

PEACE MEETING TO COME IN MAY

Governor's Appointees On Committee Select Day For Special Services.

PUBLIC SCHOOL OBSERVANCE.

State Superintendent is to Arrange Programs—Permanent Organization is Effected.

Peace meetings throughout the state are scheduled to take place Sunday, May 17, in accordance with plans formulated at a session of the committee held yesterday. The gathering was in the office of Governor John C. Cutler, chairman of the board, most of the members being in attendance.

The draft of a constitution for a permanent organization was read, discussed and adopted. An interesting program was mapped out for the Salt Lake meeting to be held in the First Congregational church on the date above indicated, the board of trustees having granted permission for the committee to hold the services in that edifice.

Governor Cutler respectfully asks through the medium of the press that all persons having charge of church services throughout the state set apart at least one meeting on May 17, as a gathering where peace and good will among the nations may be discussed, with programs suited to the occasion. The executive will doubtless issue a proclamation in the near future in line with this suggestion.

IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Monday, May 4, will be peace day in the public schools of the state, when exercises will be carried out of such a character as to instill in the minds of the young the desirability of working for conditions when war shall be no more, especially among civilized and enlightened people. The state superintendent of public instruction will act in the matter of arranging peace day programs for the schools.

NEW INCORPORATIONS.

The clerical force of the secretary of state's office was kept busy this morning recording articles of incorporation of new companies and amendments to articles already filed by other concerns. The first one to receive consideration was the Brigham City Fruit Growers' association of Boxelder county, which comes into existence with 51 persons named as incorporators. The capital stock of the company is placed at $25,000, divided into 5,000 shares of the value of $5 each. The purpose of the corporation is to engage in the fruit growing and selling business and to transact any proper business pertaining to the fruit growing industry. The officers named are: John P. Christensen, president; Hans S. Sorenson, vice president; Nephi J. Valentine, secretary, and W. T. Davis, treasurer.

The second new company to file its articles was the Tantomont Mining company of Park City, which enters the field with a capitalization of $125,000, divided into 25,000 shares of the value of $5 each. J. B. Allen is named as president; C. A. Springer, vice president; H. C. Townsend, secretary, and E. A. Johnson, treasurer.

The Utah Wholesale Grocery company of Springville, files an amendment to its articles, increasing the capital stock of the concern from $50,000 to $100,000, and changing the principal place of business to Provo. It is provided, however, that branch offices may be maintained in any city or town in the United States or foreign countries. The amendment to its original articles, limiting the holdings of any one individual in the company to the share of the value of $100. The capital stock of the company is $100,000.

ODD FELLOWS ADJOURN.

Utah Grand Lodge Completes Work By Installing Officers This Afternoon.

The Utah grand lodge of Odd Fellows will adjourn tonight after installing officers elected this morning, to serve for the coming year. W. W. Thompson, honored with the position of grand master, will not be able to enjoy the privilege of being conducted into office with the ceremonials accompanying the installation of his brother officers. Mr. Thompson is now seriously ill at Muscatine, Iowa, where he went to attend the funeral services of his father. While there he was attacked with pneumonia, and the latest advice is that he is now thought to be out of danger.

Those elected today are W. W. Thompson, grand master; Eureka A. Stegert, deputy grand master; W. J. Moore, Salt Lake, grand warden; Rev. P. A. Simpkin, Salt Lake, grand secretary; J. W. Sudgren, Salt Lake, grand treasurer; Ephraim Homer, Provo, grand representative to the sovereign grand lodge.

The installation of officers will be held this afternoon, to be followed by adjournment. Last night an evening session was given over to a banquet and the bestowal of the decoration of civility upon Mrs. W. H. Lepper and Mrs. C. N. Price of the Daughters of Rebekah. About 60 Odd Fellows and Rebekahs were present. The Rebekahs were in session today, and had some excitement over the report of the grand treasurer, the book not being perfectly balanced, due to the inability of the official to perform the intricacies of bookkeeping necessary to submit a perfect report.

RICHARDS DISCHARGED

Case Against Doctor Charged With a Criminal Operation Is Dismissed Today.

The case of Dr. Francis Richards, charged with performing a criminal operation on the person of Mrs. Carrie James, was dismissed in Judge Armstrong's court this morning, on account of lack of evidence to convict. When the state rested its case the attorneys for the defendant moved to dismiss on the ground that the prosecution had failed to make out a case against their client. Dist. Atty. Loofbourrow and County Atty. Hansen, who had charge for the state, declined to argue the question and Judge Armstrong ordered the case dismissed and the defendant discharged.

