

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

Officer Tom Fitzmaurice made a record for himself on Saturday evening in the arrest of a man named J. B. Bennett who is badly wanted in Davenport, Iowa, on a charge of grand larceny.

* The names and addresses of all the Pioneers who arrived in Salt Lake Valley in 1847, are wanted by Semi-Centennial Commission. Send the same to E. G. Rognon, secretary, Salt Lake City. Remember the names of all arriving in the year 1847 are wanted.

The grand jury came into Judge Hille's court and reported five indictments in the Bank of Salt Lake case, and his honor ordered warrants to issue and fixed bail in different amounts aggregating $5,600. The jury again retired to make further investigations.

Fred Wolf, a burglar with a record, was arrested early Sunday morning by Officer Roberts, after he had burglarized the home of Thomas F. Tolhurst at 745 west North Temple street and had evidently made an early morning call at the home of E. Bartlett, 642 west North Temple street.

Several years ago, two young men by the name of Day, from Luton, Hertfordshire, England, were reported to have been drowned somewhere in the East, on their way to Utah. Any person having information concerning them and their death will please communicate with the DESERET NEWS or Historian office in this city.

Elder Newel Whitney Kimball of Logan has returned from a mission to the Southern States. He left for the mission field on March 23, 1895, and has been laboring in Virginia. He was released on account of sickness and arrived in this city the 18th of this month. He reports the mission as in a prosperous condition and says he has enjoyed his labors very much.

The regular quarterly conference of Davis Stake, which was announced to be held on Saturday and Sunday, December 5th and 6th, has been postponed, on account of Sunday, December 6th, being Fast day, and will be held one week later, namely, on Saturday and Sunday, December 12th and 13th.

JOHN W. HESS,
President of Davis Stake of Zion.

In justice to Mr. A. E. Hyde, who is absent in London, I wish to state that the misunderstanding that has existed between us in relation to our business affairs, has been amicably adjusted, and if Mr. Hyde had been here at the trial of Beck vs Hyde he could have undoubtedly explained everything to my satisfaction, and the outcome would have been different.

JOHN BECK.

Mrs. Eather, of No. 6 School Yard, High street, Mansfield Woodhouse, Nottinghamshire, is very desirous of learning the whereabouts of her nephew, Geo. Paramore, who emigrated from the above named town some thirty or forty years ago, and is now supposed to be in Utah.

She would like to communicate with him again, as she is very old, and likely to pass away at any time.

Sunday morning at 3 o'clock, Mrs. W. Scott Clemon died from an operation which was performed by Doctors Bascom and Pinkerton, and which was the result of serious troubles which had afflicted Mrs. Clemon for years. The funeral will occur from the residence, No. 24 Fourth East street, at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Mrs. Clemon was the daughter of the late Feramor Little and was widely known and much esteemed. The husband and family have the sincere sympathy of a host of friends.

A telephone message from Bingham to the News shortly after 2 o'clock Tuesday bore with it the information that Mrs. Flen, a German woman residing in Upper Bingham, had taken an ounce of laudanum, presumably with suicidal intent.

The woman's desire to end her life cannot be understood in Bingham. It is said that Mr. and Mrs. Flen have lived happily together for a number of years, and that nothing has ever occurred between them to cause the wife to take such a rash step.

Many years ago, how long cannot be stated, but it is supposed some twenty-five or thirty years, a Latter-day Saint Elder named Thornton, first name unknown, labored as a missionary in Pennsylvania. He afterwards, or about that time, married Miss Ann Eliza Logan of Waynesboro, Pa. The lady's relatives in the East desire to communicate with her, and any person knowing her address if living, or of her death, will confer a favor by writing to J. H. Jones, wholesale grocer, Hagerstown, Maryland. He is her cousin.

In the Eighteenth ward chapel Wednesday afternoon, the funeral services of Sister Helen Mar Whitney were held. The speakers were Elders Heber J. Grant, John Henry Smith, President Joseph F. Smith and Elders Joseph Kingsbury and Angus M. Cannon. The remarks of President Smith especially produced a powerful impression. Fitting music was rendered by the Eighteenth ward choir, and a beautiful solo, "The Bright Beyond," which had been requested by Mrs. Whitney, was sung by Miss Edmonds. A long line of carriages followed the remains to the grave.

The funeral of the late Sister Sarah Hoarland Taylor took place in this city Nov. 17. The 9:45 a. m. train from the south was met at the Union Pacific depot by a large company of relatives and friends of the deceased, and the cortege proceeded to the burial ground in the cemetery. There impressive ceremonies were held consisting of beautiful singing and comforting prayers and remarks. The principal speaker was Elder Angus M. Cannon, president of the Salt Lake Stake of Zion. When the body of the lamented deceased was placed in the grave the latter was solemnly dedicated, and the remains of a beloved sister were left to rest till the trump of the resurrection shall call the just and the pure to the reward of a brighter and better sphere.

In view of the first Sunday of each month having been set apart as a day of fasting and prayer among the Saints throughout Zion, the Bear Lake Stake conference will not convene until the second Saturday of December (December 12, 1896) at 10 o'clock a. m. Meetings will be held also at 2 p. m. of said day, and at 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. on Sunday.

The bishopric of wards and presidency of quorums and leading authorities of associations throughout the Stake will please take notice and govern themselves accordingly.

WM. BUDGE,
J. H. HART,
WM. L. RICH,

Presidency of the Bear Lake Stake of Zion.

Ogden Standard, Nov. 19: "There are times when the leaders of the Church, even in Utah, in order to preserve their own manhood and standing in Utah, must defend themselves by preventing scheming politicians from degrading, not the men who are the present leaders, but the official positions these men fill by reason or the trust imposed in them by their people. The leaders of the Church owe it to their followers to keep the trust confided to their care free from public contempt, ridicule and scorn. Therefore, the Standard has no hesitancy in saying that the Church organ is right in declaring the attempt to elect Moses Thatcher United States senator, just for the purpose of disrupting the Mormon Church, to be an indignity to which the Church cannot, and will not, submit.

Tuesday morning Elder George H. Fisher and wife, of Oxford, Idaho, were callers at this office. Elder Fisher left home November 12, 1893, for the Sandwich Islands, returning the same time as Elder Jolley. While in the Hawaiian Islands he had good health and greatly enjoyed his missionary labors, which led him to all the islands in the group where there are Church members. He was well treated by the people and like the other returned missionaries speaks highly of the kindness shown by the Hawaiians. Since April, 1894, he has been clerk of the mission, and says it is in a very prosperous condition. Since he went there the number of new baptisms has been 84, and 485 children blessed. The return journey on the Molokai had an experience of some rough weather.

Sister Laura L. Fisher also has been engaged in missionary work on the islands with her husband. She left here in May, 1894, and returned with him. She found much pleasure in her missionary duties. For two years she taught school, and recently has acted as clerk in the plantation store at Laie. The returned missionaries from the Hawaiian Islands report all the missionaries now there as in excellent health and spirits.

Gen. Eli H. Murray, ex-governor of Utah, died Wednesday in Bowling Green, Kentucky, at the residence of his father-in-law, E. P. Neale. His wife and two children survive him. He was born in Cloverport, K. 1843, and hence was aged 53
