WASHINGTON, 31.—Scoville attempted to get witnesses to confess that conversations and conduct were the chief means of determining sanity or insanity.

Witness held that was only an incident, not an essential element.

Guiteau interposed that experts on this case wanted to kill a man and examine his brain to determine on his sanity afterward.

Witness had seen forty cases of feigned insanity. The prisoner was feigning insanity.

The afternoon passed wearily. Counsel for the prosecution devoted themselves mainly to the preparation and arrangement of points for the forthcoming arguments. Finally, the hour of adjournment having arrived, Guiteau, who had been listlessly following the proceedings called out:

To morrow will be New Year's Day; I shall receive to-morrow in jail, and shall be happy to see all who can succeed in getting in. I wish every one a happy New Year. Come, Scoville, it's 3 o'clock let's go home. Court adjourned till Tuesday.

Board for Arkansas.

South Carolina politicians now here are considerably disturbed over the information from Charleston, that the exodus fever has broken out among the colored plantation hands, and that already several thousands have made arrangements to go to Arkansas. So general has the movement become that it is feared there will be an almost total loss of crops in three or four counties next year.

Projected Railroad from Texas to Rio Janeiro.

One of the morning papers says: A railroad from Texas to Brazil, through Mexico and Central America, and by the Isthmus of Panama, to Rio Janeiro, has been projected. It is said that John W. Mackay, the great bonanza king, is to be the president, and that he has promised to devote his best energies and a large part of his capital to its completion. The project referred to was originated several years ago, by Major John A. Lynch, now a resident of Washington. It then received the favorable consideration of Senator David Davis, who gave tangible shape to the suggestion by introducing in Senate a joint resolution that proposed the holding at Washington of a convention, in which all the republics of Central and South America, shall be invited to participate, for the purpose of discussing this subject and of taking action by which substantial harmonious co-operation could be had in carrying out such international railway communication. Senator Davis' measure met the fate of many others which were referred to the commerce committee as then constituted, and died of neglect. There is now considerable talk of reviving the scheme. Although the rumor of Mackay's interest in it has not yet been verified it is accepted that his active support will go a long way toward insuring success.

The Chinese Minister.

The new Chinese minister was presented to the President by the Secretary of State, at 6 o'clock this evening. This somewhat unusual hour was selected to enable the retiring ministers to present their letters of recall before quitting Washington on the train for San Francisco. The retiring ministers first had an audience with the President, to whom they addressed the following speech:

Mr. President.

Our august sovereign, His Majesty the Emperor of China, having recalled us to Peking, and our successor being present, we now have the honor to deliver to you a copy of the imperial edict summoning us to China. We beg to assure you our mission at Washington has been most agreeable, and that we feel gratified for the uniform courtesy and kindness which we have received from yourself and your predecessors and members of the government of the United States. And now in taking our leave, we desire to express our sincere wishes for your health and happiness, and for the prosperity of the illustrious nation over which you preside.

THE PRESIDENT REPLIED:

Messrs. Ministers.

I learned with regret that your official connection with this government was to be severed. Your personal intercourse with all its departments and officers has been uniformly courteous and pleasant. I thank you for the expression of your good will both for myself personally and for the people of the United States, and I beg to assure you that those kind feelings are entirely reciprocated. We all wish you a safe and pleasant transit to your country, and a happy welcome there from a prosperous people.

THE NEW MINISTER.

On this being presented to the President the incoming minister delivered the following address:

Mr. President:

I have the honor to deliver to you a letter which the Emperor, my august sovereign, has addressed to you, accrediting me as his Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to the United States. It gives me great pleasure to accept the charge laid upon me, and it will be my constant aim to maintain and strengthen the amicable relations which now happily exist between China and the United States. I beg leave to express my earnest wishes for your personal happiness and the success of your administration and for the welfare of the great people over whom you preside, and add that these are the sentiments of my august sovereign and his government. I beg leave to offer you the assurance of my most profound respect and esteem.

MORE TAFFY.

