FERRIS-HAGGERTY COPPER MINES.

Adoption of Some Stringent Rules Started Rumor That Ores Were Playing Out.

AN INVESTIGATION WAS MADE,

Which Proved the Reports to be Wholly Untrue—Two Years' Supply in Sight.

Special Correspondence. Cheyenne, Wyo., Oct. 25.—Reports have been received in Cheyenne for some time to the effect that the rich ore of the Ferris-Haggerty copper mine, located at Battle Lake, in the Grand Encampment district, in Carbon county, were playing out and that the mine would shortly have to close down. Discharged miners have confirmed these reports, and recently the management gave orders to allow no one to visit the workings except the miners and others who had business there, or who were in the employ of the company. Old residents of the district took their friends up to the mine, but they were refused admittance, and this has only added strength to the rumor, started by idle rumors, to the effect that the Ferris-Haggerty had seen its best days, and that the mine would sooner or later be compelled to shut down.

Despite these rumors the shipments of ore continued to be made to the Encampment smelter. The great secrecy exercised by the officials of the company had a disquieting effect however and many persons came to believe the story of the supply of ore being exhausted. Your correspondent, desiring to get at the truth of the matter, sent a special representative from Saratoga to investigate the situation. His report has been received and shows conclusively that there is no foundation for the reports. There is enough rich ore to keep the mine open for at least two years, with its present force of men, and the indications are that the supply cannot be exhausted for many years to come. The special representative did not learn the cause of the company refusing to permit admittance to the mine. Many persons may have been stealing the rich ore, tampering with the machinery, or a hundred things may have occurred in the workings to necessitate the keeping out of all strangers.

ON MINING EXCHANGE.

May Day Holds its Own—Victoria Found Ready Takers. Carls, May Day and Victoria constituted the list of traders during the regular call of the mining exchange this morning. May Day opened with a sale at 23 1/2, then weakened to 28 cents, which was followed by a stiffening on the open board. Victoria was brought out at 2 1/2 and 2 1/4 with buyers ready to take it as fast as offered. New York Bonanza found takers above 8 cents a share on the open board. The closing quotations and sales were as follows:

SEVIER CON. STRIKE.

Big Body of Gold Ore Encountered in Tunnel No. 3. Capt. Henry C. Lawrence, general manager, and R. Foster, superintendent, of the Sevier Consolidated mines of the Gold Mountain district, have arrived in the city from that property. Capt. Lawrence expects to leave for Denver within the next few days and Mr. Foster will go back to the mine after having arranged for the shipment of a lot of winter supplies, such as he must obtain in this city. Mr. Foster says important developments have been made in tunnel No. 3. What appears to be an immense body of ore has been encountered, but the miners have not gone into it far enough to really determine its extent. However, it has been penetrated to a distance of 12 feet with no indications of the foot wall. The ore, so far as exposed up, will average about $27 in gold to the ton. The vein contains a great flow of water, which runs out of the mouth of the tunnel in a perfect torrent. The mill is running on about 60 tons a day and has demonstrated its complete success. That the company will make some enlargements in the mill there is not much doubt, as there is enough ore now blocked out to keep a plant much larger than the present one in continuous operation. The ore being milled at the present time comes mostly from tunnel No. 2, where a vein 14 feet in width has been developed. The Sevier Consolidated company is giving preference to the citizens of Sevier county in the way of employing men and in the purchase of supplies. "It is the policy of our company to give to the interests of the people of the valley," said Capt. Lawrence today, "and I am sure they appreciate it. With the mine opening up bigger right along the camp will grow in population and thereby furnish a good market for the products of the farms."

TRAMWAY CASE SETTLED.

Supreme Court Affirms Decision Rendered in Lower Courts.

