BEAVER STATE CONFERENCE.

The Beaver State Quarterly Conference convened in Beaver City on Saturday, June 10, 1884, and adjourned on Sunday, June 11, 1884, President J. R. Murdoch.

At 10 o'clock a.m. The representation from all the wards in the Stake was all that could be expected, as well as the members, nearly all the Bishops and their Counselors were present and most of the other organizations of the wards were well represented.

The idea of his young wife finding out that he was an old man nearly set him wild, and when he had gotten well settled under his wig he was still very nervous. On his wedding day he was fresh as a boy, and no one suspected his secret.

This happened some months ago, and the old man has not yet got out of it, and she will probably never find it out that it can no longer be concealed.

They live in West Des Moines, and the known probably to none but the groom and his bride.

— SCIENTIFIC AND USEFUL.

A correspondent writes us as follows: "In sharpening edge-tools, submerge them in oil, soap and water for oil on the hone."

Paper labels may be removed from bottles by wetting the surface, and holding for an instant over any convenient flame. The steam penetrates the label at once, and softens it.

— A number of observations made in Switzerland and England by Professor L. Glaser shows that the clearing of woods on mountain ridges has been followed by an increase of

Some people prefer hot lemonade to the usual form, but it is only recently that we have seen it recommended in diarrhoea. Dr. Vigorous recommends a glass of hot lemonade every hour, or as many, agreeable, and efficient treatment for diarrhoea.

The Bishop of the several wards each gave a verbal report of his Ward, which were quite satisfactory and showed great improvement since the last conference in the observance of the laws of God pertaining to health and happiness and the duties of each member upon us the Saints of the last days.

Recess was then taken until 2 o'clock p.m. and on re-assembling Bishop C. C. Brown reported that the general assembly of the Stake had been held at the same time in all the wards, and that the service was a fair trial. If he had no note on hand, let it be known for the record.
