

HOBBO CAT GIVES TIPS ON RACES.

Strange Feline Who Goes to Racing Stable at Washington Track.

HE IS CAREFULLY WATCHED.

No Sacred Cat of the Egyptians Was Ever Treated With More Consideration—The Accepted Tyrant.

"Well, we'll have to ask Hobbo about that before anything's done," is the catchword of Frank Farrell's stable of horses, trained by Frank Weir, now quartered at Benning's, says a Washington dispatch.

And they all solemnly look to Hobbo for the last word in all things.

Hobbo is a large, handsome cat. He runs the stable, and no sacred cat of the Egyptians was ever treated with half the civility or regarded with half the veneration that is accorded to Hobbo as his proper meed. His beginning with the stable was humble, but now he is the accepted tyrant. His actions are taken as auguries for success or failure. Foreknowledge is attributed to him of the probable results of any race.

Hobbo joined the Farrell string at Sheepshead Bay three years ago. He made his appearance at the stable on a dark night, dragging a broken foreleg with him. That broken leg was enough for the stablemen. The pleasant-faced young foreman found the kitten licking its leg in the stall with Brigadier, which then held the world's record for a mile. The kitten mewed faintly and the foreman picked him up.

"Well, you're a bum, all right," said the foreman, addressing the kitten, "but I guess we'll have to keep you until that dinky prop is fixed up."

So the kitten became an attaché of the stable.

Hobbo's leg was all right in a couple of weeks, and he was getting fat. He was beginning to assume a superior air as he made the rounds of the "recorder's" stalls and looked down on the other cats and dogs as he passed.

At the men and boys around the Farrell barn were letting him have his own way in things which he concerned himself in the management of the stable.

Attaches of the Farrell string will tell you that Hobbo knows in advance whether or not one of the horses of the lot is going to win a race for which it is entered. Hobbo invariably climbs up on the back of the horse and looks over its shoulder and spends the night there. If, however, on the night before the race Hobbo makes his way to the "enterer's" stall, Hobbo invariably climbs up on the back of the horse and looks over its shoulder and spends the night there. If, however, on the night before the race Hobbo makes his way to the "enterer's" stall, Hobbo invariably climbs up on the back of the horse and looks over its shoulder and spends the night there.

Match for Jerry McCarthy.

S. J. Kelley announces that he has made a match for Jerry McCarthy. The bout is to take place in Oregon on the 15th of next month, and will be twenty rounds to a decision. Jerry's opponent will be Billy Otto, the man who trained Young Corbett for his recent championship fight. Otto is considered a good man, and has agreed to meet Jerry at 140 pounds. Jerry is well liked in Oregon, where he put up a great battle against a tough man there several months ago.

MORE FOOTBALL CHANGES.

Famous Coast Yost Will Likely Suggest Some at Next Meeting.

When the football rules committee meets next week to act on possible changes in the rules for next season it will receive suggestions from F. H. Yost, who has coached the University of Michigan with such remarkable success. Mr. Yost is quoted as saying that his suggestions for changes in the rules are as follows: The most important legislation to be considered by the rules committee is in regard to rule 15 which governs the disposition of the ball. This rule should permit the use of either six or seven men on the line of scrimmage at all times, but if seven men are on the line of scrimmage between the twenty-five-yard lines, then the first man receiving the ball from the center or snapperback, may carry it beyond the line, provided he goes out the second man on the line from the man who put the ball in play.

"Rule 20 reads: 'The holder of the ball and no other player in any place kick may be off side or out of bounds without violating the kick.'"

RACES AT OAKLAND.

Favorites Started Off Well Taking the First Three Events.

San Francisco, April 22.—Favorites started off well at Oakland today by taking the first three races. After that there were upsets. A feature was the good riding of J. T. Sheehan, he winning four events. The surprise of the afternoon was the victory of Andrew B. Cook, a 12 to 1 shot. He led all the way in the fifth and won by a neck from Lady Athlete, while Scherzo, another outsider, was third. Ocyrohe, the favorite, was prominent in the stretch, but could not get up. Solon was supposed to be a good thing in the last, but after leading until the last sixteenth, was beaten by Golden Light. J. F. Newman, G. Green and Alec Forbes shipped their horses to Worth today. Weather fine, track good. Summary:

First race, six and a half furlongs, selling—Solon, 101 (J. T. Sheehan), 11 to 5, won; San Lution, 96 (Herbert), 20 to 1, second; Nonie, 99 (McBride), 10 to 1, third. Time—1:22 1/4.

Second race, six and a half furlongs, selling—Sweet Tooth, 191 (W. Knapp), 7 to 1, won; Shellmount, 107 (Holbrook), 18 to 1, second; Dollie Wetherill, 104 (Sinnott), 2 to 1, third. Time—1:24 1/4.

Third race, six and a half furlongs, selling—Sweet Tooth, 191 (W
