

SPEAKERS IN ALL DIRECTIONS.

Both Parties Putting Forth Every Effort for the Election Victory.

NEW SPELL BINDERS ARE OUT.

Democrats Have Big Windup in Salt Lake Theater Tomorrow Night—The Republican Schedule.

On the eve of election both parties are putting their full strength into the campaign, and from now till Monday night there will be something doing in the way of speakings. That both realize they have a fight on their hands, is evident, and neither is permitting itself to be lulled to sleep with the thought that on Tuesday next it will have a walkaway. For the final meetings a number of comparatively new speakers will take the stump, and these may be depended upon to state the case just as strongly as it is possible to state it.

Tomorrow night the Democrats will have a big meeting at the Theater, with Judge Powers and Hon. James M. Brinson of Colorado as the speakers, while on Monday night the Republicans will hold forth at the same place, with the object in view of offsetting the oratory of the enemy, at a time when the people are almost prepared to cast their ballots. That some interesting things will be said on both occasions, goes without saying, and it is safe to predict that the meetings will be banner affairs, both in point of attendance and in enthusiasm.

Republican speakers will be distributed tomorrow night as follows: Park City, George A. Smith and Col. M. M. Kaligni; Nephi, George Sutherland; Kayville, A. B. Irvine; Layton, Allen T. Sanford; Morgan, Arthur L. Thomas; Bear River City, Don C. W. Muesel; Sevier county, M. C. Davis; Weber county, William G. Hammon; Pikes Peak, James T. Hammond; Lake Shore, H. A. Smith; Kamas, James Ingobretsen; Cache county, Judge Reed; Lake Town, W. L. Snyder; Grandville, W. A. Lee; Dragoonville, Glen Miller; Heber, John C. Cudde; and James H. Anderson; Poudre county, George W. Moyer; Payson, Judge Frick; Murray, Judge Bowman; South Jordan, Judge Tanner; Clear Creek, N. P. Nelson.

Following is the Democratic schedule for Saturday afternoon and night: Salt Lake Theater, Judge Powers and James M. Brinson; Brigham City, E. H. Roberts; Silver City and Magnolia, Judge King; Spring City, Judge Henderson; Fairview and Mt. Pleasant, Z. L. Cobb; Wayne county, Grant C. Bagley and H. N. Hayes; Iron county, D. H. Morris and Joshua Greenwood; Syracuse, Simon Hamberger and H. J. Stewart; Emery county, John E. Howell; Farmington, J. L. Rawlings; Provo, Mr. J. M. Cohen and Mrs. H. J. Hayward.

SOCIALISTS ACTIVE.

Harry McKee Makes a Stirring Speech at Richfield.

Special Correspondence.

Richfield, Utah, Nov. 2.—The Socialists of Richfield and Sevier county held a rousing rally at the opera house in this city last night. County Chairman A. J. Scott of Salina presided and leading Socialists from most every town in the county were present.

Hon. Harry McKee of California was the speaker of the evening, taking the place of Prof. Mills who was unable to attend. Mr. McKee proved himself to be a very pleasing and forceful speaker and presented the clearest and most logical exposition of Socialistic principles of any speaker that has ever visited this section. He took for his subject "Socialism vs. Capitalism." This included such points as "private and public ownership of public utilities," "capitalism and private ownership," "the means of life owned collectively," "means of production owned by private ownership," etc.

Mr. McKee said that 125 families in the United States owned 75 per cent of its wealth, and that every nation is ruled by its owners and ours is no exception to the rule. "We are slaves to those who rule over us," said the speaker, "and grow rich on the product of our labor. Every man is entitled to and should receive the full product of his labor. The average product of labor of the working man is placed at $2.00 per annum. Does he get it? No, he gets only 14¢."

Mr. McKee said the charges preferred against the Socialists that they were Anarchists, and that they believed in destroying the government were made by people who did not read or study the principles of Socialism. He advised those who read more and talk less. Many questions were asked by the audience and were answered without hesitation. Mr. McKee spoke at 10 o'clock today.

