

IN THE WORLD OF WOMEN

Since the emerald shoen of Ireland's patron saint has faded from view no bright tinge has marked the tone of local social festivities, and in view of the quiet that has succeeded the comparative giddy whirl of the past season, the drab of the Puritan and Quaker might be chosen as a distinctive emblematic tint of the period. This applies to the prevailing season and not to the social ated with palms, plants and cut flowers, the parlor being done in pink and white and the dining room in violet. In the archway between the parlor and dining room a lattice of smilax, carnations and pink and white ribbon will make a framework under which the bridal party will stand, and carnations, flowering plants and palms will fill each suitable niche. In the dining room a profusion of violets will be used with violet and green ribbons to carry out the floral colors, with a huge bowl of violets as a centerpiece for the table, and ribbon streamers completing the design.

Mrs. Johnson will have charge of the refreshments, the idea to carry out the violet idea. Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Needham will be of the bridal party. The bride's gown is of dainty white Swiss with trimmings of Valenciennes lace, and her bouquet will be bride's roses.

Mrs. Elgin Travis entertained informally on Tuesday evening in honor of her sister, Miss Read. The evening was pleasantly spent with music and social recreation, about twenty guests being present. Refreshments were served, the table being decorated with an artistic arrangement of pink roses and ribbons. The guests were: Miss Read, Mr. and Mrs. David Murray, Mr. and Mrs. Bidwell, Mr. and Mrs. Akers, Mr. and Mrs. William Dinwoodey, Miss Murray, Miss Woodward, Miss Judge, Dr. Critchlow, Mr. Will Lawrence, Mr. Scott Woodward, Mr. B. X. Smith, Mr. George Lawrence, Mr. Willard Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. Murdoch entertained the Card club, of which they are members, at their residence on G street last night, about thirty-five guests being present.

NOTABLE UTAH WOMEN.

MRS. EMILY S. RICHARDS.

Mrs. Emily S. Richards is pre-eminently a notable Utah woman. She was born within the shadow of the snow-crowned Wasatch Mountains. Her parents, Nathan and Rachel Tanner, were originally from the State of New York. During her childhood and youth the best available educational facilities were at her command and she made the most of them.

Her public career began at Ogden, with her appointment as secretary of the Relief society. She afterwards became president of the Young Ladies' Mutual Improvement Association of that city, and vice president of the Weber county organization of Improvement Associations, serving ten years.

Mrs. Richards was appointed and served as president of the Territorial Board of Lady Managers of the World's Fair in Chicago, in 1893. While there she appeared before the World's Congress of representative women and gave a talk on organization; also a paper on the Women of "Mormondom" before the Woman's Branch of the Parliament of Religions. She was also vice president of the California Mid-winter Fair. Mrs. Richards was appointed by Governor Caleb W. West, vice president of the Board of Lady Managers of the Cotton States and International Exposition at Atlanta, Georgia, in 1895, and was delegate to the Women's Suffrage Association, held at the same place.

She has made frequent visits to Washington, D. C., and has attended many important women's conventions and councils, and also appeared before the committees of Congress. She represented the Relief Societies and Young Ladies' Improvement Associations in the International Council of Women at Washington in 1888, where she was appointed vice president to organize suffrage associations, which she did throughout Utah.

Mrs. Richards prepared the memorial and led the victorious campaign for equal suffrage at the time of our Constitutional convention, the president, Mrs. Wells, being absent in Washington. She was elected an alternate to the National Democratic convention at Chicago, in 1896, which nominated William Jennings Bryan for President of the United States. She was also appointed a national organizer of suffrage associations, and spent several weeks in Idaho working for equal suffrage in that state.

At present Mrs. Richards holds a number of important positions being trustee of the Agricultural College; member of the board of directors of the Salt Lake City Free Library; director of the National Relief society; director of the Orphans' Home; vice president of the Mothers' Congress; vice president of the Press club; member of the board of directors of the Woman's club, and president of the Utah State Council of Women, which she represented at Washington during the recent suffrage convention.

