

CALL THEM TO TIME.

Beyonc, Salaries and Land Bills Demanded by March 2.

ILLINOIS' ELECTIONS BILL.

The County Warrants Bill Up Again—Anti-Cigarette Measure—Other Business.

The Legislature got a reminder today in the form of a resolution by Senator Hulstfield, calling on the committees having the three most important matters for legislation under consideration to report by March 2. These committees and subjects are the public lands committee; a bill on public lands; the ways and means committee; a bill on State revenue; and the salaries committee; a bill on salaries. The resolution passed, and these important matters may be looked for to be brought forward at an early date, probably before the day named in the resolution. The general business was as follows:

SENATE.

After the reading and correcting of the Senate journal today, reports were received from the committees on live stock, judiciary, and counties and municipal corporations.

Reports from the county live stock reported adverse to Senate bill 10, which to the Juab county sheep men asked for the repeal of the law of 1892 relating to the holding of waters by antelope.

The committee on judiciary recommended the passage of Senate joint resolution 218, calling for the House resolution 218, relating to the holding of waters by antelope.

Matthews said the law needed amendment, and so he asked that action on the report be deferred till tomorrow. The request was granted.

The committee on live stock also reported adversely on Senate petition 11, and a substitute for it, H. 20, the latter relating to the holding of waters by antelope.

The committee on judiciary reported on H. 10, criminal procedure, that it pass with amendments recommended.

The judiciary committee also recommended the passage of S. B. 89, taxation of personal property, continuing certain sections.

The committee on counties and municipal corporations recommended the passage of S. B. 81, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

THE COUNTRY WARRANTS.

It now being 2:30, the time set for the special election, House bill 14, by Mr. Boulton, to validate all country warrants outstanding and issued before January 4, 1896, in excess of the legal amount, the author of the bill called it up.

Matthews's amendment to the bill was read. It provided that a taxpayer of the county itself, as well as the county itself, may enact protest and contest the payment of any such warrant—upon any ground except that of legal cause.

The amendment was lost by a vote of 17 to 21.

Mr. Stevens, an amendment was offered and read, providing that none of the excess warrants be paid, after validation thereof by this act, until all other warrants of like amount are satisfied.

Mr. Stevens's amendment was adopted.

Matthews explained that the ways and means committee could not get together because the members were engaged in other work.

Matthews said he intended no resolution on the committee, but in its special session should be given to the subjects named before the session got too far along.

Now, said the committee on salaries, we will have a discussion only this morning, and be brought more thoroughly up to date.

Matthews said if the salaries committee needed further time it could have it.

The resolution was then carried, no suspension of the rules, by unanimous vote.

CHARACTER BILL.

A bill introduced by request, a bill for an enabling the manufacturer and sale of cigarettes to the State. The bill has been published in the News. It was referred to the committee on manufactures and commerce.

THE ELECTIONS BILL.

H. B. 22, allowing election bill, came up on the special order of the day. A lot of amendments was incorporated without objection, while others evoked considerable discussion.

The bill got through the committee and then, coming up, when it was found necessary to make a host of amendments, which took Senator Allens the greater part of the session to read and explain. The bill was under consideration at present.

ELECTION BILL.

A communication was received from the House, announcing the passage of H. B. 60, to prevent the sale of tobacco and chewing tobacco to the State. The bill has been published in the News. It was referred to the committee on manufactures and commerce.

HOME BILL.

A communication was received from the House, announcing the passage of H. B. 60, to prevent the sale of tobacco and chewing tobacco to the State. The bill has been published in the News. It was referred to the committee on manufactures and commerce.

THE COMMUNES BILL.

A communication was received from the House, announcing the passage of H. B. 60, to prevent the sale of tobacco and chewing tobacco to the State. The bill has been published in the News. It was referred to the committee on manufactures and commerce.

THE COUNTY WARRANTS BILL.

A communication was received from the House, announcing the passage of H. B. 60, to prevent the sale of tobacco and chewing tobacco to the State. The bill has been published in the News. It was referred to the committee on manufactures and commerce.

THE FIFTH BILL.

The fifth day of the House session was opened at 1:30 today. Yesterday's journal was read and Mr. Morrison stated that he was not guilty of making the motion to adjourn, as stated in the journal. Mr. Nye took upon himself the responsibility, the motion was made and the journal accepted.

PENSION AND CLAIMS.

House petition 48 was from residents of Morgan county, asking for the passage of Senate bill 22, on elections. Presented by Mr. Hulstfield.

House petition 48 was from residents of Morgan county, asking for the passage of Senate bill 22, on elections. Presented by Mr. Hulstfield.

House petition 48 was presented by Mr. Hulstfield, of W. A. L. It presents some ideas as to school bonds which were suggested for consideration by legislators in their action on school bonds.

COMMITTEE REPORTS.

The judiciary committee reported that it did not concur in all the Senate's recommendations to Senate bill 25, and offered other amendments with a recommendation that the bill be passed.

The report was adopted. The bill provides for the duties of the State auditor.

The same committee offered amendments to Senate bill 24, defining the powers and duties of the governor, and recommending that the bill pass. The report was adopted.