County Atty. H. N. Hayes returned yesterday from a campaign trip in the south counties. He left again today for a four days' trip through Wayne county in company with Grant C. Bagley, candidate for attorney-general on the Democratic state ticket.

Both parties have been very busily engaged the past two days running the people in to be registered. There will likely be a heavy vote cast on election day.

Hon. Z. L. Cobb will speak here next Friday night.

OUTLOOK IN CACHE.

Democrats Not So Hopeful as They Once Were.

Special Correspondence.

Logan, Cache Co., Nov. 2.—Reports from the various precincts indicate a very large registration throughout Cache county and while the list is incomplete at present indications are that more than 7,000 voters have registered. Your reporter called upon Chairman Barber of the Democratic county committee for a statement of the political situation but he declined to give out anything for publication. From other sources it was learned that the outlook for Democratic success in the county is not as favorable as could be wished. It is thought that Powers will carry the county. It is confidently expected that N. W. Kimball will be elected treasurer and M. J. Ballard representative. E. E. Kane, attorney and Chief Cronquist commissioner, but the rest of the ticket is already thought to be as good as lost.

At Republican headquarters there is an air of confidence on every hand. Chairman Chase stated over the outlook and said that there was no doubt but that the entire county and state ticket would be elected. It is only a question of majorities. Howell will likely go out of the county with 400 majority. Recorder Eames will have nearly 600 majority, who lead the ticket two years ago with 470 majority. Atty. Maughan's majority two years ago was 466. If he can do as well now he will be elected Judge over Hart by fully 500. While there will be considerable scratching it will be done in both parties so that neither will gain much by it. There is a feeling among many Democrats in the county in vote for Roosevelt and the Republicans on this fact to increase their majority.

Both parties have organized women's clubs who are actively working among the women throughout the county.

POLITICAL POINTERS.

P. J. Daly and Frank Cannon addressed a meeting at Bunka last night for the "Americans."

Republican county candidates gave an enjoyable smoker at headquarters last night.

Mrs. J. M. Cohen met with Democratic ladies at the home of John E. Clark, 357 Garfield avenue, this afternoon.

Le Grand Young and Barnard J. Stewart will address a Democratic rally at the Mill Creek schoolhouse this evening.

The Republicans will hold a rally in the Brigham opera house tonight, with Judge Botkin and George Sutherland as the speakers.

N. P. Nelson, editor of the Manti Messenger and a prominent Republican, was in town today. He says Sanpete will roll up a Republican majority of 1,500.

While registration returns are not all in yet, indications are that the estimate published in the "News" several days ago, viz, 34,000 in this county, is about correct.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the "Americans" held a big meeting at the Theater, after this afternoon. The party will give its final blowout at the Salt Lake theater tonight. The usual features are billed.

Much is expected of the rally at the Salt Lake theater tomorrow night. The enemy, at a time when the people are almost prepared to cast their ballots. That some interesting things will be said on both occasions, goes without saying, and it is safe to predict that the meetings will be banner affairs, both in point of attendance and in enthusiasm.

Republican speakers will be distributed tomorrow night as follows: Park City, George A. Smith and Col. M. M. Kaligni; Nephi, George Sutherland; Kayville, A. B. Irvine; Layton, Allen T. Sanford; Morgan, Arthur L. Thomas; Bear River City, Don C. W. Muesel; Sevier county, M. C. Davis; Weber county, William G. Hammon; Pikes Peak, James T. Hammond; Lake Shore, H. A. Smith; Kamas, James Ingobretsen; Cache county, Judge Reed; Lake Town, W. L. Snyder; Grandville, W. A. Lee; Dragoonville, Glen Miller; Heber, John C. Cudde; and James H. Anderson; Poudre county, George W. Moyer; Payson, Judge Frick; Murray, Judge Bowman; South Jordan, Judge Tanner; Clear Creek, N. P. Nelson.

