

MARTIN DUFFY IS AFTER A FIGHT.

He Feels Sorry There Are no More Weatherweights to Conquer.

GOOD CHANCE FOR HIM HERE.

McCarthy's Manager Says He Will Fight Him at 145 Pounds With Side Bet.

"Martin Duffy is up against it in the weightweight division. He is unable to find opponents."

So says a Chicago exchange.
Well, if Martin is really anxious to find an opponent he need not look very long for one. There is a youth in these parts who has had a hankering for many months to get a crack at the champion of welters, and he will make Duffy about as good a proposition as he could wish for. The youth referred to is Jerry McCarthy, who, at the present stage of the game, holds the titles of welterweight and middleweight champion of Utah.

When Jerry's manager, S. J. Kelley, was shown the above extract from the said:

"To the tall uncut with Martin. We have been after him for months, but he does not seem to take kindly to our offer. He is like a lot of others I know who are at the top rung of the pugilistic ladder—he wants about everything in sight. Now, if Duffy is really looking for an opponent, we will match him with Jerry at 145 pounds straight Marquis of Queensbury rules to govern, split the purse in any reasonable way, and besides all that we will make a liberal side bet. What more does he want? He has been notified of our offer, but instead of him accepting our offer, he came back at us with a demand for a certain amount with or lose.
But you have got to show me. If he thinks he can take Jerry's measure, the chance is before him to make a nice little stake. We will talk business with any welterweight in the business; don't care who he is."

Jack O'Keefe is another welterweight Jerry is after, and there is every reason to believe that the pair will come together about the first of the year.
They will weigh 142 pounds with the usual rules to govern. O'Keefe has replied to the challenge and says he accepts. The date has not been decided upon yet but will be decided upon place and the bout will probably take place in a couple of months. Of course if McCarthy could postpone a match with the champion he would postpone the bout with O'Keefe, because he is after big game, and he says the sooner he knows whether or not he is a champion ship possibility the better it will be for all persons concerned.

Grim Beaten Again.

Chicago, Dec. 3.—Joe Grim of Philadelphia, the man whom Fitzsimmons failed to knock out in six rounds, was defeated here tonight by Hugo Kelly, a Chicago middleweight. Grim was badly outclassed, and was knocked down at least a dozen times. By constant clinging and staying down the limit every time he was knocked to the canvas, however, Grim managed to last the six rounds.

Nanny Goats Won.

A football team known as the Nanny Goats, defeated the Star Buckers in a game of football last night on Fifth South and Eighth East. The contest was pulled off under a light fog. The score was 15 to 10, the winners lined up as follows: W. Mills, l. e.; G. Mills, l. t.; Cameron, l. g.; T. Bowen, c.; H.
Vincent, r. g.; Linesey, r. t.; Shale, r. e.; Beveridge, q. b.; W. Bowen, l. h. b.; Penrose, r. h. b.; G. Vincent, f. b.

Outlaws Show Fight.

Sacramento, Dec. 3.—Manager Michael A. Fisher of the Sacramento base-

Palo Alto.

the beginning of the tournament.
A long list of players desirous of tak-

Charles Norris and Charles Conklin of Chicago, A. De Munn Smith of St. Louis and Dr. A. A. Mail, Dr. A. B. Liller, Ferdinand Posenburg, Wilson P.
Foss and Byron Stark of New York.

Can Wrestle Some.

A young wrestler named Pilling, recently a student at the L. D. S. U., engaged in a wrestling match at Card-ston, Alberta, recently with a Montana knight of the big mat, and won the match. The Montana man was Jack O'Neil who agreed to throw Pilling three times before the latter could get a fall. Pilling displaying considerable ability and managed to get the third fall, winning the match.

As to Crescens' Record.

Chicago, Dec. 3.—The board of appeals of the American Trotting association adjourned today without taking action on the record of 1:59.4, made by Crescens at Wichita, Kan., in October. The next meeting of the board will not be held until May 19, 1904. George B.
Ketcham, owner of the stallion, regards the action of the board as a practical victory. The case now hinges on a technicality.

RACES AT OAKLAND.

Four Favorites Played in Luck and Won The Money.

San Francisco, Dec. 3.—Four favorites finished in front at Oakland today in succession and then came two upsets.
Blissful was an 8 to 5 chance in the first race, but was outrun the first and could not catch Semones, who landed at odds of 10 to 1. Glenarvon, the 6 to 5 favorite for the last race, was none too well handled by Reed at the start.
He got through on the rail and led for a time, but tired and was beaten by Frank Woods. Barney Schrieber won races with Otto Stifel and Buchethi.
The day was fine and the track fast.

