

CARUSO FACES NEW AUDIENCE

Came to Court to Hear Story of His Alleged Advances to Mrs. Graham.

HE SAYS IT'S A CASE OF PIQUE

He Didn't Respond—She Does Not Appear, Policemen Giving Testimony in Case.

New York, Nov. 21.—Ernest Caruso, the great Italian tenor, faced an audience of 600 persons in the Yorkville police court today and denied positively that he had made indecent advances to a woman in the monkey house in Central park last Friday. He declared that his arrest was due to pique over the part of a woman, who described herself as "Hannah Graham," because he failed to respond to advances which she made to him.

Mrs. Graham was not present to meet the singer, and the police officers interested in the affair testified that they had exerted every effort to find the woman, but without avail.

A CIRCUMSTANTIAL STORY.
Park Policeman Cain was in court, however, and he told a circumstantial story of the alleged events which led to the arrest of the singer, being corroborated in part by other witnesses. Several other policemen, including the chief sergeant and the captain of Cain's precinct, corroborated the officer as to the happenings in the police station at the time of the arrest. They declared that Caruso pleaded with him not to press a charge against him, and that, with outstretched hands and in an imploring voice he declared that "it is all a mistake, madam, I meant no harm."

CARUSO DENIES ALL.
Against all this the singer placed what amounted practically to a denial of the whole case of the prosecution. He denied ability to speak English, and declared that therefore he would have been impossible for him to have made the statements attributed to him by the police. He declared that the woman upon whose complaint he was arrested had smiled at him and by look and action invited attention which he did not condescend to give. He was calm, self-possessed and well poised during the whole trial. Only once or twice during the searching cross-examination by Deputy Police Commissioner Mathon, the prisoner tightened up and brushed his fingers nervously through his hair, his answers to questions always came promptly and lucidly. Many of his answers were given by a nod or shake of the head before the lawyer had asked the repetition of the question. Caruso was attended in court by Director Corneil of the Metropolitan

RHEUMATISM AN ACID BLOOD POISON

Rheumatism is an acid blood poison, and the causes that produce it are often silently accumulating in the system for years. Poor digestion, stomach troubles, weak kidneys, torpid liver, and a general inactive condition of the system leaves the refuse and waste matter, which should be carried off, to sour and form uric acid, which is absorbed into the blood. When the blood is in this acid condition, it deposits the poisons and irritating particles with which it is loaded in the muscles, nerves, joints and bones. Then Rheumatism gets possession of the system, and life is made miserable by its pains, aches and discomforts. The changing of the weather, exposure to cold and dampness, etc., always increase the trouble, and so severe does the pain become that relief must be had. A good liniment or plaster is often helpful, but it should be remembered that relief from such treatment is only temporary, because the trouble is in the blood and cannot be removed by external applications. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism by ridding the blood of the cause. It goes down into the circulation and by invigorating and purifying the blood of the acid-poison and sending a stream of fresh, rich blood to all parts, relieves the pain, reduces the inflammation, and permanently cures this painful disease. S. S. S. is the only safe treatment for Rheumatism, because it does not contain a particle of mineral in any form to damage the system. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice desired sent free. GREAT CROWD PRESENT.

Yorkville police court probably never before harbored such a gathering as today's. Its normal capacity is scarcely more than 300, but long before the hour set for the appearance of Caruso nearly three times that number of persons were crowded into the little room. There were packed so closely that it was almost impossible to move. Nearly all the spectators were men. There were some women present, but they were hidden away in corners where they could neither see nor be seen. The corridors outside the courtroom were thronged by a curious crowd, and hundreds unable to find standing room in the building crowded the sidewalks outside the building.

SINGER'S ARRIVAL.

When the cab containing Caruso, Director Corneil of the Metropolitan Opera House and several of his friends reached the building an army of photographers greeted them and the crowd on the sidewalk sent up a yell. Again when the singer and his friends were leaving the place after the case had been adjourned until tomorrow, Caruso was given a rousing cheer.

THE FIRST WITNESS.

Officer Cain, the park policeman who arrested Caruso, was the first witness called. He said he had seen Caruso in the building before and had watched him particularly. In the monkey house he saw Caruso following two girls. One of these girls was about 12 years of age.

Counsel for Caruso objected to this testimony, declaring that there was only one woman mentioned in the complaint against the prisoner. The objection was overruled. The officer declared that Caruso followed the girls and annoyed them. When they went away he turned his attention to three women. Cain said, one of whom was a nee. Judge Dittenhofer, at this point, made a strenuous objection to other women than Hannah Graham being brought into the case.

"We came here to answer a charge that Caruso thrust indignities upon Hannah Graham," he said. "They have not been able to find Hannah Graham, and they should not be permitted to call in other uninterested persons to bolster up their case."

When the court referred to the complaint, however, it was found that "annoying women" was included in the charge, and the officer was permitted to proceed.

SENSATIONAL EVIDENCE.

Policeman Cain gave some sensational testimony. He said he saw Caruso move up close to Mrs. Graham and then saw one of Caruso's hands glide stealthily through a slit in his overcoat, and then he saw Caruso pinch the woman. Mrs. Graham turned swiftly and struck Caruso in the chest, crying out:

"You brute! You beast!"