Following is the Democratic schedule for Saturday afternoon and night: Salt Lake Theater, Judge Powers and James M. Brinson; Brigham City, E. H. Roberts; Silver City and Magnolia, Judge King; Spring City, Judge Henderson; Fairview and Mt. Pleasant, Z. L. Cobb; Wayne county, Grant C. Bagley and H. N. Hayes; Iron county, D. H. Morris and Joshua Greenwood; Syracuse, Simon Hamberger and H. J. Stewart; Emery county, John E. Howell; Farmington, J. L. Rawlings; Provo, Mr. J. M. Cohen and Mrs. H. J. Hayward.

Bets are being made on the result. D. H. Peery yesterday wagered $100 that the "American" party would not elect a man on its county ticket. These bets are also offered, with no takers: $100 to $50 on Roosevelt; $50 that Files does not receive 5,000 votes in Salt Lake county; $1,500 that the highest candidate on the "American" party ticket receives 5,000 votes in Salt Lake county; $1,000 that the Republicans do not elect their entire county ticket; $5 that Roosevelt carries Salt Lake county by 5,000 plurality. The last is the only one of the number accepted.

BRIDESMAIDS WORE SANDALS.

A strange innovation at the wedding of Lady Hermione Grinston to Lieut. Bernard Buxton, which took place at St. Paul's Knightsbridge, yesterday, was that the bridesmaids wore sandals.

They were Lady Elizabeth Grinston, Lady Hermione Grinston, Miss Avery Buxton, and Miss Azela Baring, and their shapely feet attracted a good deal of pardonable attention as they entered and left the church.

But this was not the only departure from custom, for instead of wearing gloves they wore mittens. Their early Victorian dresses were of white muslin, set off with wide yellow sashes and large hats with tea roses.

The customary bouquet, too, was absent. In place of it the bridesmaids each carried in her hand a gold chain purse, given by the bridegroom as a memento of the happy day.

The bride, who carried a prayer book, wore a satin dress, which shimmered and shone through a dounced tablier of old Limerick lace. The exquisite old Brussels veil which covered her face was lent by her mother, the countess of Verulam. She was given away by her father, the Earl of Verulam.—London Express.

ART TALK.

Jesse Lewisohn of New York is a direct and learned collector of pictures. The other day he was conversing with Robert Henri, the painter.

"Art galleries and exhibitions," Mr. Lewisohn said, "are interesting places to haunt. I wish I had noted down all the old comments I have heard in them. Only last week I stood behind two young women from the country in a Fifth avenue picture shop. One of them called the other's attention to an atrocious animal piece."

"Two dogs after Landseer," he read from the frame. "I can see the two dogs, but where is Landseer?"

"The other woman studied the painting closely."

"Where is he?" she said. "I guess this must be one of them puzzle pictures."—Unidentified.

NEED NOT ACCOUNT TO NORTON HEIRS.

Supreme Court Hands Down Opinion in Case of Felkner vs. John E. Dooly.

CHARLES DICKENS MINE SALE.

Records Are Exempt but Accounting Of Other Properties Must be Made by Trustee.

In an opinion written by Justice McCarthy and concurred in by Justice Bartch, and dissented from by Chief Justice Baskin, the supreme court today modified its recent opinion in the case of William H. Felkner et al, appellants, against John E. Dooly, so that defendant Dooly is not compelled to account to the Norton heirs for the proceeds of the sale of the Charles Dickens mine, which, it is alleged, he purchased under a foreclosure of a mortgage executed by W. A. Norton to him, but is compelled to account to them for the proceeds of the sale of the other property held by him in trust for their benefit.

It was claimed by the appellants that Dooly held the Dickens mine and other properties in trust for the heirs of the Norton estate when he purchased them under the foreclosure and should account to them for the proceeds of a sale which he made later of the properties to an English syndicate. In the lower court it was decided that the action was barred by the statute of limitations and the action was dismissed. Upon appeal, the supreme court reversed the case, and held that Dooly should account to the heirs for the proceeds of the sale of all of the properties held by him in trust.