HUSBAND WAS NO GOOD.

Alleging that her husband, Charles P. Good, had failed to provide for her since Jan. 1, 1908, Esther Good asks in a suit filed this morning in the Third district court that the bonds of matrimony existing between them be severed. The complaint sets forth that the couple were married June 21, 1905, and that although her husband is an able-bodied man, he has refused and neglected to provide her with the common necessities of life. There are no children to the marriage.

LETTERS IN BUTLER ESTATE.

John E. Butler filed a petition in the probate division of the district court today for letters of administration in the matter of the estate of Esther Butler, his wife, who died Dec. 4, 1906. The petition sets forth that deceased was possessed of real property to the value of $3,500, consisting of part of lot 6, block 47, plat B, Salt Lake City survey.

ESPEE PAYS FINE.

The Southern Pacific deposited two bundles of money with the clerk of the United States court this morning to pay the fines for violations of the safety-appliance act. The cases were tried a few days ago and the jury brought in a verdict of guilty on three counts. These cost $100 per count and $117.50 in costs. One verdict included two counts and the other, one, hence the two bundles.

GIRLS HARD TO PLEASE.

Two Waitresses Were Not Satisfied With Room and Board.

Two waitresses from San Francisco, whose names were not secured by the police, appeared at the station in a sad plight, according to their plaint yesterday afternoon. They claimed to have been brought to this city by a local hotel to work as waitresses. They had sent their trunks ahead as security for their railroad fares, which were advanced by the hotel manager, and now they are being held at the hotel. The girls complained that upon arriving at the hotel they were assigned to a room that did not suit them and that their food was not up to the standard set by them. Thereupon they refused to go to work.

They appeared at the police station yesterday to report their luck and upon receiving plentifully of the desk sergeant's advice, asked him where they might pawn their watches. This they did and they left this afternoon.

one going to Goldfield and the other to San Francisco. The manager of the hotel involved in the little argument said this afternoon that the girls were assigned to quarters that have been used for waitresses' quarters for 15 years without complaint, and that the food was first class in every particular.

KLEPTOMANIA AT "U."

In an effort to locate a petty thief who has been operating at the University of Utah, Miss Van Cott, dean of the college women, is holding a meeting with the women students this afternoon. This morning Victoria Reed of the fourth year normal class missed a purse containing $10, which she had carried to a class room with her, and which was taken while no one was in the room except members of the class and the teacher. This theft follows a series in which hat pins, rubbers, gloves and other similar paraphernalia have been the principal articles taken.

WERE THEY MARKED?

Samuel Howard was arrested today and booked upon a charge of cheating at cards. C. H. Garrick alleges he lost $10 because Howard used marked cards in a game of "stud" in the Empire rooming house last evening. The Empire is located on the corner of First West and South Temple streets.

HAD BURGLAR TOOLS.

Marshal M. Maus of Murray has arrested and locked up a fellow giving the name of Frank Witz. The marshal charges Witz with carrying concealed about him various burglar tools, such as keys, files, etc.

OGDEN, CITY OF WIDOWS

Member of Italian Car Crew Sends Some Yellow Correspondence to London Daily Mail.

Ogden has a new name. From a heading in the London Daily Mail just received the junction city of Utah is set forth in big type as "City of Widows." The authority for this statement is Antonio Scarfoglio, special correspondent for the Daily Mail, who is accompanying the Italian car on the round-the-world motor race.

The staid old British press is never happy unless it is taking a fling at American yellow journalism, but when it comes to the Simon-pure blown-in-the-bottle faking Antonio, undoubtedly is somewhat yellow himself. His latest contribution dated from "Ogden" is a gem of a comment on Ogden, not the sagebrush for hundreds of miles which he mistakes for stubble, the story of Ely and the plated gold walls at Goldfield. Here it is:

We were delayed four whole days for repairs in Ogden (Utah), a city of the Mormons and full of widows.