YOUNG THOMPSON ON MAT.

Brother of Utah's Heavyweight Champion Wrestler Makes Good.

Word has reached this city of Leon Thompson, brother of Eugene Thompson, Utah's heavyweight champion wrestler, who is now in British Columbia meeting all comers in wrestling matches. Of course he wrestles only those in his class, and so far has won every match.

On Monday he has a match at Roseland with a wrestler known as the German strong boy, and he is confident of winning.

Young Thompson writes that Mc-Laughlin is now at Nelson, B. C., teaching wrestling, and is meeting with success. Mac is matched to wrestle the big Swede, Jack Allen, this month.

MIDDLEWEIGHTS MATCHED.

Tommy Ryan and Philadelphia Jack O'Brien Sign Articles for Fight.

Chicago, Dec. 3.—Philadelphia Jack O'Brien and Tommy Ryan met here tonight and agreed to fight a twenty-round battle for the middleweight championship of America. A third round battle for the middleweight championship of the world is also certainly an offer by some club of suitable purse. Both men will then put their fortunes and sign articles of agreement. Several clubs throughout the country have been negotiating for the fight, but it is believed that San Francisco will be the city chosen as both men stated tonight they would prefer to fight on the Pacific coast.

Gift to University College.

New York, Dec. 4.—A gentleman who wished to remain anonymous, according to a Times dispatch from London, has given University College of that city $250,000 to be used for the promotion of education and research.

SCIENTIFIC MISCELLANY.

The electro-thermic fan of M. De Mare consists of a rotating fan, with mica blades, carrying resistance coils, the apparatus being driven by an electric motor. The advantage of this form of heater is that the moving coils radiate heat so rapidly that nothing is lost in light, and in a late experiment, the wire was made white hot before starting but soon cooled down to blackness at the center of the fan blades, the outer blades continuing to glow feebly. The heat discharged from the mouth of the fans casting was greater than the heat could bear. In another experiment with coils of very thin wire, the fan was started before the current was turned through the coils, and the wire glowed but faintly, although radiating heat that would have melted it under the usual conditions of a stationary coil.

Milk varies in viscosity with composition and temperature. A new apparatus called the "lacto-viscometer" is regarded by French physiologists as solving the problem of a simple and accurate method of determining the viscosity of milk. It consists of a thin copper reservoir, mounted on a tripod, with a fine glass tube, leading to a scale, and a piston, which is pushed up and down by a cock, and the time required for the escape of the liquid under a constant weight, with the temperature, and reference to a table shows the exact character of milk corresponding to these data.

A new virus called "damsyia" is made in France and it is supposed to be harmful to domestic animals, but fatal to rats.
Bread impregnated with it was scattered in docks, yards, railway stations, and schools, in Marseilles, and over a thousand rats were destroyed in a single night. The final results of the experiments will be eagerly awaited.

Much to be desired is a method of recognizing poisonous plants at sight. While no general rule can be given, Dr. H. H.
Rusby finds that there are evident indications, and that certain characteristics often go with poisonous properties.
One of these is the lurid purple color of the stems of certain plants, containing poisonous glycosides, such as the "berry and dogbane." A narcotic odor is common in many of the most poisonous plants, though lacking in others, and a bitter taste is cause for suspicion. The most general characteristic, however, is the acrid taste. This is our last warning, and it is usually relied upon to give warning before a dangerous quantity has been eaten.

Nitroglycerine is occasionally used in medicine, and it is supposed to be harmful to the heart. It is also used in the cordite which is more than half nitroglycerine. An investigation by Major Jennings shows that even a very small quantity produces very marked effects. It causes a rapid pulse, and a feeling of heat, and when a little is sucked by itself from a strand of the effect is most marked. It causes a rapid pulse, and a feeling of heat, and when a little is sucked by itself from a strand of the effect is most marked. It causes a rapid pulse, and a feeling of heat, and when a little is sucked by itself from a strand of the effect is most marked.

A study of statistics of the six great armies of Europe has shown Dr. V. Lowenthal that the German army is the healthiest, followed by the Russian, the British and the French. It is believed that the latter would be the most healthy were it not for the great prevalence of venereal diseases. Both the death-rate and the number of cases of sickness are greatest in the French army.

