

ing in the missionary field, informs us that they are at present in Lindon, Brown County, Minn., or were on the 16th, the date of their communication. They were in good health, and felt determined to do the work for which they had been sent out, but were meeting with but little apparent success. Opposition was very manifest and the people hard-hearted and unbelieving. The brethren, however, were hopeful of an eventual turn for the better.

Museum.—The Curator returns thanks to Messrs. Bohart and Copen, proprietors of the fossil collection of prehistoric animals, on exhibition in this city during the last few days, for the gift to this institution of a photograph of the pelvis and other bones of the great mammoth, found in Washington Territory; also for fragments of bones of great scientific interest, which will be placed on exhibition among the fossil remains of elephants found in Utah in 1870, 1876, and 1880. The entire collection of Messrs. Bohart and Copen, removes to Denver today, where it should be a success as an exhibition of great scientific interest.

Utah Lake.—George T. Peay, of Provo, writing to the Enquirer on the 23rd, has the following to say concerning the Utah Lake difficulty:

"The assurance manifested by our Salt Lake County friends that they could draw off the water of Utah Lake, has proven a failure. The waters of the lake this season have flooded thousands of acres of land, and many will appreciate the fact more fully when the feed in the pastures bordering the lake, will become insufficient for the amount of stock grazing. Many have already had to move their stock entirely, while others are suffering on their tillable lands in consequence of submersion or by the waters being driven back so as to overflow the neighboring lands with no chance of drainage.

Attention more potent than protests appears necessary, and may be expected ere long, when forbearance ceases to be a virtue or self-protection a necessity."

Proposed Removal.—The Telephone Exchange proposes to move from its present location just north of the Western Union Telegraph Office, to the third floor of the Deseret Bank building, the change being necessitated for various reasons. The chief one is the lack of room and inconvenient character of the present office, it being but a portion of the Telegraph Office partitioned off. Want of air and light are two other reasons for the change. It will cost about $300 to change the wires to, and rear the necessary framework on the roof of the Bank building, but the latter place will be in every way more pleasant and desirable as a location. The removal will take place early next week. Mr. Pattison has ordered the material to be used in the construction, from Ogden, concerning which the Pilot says:

"The plan consists of one frame made of heavy timbers, which will stand on the roof, and be twenty feet high and twenty-four feet long. Two other similar frames, each sixteen feet long and sixteen feet high, will also be used. These frames will support in all 700 telephone wires, passing up from the street over these frames; thence down to the roof, from which they will rise several feet and pass into a tower in the centre of the roof; thence down to a switch board located in a room below. This tower will be 8 x 10 and 10 feet high, and used simply as a means by which the wires may pass through the roof without carrying the moisture from storms. These large supporting frames will carry a weight of wire, when stretched, amounting in the aggregate to many tons, and, with the tower, require about 4,000 feet of lumber for their construction."

Zadkiel's Predictions.—Zadkiel's Almanac for 1881, among many other things, predicts a partial eclipse of the sun, visible in Salt Lake City on May 25th (to-day). The location of the five planets, Mercury, Venus, Jupiter, Saturn and Neptune, in Taurus, this month, it is asserted will affect the affairs of Ireland, Poland, Persia and Asia Minor. The conjunction of Venus and Jupiter, which took place on the 18th inst., is to benefit persons born on or near the 27th. In relation to the eclipse mentioned, special dire events are predicted for Utah Territory and "Mormonism." The relative positions of the planets Venus, Saturn, Jupiter, Neptune and Mars, the first four being nearly conjunct in the "seventh house" and Mars in the "sixth house," are alleged to presage a very high rate of sickness and mortality in Utah; brain fever, sunstroke, diphtheria, and acute fevers prevailing. The conjunction of the planets in the "seventh house," it is declared, indicates a change in the marriage laws and a great deal of vice and immorality. The sun, ruler of the "tenth house," eclipsed in the eighth, indicates, it is further alleged, the death of one at least of the chiefs of the "Mormon" State and religion, and it is furthermore declared that within the next four years (the rule of the eclipse) there is a probability of a complete overthrow of the "Mormon ascendancy." Zadkiel also says that about the 21st of June, great excitement will prevail in Utah, and again about the middle of August. We cite these things in order that our readers may know what is predicted for us, not that we place any faith in them. "The greatest excitement" has so often prevailed in Utah, according to Associated Press dispatches, that her people are not going to be alarmed over such prognostications. Sickness we have already, and probably may have more. The downfall of "Mormonism" has been foretold so many times that the story is getting a little stale. A Mightier One than Zadkiel has said "it shall stand forever," and we prefer to trust in his word than in all the astrological speculations the wise men of the earth can create.

FROM SATURDAY'S DAILY, MAY 28.

Complimentary.—Thomas McIntyre, leader of the 21st Ward choir, a well known musician of this city, and a thorough good fellow, is to have a complimentary benefit in the 21st Ward School House, on Thursday evening, June 2d. A fine programme is prepared; tickets only 25 cents.

