

tion will secure such a majority as will enable them to take office with a reasonable prospect of carrying on the business of the country satisfactorily.

The Times in its leader says: About a third of the entire number of the members of the House of Commons have now been elected, and the apparent result is that the conservative majority has been replaced by a liberal majority. The balance of gains and losses recorded yesterday will suffice to set at rest many hopes and fears and to give the country the means of estimating the future relations of parties in the House of Commons.

The results of the election in Great Britain have produced a most profound sensation. It is thought the reports of the liberal success are exaggerated.

LONDON, 3.—The Times, in a leader on the election, says: The first question which arises will be the composition of the cabinet. Lord Hartington, in a recent speech, seemed to imply that it was in some degree an open question. It will be for Lord Beaconsfield to advise the Queen who is to be the official chief Parliamentary leader of the liberals. Lord Granville has every claim on the ground of past services, rank and ability, to become premier. Lord Hartington will hold an important position in the cabinet, and will lead his party in the House of Commons.

The Standard, in its leading editorial, says: It would be useless to ignore the question whether the liberals will be in possession of a majority when Parliament meets. The opposition has realized a clear gain of 50 seats. It then points out that there is yet no ground for supposing that the liberal majority will prove independent of the home rule vote.

G. W. E. Russell, liberal, for Aylesburg, elected instead of Samuel G. Smith, conservative as previously announced, is a liberal gain. The liberals gain a seat in each of the following places: Gravesend, Scarborough, Salisbury, Wareham, Warrington and Marylebone. Home rule gain in Newross.

Dispatches from Paris, Berlin, Vienna and Rome represent disappointment and uneasiness felt in these capitals at the success of the liberal party in Great Britain, while at St. Petersburg the news is received with the utmost delight.

The opinion prevails in Berlin and Vienna that England will be isolated if Gladstone becomes chief of the cabinet.

The question which the conservatives are raising everywhere to console themselves, whether the new liberal government is to be formed by Mr. Gladstone or Lord Hartington, was settled before the canvass began. This great victory has been organized, fought out and won first of all and most of all by Gladstone. It was he who has kept alive, fed and developed the passion and purposes of the liberal party, and several months ago he had a full understanding with the Marquis of Hartington as to the results of a triumph if a triumph should be won. Neither the Liberal party or Lord Hartington will consent to the organization of the government under any other head than Mr. Gladstone.

QUARTERLY CONFERENCE KANAB STAKE.

Minutes of a Quarterly Conference held in Kanab, March 6th and 7th, 1890:

President H. O. Spencer presiding.

Present on the stand—H. O. Spencer, Bishops Thomas Chamberlain, of Orderville, and R. J. Cutler, of Glendale; members of the High Council and others.

MORNING SESSION, 6TH.

Choir sang hymn on page 134.

Prayer offered by James Leathhead.

Choir sang on page 9.

President Spencer, who was acting in the absence of President L. John Nuttall, stated he had heard of some brethren taking hay out of the Washington field and stock from the range; advised them not to do so, for he wished us to be as good Saints as any in the Territory. Said we should not deal with outsiders. If we carry out the first law of heaven, there would be no poor amongst us.

Bishop Cutler, of Glendale, said we reminded him of the Saints at the time of our Savior, they being subject to tyrannical kings; although we live in a free country, we are not allowed to worship God after the dictates of our own consciences. Stated that the Legislative Assembly could get up laws and one man could put a veto to all. Therefore we are not a free people. Reported Glendale as in the same condition as at last conference, and the different associations in good condition.

Bishop Thomas Chamberlain, of Orderville, represented that ward favorably. Good feeling among the people; meetings well attended. The different associations and schools reported doing well. Stated there had been a hard winter in that part of the country. Spoke of the scarcity of wheat throughout the Stake; have loaned as much as they can spare. Had labored six years in the United Order, and have not sold one pound of anything to outsiders. Feels they are blessed in their union. Have been placed in some very trying circumstances, but by the blessing of God have overcome them.

W. D. Johnson, of Johnson, spoke a few words and reported that ward on the improve.

Elder James Leathhead thought a great many of the brethren felt it does not pay to put in grain, but thought if they could only raise 8 or 10 bushels to the acre it would pay. Did not see the necessity of the Saints being in the condition they are at present. There have been no grasshoppers to any extent, or any thing of the kind to hinder us from raising grain. Counseled all to put it in, and trust to the Lord for a bountiful harvest.

