

Washington, July 25.—Amended de-natured alcohol regulations have been issued by the commissioner of internal revenue, to take place on Sept. 1, of the regulations heretofore issued, and are made necessary by the act passed by the last Congress. Under the new regulations, in addi-tion to denatured warehouses on distil-lery premises, central denaturing ware-houses may be constructed at such points as business may require, and al-cohol may be transferred from dena-turing warehouses by means of tanks or tank cars to consumers. Manufacturers using completely de-natured alcohol are not required to swear the application for a permit, and a permit when secured continues in force until revoked, and retail dealers in denatured alcohol are not required to keep a record of any kind. Industrial or farm distilleries may produce alcohol from anything that contains fermentable matter. At these

WILL STAND BY SIMPKINS.

"Hawley blames us for re-electing Simpkins to the executive board. It might have been better to have left him off. This is a cowardly world. It might have been better for the 40,000 members of the Western Fed-eration of Miners to have turned their back on him when he was accused, but if we had-done that Hawley would have told that the fact that the federation dropped Simpkins showed beyond a shadow of a doubt that the man was guilty. But that is not the stuff the brave men of the Western Federation are made of. Till Jack Simpkins is convicted, every member of the federation will stand by him and will not judge him until he has had his day in court. "If Simpkins has been your brother, him to go away until the passions of men had cooled, till he could appear to an impartial jury which would listen patiently to his story and render a fait and just verdict upon him. "Der Chail is Oudt." New York, July 25.-E. H. J. Tam-sen, ex-sheriff of New York county, is dead at his home here following a stroke of paralysis. He was 58 years old and for years was a well known fig-ure in German-American circles. It was while he was sheriff from 1894 to 1897 that an incident occurred that made Sheriff Tamsen famous the country over. Three notorious post-office thieves were confined in Ludlow' street jail at the time. They succeed-ed in getting away from the German-American keepers that Mr. Tamsen had put in charge of the jail. When one of the keepers discovered the escape, he rushed excitedly into the street, cry-ing: "Der chail is oud; der chail is oudt." interesting tricks of the mail order trade are being brought out. An instance is furnished by a local An instance is furnished by a local retailer today of a case in which a customer of his showed him a mail order offer to sell a standard range $7 cheaper than it could be procured from the merchant. The customer or-dered it and when it arrived, a meas-urement of its dimensions showed that urement of its dimensions showed that a saving of one-sixteenth of an inch had been made in iron in all dimen-sions. The result was that this amount was more than saved in the failure to deliver a stove of standard measureoudt." HOW RECEIVED IN TOKIO.

HOW RECEIVED IN TOKIO. Tokio, Jul 25.—The manner in which the news of the convention between Japan and Korea has been generally received is indicative of satisfaction. It is felt among the well-informed that Japan might have been more exacting in her terms, curtailing even the Kor-ean imperial authorty by issuing the rescript subject to the approval of the Japanese resident general. The avoid-ance of such demand, it is believed, was purely out of consideration for the prestige of the Korean court. The extensions of power of the resident gen-eral so that he may appoint his nomin-ees to responsible positions in the Korean government is especially wel-comed in Japan as one of the surest Korean government is especially wel-comed in Japan as one of the surest means of preventing the adoption of any measure hostile to Japan or detrimental to the interests of Korea.³ It is exepcted that the freehand Ja-pan is now able to exercise in Korea will soon be manifested by the peace-ful development of the peninsula and the maintenance of order in the far east. east.