For producing steel castings free from blow holes, M. Mesian advises adding an alloy of aluminum and silicon to the molten metal. He has found that the combination of these two metals absorbs all gases present.

In the ship-warning system of Mr. C. E.
Kelley, signals by lanterns are sent out from the lighthouses at regular intervals. A vessel in range having a receiver, receives the signal, and in turn sends out a signal of its own. The house, and on respecting the observation after continuing a few miles, data is obtained for ascertaining the exact position of the vessel. A stop-watch reading directly in distances and a special code have been devised for use with the system.

Noticing that the gray winter uniforms of German troops and the blue clothing of Chinese spectators could not be distinguished from each other at long distances, a German officer, who was experimenting on the visibility of uniforms, A column was divided into five sections, each with its special clothing, and was placed in close formation behind bushes without foliage. At about 1,400 yards the section in gray and that in blue began to look lighter than the dark blue.
The gray overcoats, like long dark straps, made very good marks, but both khaki and canvas were difficult marks at all distances.

AS THE ENGLISHMAN TOLD IT.

I fell to Wilton Lackaye to spring a trivial joke upon a dignified but anxiously humorous Englishman. It was the old pun on the salmon fisheries. "Up there," said Lackaye, "they catch salmon, you know, and they eat all they can, and what they can't eat they can."

It was old enough, thought Lackaye, to be thoroughly ripe and sink properly into the Englishman's skull. Finally, after explanations, the Englishman appreciated it as the very best joke he had heard in America, and he repeated it at his club brilliantly the same evening thuswise:

"They catch salmon fish, you know, and they eat what they can, and what they cannot they tin."—Chicago News.

WAS DEEPLY IN LOVE WITH HIM.

Dr. Keen Admits This Much During Hearing of Case Against Mr. Nipper.

WROTE AFFECTIONATE LETTERS.

Declared in One of Them That She Might Be Tempted to Smother Mrs.
Nipper With a Pillow.

Late yesterday afternoon sensational developments came to light in the case of Emma J. Keen vs. Thomas Nipper, now on in the federal court. Dr. Keen, from her own admissions, became im-fatuated with Mr. Nipper, when she was a mere girl and while she was on a visit to her aunt, Mrs. Nipper. She confessed having written several stunning love letters to defendant, in which she expressed her love for him, and in one of which she says she might be tempted to smother her aunt with a pillow in order to get her out of the way.

As stated in last night's "News," the plaintiff is now a practicing physician, and early in life deposited $5,000 with defendant, which sum was to be invested in sheep. Mr. Nipper put up in a few years' time Mr. Nipper sold out for $7,000, a third of which plaintiff now wishes to recover. On the face of the thing, it would appear to have been a pure business proposition, but yesterday afternoon Judge Powers of counsel for the defense, in his cross-examination of Dr. Keen, attempted to show that there were considerations other than those of business in the dealings between plaintiff and defendant.

LOVES OLD SWEET SONG.

The first letter begins, "Dear Uncle Tom," and says that she had not known what a feeling she had for him until he told her of his love. She said that her thoughts were with him continually and that she was waiting for him to come back, but as the opportunity was not likely to present itself, she thought she had better go home very soon. "Not to be married," however, she continued, "the one whom I once respected so highly, I cannot say loved, has but little charm for me now." She asks if he thinks it wise for Mrs. Nipper to go home, and she concludes with "Can't you arrange some way so that we can have a few private words?"

DOWN ON MRS. NIPPER.

In another letter written from Denver, Miss Keen said she had been entertained by "the cream of Denver," at "the finest French restaurant." She speaks very bitterly of Mrs. Nipper, saying, "I don't think she is even partially insane. I think she is, as a good many have told me, very low-minded and low-principled, and so selfish and egotistical that she can't stand a man who is not a slave to her will. She is a very bad woman, and Nipper to write to her at once to meet him at Salt Lake or Ogden. 'I don't want her to go back to Boise,' she says, 'and she will not go back without her money, and she will not give her, although nothing in this world would give me half the pleasure as a meeting with you would cause, but I must not see you again until you are a free man, and I will meet you any place you mention and we can take the trip of which you spoke, together, and be happy.'"

Another evidence of Miss Keen's infatuation for Mr. Nipper is contained in an epistle addressed as follows:
"You dear old darling, send me one of your photos. I would rather have one of you than anything in the world." The letter closes: "If you were only free and in Denver what a grand time we would have."

