While Mr. Morris was in the midst of his speech in support of the bill, the lights in the house suddenly went out. The facile representative from Washington wont right ahead as though nothing had ha neared, and after remarking that he was not like the fellow who was "afraid to go home in the dark," continued his advocacy of the measure. The vote resulted in 27 of the 24 members present voting in its favor, the lone negative vote being cast by McCracken.

Another feature of last evening's session was the demand made by Representative McCracken, of Weber, that the sergeant-at-arms of the house be required to explain to the members

Retail Merchants Think Contomers

Should Pay Bills Every Week. J. E. Carver of Ogden addressed the

Salt Lake Refall Merchants' association last tight on credits. The topic discuesed with the most vigor and mental acument was, "Why the flour and commission men demand workly payment, when the retail stores are able to pay only once a mental, thus making it a hardenly for the retailers to pay weekly."

All the speakers referred festingte. as though deeply touched, to being forced to put up weekly, and the unant-mula sentiment was that the consumer should be made to do likewise. A report of the probabic passage of the pure food bill by the legislature was received with favor. The association received reports from government experiments, made on the "polson squad." that indicate that chickens not drawn are different in composition from the drawn ones after being stored.