Had Mrs. Richards never known civilization, yet she would have been a leader among women. She is a devoted wife and mother, her dearest interests being centered in the home. She is distinguished for her benevolence and self-abnegation. Works of charity are her special delight and many have reason to call her blessed.

events which have enlivened the sluggish current of social activities, these having been of a delightful nature, but it will probably be only when the creamy tints of the Easter lilies bloom out effulgently that the tide will show evidences of the former brisk flow.

This evening an interesting event takes place in the marriage of Miss Gurnell Peterson and Mr. Basil Cornish, which will be solemnized at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. B. S. Rives, No. 6 Rustic court. The ceremony will be performed at 8 o'clock by Prof. James E. Talmage, after which a reception will take place for the relatives and intimate friends of the contracting parties.

The preparations promise a charming affair. The house will be prettily decor-

Miss Peterson is the pretty and popular daughter of Mrs. Anna Peterson of this city, and has been for some time past the stenographer for Spencer Clawson's wholesale mercantile house. Mr. Cornish is a successful merchant and mining man of Robinson, Utah, where he has resided during the past four years, and where the young couple will be at home to their friends after April 15th.

The invited guests are: Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Rives, Mrs. Anna Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rives, Mr. W. W. Rives, Mrs. Emma Rives, Mrs. George Hansen, of Eureka, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Needham, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Foulger, Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Clawson, Mr. and Mrs. Leo H. Clawson, Mr. Spencer Clawson, Mr. Walter Clawson, Miss Virginia Elmer.

The house was decorated with palms and potted plants, and refreshments were served after the contest. The guests were:

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Daynes, Mr. and Mrs. Beebe, Mr. and Mrs. McEwan, Mr. and Mrs. George Romney, Mr. and Mrs. Rose, Mr. and Mrs. Swenson, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Romney, Mr. and Mrs. Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Hodges, Mr. and Mrs. R. Clark, Mrs. Julia Taylor, Miss Edie Green, Mr. Charles Madison, Mr. and Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Margaret Romney, Mrs. Vilate Romney, Mrs. Duke, Miss Daynes, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Stewart.

Mrs. Emma Jensen was the recipient of a pleasant surprise party on Saturday evening, the occasion being her birthday anniversary, which was celebrated by the pleasant event planned by the members of the Scandinavian jubilee committee. A number of valuable gifts were presented, with a birthday cake, made by Mrs. Hagman and fancifully decorated with Mrs. Jensen's name and age written in the frosting. A generous repast was served and the evening delightfully spent.

Mr. and Mrs. Pratt entertained at a family reception on Tuesday night in honor of their daughter, Mrs. Viola Gillette. About fifty guests were present, and the evening was delightfully spent with music and conversation. Mrs. Gillette, Miss Hermie Tyler, Mr. Shepherd, Mr. Weihe and Mr. Graham being heard in beautiful musical selections. Refreshments were served during the evening.

On Tuesday evening the G. A. R. hall was the scene of a banquet and military ball, given in celebration of the sixth anniversary of the organization of company B of the National Guard. The banquet was held in the hall and the ball was most elaborate. The committee on arrangement consisted of Capt. O. H. Hassing, Lieut. A. P. Goodmanson, Sergt. A. H. Lund, Mrs. O. H. Hassing, Mrs. A. H. Lund, Lieut. James Dunn, First Sergt. S. H. Lund, Corp. Hyrum Barton, Mrs. James Durand, Miss Maggie Anderson, Miss Lida Jordan. The committee on reception was composed of Mrs. H. S. Sorenson, Miss Martha Reckzeh, Miss Hazel Crismon, Miss Phoebe Davis, Capt. O. H. Hassing, Lieut. James Durand. The floor committee included Capt. Charles Floyd, Lieut. A. P. Goodmanson, Sergt. A. H. Lund, Corp. Hyrum Barton, C. J. Sander. The door committee was composed of Corp. Ed E. Jordan, Private Sam Nielson.

