

POLICE RECORD FOR THE YEAR

Nearly 4,500 Arrests Made by
Patrolmen and Detectives
During 1909.

1,218 FOR DRUNKENNESS.

Story of Some of the Most Important
Captures of Desperate Crooks
During the Year.

The record of the Salt Lake City police department, as compiled by Secretary Herman Bauer and Sergeant Lindsay, shows that during the year 1909, up to Dec. 1, there were 4,499 arrests, of which 1,218 were for drunkenness, 706 for vagrancy, 115 for fighting, 102 for disturbing the peace, 145 for battery, 73 for begging, 35 for burglary, 48 for grand larceny, and 143 for petty larceny.

Out of 77 arrests for serious offenses, 70 of the accused were convicted in the courts of felonies, making a record of 92 per cent in convictions, according to the report.

Perhaps the most sensational capture made by the local police in the last year was that of Frank Leland, alias Dave Martin, alias Williams, and Ike Goldberg, alias Herbert Sterne, on the night of January 26, when they held up three men in as many places, and got away. The victims telephoned good descriptions to headquarters, and a patrolman in the north yards of the railroad yard soon after telephoned the station that he thought he had seen the men. A large detachment of policemen and detectives was rushed to the railroad yard, and the holdups attempted to escape, and a fierce revolver duel between them and the officers followed. Leland and Goldberg were finally subdued, and each got 30 days in state prison. It developed that both had criminal records. Leland had already served two years for assault to murder, and Goldberg had served one year in the penitentiary, in California, and had been released on Nov. 6, 1908, about three months before he committed the local holdups. Goldberg, it was learned, had already served one year in Folsom for burglary.

NOTABLE CAPTURES.

A quick piece of detective work resulted in the arrest of Sidney Coleman, April 21. He had burglarized the rooms of Miss M. M. Knight, a nurse living in the Woodruff apartments, and got away with a $300 fur jacket. He was caught when trying to dispose of the jacket. When put through the "third degree," he confessed to the detective. He recovered an enormous box at the depot filled with thousands of dollars worth of loot, which Coleman was just going to express to Denver, where his "fence" had been selling the swag. Coleman was one of the most cunning crooks ever captured in this city. He retained the legal talent in the state, and managed to get off with but one year in the penitentiary, although he had been caught with the goods on him at least 20 big burglaries, the police aver.

Another good piece of detective work was displayed in the quick capture of W. O. Rose, alias J. S. McLeod, and J. H. Cummings, July 23, in the Y. M. C. A. building, where they were rooming after having held up Daniel E. Sweet, treasurer of the local Pullman office, in the stairway of the Commercial club. Rose and Cummings confessed and drew five years each. The best capture of the year was the result of pure accident. A young girl, wanted by the juvenile court, was arrested, and several stolen articles were found in a suit case she was carrying. The girl's story led to the arrest of John Wilson, Nov. 6, and the recovery of a great pile of loot worth about $5,000. Most of it was called for and identified by victims of the robberies. Wilson, it is claimed, broke down and confessed to having committed 14 burglaries.

The biggest capture of a local criminal during the year was not made by the Salt Lake City police. The Ogden detectives caught and arrested L. E. Driskell, who later confessed to having murdered Special Officer C. C. Riley, on the night of Nov. 5, on State street, between First and Second South streets, according to the local police.

MORE DANVILLE PROOF.

Jacob Schrahl, 432 South St., Danville, Ill., writes: "Four over eighteen months I was a sufferer from kidney and bladder trouble. During the whole time was treated by several doctors and tried several different kidney pills. Seven weeks ago I commenced taking Foley's Kidney Pills, and I am feeling better every day and will be glad to tell anyone interested just what Foley's Kidney Pills did for me.