The supreme court handed down a decision yesterday in the case of the Highland Boy Smelter company, now a part of the assets of the Utah Consolidated, against John Strickley et al, for a right of way over certain placer mining claims owned by the defendants. The decision affirmed with costs the decision rendered by Judge Stewart Nov. 10, 1903. It was written by Justice McCarthy and was concurred in by Justices Baskin and Barlow. In order to comply with the decision, the company must move the towers supporting its tramway at its own expense as often as Strickley requests, when it is necessary to have the towers changed so Strickley can operate his mine. The plaintiff based its right to condemn upon an act of the Legislature granting the right of eminent domain for public use of a tramway to facilitate the mining, smelting and reduction of ores. The appeal was made by Strickley's attorneys on the ground that the tramway was not for public use, therefore the right of eminent domain could not be exercised. The supreme court stated that property can be condemned for the construction of ditches by the right of eminent domain, and as the mining interests of Utah are second only to the agricultural in importance, the erection of a tram for public use, the court has the power to condemn property over which the tram runs. The opinion concludes:

"Since it is of vital importance to the people that the coal as well as other hidden resources of the state be opened up and developed, and that the mining industry in general, which has been the source of so much wealth to the people of this and other western states, be conducted on the same extensive scale in the future that has characterized its operations in the past, it is therefore the public policy of the state as exemplified by the act of the Legislature under consideration, to encourage the people to open up and exploit the mines with which the state abounds, and thereby not only give to the state the wealth which will enable other industries to be created, but furnish thousands of laborers with remunerative employment. "Therefore the same line of reasoning that applies in the matter of irrigation ditches in the case of Nash vs. Clark, applies in connection with the mining industry. "Therefore it is decided that the act of the Legislature under consideration makes ample provision for the payment of a fair price to the owner of lands sought to be condemned, and for all damages that he may suffer because of such taking and is therefore valid."

TRAM CONSTRUCTOR HERE.

J. A. McLean Arrives from Spokane to Take Charge of Con. Alta Work.

J. A. McLean, who is to have charge of the construction of the Continental Alta tramway, has arrived from Spokane and left this morning for Little Cottonwood canyon to look over the ground and organize his forces. The lumber for the upper head house to be on the ground and distributions are being made along the line for the towers. The new mill building is under cover and the machinery is being set up at a rapid pace.

BINGHAM CON. EARNINGS.

Month of September Was the Best Company Has Ever Had.

A Boston official of the Bingham Consolidated is authority for the statement that the month of September was by far the best in point of earnings the company has ever had. The net profits being between $35,000 and $40,000 and that this was derived largely from the treatment of custom ores. The same official says that by Jan. 1 next, or soon after, the company's earnings should handle an increasingly large proportion of its own ore and this should also increase the net earnings by 50 per cent above present figures. P. L. Kimberly, who recently visited the Bingham properties, says the Eagle and Blue Bell mine is worth today all of $1,000,000.

West Mountain Dividend.

The stockholders of the West Mountain Placer Mining company yesterday received dividend checks to the amount of 2 cents a share; the total checked out being $2,483.

The West Mountain Placer derives its revenue from rentals of ground and water rights from the Utah Copper company. It ceased to do any mining several years ago. The company receives, it was stated today by an official of the company, returns amounting to about 6 per cent on a $50,000 investment.

SIX THOUSAND FOR RARE METALS

Returns From Car Load Shipment From the Welsh-Loftus Mine Exceeded This Amount.

URANIUM, COPPER AND SILVER.

Paid All Expense of Mining, Transportation and Treatment—Another Lot to be Forwarded Soon.

According to William R. Wheat, manager of the Grouse Mountain Mining & Smelting company, with mines in the Miners' Basin section of the La Sal mining district, the recent car load shipment of rare metals made to the works at Niagara, New York, netted the Welsh-Loftus Rare Metals company the sum of $4,200. Mr. Wheat arrived in the city yesterday morning and as he was coming out of camp Mr. Loftus gave him a fine box of samples showing a great array of ore containing different kinds of the rare metals, viz. radium, vanadium, uranium and barium, together with copper and silver. Many have been led to believe that the Loftus ore also contain some gold, but Mr. Wheat says this is not so. The samples brought in were turned over to Iev. Peter Simkin and M. M. Johnson, of the Newhouse staff.

Mr. Wheat says he was informed by Mr. Loftus that the returns received from the sale of the uranium, copper and silver paid all the expenses of mining, transportation and treatment charges, leaving the sum received for the other metals clear velvet; the vanadium brought $6,000 while the radium sold for $200.