To this the President replied:

Mr. Minister:

It gives me pleasure to receive from your hands His Majesty's letter of credence, and friendly assurance with which you enter on your mission. It will be my constant aim to insist these advances in the same spirit, and to make no efforts to strengthen the friendly relations so justly referred to by you. I thank you for your kind expressions to me and the United States. I assure you, Mr. Minister, that I and they will endeavor always to make your residence here happy and agreeable and useful to your nation. I beg you to convey to his Majesty, the Emperor, my thanks for the kind sentiments which he has expressed through you, and the earnest wishes for myself and the people of the United States, and for his own happiness and for the prosperity of his great empire and welfare of his people. Accept, Mr. Minister, my expression of gratification that his Majesty has selected you to represent his government at this post. Your distinction and well known character are the best assurance of the continuance of the friendly relation which have been maintained in the past between the representatives of his Majesty at Washington and the government, with advantage to both countries.

The Russian minister called upon the President to take leave before leaving.

Bankrupt Law.

WASHINGTON, 1.—The exact nature of the conclusion reached by the Senate sub-committee who were appointed last summer to take into consideration the propriety of enacting a national bankruptcy law, has not yet been disclosed, but it is known that they have framed a bill which will be brought before the full judiciary committee at an early day, with a strong recommendation for adoption, and from conversation with a large number of congressmen it appears that there is a decided preponderance of sentiment in favor of the enactment by this Congress of some bankruptcy law. A senator who has given the subject a great deal of thought and examination expresses the belief that within the coming year a majority of both houses will agree upon a measure free from the cumbersome and expensive features of the former law, which will give assurance alike of justice and permanence in the regulation of bankruptcy proceedings throughout the whole country. He says the last national bankrupt law was the reverse of what he believes the new one will be;-for, while under the old law it was comparatively easy to obtain a discharge from debt, even with fraudulent intentions, the new law will protect the creditor class rather than unduly the debtor.

Texas Railroad Scheme.

ST. LOUIS, 1.—A Republican Dallas special says: Articles of incorporation have been prepared and charters will be secured within the next two weeks for another gigantic railroad enterprise in Texas, to be known as the Gulf and Pacific road, to run from Orleans, via Dallas, to Isleta, Albuquerque, New Mexico, and form a junction with the Atlantic and Pacific. It will run from New Orleans to Saline River, via Opelousas, a distance of 220 miles; thence to Dallas over the Texas Trunk, absorbing that road, a distance of 250 miles; thence northwesterly to the boundary of the State, in Baytry County, a distance of 400 miles; thence via Fort Sumner, to Isleta, in the valley of the Rio Grande. The entire length of the road will be 1,180 miles. The road will be in three separate divisions—the Louisiana, the Texas and New Mexico, and there will be three separate boards of directors. It is proposed to capitalize at the rate of $15,000, and bonds at the same rate will be issued. The road will be operated by three different companies incorporated under the laws of Louisiana, Texas and New Mexico. It will be built by a construction company formed under the laws of New Jersey. The road is backed by some of the strongest bankers and capitalists in New York, Philadelphia, Boston and Washington, as well as Europe. The Atlantic and Pacific will be very much interested in the western road. The old Spanish mines east of Albuquerque recently reopened, after an abandonment of many years, are found to be incredibly rich, and their owners will take large stock in the road. The Dallas and Western Road, recently organized, to run through rich coal fields, will be abandoned, and the Gulf and Pacific take its place. It is intended to make General D. E. Sickles, identified with Paris capitalists, James G. Blaine, ex-peaker Randall, and his Brother Robert, the Seligmans, of New York, the Nickersons, of Boston, and others of national reputation, interested in the projects.

Fatal Fall.

CLEVELAND, 1.—During a Knights of Pythias festival, at Shanesville, Tuscarawas County, last evening, the floor gave way, precipitating the company, numbering over 200, to the floor below. Two persons were instantly killed, and ten others fatally injured, and between seventy and eighty more or less bruised or burned. The building took fire almost instantly, producing a scene of the wildest excitement. The lights were nearly all extinguished, leaving the shrieking, struggling mass of humanity to grasp their way from the ruins almost in the dark. By the prompt action of those who escaped unhurt, and other citizens, summoned by the terrible alarm, the fire was subdued, but not until quite a number were more or less burned. The list of killed and wounded will number nearly 100. The night was very cold, and the scene is described as frightful in the extreme. The names of the killed and injured are not given.

Campbell Astonished.

NEW YORK, 1.—The Tribune's Washington correspondent interviewed Campbell, who holds the certificate of Gov. Murray, of Utah, who said: "I am surprised to find so many men in Washington who sympathize with the Mormons. It is strange if people cannot understand that if any man in Utah, except Mormons, were to have two wives, he would be tried, convicted and sent to the penitentiary for bigamy, while, here is Cannon, who acknowledges he has four wives, claiming a seat in congress. Probably these Mormon sympathizers do not know that while any Gentile in Utah who should have more than one wife would be promptly convicted and imprisoned for that offense, there are only three members of the Utah Legislature, in both branches, who are not practical polygamists, having more than one wife."