Elder James Little said he had labored in the south for 15 years. Our present condition often puts him in mind of the ancient Nephites; they had organized bands of cattle thieves among them, and so it is to-day, and they have many sympathizers. Said the action of the governor was not in accord with the feelings of the people.

Choir sang—"We thank Thee, O God, for a prophet."

Benediction by James Lewis.

Afternoon.

Thomas Robertson, of Orderville, spoke upon a variety of subjects. Said we had every facility to raise grain. Spoke of the necessity of bringing ourselves into subjection to the priesthood over us. Gave a synopsis of operations in Orderville.

Elder C. H. Oliphant realized we were not living up to our privileges; said we should take the counsel of those who preside.

Elder James Lewis occupied a few moments. Gave a sketch of his labors while in the south. Thought God judged men by their actions. Did not expect to be with us next conference, was going to move away.

President Spencer remarked it is better to be joyful under all circumstances than sorrowful. Thought we would compare favorably with other Stakes in Zion; expected when Bishop Johnson of Kanab came home he would have some instructions from President Nuttall for our guidance.

Benediction by B. Y. Baird.

Morning, Mar. 7th.

Bishop W. D. Johnson, Jr., having arrived, felt thankful for the privilege of, again meeting with the Saints of the Stake; almost despaired of getting here, there having been such bad traveling between here and Juab. Gave a short history of the Saints of the north. Heard President Taylor say that we needed more missionaries here right among us Latter-day Saints than anywhere else; spoke at length upon the Word of Wisdom; observed that those who did use tea and coffee had seen sickness, death and misery, while those that kept the Word of Wisdom were comparatively free from disease. Spoke of the scourges of diphtheria in the north, noticed that those who kept the Word of Wisdom did not lose their children, and those who did not keep the Word of Wisdom and did those things that were not right in the sight of the Lord, lost their children and had sorrow and mourning in their families. Gave a short synopsis of his labors in the Legislative Assembly. Said that Acting Governor Thomas vetoed nearly every bill that was presented to him. When Governor Emery came back he signed every bill at first, but towards the last, some influence was brought to bear upon him which induced him to veto a great many bills; urged the citizens of Kanab to put all the grain into the ground they could get in; read a little instruction from President Nuttall that was full of good counsel.

Elder Read, from Mt. Carmel, reported that ward on the improve; the Bishop was ill and not able to attend conference.

Afternoon, 7th.

Sacrament was administered by Elders E. Pugh and Z. K. Judd, Jr.

Bishop W. D. Johnson, Jr., presented the statistical report of the Stake, and read the reports of the different associations and schools. All general authorities of the Church were presented and sustained. W. D. Johnson was sustained as presiding priest at Johnson; presidents of the different quorums and home missionaries were sustained.

President H. O. Spencer thought the home missionaries should be alive to their duties. Exhorted the Saints to keep the word of wisdom.

Brother Cram, of Kanab, spoke upon the word of wisdom; promised these that would keep the word of wisdom, hidden treasures of great knowledge.

Bishop W. D. Johnson, Jr., made a few more remarks.

President Spencer stated we would adjourn this conference until June 5th and 6th. Called a priesthood meeting to meet in the evening.

Benediction by Wandle Mace.

For all the bitter opposition of jealous rivals, no better illustration could be had of this fact than the immense sale already attained by the great Throat and Lung Remedy, Dr. Aug. Kaiser's German Elixir. For the cure of Coughs and Bronchial Affections, it is truly wonderful, even those suffering from Consumption in advanced stages find great relief, and numbers of patients have found, to their delight, not only relief, but cure. I Shall Never Travel Without Them.

BROCKVILLE, Canada, Sept. 25th, 1879.

MESSRS. H. H. WARNER & Co., Rochester, N. Y.—Gents:—While traveling through the State of Texas during the past season, I contracted malarial difficulties that I had almost despaired of ever recovering from, and during the five months of my stay there was frequently prostrated and utterly unable to attend to any business; but through the recommendation of a friend living in your city I tried, as an experiment, your Safe Pills and Bitters, and am only too happy to testify to the beneficial success derived therefrom. I experienced a marked improvement very soon, and in a very short time complete recovery. An occasional dose of the Pills with a regular use of the Bitters kept me in splendid condition during the remainder of my stay. I shall never travel in Texas or the West without your Safe Pills and Bitters as a part of my outfit. If the remedies are not on sale here please send me three bottles of Bitters and half a dozen boxes of the Pills, or tell me where they can be obtained in Texas, or the West, as I am about to return there.

Yours very truly,
G. A. J. GADBOIS.