Accident at Manti.—By telegram from Manti to-day we are informed that an accident occurred yesterday evening to Jedediah Dean, of Beaver, one of the laborers at the Manti Temple. While lifting a rock to the platform, he stumbled, the rock falling upon his side. Fortunately no bones were broken. This morning he is considerably easier, and it is anticipated he will soon recover.

A Theatre for Logan.—The inhabitants of Logan are thinking about erecting a Theatre. Good. A meeting to take the subject into consideration is called for Monday evening, 30th inst. The site fixed upon for the edifice—should the necessary capital be subscribed—adjoins Logan Hall on the north and fronts on Main Street, and is a most excellent location. A lease of the ground for a long term can be secured on very reasonable terms. So we gather from the Logan Leader.

The Ogden Fire.—At a casual visit to the scene of yesterday's conflagration a busy view presented itself to us. Numbers of railroad men were engaged in setting things right, sorting the remnants of the burned cars, removing the debris and incumbrances from the tracks, taking away the empty car gears, picking up all the bolts, screws and other small irons that may yet be utilized. Carpenters are nailing and sawing away at a temporary platform of Truckee lumber. Boys and girls are going about the heaps of ruins and scraps, searching and scraping for any trifle that might be of value. Tin cans, large and small, are being strewed about in profusion, and some enterprising commercial geniuses are turning them upside down to find any that may still be useful.

The agents of the U. P. and C. P. companies are installed as conveniently as possible in their improvised quarters, and are exerting themselves to the best of their ability to dispose of all the multitudinous business.—Ogden Herald.

Diabolical Outrage.—By courtesy of the recipient we have been permitted to peruse a letter dated Sylvester, Mewcosta County, Mich., May 11th, 1881, and written by Elder Samuel B. Warner. We quote from the letter:

"I in connection with a family of Saints lately met with a severe loss. Bro. Zundell and I came from Tallmage on Monday, May 2d, and reached Westville that morning by rail, and on the 3d we walked to this place. We left our valises in care of Bro. Enos Root and family. On the night of the 4th, about half-past 12, their house took fire and burned up. The family only escaped with their lives. All my clothes and books, two valises and one overcoat were burned. The loss to me was $45; to Bro. Bunnell, $50; to another Elder, (name not given) $45. Bro. Root's loss was $1,000; his family barely escaped with their night clothes. The fire was the work of an incendiary; the person who started it escaped. Brothers Jensen, Zundell and Bunnell are assisting in putting up another house for the family.

This diabolical outrage upon innocent people, for no other cause than that they are believers in an unpopular religion, is but one more added to the long list of outrages which the Saints have suffered for the gospel's sake. We sympathize with the Elders and Saints who have thus suffered, and hope the latter may soon be able to make their way to Utah, where they can worship God in peace.—Logan Leader.

FROM TUESDAY'S DAILY, MAY 21.

Doing the Handsome.—S. P. Teasdel Esq., the popular merchant, yesterday, "did the handsome," as usual, in treating his entire force of employees, with their wives and children, to a grand picnic at Calder's Farm. They had a splendid time and enjoyed every minute of the day. The Farm is one of the leading pleasure resorts of the city, and is steadily being improved. A pleasure party cannot do better than spend the day there. The boats, swings, gymnasium, etc., are all in splendid trim and accommodations are as excellent as the rates of admission are reasonable.

Decoration Day.—Yesterday was observed as a general holiday. The various resorts in the suburbs of the city and on the shores of the Lake had each its quota of pleasure seekers, and a fine time was enjoyed by all. The main event in the city was the grand procession of civilians and soldiers led by the G. A. R., and the Knights of Pythias which formed on Main Street at 10 a.m., and accompanied by the stirring music of the Tenth Ward Band, marched to Fort Douglas where the graves of the soldiers were decorated and appropriate services held, after which similar proceedings took place at Mount Olivet. The day passed off peacefully without accident, and everybody had a good time.

Electric Light Tower.—The electric light tower in Ogden, which was designed by Col. Locke, of this city, and constructed at a cost of $2,000, is quite a remarkable structure. Visiting Ogden on Decoration day, a NEWS reporter was enabled to furnish a description of the tower for the information of our readers. It stands in the middle of the street, on the hill, at the intersection of Fourth and Spring Streets, and consists of a mammoth tripod of iron piping, supporting a circular iron cage at a height of 100 feet from the ground. The posts are of 4 1/2 inch pipe at the base, tapering to 2 1/2 inch at the apex, and form a triangle at the points of rest, where each is firmly bolted to a solid square cut rock, well laid in the soil, and securely fastened beneath. These uprights are stoutly braced with iron rods, from bottom to top. A slender iron ladder placed perpendicularly on the east side and incorporated in the structure, reaches to the iron cage above, in the bottom of which is an opening to admit the person whose duty it is to attend to the lights. Above the cage are suspended four electric lamps, which may be raised to an altitude of 120 feet from the street. The light has not yet given complete satisfaction, and the tower is to be raised ten feet more in consequence.