An amendment to Senate bill 23, providing for the removal of public offices otherwise than by impeachment, was rejected by the committee with a recommendation that the bill pass. The report was adopted.

The manufacturing corporations committee reported back House bill 99 and Senate bill 26, giving majority of cities of the first and second class veto power. The committee recommended that the bill be passed, and a substitute inserted. Mr. Nye said that consideration of the report he referred to the substitute was printed and it was so ordered.

The same committee reported favorable to Senate bill 27, authorizing cities and towns to establish free public libraries and reading rooms. The committee offered several amendments, with which the bill's passage was recommended.

Senate bill 28, making a special appropriation for the State of Utah, was favorably reported upon by the committee on appropriations, and the report was adopted.

The committee on municipalities recommended the passage of Senate joint resolution 219, calling for the House resolution 218, relating to the militia system. The report was adopted.

The manufacturers and commerce committee presented a minority report to Senate bill 29, providing a bounty on marriage, recommends its passage as amended by the committee. A minority report was presented by Messrs. Simcox and Marwick, recommending that the bill be not passed. The committee on appropriations, with which the bill was referred, voted to sustain the report of the committee on appropriations, and the report was adopted.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate joint resolution 219, calling for the House resolution 218, relating to the militia system. The report was adopted.

The manufacturers and commerce committee presented a minority report to Senate bill 29, providing a bounty on marriage, recommends its passage as amended by the committee. A minority report was presented by Messrs. Simcox and Marwick, recommending that the bill be not passed. The committee on appropriations, with which the bill was referred, voted to sustain the report of the committee on appropriations, and the report was adopted.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

THE COUNTRY WARRANTS.

It now being 2:30, the time set for the special election, House bill 14, by Mr. Boulton, to validate all country warrants outstanding and issued before January 4, 1896, in excess of the legal amount, the author of the bill called it up.

Matthews's amendment to the bill was read. It provided that a taxpayer of the county itself, as well as the county itself, may enact protest and contest the payment of any such warrant—upon any ground except that of legal cause.

The amendment was lost by a vote of 17 to 21.

Mr. Stevens, an amendment was offered and read, providing that none of the excess warrants be paid, after validation thereof by this act, until all other warrants of like amount are satisfied.

Mr. Stevens's amendment was adopted.

Matthews explained that the ways and means committee could not get together because the members were engaged in other work.

Matthews said he intended no resolution on the committee, but in its special session should be given to the subjects named before the session got too far along.

Now, said the committee on salaries, we will have a discussion only this morning, and be brought more thoroughly up to date.

Matthews said if the salaries committee needed further time it could have it.

The resolution was then carried, no suspension of the rules, by unanimous vote.

CHARACTER BILL.

A bill introduced by request, a bill for an enabling the manufacturer and sale of cigarettes to the State. The bill has been published in the News. It was referred to the committee on manufactures and commerce.

THE ELECTIONS BILL.

H. B. 22, allowing election bill, came up on the special order of the day. A lot of amendments was incorporated without objection, while others evoked considerable discussion.

The bill got through the committee and then, coming up, when it was found necessary to make a host of amendments, which took Senator Allens the greater part of the session to read and explain. The bill was under consideration at present.

ELECTION BILL.

A communication was received from the House, announcing the passage of H. B. 60, to prevent the sale of tobacco and chewing tobacco to the State. The bill has been published in the News. It was referred to the committee on manufactures and commerce.

THE COMMUNES BILL.

A communication was received from the House, announcing the passage of H. B. 60, to prevent the sale of tobacco and chewing tobacco to the State. The bill has been published in the News. It was referred to the committee on manufactures and commerce.

THE FIFTH BILL.

A communication was received from the House, announcing the passage of H. B. 60, to prevent the sale of tobacco and chewing tobacco to the State. The bill has been published in the News. It was referred to the committee on manufactures and commerce.

THE FIFTH BILL.

A communication was received from the House, announcing the passage of H. B. 60, to prevent the sale of tobacco and chewing tobacco to the State. The bill has been published in the News. It was referred to the committee on manufactures and commerce.

An amendment to Senate bill 23, defining the powers and duties of the governor, was rejected by the committee with a recommendation that the bill pass. The report was adopted.

The manufacturing corporations committee reported back House bill 99 and Senate bill 26, giving majority of cities of the first and second class veto power. The committee recommended that the bill be passed, and a substitute inserted. Mr. Nye said that consideration of the report he referred to the substitute was printed and it was so ordered.

The same committee reported favorable to Senate bill 27, authorizing cities and towns to establish free public libraries and reading rooms. The committee offered several amendments, with which the bill's passage was recommended.

Senate bill 28, making a special appropriation for the State of Utah, was favorably reported upon by the committee on appropriations, and the report was adopted.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate joint resolution 219, calling for the House resolution 218, relating to the militia system. The report was adopted.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate joint resolution 219, calling for the House resolution 218, relating to the militia system. The report was adopted.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.

The manufacturers and commerce committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 29, giving city councils in third class cities additional powers.