President Fry had been a sufferer from asthma for years and it is expected that this trouble was much aggravated by the contraction of the cold and it is not unlikely that the malady was responsible for his demise. NINTH WARD CONFERENCE. New Bishopric Installed - A Large and Interested Assembly.

The Ninth ward meeting house was filled to overflowing on Sunday evening. and places had to be occupied by many persons in the annex. The entire building had been renovated and newly decorated just previous to the decease of the late Bishop S. A. Woolley, and pre sented a very neat and pleasant appear. ance. After singing by the choir, and prayer by Elder A. H. Woolley, the Sacrament was administered.

President Joseph F. Smith addressed the congregation, speaking in high terms of the labors and character of the deceased Bishop, and urging his family and the people of the ward to emulate his virtues. The speaker then read from the Doctrine and Covenants, section 124, showing that the Lord, by revelation, on January 19, 1841, gave to the Church by name its presiding officers. presidents of quorums, etc. But these were all to be presented at the general conference of the Church for approval or disapproval. President Smith explained the proper order in the nomination of a Bishop and his counselors and other officers in the Church. It was not to come from the body of the people, but from the presiding authorities under the inspiration of the Lord, and then it was for the people to signify whether they would accept the persons thus selected. He advised union and harmony and acquiescence in the choice, made so that there might be no schism or obstruction in the Church.

President Angus M. Cannon stated that the choice of a Bishop, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Sumuel A. Woolley, had been made by the Presidency of the Stake and High Council, with the approval of the President of the Church. He presented the name of Elder Jabez W. West, who was then sustained by the ward by unanimous vote. He was invited to state whether he would serve, and also to name whom he desired to act as his

President C. W. Penrose made a few remarks in cordial commendation of the faithful labors of Elders John Brown and Taylor H. Woolley as counselors to the late Bishop, and explained that when a Bishop or President died or was removed, the office of counselors to aim naturally became vacant.

President Cannon then presented the statistical report, which was accepted and filed, and the rest of the ward authorities who were all unanimously sus-

President Smith gave some instruc-ions to the Bishopric as to their duties, and to the local officers and members After singing by the choir the bene-iction was pronounced by President Joseph E. Taylor.

It is a great easure to the manufacturers of Chamberian's Cough Remedy to be able to publish testimonials of this character. They show that great good is being done, pain and suffering relieved and valuable lives restored to health and happiness by this remedy.

PASSED THROUGH LIFE TOGETHER.

Arid Land Question to be Discussed Took Prest. Frye from Mortality the Aged Couple Meet Death Almost at the Same Time.

PNEUMONIA WAS THE CAUSE

While the Solemn Cortege is Filing Away from the Grave of the Husband, the Wife Passes Away.

It seldom falls to the lot of husband and wife to tread the rugged path of life together for nearly half a century and then step down into the dark valley of the shadow of death together, and be walfted into eternity on the same breeze. While the coffin, containing the body of John W. Clark was being laid in its receptacle at Mt. Olivet yesterday, the spirit of his wife was released from its weary tabernacle, and as her husband had preceded her but a few months into this world 76 years back to the mansion on high. Their lives had run parallel, and when their paths merged together 39 years ago, their spirits also seemed to be assimilated into one, and when death laid its cold band upon one, the other also succumbed through sheer sympathy. So long had they lived together, that what affected one was felt by

ago, so he led the way by a few hours,

The aged couple immigrated to Salt Lake from England thirty-eight years ago, and after arriving here, Mr. Clark engaged in shoe-making, and by the dint of industry and frugality managed to gather about him considerable property. He erected a comfortable little cottage at No. 546 west North Temple street, which was illuminated with the light of love and contentment, until the spark of life went out.

A little over a week ago Mr. Clark was stricken with pneumonia, and he yielded rapidly to the ravages of that malady, his aged body having fought the battle of life for over three score years and ten, was unable to meet the added struggle. His wife also, was selezd with the same malady, and the old couple whose devotion to each other was as tender as a pack's dream ware was as tender as a poet's dream, were too weak to assist one another. They were discovered in their pitiful plight by a little girl who went to the house to have her shoes mended. She told the neighbors of the situation, and the members of the Salt Lake lodge No. 2, I. O. O. F., of which Mr. Clark was a member, being apprised of the condition of their brother's, at once called in medical aid, and spared no pains in making the old couple as comfortable as possible. Mr. Clark, however, was beyond the assistance of any human hand, and on Thursday afternoon passed away. The shock fell lightly upon his wife, who was peculiarly contented, as though she were conscious that she would soon follow him. And so she did, he had but gone to explore the way for her, and while the solemn cortege was filing out of the cemetery her spirit was released. Her body will be laid by the side of her husband. Mr. and Mrs. Clark had no children so far as is known. A sister of Mr. Clark, it is said, is residing in Pennsylvania. Mrs. Clark had a half-sister in England, and aside from these, so far as is known, they had no relatives.

Mr. Clark's funeral was held yesterday afternoon from the hall of Sait Lake lodge No. 2, I. O. O. F., Past Grand Master S. W. Darke delivered a very feeling address.

OBSERVED BY LITTLE FOLKS Interesting Easter Services in the Twenty-first Ward Sunday School.

In the Twenty-first ward Sunday School yesterday very interesting services commemorative of Easter were held. The stand was beautifully adorned with a profusion of Easter lilies, palms and flowers, and each window also was filled with flowering plants, and it was indeed a pleasure to witness the glad surprise of the chli-dren as they entered the meeting house, their hearts being filled with a spirit of peace and joy.

The opening singing was quite appropriate, and during the administration of the Sacrament Elder John W. Walker delivered a very interesting Easter discourse, impressing in simple language the lesson of the "Resurrection" upon the hearts of the children. In the various classes, including the kinder-garten, suitable selections were given In the normal or higher theologica class there was an attendance of 96 and after adjournment to the class room an address on "Exaltation and Eternal Glory" was delivered by Elde W. S. Owen. An Easter poem was read by Miss Alice Calder. "The Holy City," was well rendered by Miss Annie Owen with guitar accompaniment by Mrs. Ella Olsen-Sharkey, after which Elder R. Leo Bird spoke cloquently upon "Easter Customs, Ob-servances and Lessons."
