This condition of increased prosperity is due to many causes. There never was a time within the memory of the oldest inhabitant when more interest was manifested in mining stocks or more money invested. It is also a fact that a greater degree of security attaches to an investment of this character now than ever before. Moreover more money pro rata among investors has been made in this way especially in Utah and Nevada stocks during the past year or so. than would have been considered possible a few years ago.

Locally there is every evidence of a continuance of the present era of wholesale prosperity. Mines, smelters and mills are all busy, and in all liklihood will continue to be so for some time to come until the McDonald-Ely shaft was sunk, there had been very little work done on the north side of the canyon, although there were some good show-