One of the chief social events of the week was the card party given by the Women's Democratic club at the home of Mrs. D. C. Dunbar on Thursday night. The rooms were handsomely decorated with flags, palms, flowering plants and bright blossoms, and a large number were present to enjoy the evening. Mrs. Dunbar was assisted in receiving by Mrs. James H. Moyer, Mrs. Wood, Mrs. J. M. Cohen, Mrs. Haywood, Mrs. Alice Merrill Horne, Mrs. Henry W. Lawrence, Mrs. W. C. Hall, Mrs. Moyer and Miss Roberts.

There were twenty-six tables and handsome prizes were awarded the winners in the contest. The first lady's prize, a painting by Harwood entitled "Port Avon," was won by Mrs. Morris Sommer, and the gentleman's prize, also a painting by Harwood entitled "The Bridge," went to T. O. Ansell. The prize in a card cutting contest for all the guests, a handsome book, was won by Mr. Howells. Refreshments were served after the game.

On Wednesday night a reunion of the family and near relatives of the late Horace K. Whitney was held at the residence of Mrs. Florence W. Dinwoodey on First street, about fifty being present. The guests included "Uncle Joshua," a brother of Horace K. Whitney, and one of the earliest Utah pioneers, the oldest son and youngest daughter—Bishop O. F. Whitney and Miss Hattie Whitney—and a number of grandchildren. Music, games and reminiscences made up the evening's entertainment, which was a memorably pleasant one throughout.

Mrs. Markland entertained at an informal reception on Tuesday in honor of Mrs. Robert D. Grant, about one hundred and seventy-five guests being present. The rooms were decorated in Easter lilies. Refreshments were served and the afternoon delightfully spent.

Another pleasant event planned for the coming week is the ball to be given at Christensen's on Monday night by the local officers in honor of the sixth anniversary of the National Guard of Utah. The reception committee will consist of Gov. Wells, Gen. Cannon and Col. Ritchie, with their respective staffs. The committee on arrangements are: Maj. H. M. H. Lund, Capt. M. Y. Cannon, J. W. Alford, J. A. Greenwald, O. H. Hassing, Lieut. W. H. Tobias, James Terry and A. P. Goodmanson.

On Tuesday evening the ladies of Woodbine circle No. 41, Women of Woodcraft, gave a pleasant social and entertainment at Odd Fellow's hall, a large number being present. A feature of the evening was a ball driving contest, in which each lady attempted to drive a number of ten-penny nails into a cottonwood log, the one completing the task in the quickest time winning the prize. Mrs. Alberta Litman was the fortunate one. The rest of the entertainment included a piano solo by Miss Grace Radcliffe, a recitation by Miss Calla Crane, a solo by Mrs. Rawlings, selections by Prof. Schettler's string quartet, and a photograph performance. Refreshments were served and the evening much enjoyed.

Bishop Sheets was the recipient of a pleasant surprise party on Thursday night, the occasion being his birthday anniversary. The affair was gotten up by members of the Eighth ward, and was most enjoyable throughout. Songs, recitations, and addresses enlivened the evening and refreshments were served.

On Friday night the residence of Bishop Sheets was the scene of a most enjoyable gathering, when his family and relatives met to do honor in a social way to the worthy Bishop's birthday anniversary. The pleasant features of the previous evening were repeated, and a delightful time passed.

Mrs. Travis gives a children's party next Tuesday in honor of Miss Marjorie Bidwell.

The engagement of Miss Nettie Sinclair and Frank E. Schefski, is announced. Miss Sinclair is the daughter of the late Peter Sinclair, one of the Utah pioneers, and Mr. Schefski is one of the repertorial staff of the Tribune.

Mrs. Thomas Coulson is visiting her sister, Mrs. Harry Johnson at Pueblo.

