it was stated lest Friday that Junites Aisray-tie, in checkenging two persons accused of selling liquor withint a horses, held that heer was not an intexticating fiquor. This was a mirake. The Junite held that the pre-ecution did not show that the iquid purchased was intexticaling, as is rigitted in such case, the prosecutor having forgotten to bring out the evidence on that point. Hyper the responsibility for failure to convict the illicit venders was not on the justice.
