expect to present a gay appearance about the middle of April.

Three contests in algebra have been held this week. Emma Shea, Edna Trenam and George Irvin carried off the honors.

The Wednesday morning exercises consisted of two recitations, by Violet Craig, two selections by the girls' chorus under the direction of Mrs. Anderson, and two vocal selections by Mrs. Anderson. The program was enjoyed by all.

The visitors' book contains the following names for this week: Millie Davis, Mrs. J. W. McNamara, Mrs. E. S. Brooks, Mrs. William T. Olmstead, Mrs. C. H. McCready, F. B. Stevens, William J. Newman, Mamie Bridwell, Bertha Hampton, Anna Rogers, Mrs. S. C. Vanner, Miss Amy Pike, Mrs. P. M. Ulmer, Mrs. T. W. Edwards, Miss Gertrude Hartman, Miss Nettie Stevenson, Charlie E. Stevenson, Mrs. C. L. Peebles and Ward W. Mitchell, all of this city.

The school enjoyed a musical treat Friday morning. Mr. Goddard sang several selections, as did Miss Arvilla Clark, while Prof. McCheslain gave a piano solo.
