man who receives the Gospel and in-herits this great boon of knowledge or the man who rejects it, prefering to walk in darkness? Is it a pity that he hasjembraced an unpopular doctrine? hasjembraced an unpopular doctrine? I think not; whenever was the doctrine of Christ popular? When were true Pprphets popular? When Joseph Smith received his first vision, the Savior told him all the sects were wrong. Has anyone been able to disprove this? If there was one system on earth, approved of God, by which His children could be saved, there was no need of Joseph Smith, or the restoration of a gospel that had not been lost, but where on earth is anything like the church that

Smith, or the restoration of a gospel that had not been lost, but where on earth is anything like the church that Christ organized, under the direction of the Father, with Apostles, Prophets, Seventies, etc., with the doctrines of baptism by immersion and the laying on of hands for the reception of the Holy Ghost, the signs following the believer. It could not be found until God restored it. We were gravely told that "all these things are done away with." Where is the revelation commanding them to be done away with? Where is the revelation commanding them to be done away with? It cannot be found. No further proof is necessary; the laws have been transgressed, the ordinances have changed and the everlasting covenant has been broken, the fountain of living waters has been forsaken and hewed them out cisterns, broken cisterns, that can hold no water. The Gospel of God was rejected, His Apostles and saints were siain, and in consequence of the wholesale shedding of innocent blood and the wickedness of the people who preferred the mummeries of priestcraft to priesthood and the simplicity of the Gospel, the Friesthood was taken from the earth, and the displeasure of God was manifested in the destruction of Jerusalem, the overthrow of the Roman Empire, and the desolation that followed those who were the murderers in heart, and who had rejected the Gospel, meeting their just reward.

Joseph Smith and Oliver Cowdery

were the murderers in heart, and who had rejected the Gospel, meeting their just reward.

Joseph Smill and Oliver Cowdery both declared that John the Baptist came to them and ordained them to the Agronic Priesthood. This is recorded upon the pages of the history of the Latter-day Saints, and it is true. He was necessary, for John held these keys of Priesthood. He was the forerunner of Christ, not only in His first coming, but in His second advent. They were also visited by Peter, James and John, who had received their apostleship from the Father through Jesus Christ, under whose hands they were ordained, and they isld their hands upon the heads of Joseph and Oliver and ordained them Apostles.

These fiscts have been spread broadcast throughout the world. The Gospel could not have been restored without them as every student of theology can easily prove and, it is only a matter of time when all will know it. Do you not think the inhabitants in the days of Noah knew he was a true Prophet when their rejection of his message landed them in the place that he shaded them the similar experience? So also today. The testimony of the Latter-day Saints is true and we know it. Those who reject our testimony do it to their own hurt and are far more to be pitied than the Saints who are opposed by anti-Christ and are realizing the truth of the promise of our adored Master. "In me you shall have peace, but in the world tribulation." Ask the sons of God who are persecuted by the Government of the United States and who are in bonds, imprisonment or calle, if they do not enjoy peace? Ask standing they have been ruthlessly robbed of their means, separated from the society and protection of their loved hushands and fathers, and they will answer you. Yes: I enjoy a peace unspeakable, and the noble integrity of our beloved hushands and fathers has made shem more dear to us than ever, and we will try by our devotion to God and the principles of righteousness to be more worthy of them." They are having a experience aboving them that there a wide difference between the religion they enjoy and the religion of the world. That the Christian religion are a vienterity persecuting one. It
