Murderers and plunderers of a high and low degree outside of the capital have long ago established a base operations along some railroad line, ready when the sheriff comes, to take flight either to the north or to the south. In short, the windows of the political heavens have opened in Arkansas, and to all appearances there is not an ark within a thousand miles of those who ought to be damned, and those who were born to be damned.—St. Louis Times.

The Internal Revenue officers here deny that any further steps have been taken in the matter of the distillery men who have transgressed the law; it is positively stated, however, to-night, that criminal warrants have been issued against Geo. This gives the two disputed seats in the Senate to democrats.

Secretary Bristow, to-day, called on the Attorney General and afterwards on the President, both visits having significance in reference to past and future operations against the illicit distillers. Subsequently the Secretary was closely closeted with Commissioner Pratt and received damaging statements which had been submitted to them by revenue agent Largan within the past few days. Bristow has received communications from eastern cities indicating that he has hardly yet broken the crust of the formidable ring which he has been trying to put down. Offers have been made him, contingent on co-operation with those making the offer, to supply evidence which will involve a number heretofore regarded as respectable houses in Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore and elsewhere. The secretary has relieved the secret service from any further active participation in the crusade, and has entrusted to commissioner Pratt the duty of caring for further seizures. It is expected that prominent internal revenue changes will soon be made in the west.

NEW YORK, 18.—An officer of the Treasury Department in town, is under instructions from Secretary Bristow, to thoroughly examine the records of the silk and lace importations for the past two years, in connection with the developments brought out in the recent arrest of Lawrence, deputy collector Desanges, and others.

An examination of the books and accounts of the wholesale whiskey dealers and rectifiers is going on very thoroughly here, but no irregularities have been found.

Ogden Junction, May 17—

Bishop J. G. Folkman is in town from Soda Springs. His wife having met with a severe accident, falling from a chair and dislocating her right shoulder, it was treated with lotions and fomentations for six days. But her sufferings being incessant, she was brought to Ogden in a carriage, the journey occupying three days, when Dr. E. G. Williams reduced the dislocation with considerable difficulty. Mrs. Folkman was placed under the influence of chloroform during the operation, and she is now doing well.

At the R. R. depot, last Saturday afternoon, a young man named Liebman was examining a deringer to see whether the spring was good, holding the muzzle pointing towards the left shoulder. He now knows that that spring was in excellent condition, for the hammer went down with a snap. The bullet took an upward direction, glanced off the collar bone, and lodged behind the shoulder; and when extracted shortly afterwards, by Dr. Waugaman, was nearly flattened.

The young man arrived from Denver the night before. He is doing well.

The following is from the Corinne Mail of the 17th—

On Saturday two tramps, with a pick and shovel each, called at the house of one of our citizens across the track, and begged for something to eat. No one was at home but the lady of the house, but she gave them the best she had, nevertheless, and told them to leave their implements and come around at dinner time, when her husband would be home, and he perhaps could assist them in getting something to do. With this they left. About an hour afterwards one returned, and finding no person still at home but the lady and child, began to grossly insult her. She stepped into the next room, and procured a six-shooter, with which she returned and made the gentleman walk in short order, and upon her husband coming home, soon after, told him of the affair. He inaugurated a prospecting tour immediately, and found his man in one of our saloons, where he pummeled him well, and finally led him by the ear back to the house, gave him his tools and a parting kick, and dismissed him. We make mention of this because there are a great many worthless vagabonds and tramps making the rounds of the city now, and it may be the means of putting some of the charitably disposed more on their guard, and teach them to be very careful of whom they entertain.

IMPORTANT TO THE TRAVELING PUBLIC.

It is the duty of all persons before starting on a journey to ascertain by what route they can reach their destination with the least trouble, and if there are two or more roads leading to the same point, to decide which is the safest and pleasantest to travel.

We take pleasure in stating, that the CHICAGO & NORTH-WESTERN RAILWAY is the oldest, and several miles the shortest, route between Omaha and Chicago. Within the past two years the road bed has been put in admirable condition, and almost the entire line has been re-laid with steel rails.

Close connections are made at Chicago with the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, Michigan Central, Baltimore & Ohio, Pittsburg, Fort Wayne & Chicago, Kankakee Line and Pan Handle Routes, for all points EAST and SOUTH-EAST.
