

Varsity Team in Poor Shape.

Meets Colorado College Eleven at
Cummings Field Tomorrow
Afternoon.

THE COLORADO MEN ARE FAST.

Tomorrow Ends the Season for All
Utah Teams—Final Games at Ogden and Provo.

Tomorrow at 2:30 on Cummings field the final game of the present football season will be played. The Colorado team was due here at 1:30 today, and will spend the afternoon and tomorrow morning resting up for the big effort in the afternoon.

The Utah team is fearful of the result Thursday as the team it meets is in the best condition of its season, and has a record which places it in a better class than any that have met Utah this year except possibly Denver and Boulder.

The final work with the Utah team is being done this afternoon. Only light signal practice is being indulged in for the reason that Madcock fears overtraining, and loss of energy from too much work. He is making his team take every precaution to recover from Saturday's effort, and as yet the result is anything but satisfactory. Several star players are suffering from bruises and stiff joints, and the team is being called, is beginning to appear.

There are several new players Utah is trying out on which she hopes to work her way through the Colorado line. One of them expects to open a clear field for Russell and account for the rest of the team. He has been made by the left half, Russell's ability to make his way through a broken field is to be taken full advantage of in the new style of play. Madcock is working up for tomorrow. Thanksgiving day will see football games all over the state. At Provo, All Stars will play with a Garden City eleven, and at Ogden the West Side High school will play its old foe the Ogden High school. These games end the season for all the teams engaged.

HAPPY RESULTS OBTAINED.

By the Use of the New Scalp Antiseptic. It wouldn't take long to number the hairs in the heads of some people, the reason being they haven't many to number. In most instances, however, the fault is their own. A germ at the root soon plays havoc with the most luxuriant growth and causes it to fade and fall out. A remedy for this has recently been discovered, called Newbro's Hair Tonic, that acts by destroying the germ that does the damage, besides restoring all impurities from the scalp. In addition it permits new life and vigor to enter the scalp, and happy results are sure to be obtained from its use. Try it. Sold by leading druggists. ATHLETIC ENTERTAINMENT.

Utah A. C. Gives Another Next Friday Night—Price vs Davis.

The Utah Athletic club, 46 south Main street, gives another athletic entertainment on Friday night, and the program promises to be about the best along amateur lines ever seen in this city. The main event of the night will be between "Kid" (Jack) Price and Terry Davis for the amateur championship of the state, and as both youngsters have been training hard for some time, it will be a pretty warm number. Both are now in the pink of condition, according to the statement of their respective trainers.

In addition to the fistie bout, Driggs and Gregory will wrestle again, and there will be a boxing match between Bartell and Louis High school. The program begins at 8 p. m.

WITH THE BALL PLAYERS.

Fresno, Cal., Nov. 22.—Tacoma won in the tenth inning today. McLaughlin was at third and Thomas tapped the ball down to Beck, who shot it across to first. Col-lackey attempted to catch it but the sun got in his eyes and he had to let it go by. McLaughlin coming in with the winning run. Both of Portland's runs were gifts from Thomas, who, in two innings, when the bases were full, hit one man and gave another four bad balls, score: Tacoma..... 3 8 3 Portland..... 2 6 4 Batteries—Schmidt and Stark; Corbett and Wilson. Umpire, McDonald.

Oakland, Cal., Nov. 22.—Corbett and Schmidt were the stars of the first line today and each pitched shut-out ball. Luck was with San Francisco, however, as a hit and an error brought in the only run of the game in the sixth. Score: Oakland..... 0 4 3 San Francisco..... 1 4 3 Batteries—Schmidt and Stark; Corbett and Wilson. Umpire, McDonald.

Los Angeles, Nov. 22.—The Angels saw their hopes of winning the championship slipping away this afternoon when the Seattle sluggers battered Oscar out of the box and fell hard upon Oscar Jones, who relieved him. Score: Los Angeles..... 1 7 3 Seattle..... 17 0 Batteries—Mason and Spies; Corbett and Blankenship. Umpire, Brown.

CORBETT AND NELSON.

Former Will Not Have an Easy Time With the Great Dane.

Fight followers in San Francisco are slowly but surely arriving at the conclusion that Young Corbett will not score a hollow victory over Battling Nelson when the pair meet on the 24th of this month. Competent critics who have seen Nelson in action say that Corbett will be in for a rough time when he meets the "Danish Slasher."

The Denver boy realizes this and is working very hard to take off a lot of the surplus weight he has gained in the term of idleness in New York city. Corbett is doing lots of road work in preparation for his opponent, and has taken as much as twelve pounds in a single day. Nelson has Eddie Santry, one of the cleverest performers in the sport, as his trainer, and Santry knows Corbett well. He boxes from four to six rounds with Nelson every day.

What he will be able to do against a clever, aggressive ring general of the highest caliber, he can't say. The fight will be a real one, and the winner will be the one who remains to be seen. The opinion of the sports men is that Corbett will win if he is in good condition at the time he meets Jimmy Britt. The Denver boy has already been installed favorite in the betting, although Nelson has admirers who are sure he will win.

JEFF AND SHAKESPEARE.

Big Boilemaker Proposes to Show Wise Ones How to Act.