We started again one fine morning, speeding to the west. The road was most picturesque and beautiful, with mountain gorges in our view. Then came the plain, yellow and forbidding, next the slope towards the richest Salt Lake. For miles and miles the car sank in fine sand up to the hubs of the wheels. The desert was perfectly uniform and monotonous. At Ogden the road improves a little, though it can hardly be called a road. We are really traveling on a field full of stubble, where not one house, not a single man is to be seen. And this is Ogden, the great city of the west.

We traveled 450 miles in 29 hours. We took no sleep during that period of time, nor did we interrupt our racing to eat. Our only thought was the distant city.

We reached Ely at last. It was 5 p. m. then, and that city of wood and canvas was quite deserted, for all the men were still working in the mines of copper and silver. The population did not sleep in houses. They live under huge white tents shaken and lacerated by the winds, or in tiny huts built of rough boards and covered with mud. There is one hotel, the phenomenon, the pride of that city which is not a city. The inhabitants care for nothing. They are delicious in the money fever. They, the telegraph, and the railway are the great adventurers, all hungry for gold.

Eight months ago a man knocked a rock with his work to the mines of Ely was born. A whole population rushed to the precious spot, and they were like an army of ravens, or like a multitude of flies falling upon a lump of sugar. Ely was born. A whole population rushed to the precious spot, and they were like an army of ravens, or like a multitude of flies falling upon a lump of sugar.

In three years from now the fate of this city shall have been decided. Either the miners will have found the silver and the copper they are searching for, and that case these walls of wood will have been replaced by stone buildings—or fortune will not have smiled upon them, and then the city will disappear and the desert will be once more where the desert was. The wind will cover with sand the foundations, the harvest of misfortune of a town that was to outdo the glory and wealth of Goldfield, the place from where I send these lines, Goldfield, so rich that the walls are plated with gold.

SULLIVAN REWARD PAID.

James B. Young of Seattle Receives $500 State Pledge.

Not in a long time had payment been made of a reward offered by the state for the apprehension of a fugitive from justice, until today, when a warrant reached the hands of Chief of Police Tom Pitt, covering the arrest of Joe Sullivan. The amount, $500, less 10 cents for San Francisco exchange, goes to James B. Young of Portland, Ore., who was the man who pointed out Sullivan to an officer as the man wanted in Salt Lake for the murder of Policeman Charles S. Ford.

Young is a groceryman, and was about to open his place of business for the day when his attention was attracted to a haggard appearing individual standing in front of a saloon.

It's a mistake to call Grape-Nuts simply a "break-fast food."

It is more. All the nourishing elements of wheat and barley, so prepared as to be promptly absorbed by the system for rebuilding brain and nerve cells, and for storing up energy—the capacity to think and act—that's Grape-Nuts.

The flavor of this world famed food adds to its value by promoting the appetite. "There's a Reason."

A second glance caused the merchant to believe that the man very much resembled a photo of the Utah fugitive which had recently been shown him. MORE NEW CARS COMING.

A bunch of the last lot of new cars for the Utah Light & Railway company arrived this morning and are being transferred to the barns. One of the cars is damaged to the extent of $150 by having caught fire from loose motive sparks. New cars will shortly be placed on the east second South street line to Fort Douglas, and next week, when the Ninth East and Eleventh East street lines have been rebuilt, new cars will be placed there also. The construction trains are busy hauling gravel from North Salt Lake to points along the above lines and the Wandamere route.

INSTALL MATTRESS STERILIZER.

The L. D. S. hospital is being equipped with a large mattress sterilizer, which, when installed, will have cost $1,300. After a mattress has been used by one person and before it is again brought into requisition, it will be put through such a process as shall thoroughly cleanse it and destroy every vestige of germs.

The device, which is sufficiently large to treat four mattresses at the same time, brings into requisition pressure of 60 pounds to the square inch and at a temperature of as high as 300 degrees. The articles to be cleaned are allowed to remain under such conditions for 30 minutes, after which it is absolutely sure that nothing in the shape of disease or bacteria remains.

LATE LOCALS.

Local Bank Clearings—Today's local bank clearings amounted to $643,360.99, as against $744,368.82 for the same day last year.

Recommended to Provo—Judge Armstrong this morning re-committed Hattie Johnson to the state mental hospital at Provo on the sworn statement of Mrs. Charles Perry.

Farmers Ward—The Young Men's association of Farmers ward, will give a dancing party in the ward meeting-house Friday evening, April 24. Come.