Relics of Ruins Discovered.

The discovery of a deserted city sixty miles long, cut out of the rocky face of a winding cliff, rewarded the efforts of the Stevens-Smithsonian Institution exploring party, during its researches in New Mexico and Arizona, the past season. This is by far the most important find yet made among the ancient haunts of the cliff dwellers. Some of the houses contain four and five dwellings, one on top of the other, and on the plateau above the cliff were found many ruins of temples of worship, built of well cut, square stones. A comparison of the collection of pottery and implements gathered in the cliff houses by the exploring party with those obtained in the Pueblo villages, strengthens the theory that the Pueblo Indians are the degenerate descendants of the once very powerful race that built the ruined cities of the plains, and then receding before some more warlike foe, carved out those singular dwellings on the walls of dizzy precipices, and found in them, it may be for centuries, both fortresses and homes. Perhaps the hieroglyphic descriptions seen by Mr. Stevenson will one day be deciphered and found to contain the tragic history of the wasting away by war and famines of the ill-fated people who, like the coneys of the Bible, made the rocks their refuge.

Wm. H. Hooper.

Tribune's editorial: According to Gov. Murray, of Utah, Delegate Cannon, who is waiting for the seat in the House which he has held for eight years, has four wives. This fact, properly authenticated before the committee on elections, ought to be reason enough for excluding him. It is no reason, however, for admitting contestant Campbell, who only got a handful of votes. Probably there will have to be a new election. In such an event the Mormons may find a monogamist among their number and send him to Washington. Before they grew so confident and so impudent they used to send Hooper as their delegate. Hooper had only one wife, and was thought on that account a safe man to keep in Congress, because he did not flaunt the polygamous doctrine in practical shape, under the noses of members. Indeed, some people in Utah believe Hooper was restrained from plural marriage by order of the church, that he might be an available delegate. That was in a time, however, when the Mormons were afraid of the government. Of late they have not cared much for its laws or its officers.

St. Louis Coming to the Front.

The increase and extension of railroads the past year, lying west and southwest of this city, having St. Louis for their eastern and northern terminus and outlet, has been simply wonderful, and is resulting in the opening up and very rapid development of a great Empire, a large portion of which has been heretofore without railroad facilities. From a long article on railroad progress, published in the Post-Dispatch this afternoon, the following condensed statement is made: The Iron Mountain system, embracing the Iron Mountain, the International and Great Northern, and Texas Pacific added 872 miles of new road during this year. There are two short branches on Iron Mountain of 40 miles. The extension of the Texas Pacific from Baird to Sierra Blanca, 370 miles. Whitesboro to Fort Worth, 71 miles, the completion of the road from Shreveport, Louisiana, to New Orleans, 226 miles, and the extension of the International & Great Northern from New Brainsfels to London on the Rio Grand, 84 miles. All these lines run through a rich cotton, sugar or timber country, and are developing very fast. In addition a line has been surveyed from Knoble, Ark., on the Iron Mountain road, to Alexandria, La., which will be vigorously pushed next year, and when completed will form an important link in a short route from St. Louis to New Orleans on the west side of the Mississippi river.

Failures for 1881 Contrasted with those of Previous Years.

The total number of business failures for the entire year of 1881 throughout the United States is stated by the mercantile agency of R. G. Dun & Co. to be 5,582, involving liabilities of slightly over $81,000,000. The failures for the year previous were only 4,635, with liabilities of $65,000,000. The increase is however regarded by the agency as small in proportion to the enormous growth in the volume of trade and especially in proportion to the number of persons engaged in business. Compared with 1878 the showing is strongly to advantage of the year just closed; the failures in that year being 10,400, and liabilities $234,000,000. In the year 1881 only one person in every one hundred and forty-eight engaged in business has failed, while in 1880 the proportion was one in every 106; in 1878, one in every 84. The figures of the year and the facts presented are interpreted by the agency as confirmatory of the impression that the trade of the country is prosperous and in a safe condition.

Imperium in Imperio.