A petition was filed by the attorneys of Dooly, asking for a rehearing before the supreme court, which was granted. Upon this rehearing the former opinion was modified as follows:

"The time in which actions, such as the one under consideration, may be commenced is four years from the time the cause of action accrues. In this case the cause of action existed in favor of plaintiffs and their assigns from the date of the sale of the Charles Dickens mine, when they received notice that Dooly asserted absolute ownership in himself to this fund, and having failed to commence their action for more than four years thereafter, the defense of the statute of limitations imposed by the defendant must prevail as to this particular fund."

"There being no claim or pretense that Dooly has ever denied or repudiated his trust as to the funds received from the sale of the other property which came into his possession by virtue of the trust, he must therefore account for the same."

"Our former opinion in this case is hereby modified, and the judgment of the lower court in so far as it exonerates defendant from all legal liability to account for the proceeds of the sale of the Charles Dickens property is affirmed. But the case is remanded with directions to the trial court to modify and set aside the judgment, in so far as it holds that plaintiff's cause of action to compel defendant to account for the proceeds of the sales of the other trust property, is barred, and to proceed in accordance with the views herein expressed."

COURT NOTES.

Judge Hall today granted Annie M. Dodge a divorce from Thomas A. Dodge on the ground of failure to support. They were married in this city on Feb. 17, 1880.

In the case of Caroline R. Larson against the North American Savings Loan and Building company and Edward B. Graves, receiver, Judge Hall today rendered a decree in favor of plaintiff cancelling a certain mortgage executed by plaintiff to defendant on May 19, 1891, and quieting her title to the property involved in the mortgage described as a part of lot 8, block 33, plat B, Salt Lake City survey.

LATE LOCALS.

T. J. Osborne, a Pioche attorney, is a guest at the Wilson.

Secy. T. B. Beatty of the state board of health has returned from a trip down into the southern mountains.

Young people in the Eighteenth ward are getting up a minstrel entertainment, with Alexander Campbell as manager. They propose to hold forth Nov. 16 and 17.

The interiors of the apartments and halls of the Commercial club are being handsomely redecorated in the same general tints of white, green and gold as have obtained heretofore.

President Louis Saroul of the California Candy company, and family arrived this morning from San Francisco, and are registered at the Kenyon. Mr. Saroul is interested in the Salt Lake Candy company.

The last carload of delayed terra cotta for the Packard library has arrived, and Architect Hale hopes to have the fine structure under roof before the end of the year.

It is predicted in local commission circles that flour is likely to rise $1 per hundred within four months, owing to the constant upward tendency of wheat. But it is claimed that local irregular prices will be probable for some weeks, or until the present stocks of cheap wheat are consumed; then flour will go up with a jump. Present prices of flour in this city are at present based on 85 and 90 cents wheat, while the range now is 10 cents higher.

The spell of beautiful weather which has obtained in this section since Oct. 15 is likely to continue to an end in a day or two, according to the local weather office. The last high barometric area which arrived from the coast yesterday morning, is now passing to the east, and a large area of low pressure is approaching from the north-west, and a second low area is enroute from the gulf of California. So between the two, something is most likely to happen.

The interior of the St. James hotel has undergone a complete transformation and change. The entire interior was torn out, leaving only the walls and roof, in preparation for the new theater. The proscenium opens at the former dining room entrance, and the rear wall is carried back several feet to make a deeper stage, while the wall back of the proscenium have been carried up to make sufficient space for scene hangings. Carpenters are busy putting in the flooring, and every effort is being made to hurry up the completion of the building. There is a stairway on either side of the hallway into the parquet.

Manager J. E. Dooly of the Dooly and Commercial blocks, has contracted for a very fine steam and lighting plant to be erected at the rear of the Dooly annex, which will supply all of the buildings in the group with steam heat, electric lighting and power. The Minneapolis Steel company will furnish the structural steel, Jones & Jacobs of this city the machinery, and G. H. Nichols will furnish the big cement flooring. This flooring will contain 3,000 square feet and be sufficiently strong to resist a pressure of 2,000 pounds to the square foot. All of the boiler and machinery equipment will be of the latest, up to date. A 1 make and pattern and reliability. The cost of the total plant will amount to $20,000. This makes the Dooly properties entirely independent of the local light and power company.