DYING TO SEE HIM.

In a letter written from Hygiene, Colo., April 14, 1892, the following passages occur: "To know that we cannot be together is a terrible pain, and between us. How long will it be before we can meet again with a right to be with and love each other?" "You dear darling, don't worry about me I am all right, and I will meet you any place you were here and every obstacle removed."

In the next, written on the following day, she tells of having received several letters from "dear old Tom," and says Mr. Nipper's daughter to call on the daughter of "the wealthiest man in Bohler." "Say, Tom," she continues, "what day are you settling in Denver? I would be perfectly happy there with you, and your happiness I will take into my own hands, and you shall be happy, dear Tom, after all."

MIGHT SMOTHER HER.

On Sept. 29, 1892, after assuring him of her "unfading, unchanging, everlasting love," and promising to "madness," she says it would not do to go to Nipper's home, "for I have such a bitter contempt for her (Mrs. Nipper) I would be tempted to smother her with a pillow and declare she died of heart disease. She and old Mrs. F. (Miss Keen's grandmother) have caused me so much trouble I would rejoice at their death." Of course, B. is simple, perhaps a little crazy, but most of all she is a demon of the deepest dye, useless to all humanity, in fact a curse, the only obstacle between us."

A TOP NOTCHER.

Writing from Hygiene under date of July 9, 1893, Miss Keen says: "I have lived myself to the highest position possible for one of my age. I have a little world in which I move at my feet.
They have given me medals and prizes and crowned me queen of my profession." Still she is not happy.
By February, 1894, relations seem to have become strained, and Miss Keen writes from Beatrice, Neb., that her time for vengeance is at hand, and she could ruin him if she chooses. She demands that he return her letters and "send the money." She says that, but for him, she would never have made the trip, and notifies him that it is a final warning.

In another letter from Hygiene the lady tells of her pride, and says that she never mingled with the "common herd." "The professor of whom I told you and I lead the society of Hygiene," she says, "and my friends are among the wealthy and influential." She adds that she and her friends are so well mannered that she is so well disposed, marry a man from St. Joe worth a thousands, but her devotion to "Tom" amounts to idolatry. He is, she says, the only man she ever loved. Her love for him, she says, grew so reckless that he married his servant girl, "took her out of his kitchen," and Miss Keen is going to see the bride.

EDUCATED IN DENVER.

From the evidence adduced at the hearing it appears that Miss Keen was educated at a Denver medical school and took a post-graduate course at a similar institution in Chicago. The expenses of her education were borne by Mr. Nipper out of the funds placed with him for investment in sheep. In this he claims to have expended $5,700, the greater portion of which plaintiff admits having received.

The defendant, Mr. Nipper, is the well known proprietor of the Palace Meat Market in this city, while Dr.
Keen, now Mrs. Cover, is a resident of Denver, where she married, after the filing of the suit now on hearing.

SALT LAKE WANTED.

Young Man Accused of Murder of Oakland Policeman.

The police of this city have been asked by the authorities of Oakland, Cal., to keep a sharp lookout for David Kin-rly, the young man who was implicated last week in the killing of Officer James S. Smith at Oakland. Kinrly once resided in this city, and was a step-son of James Watson, formerly an employee in Auerbach's store, but now a resident of Toledo, O. The police at Toledo have also been requested to look out for young Kinrly, as he may go there to get assistance from his mother. It is not believed the youthful murderer will come to Salt Lake, because he is well known here.

According to reports from Oakland, Kinrly and a companion named Goldstein, committed many burglaries there, getting away with much valuable property. Last week they were seen to enter a house and Officer Smith tried to place them under arrest. A fight followed, during which the officer and Goldstein were killed. Kinrly escaped and has not been heard of since.
Concerning the efforts of the Oakland police to find the young man, the San Francisco Call says:

Complete and positive failure marks the record of Chief of Police St. Clair Hodgkins' holding campaign in pursuit of David Kinrly, the companion of Frank J. Goldstein, who is wanted for the murder of Policeman James H.
Smith.
Though three days have elapsed since the brave young patrolman gave his own life in the battle for protection of the lives and property of Oakland's citizens, Chief of Police St. Clair Hodgkins has been compelled to admit that the man he described as an expert burglar and porch climber, this David Kinrly, has baffled him at every turn.
Sitting at police headquarters, the chief of police confessed his helplessness and resorts, after 72 hours have passed, to the time worn method of the "hue and cry." In this series of delays that form the record of extraordinary failure in the issuance of descriptive circulars of the fugitive Kinrly was not begun until this evening.

