Expresses Opinion Japanese Would Follow Up Their Military Successes by Closing "Open Door."

COMMAND OF ORIENTAL MARKET

Thinks Tney Will Get it Through Cheap Labor and Force Europe And America Out.

New York, Sept. 6.-Congressman Mc-Nary of Massachusetts, who was a member of the American party, received yesterday by Emperor William, is quoted in a Times dispatch from Berlin, as follows:

Berlin, as follows:

"In our conversation the emperor dwelt on the 'yellow peril' and expressed the opinion that the Japanese would follow up their military successes by closing the 'open door' and by their command of cheap labor force Europe and America out of the oriental markets.

"He went on to say that it was for

"He went on to say that it was for the white nations to stem the yellow peril by uniting. The only power that Japin feared was America, and it was a good thing for the world that the United States was on one side of the Japanese empire.

"The emperor asked us what we thought of German railways. We said frankly that we believed the American lines were better. The kaiser assented but said he thought German cities were better paved than those in America." EMPEROR RECEIVES CONGRESS-

Berlin, Sept. 5.—Emperor William received Congressmen Littlefield of Mains, Bartholdt of Missouri, Waldo of New York, McNary of Massachusetts, Norris of Nebraska, and Barchfeld of New York today. The emperor sent court carriages for them and they were assigned positions next to the imperial suite at the autumn review of the Potsdam and Berlin garrisons at Templehor field. Secy. Dodge of the American field, Secy. Dodge of the American embassy and a representative of the foreign office accompanied them. At the emperor's suggestion, Mrs. Waldo, Mrs. Bartholdt, Mrs. McNary and Mrs. Barchfeld were in carriages next to their husbands, but not in court

The congressmen, who have been attending the meeting of the International Parliamentary union at Brussels, were driven after the parade in the train of the empress through the streets lined by crowds to the palace. The emperor marched over the same route at the head of a regiment. When the emperor entered the hall where the party awaited him he spoke to Mr. Dodge and said:

"Introduce me to these gentlemen."

His majesty talked with each member of the party and to the congressmen collectively. To Mr. Barchfeld, who is about six feet six inches in height, he said:

The Lokal Anzeiger describes Emperor William and the congressmen as joking together.

"You are from the state of cyclones," said the emperor to Mr. Littlefield.

"Oh, no, your majesty; they come from Mr. Norris' state, Nebraska," said Mr. Littlefield.

"Nebraska," said Mr. Norris, energetically, "has the most fruitful soll in the world and the lovellest climate."

The emperor, talking seriously, alluded to the situation of the world following the Russo-Japanese war. He said he had observed with satisfaction that the United States was building up its navy.

Louisinia Are Favorable.

New Orlsans, Sept. 6.—With the exception of Lake Providence and Taliulah in northern Louisiana, yellow fever reports from that city and country appear favorable in character. Locally there are many evidences of the success of the mosquito theory, most conspicuous of which is the fact that in the list of new cases for the preceding 24 hours there is not a single one from the original area of infection that squares in which the fever first appeared, though there are hundreds of non-immunes in the district. Dr. Tichenor has wired that the infection is general over Taliulah and that nurses are needed. The death of Secy. A. L. Lane of the Fifth district leves board at Taliulah of yellow fever has aded to the alarm there.

JAPANESE INFANTRY ON THE MARCH IN MANCHURIA

The cut shows the relaxation of discipline which is permitted by a humans Japanese general when his men are making a long and tellsome march. The kind of marching filustrated in the picture is by no means as effective as the even lines of a column with the troops four abreast, but it certainly saves the men from much fatigue. That is an important point on a long march, expecially if they must go into action as soon as they arrive at their destination.

The pope took part recently in an open air religious function, the dedication the beautiful gardens of the Vatican. As may be seen from the picture, there was an immense throng of worshipers—over 20,000, it was estimated. At the shrine, and the bishop of Tarbes placed the keys of the completed work in the hands of his holiness. The pontiff responded in a short address and concluded with the apostolic blessing.