MRS. GRAHAM STRUCK HIM.

After Mrs. Graham had struck the singer, Cain testified that he stepped between the man and woman, and placing his hand on Caruso's shoulder he asked the woman what had happened. She replied that the man had insulted her and that she wanted him arrested. She declared she would willingly appear against him. She followed along to the police station and swore to the complaint.

Caruso said nothing until the station was reached. Then he protested that his arrest was all a mistake; that he was a gentleman and could not be guilty of such an offense as was charged.

"He pleaded with the woman to withdraw the charge," said Cain, "and bowed and scraped as he made the request."

Cain declared that Caruso was treated with all possible consideration. He was kept at the station house about an hour, and then was released on bail furnished by Director Corneil of the Grand Opera House.

Cain said he did not see Caruso again until today's session in court.

During the giving of Cain's testimony, Caruso stood with Director Corneil. He chewed the ends of his mustache and allowed his eyes to glance over the great crowd in the courtroom. It is recognized a friend or acquaintance he raised his eyebrows, smiled and shrugged his shoulders.

A great crowd had gathered in the vicinity of the Yorkville police court in anticipation of Caruso's appearance. The little courtroom on the second floor was choked with spectators.

AN ARMY OF PHOTOGRAPHERS.

An army of photographers stood on the steps of the court building awaiting the arrival of Caruso, who appeared in the courtroom promptly at 2 o'clock. He was accompanied by Director Corneil and a number of his friends. The party was obliged to wait while several minor cases were being disposed of by the court. During the wait Caruso stood within the bar enclosure chatting with his friends.

Former Judge Dittenhofer, for Caruso, in cross-examining the witness, asked why, if he had seen Caruso at an indecent manner toward several women and girls, he permitted him to continue at liberty.

"You knew what he was trying to do, didn't you?" asked Judge Dittenhofer.

"I did," the officer replied.

"Why didn't you arrest him then?"

"Well," replied Cain, "in the language of the police, I wanted to get him good."

Cain said that he could not give the names or addresses of any of the women in the case, with the exception of Mrs. Graham. He had made every effort to find Mrs. Graham, he said, but had not been able to find any trace of her. He replied, in answer to Judge Dittenhofer, that he had never seen Mrs. Graham with the exception of a few minutes just before and at the time of the arrest, and at the police station when the complaint was made.

Judge Dittenhofer consulted with Caruso from time to time during the cross-examination. After one of these conversations he asked Cain if Caruso spoke English fluently.

"Well, that depends upon whether or not he wanted to understand the question which was asked him," he replied.

Judge Dittenhofer protested against such an answer, and said he desired to call it to the attention of the court that such an answer showed bias and prejudice on the part of the witness.

Caruso went on the stand at 4:20 p.m.

CARUSO'S STORY.

Caruso's testimony was practically a flat denial of the charge against him, with the exception that he did exchange glances with the woman who afterwards, he said, gave her name as Mrs. Graham, and made the charge against him. He said Mrs. Graham looked at him and smiled first. He considered the look which she gave him as equivalent to an admission on the part of the woman that she was a woman of doubtful character.

Failing Strength

A weak and exhausted condition usually follows overwork, too close confinement, or unusual mental strain. Every day a certain amount of vitality is consumed, and if not replenished by sleep, rest and nourishment, soon wrecks the nervous system. The results are sleeplessness, headache, indigestion, imperfect circulation, etc., which affects the organs of the body.

Restore your nerve strength—your vitality, with Dr. Miles' Nerve and your whole system will recuperate. Your sleep will be sound and refreshing, headaches will disappear, and digestion improve.

"When I began taking Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve, I was physically in a very bad condition. I was weak and exhausted, and hardly able to keep up. I could not rest sufficient to keep up my strength. I suffered greatly from sleeplessness, and got very little rest. The Restorative Nerve soon brought refreshing sleep, and I gained rapidly in strength until I was fully restored. I have since taken it whenever I have felt the need of a nerve tonic, and always with very satisfactory results."

REV. J. S. MURROW SAYS INDIANS WILL BE ROBBED.

McAlester, I. T., Nov. 21.—There was one dramatic incident before the senate investigating committee. The Rev. J. S. Murrow of Atoka, who is engaged in Indian educational work, addressed the committee against the removal of restrictions and in a violent speech assailed the white men of the territory as the destroyers of the Indians.

Senator Teller of Colorado interrupted the speaker by the statement that in a short time the state government of Oklahoma could settle these questions. The Rev. Mr. Murrow broke in: "God save the filibusters when they come!"

Senator C. D. Clark of Wyoming, with an indignant glance, broke into the speech with: "Mr. Murrow, do you mean to tell me that the 120,000 white men of Oklahoma would conspire to rob the pitiable remnant of 16,000 filibusters of their lands?"

"I do, sir," replied Mr. Murrow. "I firmly believe it."

"Well, then, I don't," replied Senator Clark. "I think better of any race and the dignity of the new state to believe any such thing."