Next Wednesday evening the annual reception of the Utah Chapter Royal Arch Masons will take place at Masonic hall. Over 200 invitations are issued.

On Tuesday Mrs. Shepherd Benson entertained at luncheon in honor of Mr. and Mrs. George Crompton of Denver. Mrs. Crompton came to Salt Lake to take part in the Orpheus club concert on Tuesday evening.

The Wednesday Night club held one of its pleasant dancing parties this week.

Mrs. Margaret J. Clawson and Mrs. Phoebe Kimball were hostesses at a Kensington on Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. W. J. Lawrence has gone to Eureka.

Mrs. J. L. Snider of Mexico is the guest of her mother, Mrs. L. R. Taylor, at 227 east First South.

On Monday night Mrs. Amelia Young will give a family party in honor of the 55th birthday anniversary of her father, William H. Folsom.

Mr. F. C. Schramm returned today from a short trip to California.

Miss Hattie Jennings will return from New York next week.

Mrs. E. W. Genter leaves shortly for a trip through Southern California.

Mrs. Joseph Richards is in San Francisco visiting her sister, Mrs. Dewey Richards.

Miss Bertha Grow, who has been spending the past two months in California, returned on Tuesday.

An art exhibit will be held at the Ladies' Literary club from April 2nd to April 8th.

Mrs. Lorin U. King left for Denver yesterday, and after a short stay there will visit friends in Mexico and Minnesota.

Mrs. Viola Gillette left on Thursday for New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Little leave next Monday for Seattle, Wash., where they will make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Needham entertained at dinner on Thursday evening in honor of Miss Gurnell Peterson and Mr. Basil Cornish.

CLUB CHAT.

One of the most notable club events of the season was the open meeting of the Clootian on Tuesday at the residence of Mrs. James Moyer. The program was in charge of Mrs. Cora Eldridge who gave a lecture upon "Oriental Art," illustrating her talk with a most beautiful and interesting display of ceramics, metals, rugs and pictorial cuts which gave her hearers a thorough appreciation of her most interesting verbal description. The rooms were lined with beautiful specimens of East Indian, Japanese and Chinese art and for over an hour Mrs. Eldridge held the attention of her large audience with a condensed history of the beginning and early influences of art in Oriental countries, with its development into the exquisite creations which are recognized as being amongst the highest in the civilized world, illustrating her theme with representations of some of the most notable specimens of the different arts. Mrs. Eldridge had devoted months of careful research and study to her subject and the result as presented for the enjoyment of her hearers, was such as to elicit the highest encomiums upon her effort. The opinion was expressed by many present that the lecture should be heard by a larger audience and it is to be hoped that Mrs. Eldridge may consent to such an arrangement.

After the lecture the guests were regaled with cups of delicious Ceylon tea served with dainty wafers and oriental confections, following which a delightful social half hour was spent inspecting and discussing the elaborate art collection gathered up for the occasion by the lecturer. Such events are veritable treats and would be of incalculable value could they be oftener repeated, and thus have the advantage of gaining a practical knowledge of art through a personal inspection of the best obtainable representations.

Another profitable art lecture was that given by Mrs. Franc H. Elliott at the Woman's club on Tuesday upon "Practical Benefits of Art Training in Public Education." It was open day also at the club and a large number of invited guests were present.

Much interest is evinced in the newly organized Woman's Business club, which it is felt will be one of the notable movements amongst women's clubs, for such a club in the way of culture, extended means for social recreation, and more important still, advancement in the line of economic privilege, which organized effort may happily secure. Amongst the pleasant and needed social conveniences which the club can and will probably institute is a downtown lunch room where business women may gather for an hour's rest, and a palatable luncheon, putting away the necessity of the public restaurant with its total absence of opportunity for relaxation and repose. The eastern cities have many such clubs where a tired girl may drop in with her lunch basket, spread its contents on a