James J. Jeffries is starting in a play called "Othello" in a real actor. Fighting just now is coming slow for Jeffries. He has cleaned up all the possible claimants his title. It is a case of learn a new trade or go back to the boiler shop. Yesterday James J. announced that he had a new idea. It affected his intellect while he was playing "Davy Crockett," and it was so simple that Jeff could not understand why it never struck him before. Jeff will be a great actor—a real interpreter of the "drammer," known vulgarly as the "legit." When next he will be another Henry Irving. He won't waste his talents after this on reciting short-skirted heroines from prairie fires and howling redskins. He will play "Othello" and "Othello" and anything else that Shakespeare has left lying around loose. And he isn't going to let any mercenary manager work a punching bag or a boxing bout into the balcony scene, either. Where Shakespeare didn't write up to the mark, Jeff will have the lines improved. For instance, where Jim, as Romeo, declares: "Alack! there is more pain in this than in twenty of thy words," Jeff may suggest replacing the word "words" with "solar-plexus punches." Swords are often used in the play, and Jeff is right up to date. Jeff says if he plays "Othello" he will have that Othello part out as he intends to draw the color line of the stage as well as on the ring.

CHARGES AGAINST JOS. F. VALENTINE

All Interest in the Trouble at Cincinnati Has Centered in This One Man.

DID OFFICIALS ABET CRIME?

Detectives to Have Evidence That They Did—Young Ranshauser Sticks To His Confession.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Nov. 23.—All interest today centered in the charges made against Joseph F. Valentine, president of the Iron Molders' union of North America, and other union men accused of being in a plot to kill and destroy. The detectives claim to have had evidence of officials abetting violence before the confessions of yesterday were known and their previous information they still keep to themselves. It is stated that Fred L. Ranshauser, the apprentice, aged 19, today repeated his confession without contradictions and is confirmed by his father, who is also under arrest. Young Ranshauser insists that John Hook, committeeman of the local union, met him and his father on the night of Nov. 16. Later that night Hook brought in Joseph Hollowell, who was out after the dynamite after Hook had made the arrangements with the apprentice. Hollowell was to get the dynamite at Heinke's office. Finding that place closed, Ranshauser said:

"I then was asked to return to Heinke's office Sunday morning, Nov. 20, the way alone to Heinke's office at the appointed time and not to the office of Joseph Hollowell, who was at Valentine's office where we met Valentine. I was instructed in the use of dynamite by Joseph Hollowell, at the same time he told me to destroy the mold of Shear pump. I was going to pay me $20 if I succeeded in destroying the Shear pump."

"I was told by Joseph Hollowell to destroy all the molds I could and was given five cartridges by Hollowell. I went to Heinke's office at 9 o'clock and returned to my home, telling my father what I was expected to do. I went to work as usual Monday, Nov. 21."

In the remaining part of his confession Ranshauser tells of putting the cartridges in lathes at 5 p. m. Nov. 21, the day of the first charge. At 5 p. m. while the workmen were pouring metal in the mold.

There were no disturbances at the foundries in Covington, Cincinnati and Newport during the night and no threatening conditions at the foundries. Work in "open shops" today. Supt. E. S. Reed, who has been in charge of 17 Chicago detectives here, went to Detroit today to investigate reports regarding Thomas Bracken and other refugees. Meantime the police of the three cities who had been holding about three men in the city.

SKELETONS ARE SHOWN IN NAN PATTERSON CASE.

New York, Nov. 22.—Several unusual features were presented in the supreme court today in the trial of Nan Patterson for the alleged murder of Caesar Young. During the day a skeleton and two pieces of skin from Young's second finger were produced in court by the prosecution. The skeleton was shown in order that the course of the bullet that killed Young might be traced. The state, it is understood, expects to use the pieces of skin in refuting the suicide theory.

The introduction of these exhibits caused a sensation in the courtroom and for a time Miss Patterson seemed on the verge of collapse. The courtroom was crowded when the trial was resumed and the corridors of the building were thronged.

William Stearn, Jr., the young man who directed Michael, the cab driver, to the hospital, was the star witness of the day. He was standing on the corner of West Broadway and York street and heard the revolver shot just after the cab had passed him. He was startled and looked on the street quickly, trying to locate the spot from which the shot was fired. There was no one on the opposite side of the street, and he concluded that the shot must have been fired in the cab, which was about 15 feet away and moving rather slowly.

The cab swung around to the drug store. He followed and saw the driver talking with the druggist. In the cab he saw a man and a woman, the man lying in the woman's lap. "The driver seemed to be all tangled up," said Stearn, "and I rode on looking at the cab to the hospital. When we reached the hospital I helped a policeman to carry the man in, and then helped the woman to alight. She was frightened and pale and looked as if she wanted to cry but could not."

In reply to questions by Mr. Levy, the witness said that about eight or nine minutes elapsed from the time he heard the shot until the cab reached the drug store. Traffic both ways prevented the cab getting there sooner. Mr. Levy had one of the jurors told a story while the witness estimated one minute of time, marking the beginning and ending by clapping his hands. The juror's watch showed that only six seconds elapsed between the two hand claps.

St. Louis, Nov. 23.—Prince Fushimi made another tour of the world's fair exhibition palaces and state pavilions. Whenever the Japanese prince went he received a cordial reception, and at the Philippine village the natives gave a special exhibition of dancing and war songs.

CHICAGO MARKET LETTER.

James A. Pollock & Co., Brokers, quote the following market letter over their private wire from Logan and Bryan, their correspondents at Chicago. Chicago, Ills., Nov. 23.—Wheat—Our market opened strong and sharply higher under the influence of higher cables reflecting uneasiness on the other side, presumably over the Argentine harvest situation. This coupled with the extremely short interest in the market after night market had been very little. The action of market today shows how acutely the situation in Argentine can affect our market. Any serious damage to that crop would cause a change in the entire world's markets and give our market a bullish impetus. Cash market continues to remain slow and disappointing demand and our exports for flour are absolutely nothing. We continue to feel the market is a professional scalping affair and will be influenced largely aside from foreign news by the position of pit traders. Sentiment tonight is very much mixed.

Corn—The smaller receipts caused fairly good buying for long account and some covering by the shorts giving the market a very firm tone all through the session. We continue to feel the short side of the market is in overdone, after night market had been very little.
