It has been the custom of the pension department to construe this law strictly. There are less than a dozen cases on the pension rolls in which the amputation has taken place exactly through the joints men-tioned. Commissioner Black, in ruling upon the two test cases brought before him, declines to hold to the strict letter of the law, and allows the full amount of the pension though the amputation did not take place at the joints. He holds that if the amputation is so near the hip or shoulder as to render the stump unservicable, the pensioner is entitled to the same compensation as if no stump was left. > The Cyclone that Struck Charleston.

AUGUSTA, 26.-Yesterday's storm In Charleston was a cyclone in the proper scase of the term. The wind was 25 miles an hour at 1:30 in the morning, increasing at 33, 40 and 50, which was eached about s in the morning, finally running up to 75 or 80 miles an hour The northern edge of the cyclone touched Charleston and completed its passage in forty minutes. The streets of Charleston were not more desolate at the end of two hours than after the bombardment during the war. The last observation recorded the wind at 65 miles an hour. The climax of the cyclone was reached at about 8 o'clock. But a single shed is standing on the wharf. Everything is in ruins at the wharves.