Another shipment, Mr. Wheat states, is being prepared, and will be sent out very soon. The product is placed in sacks before being placed on railroad cars. The Loftus company has two claims upon which work is being performed at the present time. The vein through which the rare metals are distributed measures about seven feet in width, the rock has every appearance of sandstone, which is somewhat broken up, the values clinging to every crack and crevice. The ore is mined from off the surface. The Grouse Mountain property is a producer of gold ore and recently underwent examination by a Denver mining engineer sent out for that purpose. Upon his report depends whether a sale will be made or not. There has been some talk of building a cyanide mill for this property and if the sale fails through with the chances are a plant will be installed before next spring. Mr. Wheat returned to Miners' Basin today.

The stock of the Scottish Chief Mining company was ordered placed on the board this morning by the listing committee of the Salt Lake Stock and Mining Exchange.

P. J. MORAN DECLINES.

Contractor Informs Mayor He Cannot Install Stoker at Jail.

According to a letter received yesterday by Mayor Morris from P. J. Moran the latter does not intend to install an American stoker in the heating apparatus at the new city jail as provided in his contract. On Oct. 15, the mayor wrote to Mr. Moran and asked him if he intended to install the stoker, as provided in his contract and yesterday Mr. Moran informed the mayor by letter that he did not intend to install it unless the American Stoker company would furnish and put it in at the price it made him at the time he submitted his estimate on the job and received the contract. The price stated then was $750 but the company refuses to furnish it at that figure. Mr. Moran's letter will be submitted to the council for consideration.

WAR SCARE AFFECTS STOCKS

Acuteness of Anglo-Russian Situation Causes a Slump in Prices.

AMERICANS IN LONDON DOWN.

Market Feverish and Active—Rally Used for a Fresh Liquidation

New York, Oct. 27.—The acuteness of the Anglo-Russian crisis was responsible for a slump in prices at the opening of the stock market today all along the line. Prices of Americans in London had been forced down from a large fraction to 1 1/2 before the opening here, but the break in the local market exceeded those declines. Losses of a point or upwards were uniform throughout the list. Mexican Central, fell 2 1/2; American Smelting & Atchison and Colorado Fuel & Iron and Pressed Steel Car 1/2, the last on the passing of a dividend. First sales of Rock Island were of 7,000 shares and of Union Pacific 5,000 shares and 1,000 to 3,000 shares of other prominent stocks followed each other in long strings.

The effect of supporting orders and of the quick profit-taking by shorts made it well felt after the disorderly selling had spent its force and there were some considerable rallies. The market continued feverish and very active. The losses ran from 2 to 3 1/2 in Reading, New York Central, Louisville & Nashville, Northwestern, Santa Fe, Marie, the Smelting stocks, St. Louis Southwestern, and Colorado Fuel & Iron. The rally ran from 1 to 1 1/2 in Reading, St. Louis Southwestern, Chicago Great Western, Erie first preferred, Copper, Standard, Colorado Fuel, Chicago Terminal preferred, Santa Fe, Marie preferred, Manhattan and Pressed Steel Car, and nearly 2 in Mexican Central. The rally was used for renewed selling and under the fresh outpouring of stocks Union Pacific, St. Paul and United States Steel, broke 2 points or over, and Southern Pacific, Rock Island, Erie and Amalgamated Copper about 1 1/2.

The discovery that the rally was used as a basis for fresh liquidation caused prices to break with great violence. Additional gold exports aggravated the weakness. Union Pacific, St. Paul, New York Central and United States Steel preferred extended their losses to 2 1/2; Louisville & Nashville 3/4, and Lackawanna 5. The losses of 2 points or over included Southern Pacific, Rock Island, Great Northern preferred, Baltimore & Ohio, Pennsylvania and Sugar. When the bears saw a relaxation in the selling pressure they sought to make a profit, the result being a rally running to a point or more in Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, New York Central and Sugar. The market was feverish at the close.

Bonds were weak at noon. Banking houses with continental connections were in frequent communication with their correspondents. Beyond the practically unanimous opinion that the gravity of the situation had increased, no definite news was obtainable. London was heavy in this market, unloading fully 50,000 shares in the first half hour according to reports. Much of this was doubtless for the account of other European centers, such as Berlin, Frankfurt, and Amsterdam. The west and, in fact, all sections of this country sold the list at the outside. Consolidated hopes had faded of selling orders and reports have it that some weakly margined accounts were sold out without previous warning to holders. The market here evidenced of good support not long after the opening and made substantial rallies in various stocks. Buying of a high class during the decline was reported.