Banquet Ends Reunion—The Scottish Lute Masons are completing today the workings of the higher degrees, up to and including the thirty-second. They will wind up the reunion tonight with a banquet.

Inspection Continues—Major May of the Fifteenth infantry inspected headquarters and band of the First infantry, and the hospital corps. Every member of the band was inspected, and one member of the hospital corps was absent. Company and the signal corps are to line up this evening.

PERSONALS.

Clyde O'Pelt, superintendent of district service on the Colorado-Midland, is in this city today.

Ralph Guthrie, formerly manager of the Fifth East hotel, has removed to Ogden, where he will open a stock brokerage office.

Hon. Li Fo Ki, a member of the Chinese embassy at the Austrian capital, is a guest at the Knutsford, en route home to China.

LATEST OGDEN NEWS

AIR TROUBLE IN COURT.

George Perry and Mrs. Emma Wertz Appear as Opponents in Action. (Special to the "News.")

Ogden, April 22.—George F. Perry has commenced an action to oust Mrs. Emma Wertz from the premises at 2419 Grant avenue, and in an action in the police court against the same woman took a leading part this morning. Perry had sworn to a complaint against Mrs. Wertz in which he alleged that she had let him over the head with a broom in the rooming house mentioned, which is leased by Perry to Mrs. Wertz. He also charges the woman with keeping a disorderly house. This morning in police court, when his case was called, Mr. Perry was not in court, as he soon as the case had been dismissed, upon motion of Mrs. Wertz, he did appear with a retinue of witnesses. However, the case had been dismissed and the civil action alone remains. In this the day which his attention was attracted to a haggard appearing individual standing in front of a saloon.

OFFICIALS DENY STORY.

(Special to the "News.") Ogden, April 22.—Officials of the Union Pacific system in Ogden commenting upon a story appearing in a Salt Lake paper this morning, declare that there is no probability of transferring the U. P. shops to Evanston, as was announced in the Oregonian last night. It was announced that upwards of $500,000 would be spent in this project, but now it has been denied as a very absurd story and one founded upon nothing tangible.

START VIADUCT MONDAY.

(Special to the "News.") Ogden, April 22.—Engineering officials of the Harriman office in this city declare that the much-talked-of viaduct at Twenty-fourth street is to be realized. They go further than that by stating that without fail the work is to start Monday.

FAVORS EXHIBIT AT ALBUQUERQUE

President Judd of State Board of Horticulture Addresses Gov. Cutler.

CALIFORNIA WILL COMPETE.

With Memory of Utah's Victory at Sacramento in Mind, Added Vigilance Will Be Required.

Gov. Cutler is in receipt of a communication from Thomas Judd, president of the state board of horticulture, in relation to the proposed exhibit from the State of Utah at the forthcoming irrigation congress, to be held at Albuquerque, New Mexico, in October. Mr. Judd expresses himself as being very much in favor of such an exhibit, although the last legislature failed to provide any appropriation for the purpose. The matter, Mr. Judd states, has been taken up by Commissioner Fred J. Kiesel, and will doubtless result in an exhibition being made by means of funds raised by private contributions. That California will compete, and that too with the memory of Utah's victory at Sacramento last year, when the Beehive State walked off with 16 out of 21 trophies offered for various products, and in Mr. Judd's opinion, Utah cannot afford to go into the contest this year with less than $3,000 or $4,000 with which to secure a creditable showing.

The officials of the Utah exhibition at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exhibition to be held at Seattle in 1909 is also referred to. The state legislature appropriated $2,000 with which to make an exhibit, and that too with the memory of Utah's victory at Sacramento last year, when the Beehive State walked off with 16 out of 21 trophies offered for various products, and in Mr. Judd's opinion, Utah cannot afford to go into the contest this year with less than $3,000 or $4,000 with which to secure a creditable showing.

Gov. Cutler is highly in favor of President Judd's suggestions, and expresses the hope that Utah will be able to make as good a showing at both exhibitions as she did at the Sacramento session of the congress.

COURT DISCARDS POMP.

Heart to Heart Talks With Children Supplant Sessions.

Judge Gowans of the juvenile court has decided not to hold court sessions in future except when necessary to pass sentence or transact any other regular court business. The judge thinks less formality and more "heart to heart" work with the delinquent youngsters brought before him will have a better effect in causing them to desert their evil ways and turn to the right. He will also "hold session" with the parents of the children, and impress upon their minds the duties and responsibilities of parents in enforcing discipline in their homes and showing them what the law requires in the bringing up of their children.