Kinrly has family connections or friends in Salt Lake City, and it is suspected that he might head toward the Utah capital.

To Encourage Research Work.

Chicago, Dec. 4.—Professor Frederick Starr of the University of Chicago has had a silver medal struck which he offers to any person in the United States who each year most distinguished himself in research work among the American Indians. The medal is to be called the "Complanter" medal in honor of Chief Complanter, a great Indian chief, head of the Comanches, the great council of the Five Nations. Professor Starr is having six of the medals made which he will present to the six most prominent workers in Indian research at the present time. Hereafter the medal will be awarded annually.

Mrs. Dowie Goes to Cannes.

New York, Dec. 4.—Mrs. Dowie, wife of John Alexander Dowie, of Zion City, left Paris a few days ago for Cannes, according to a Herald dispatch from the French capital. She arrived in Paris, coming from London, Nov. 14, accompanied by her husband. Having lived Paris a year during the exposition, Mrs.
Dowie was quite at home and visited many of her old friends. Later, she made the rounds of the shops and purchased many articles. The party left Sunday evening for Cannes, where they are still supposed to be.

BLOOD POISON.

Is the worst disease on earth, yet the easiest to cure. WHEN YOU AVOID WHAT TO DO. Many have pimples, spots on the skin, sores in the mouth, itching, itching, itching, itching, itching, don't know it is BLOOD POISON. Send to DR. BROWN, 533 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa., for a bottle of his "Blood

Ballard's Horehound Syrup.

Immediately relieves hoarse, croupy cough, oppressed, rattling and difficult breathing. Henry C. Stearns, Druggist, Shullsburg, Wisconsin, writes, May 20, 1891: "I have been selling Ballard's Horehound Syrup for two years, and have never had a preparation that has given better satisfaction.
I notice that when I sell a bottle, they come back for more. I can honestly recommend it. 25c, 50c and $1.00 at Z. C. M. I. Drug Co."

A Poor Man's Library.

When you consider that 20,000 new books come from the press every year in the United States alone, it's rather absurd for us to talk about keeping up with what we call "Current Literature."
What shall be the poor man's library?
Manifestly he cannot buy a great many books. It would seem wise, therefore, to have those he buys of general character except it be, perhaps, a few special books, technical books, on the lines which produce his daily bread.
Many families own several hundred volumes and do not possess a good encyclopaedia, yet an encyclopaedia would have more educational value, if used, than several hundred miscellaneous volumes.

The best authorities insist that every family should have a Bible, a dictionary, and an encyclopaedia; that these are the most important books in the world cannot be denied. They are necessities.

Isn't this, then, the poor man's library, with such addition as may be made?
The newspapers of this country have exerted a great influence in the last decade by bringing within the reach of families of limited means, books of this character.

The Deseret News is now forming a club of Encyclopaedia buyers who will be enabled to save 40 per cent on the usual cost by joining now. The complete set will be delivered on receipt of $1.00, the balance being payable at the rate of 10 cents a day.

Surely no family can afford to go without an encyclopaedia when such an offer is open. Come and investigate.

It will be found within the pages of the Christmas News, to be issued Saturday, Dec. 13. Our mining, real estate, manufactures, and all our industries.
It will be printed on heavy paper, and enclosed within beautifully colored covers. Retail price $3.00. The complete form 25c, including domestic postage.
Foreign 10c extra.
Special rates to dealers and agents.
A rare holiday souvenir of Salt Lake to send away to friends.

Bladder and Urinary Troubles

Promptly Cured by Swamp-Root Because Swamp-Root is the Most Gentle Healer and Natural Aid to the Kidneys and Bladder That Has Ever Been Discovered.

No matter how many doctors you have tried—no matter how much money you may have spent on other medicines, you really owe it to yourself, and to your family to at least give Swamp-Root a trial. Its staunchest friends today are those who have almost given up hope of ever becoming well again.
If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because as soon as your kidneys are getting better, they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

There is comfort in the knowledge, so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in relieving pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold urine and sends pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night to urinate.

If your water when allowed to remain undisturbed in a glass or bottle for twenty-four hours, forms a sediment or settling, or has a cloudy appearance, it is evidence that your kidneys and bladder need immediate attention.