The Times thus summarizes and comments upon one of its Washington specials: "While no honest man desires to see the invasion of the Indian territory, or would force upon the tribes occupying that secluded section, the opening of their country to indiscriminate settlement, it must be admitted that the incidents of the late concession to the railroad company of the right of way across the territory reveal an anomalous condition of things. In this case the railway company asked for the use of a strip of land two hundred feet wide with an additional strip at points where stations are to be built. To secure this right it was necessary that the government of the United States should send an envoy to the Choctaw nation, and ask it as a favor from the Choctaw government. After some delay and much opposition; the latter probably intensified by importunities of rival corporations, the right of way was granted. The railroad company pays rent to the Choctaw nation. This may seem like a great concession, but the narrow tract occupied by the railway is like a tunnel through the Indian Territory. This tunnel, so to speak, in 200 feet wide; a citizen of the United States, who goes beyond that line, takes his life in his hand. To all intents and purposes, he is more remote from the protection of his government than he would be if he were cast away on the coast of Siberia. The Indian Territory is a little empire by itself.

Reform.

BOSTON, 1.—The civil service reform association of Boston, during next week, will extensively circulate for signatures a petition to Congress praying for the passage of a bill providing for competitive examination for appointments to subordinate executive offices, and that removal be for legitimate causes only. The signatures of many prominent men are already obtained, including Gov. Long, J. Q. Adams, Chas. Francis Adams and Ex-Gov. Gaston.

Burned to Death.

BRADFORD, Pa., 1.—A large frame boarding-house of Garrett Abers, near Richburg, N. Y., was destroyed by fire at 1 o'clock this morning. Gas from an old well was used as fuel in a cooking stove, and an unexpected pressure set the kitchen on fire. Owing to general sickness in the house, there were few boarders, and nobody in the vicinity of the kitchen. Mrs Abers was sick with fever, in a front room up stairs. Her husband, who is 70 years of age, was sitting by her bedside, and from prolonged watching was about exhausted, and fell asleep. He was first awakened by the smoke, and discovered that the entire rear part of the building was in flames. Seizing his wife, he carried her out and laid her down in the snow in her night clothes. He then went back to awaken three children who were sleeping in a rear room up stairs, but could not reach them. There were two girls, aged 18 and 11 years, a boy aged 10 years. Their legs, arms and hands were burned off, and their trunks blackened and charred. Several persons down stairs, were also dangerously burned in making their escape. Physicians think Mrs. Abers will die from exposure in the snow in connection with her fever. Mr. Abers is nearly insane with grief. In the destruction of his house he has lost all his property.

Exasperated Indians.

DENVER, Col., 31.—The Tribune's Santa Fe special says: Various petty annoyances, such as killing their dogs and other domestic animals, and pulling up tepees in their absence, have been inflicted on the Navajo Indians by whites attached to or following the movements of the Atlantic and Pacific Railway. The Indians have become thoroughly exasperated and threaten reprisal. The report that small-pox, except in sporadic cases, exists among the Apaches, is reported here as fanciful.

Killing and Enslaving Indians.

Accounts from Presidio Delnorte, Mexico, of the capture by Mexicans, of 40 Apaches on the war path, make it positive that the captured Indians were Nana, the well known war chief, and a remnant of his followers. The Indians came into the village opposite Presidio and attempted to make a treaty of peace. The inhabitants took them prisoners, shot Nana and other chiefs and sent the remainder south, intending to place the bucks at work in the mines and make the squaws slaves in families at the City of Mexico.

$150,000 Fire.

PHILADELPHIA, 31.—A fire in the Waterall building, Fourth and Race Streets, destroyed three upper floors and the contents, inflicting a loss estimated at $150,000. The principal losers are Kaufman, Strouse & Co., Wm. Lucas, owner of the building, Wm. Waterall & Co., Keystone Forge Co., Coone & Co., and Clark & Burr.

Dynamite.

PITTSBURG, Pa., 1.—The Commercial Gazette's Beaver Falls, Pa., special says: A terrible dynamite explosion took place yesterday at the Extension Company's new line, which is being graded on the north side of the Beaver River, near Wampun. Mr. King Smith, the head head dirrctor of a gang of workmen, placed some dynamite in an old powder keg to dry previous to using. At the noon hour, just when the men stopped to take their dinner, the keg, containing a couple of so-called cartridges, was placed some eight feet from the fire, and while the men were eating their dinner the can exploded, resulting in wounding 10 men, two fatally.