ADJUDGED INSANE.

Frank Powers, an aged resident of Salt Lake City, was adjudged insane by Judge Armstrong in the Third district court yesterday and sent to the mental hospital at Provo. Powers has lived in Salt Lake since 1890. Last September his wife died, and he has been mentally unbalanced since that time. He is not violently insane, but his condition is such that his detention is necessary. He says he has no relatives in this city. His occupation is that of a cook.

TANGLE OVER A HOME.

District Judge Must Solve Knotty Question to End Trouble.

The trial of the case of J. H. Roberts and wife against Tuttle Bros. for $2,962.35, damages alleged to be due plaintiffs by reason of being ejected from a house which they thought they had purchased, was begun in Judge Lewis' court yesterday. Plaintiffs claim they entered into an agreement to purchase the property, pay $300 down on the purchase price and agreeing to pay the balance in monthly installments of $20 each month. After they had paid $540 in installments, besides the first $300, plaintiffs allege the owner of the premises, Isabel L. Denny of Beaver, had them ejected and also secured judgment against them for $243.90. On Tuesday, the agents deny that they claimed title to the place, and claim that the $300 was taken by them with the understanding that it should be applied on the purchase price in the event that Mrs. Denny was willing to sell the property. They allege that plaintiffs and Mrs. Denny had a disagreement between themselves which caused the deal to fall through.

PINCHIN AFTER DURAND.

Job Pinchin has filed an action against the Merchants' Protective association in the district court to set aside a judgment rendered against Pinchin in Justice Durand's court at Murray. The plaintiff also asks a restraining order to prevent Sheriff Emery from attempting to enforce the judgment. Pinchin claims the judgment was wrongfully entered against him.

BUTTER CASES DISMISSED.

The complaints filed some time ago against the Faust Creamery company, charging that the concern sold impure butter, have been dismissed in Justice of the Peace Dana T. Smith's court. Assistant County Attorney Farnsworth, who had the prosecution in hand, stated that the company has changed management and that the authorities have received assurances that the law will be obeyed in the future.

RAILROAD NEWS.

Supply cars are to be given a trial on the Oregon Short Line. The circular follows: "Beginning May 1, 1908, material and supplies for agents, section foremen and pumpers will be distributed from regular supply cars, which will make monthly trips over the line. The supply cars will be handled on freight trains, and those on the Oregon Short Line will leave Pocatello each month, approximately as follows: Montana division, on the 1st; Idaho division (west of Pocatello), on the 8th; Idaho division (east of Pocatello), on the 15th; Utah division, on the 21st.

"The cars will not carry stationery, hand cars, push cars, cross ties, switch ties, crossing planks, frogs, split ties, guard rails or switch stands, but will distribute all other material, tools and supplies, including oil."

BRYAN SAYS MONEY IS BEING USED AGAINST HIM

New York, April 22.—Fatigued by the strenuous activities of yesterday, W. J. Bryan did not appear before 11 o'clock today at which time he went with Willis J. Abbott of Washington, to call on former Congressman Charles A. Towne at the latter's office.

Returning to the Hoffman House, Mr. Bryan was met by a number of interviewers, who questioned him relative to Thomas F. Ryan's theory, expressed recently before the grand jury in this city, that $500,000 taken from the Metropolitan Securities company in connection with the Wall and Cortland streets railway transaction, would be used to refund an amount originally advanced by the company to the McKinley-Bryan campaign.

"It carried out your assertion made several years ago that money was used to defeat you, does it not?" he was asked.

"It gives us more of the details," said Mr. Bryan, "when you stop to consider that $500,000 was given by one corporation in one city, which was more than we had from 6,000,000 voters to run either campaign, you can appreciate the influence that a corporation exerts when it wants to."

While it was not exactly a campaign fund, Mr. Bryan said, some of it probably was spent to block his nomination. "You must be gratified to have confirmation of your charges that money was used against you from so high a source," he suggested.

"I cannot say that it is exactly gratifying to have confirmation of vice," said Mr. Bryan.

BLOWN UP BY BLACK HAND.

Stratton, Ill., April 22.—The front of Rizzo Salvatore's grocery was blown in last night by two men, who a few minutes before had attempted to call Salvatore to the door of his home adjacent to the store.
