BREVITIES.

Turnip Seed is the name of a Georgia legislator.
A New Hampshire lady of 80 is out-riding her third set of teeth.
Water is furnished by Philadelphia to its private dwellings.
The most disagreeable of all short railway collisions.
Queen Isabella is going to Rome, and extensive preparations are making to receive her.
A French aeronaut is in New York with a big balloon, in which he proposes to cross the Atlantic.
A citizen of Rochester has a canary bird that will whistle "Yankee Doodle" more accurately than any newsboy.
John Allen has come up again, he doesn't "want to be an angel" this time, but only a son of temperance.
A Cincinnati school girl has been badly poisoned by sucking the ink from her pen.
An Alabama paper announces that it will not hereafter, take payment in dogs.
In dairies where roots are fed to such cows we do not hear of untimely births.
There are at present 1,831 male and 15 females convicts in Sing Sing Prison.
The largest landholder in the United States is one Hayward of Illinois, a young fellow of twenty-four.
The Catholic Bishop of Baltimore adds his protest to that of Bishop Cox, against ante-natal infanticide.
The St. Paul Press calls the Chicago Sorosis Convention the "Grand Tournament of the Knights of the Garter."
A noted Japanese author, Kiyote Bakin, has just completed his 106-volume novel. It was commenced 38 years ago.
A colony of Welshmen, have purchased between 70,000 and 100,000 acres of land for a settlement in Osage county, Kansas.
Attend your church the," parson cries. To church each fair one goes. The old go there to close their eyes, The young to eye their clothes."
A young lady out West is so great a prude, she left the dinner table one day, because the servant put some meat before her.
A preacher lately said, in his sermon, "Let women remember, while putting on their profuse and expensive attire, how narrow are the gates of Paradise."
D'Orsay, in remarking on the beauty-speak on the cheek of Lady Southampton, compared it to a gem on a rose-leaf.
"The comparison is far-fetched," observed her ladyship."
"How can that be?" rejoined the Count, "when it is made on the spot!"
When stoves are red hot, the gases of combustion leak through their pores like water through a sponge. This is one cause of unhealthiness of rooms thus heated.
Many English farmers feed no hay to their work horses, but keep them in high working order with straw, roots and shorts. The equivalent of twelve tons of hay can be produced on one acre in roots.
A witness was called to the stand to give his testimony. Having taking his place he turned to the counsel at the bar, and before testifying, very earnestly made the inquiry, "Say, stranger, which side am I on?"
The Austrian frigate Radetzky has been blown up between the island of Lissa and Lesina, in the Adriatic. The precise number of lives lost was 342, including the captain and all the officers, except one midshipman. Only 23 persons were saved, five of whom were seriously injured, and five others slightly.
At an Oakland, Ohio, hotel recently a strong smell of gas was discovered issuing from the room of a bridal party from the country. Admission being demanded to put out the gas, the rural dweller replied that "he knew it was, and then the darned thing smelt so bad that he put his stocking over it." Sure enough, there was the stocking drawn over the burner and tied down with a shoe-string.
Stage mechanism has reached its most brilliant effects, it is said, in the play of "Madame Aïx Rose," now running at the Paris Gaité. There are three splendid tableaux. One is an Italian scene, with dancing peasants and loving cattle. Another is a feast in the Ducal Palace of Caesar, with all the voluptuous glitter of the Orient. The last great scene is a configuration of the Palace. The stage is covered with sheet iron, and nearly 15,000 pieces of burning wood fall upon it as if from the ceilings and walls.
The late Baron Rothschild, dining once at his club in Paris, heard some one say: "Horrible bore—lent X, ten thousand francs—have not even got an acknowledgment; and he's gone to Constantinople." "Write to him," said the Baron. "Have done so, and it don't answer—he does not answer." Then, mon cher, write to him thus: Dear M. X., when the Turks and Turkeses leave you a little leisure, send me the twenty thousand francs I lent you." "Precisely! he will write and say so, and then there's your acknowledgment."
