

CLIPPINGS.

—The live stock of Illinois is estimated to be worth nearly $100,000,000.

—There are now but eighty-nine survivors of the army of the Revolution, whose names were placed upon the rolls for pensions.

—What, Alleghany county, Pa., is most eminent for what may be inferred from the following statement. It has 786 licensed taverns, 81 wholesale liquor houses, 38 breweries, 5 distilleries and other establishments for manufacturing stomach bitters. The official returns give their annual sale at $4,839,500. As this does not include the unlicensed houses, the consumption might safely be estimated at $5,000,000.

—Immense veins of coal have recently been discovered in Demerara, and it is thought the mining operations there will be very extensive this year.

—The fact is noted that every Episcopal clergyman in Charleston, have recently omitted the usual prayer for the President of the United States. The Episcopalians who read prayers, will of course have to adopt new litany after seceding from the Union.

—Quite a number of Baptist clergymen in Kentucky recently met and resolved to drop the sectarian name of Baptist and call themselves the Disciples of Christ.

—In this city alone, says the Boston Traveler, more than 1,700 infants under five years of age die every year, a large part of whom perish in the small and crowded tenements of the poor, from want of pure air to breathe.

—An elephant, connected with a menagerie wintering at Norwalk, Conn., got out of the barn, not long since, by breaking down the doors, passed across a field, walked off with a gate, went to a house and rapped on the window, sending the family flying out of the door through fright, and then helped himself to a heap of apples in the yard. His keeper appeared, and the huge animal quietly followed him to his quarters, full of pippins.

—A valuable horse, grazing in a rocky part of Cumberland, England, became entangled between two of the crags, and was found hanging by his head, his feet barely touching the ground.

—The United States census proves that we might better afford to lose three successive crops of cotton than one crop of grass.

—A new system of shipbuilding has lately been introduced in England, by M. Tovell. The bow is copied from the head of a salmon, the stern from the after body of a swan. Vessels built upon this principle have all proved to be fast sailers, with great stowage capacity. The keelson is curved, not as straight as in many other ships.

—The number of sea-going vessels in the world is about 85,000, of which two-thirds belong to England and the United States.

—During the late storm on the Lake Superior, the steamer City of Cleveland, was compelled to throw pig iron and copper ore overboard to the value of $30,000.

—A cave 2,000 feet deep has recently been explored near San Domingo, on the Tehauntepec route. It has at some time been inhabited, as several broken jars have been discovered there.

—The largest hotel in the United States is said to be Lindell house, now nearly completed in St. Louis. It is 272 feet front, 227 feet deep, 112 feet high, and fronted with cream colored magnesian limestone. Its cost, unfurnished, will be $600,000. It has 500 rooms, and can receive 1,000 guests.

—A noble Zouave company, called the "Zouave Oddities," have been formed in Birdgeton, N. J., for the purpose of sawing and splitting wood for destitute families the ensuing winter. With wood-saw astride of horse and axe in hand, they proceed to the premises, and reduce the wood to stove size with an alacrity unknown to those who labor for pelf.

—The Emperor fountain, at Chatsworth, England, the residence of the Duke of Devonshire, plays to the height of two hundred and sixty-seven feet. When the reservoir is quite full the water will rise two hundred and eighty feet. The height of the great jet of the Crystal Palace fountain, at Sydenham, is two hundred and thirty-four feet. The Park fountain in New York only plays about sixty feet.

—The New York State Asylum for Inebriates is so nearly complete that it will be ready for use this year. It will accommodate nearly 400 patients, and will be divided into eight wards, to each ward twenty-three rooms, varying in size from twelve by eighteen to eighteen by twenty-four feet. The number of applications already made from among members of respectable families, it is said, is almost incredible.

—Madame English, an old New York fortune-teller, was recently arrested at St. Louis, charged with swindling six countrymen out of $50 each.

—A lady who had read of the extensive manufacture of odometers, to tell how far a carriage had been run, said she wished some Connecticut genius would invent an instrument to tell how far husbands had been in the evening, when they "just stepped down to the post-office," or "went out to attend a caucus."

Save your Paper Rags.

The inhabitants of Utah are requested to gather up and save their worn out wagon covers, and every description of cotton and linen rags for paper making, and deliver them, from time to time, to the Bishops of the several Wards, or the 'News' and 'Mountaineer' Offices or their agents, for which, when clean, they will be allowed five cents a pound. The rags can be sufficiently cleansed in pure water, without soap.

It is expected that, in a few months, all who wish can receive paper in exchange for rags.

911 EDWARD HUNTER, Presiding Bishop.
