SENATE.

Silver Coinage.

WASHINGTON, 11.—The Chair presented the reply of the Secretary of the Treasury to the resolution of the Senate yesterday, in regard to the coinage of silver to replace the fractional currency. The Secretary says it will take four years to coin enough silver to replace the fractional currency now in circulation.

EASTERN.

Signed—Army Reduction.

WASHINGTON, 11.—The President has signed the act for the removal of the Flathead and other Indians from Bitter Root Valley, Mont.

The army reduction bill, under consideration by the House Military Committee has been printed for the private use of the members of the committee only. It provides for sweeping reductions in the army, among others of five regiments of infantry, two of cavalry and one of artillery. The officers who may necessarily be affected by the reduction are to receive one year's pay on being mustered out. Important changes are also proposed in the number and mode of the selection of officers as commanding generals in the several military departments. The bill provides for the appointment of Assistant Surgeons and Assistant Quartermasters from officers who served in the medical and Quartermaster's department during the late war, and that the first twenty graduates each year from the military academy shall be assigned to regiments; the remainder to be discharged.

Whisky Crusade.

NEW YORK, 11.—The question of a crusade against the whisky sellers here has already been seriously discussed in the leading temperance religious societies; the decision as to whether the effort will be made will depend upon the result of the temperance conference now being held in Albany, which is attended by most of the temperance leaders in the State. In this city there is unusual activity among all the temperance organizations. The State Temperance Alliance of New Jersey has also had the matter under consideration.

"Now Burning."

BANGOR, Me., 12 1 a.m.—The brick block on Exchange street, occupied by the European and North American railway station and several stores, is now burning.

$14,000 Fire—More Indian Outrages—A Distressed Ship.

SAN FRANCISCO, 11.—A fire occurred this afternoon in the Chinese quarter, on Jackson Street, which engaged the firemen about two hours, and they finally prevented what might have been a disastrous conflagration. It is reported that several Chinamen were burned to death in the upper story of the buildings. Loss about $14,00, insurance $12,000.

A telegram from Fort Laramie states that the mail carrier from the Red Cloud agency, with an Indian escort, has just arrived, with the information that Frank Appleton, who was acting Indian agent in the absence of agent Saville, was shot on Monday night by the Minneconjou Sioux. On the same night fourteen mules were stolen from a government freighter named Charles Gareau, within three miles of the agency. At White Clay agency the Indians have driven off the beef-herders and taken charge, saying they will do their own issuing. The corpse of Mr. Appleton has left with the agency's doctor for Fort Laramie. The doctor says he will not return to be made a target of. Troops have been telegraphed for, and the greatest excitement prevails. A large fire was seen in the direction of the Red Cloud agency last evening, and it has probably been burned ere this, as there appears to be a general uprising. The bodies of Lieutenant Robinson and Corporal Coleman have just arrived at the post in a mutilated condition. Capt. Egan's command is expected to arrive at the fort to-night, as the Indians crossed back to the agency the same day as the massacre. The Quaker Indian policy is now bearing fruit.

The British ship Quoin, which sailed hence for Queenstown, December 18, with a cargo of wheat, was towed into port this evening; she encountered gales which tore away a portion of her sails and rigging, threw the ship on her beam ends and sprung all the knee braces forward; the ship finally righted, but was found to be leaking badly. She proceeded on her course, but leaked all the time, and at last, when in S. lat. 8, the crew refused to proceed further, and the captain bore up for this port.

The De Young brothers, of the Chronicle, have been placed under bonds in five thousand each, to keep the peace towards B. F. Napthaly, editor of the Sun.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Tempestuous.

LONDON, 11.—The weather is very tempestuous to-day on the southwest coast of Ireland; some damage to shipping is reported.

The European Mission.

By a letter to Prest. L. J. Herrick, dated Weymouth, Jan. 13, and published in the Millennial Star, from Bro. Wm. Geddes, we learn that he was on the ship Cyphrenes, which left London Jan. 10. The Cyphrenes put into Weymouth, because the captain had committed suicide by jumping overboard. The captain had some difficulty with the owners of the ship. It was expected that a Mr. Wood, from Scotland, would take command of the ship, and that it would leave Weymouth in the evening of Jan. 13. Bro. Geddes was on a mission to Australia.

In a letter to Prest. Herrick, dated Bern, Switzerland, Jan. 7, and also published in the Star, Elder Henry Riser says—

"As we have just returned from our preaching tour, which Brothers Huber, Keller and myself had gone on some three weeks ago, I thought a few lines perhaps from me would not be taken amiss. I arrived in this land on the 25th of May, 1872, and was appointed Prest. of Bern and Jura Conference. The time I have spent here has been very pleasant to me, and the Lord has blessed my labors. Up to this time I have, through the blessing of the Lord, baptized quite a number, as you may see by the annual report sent by Brother Huber to you.

"I have great joy in the knowledge that this is the kingdom of God, and that I am an instrument in his hands in proclaiming the everlasting gospel among the nations of the earth. The Lord works through his servants in these days, as well as he did eighteen hundred years ago. A circumstance happened in my field of labor, in which the hand of the Lord was visibly manifest, which I will mention here. Early in December I was on my usual trip through the Jura, visiting the Saints and bearing my testimony wherever I had a chance. I went to Auvernier, Neuchatel, where I had appointed a meeting a few days previous, and had written brother Beutler, of Moiraigne, asking him to attend the meeting, as I did not expect to go up to see him before holding meeting. When I arrived at Auvernier, a feeling came over me that, in spite of the cold and foggy weather, led me to go and see brother Beutler. I started for his place, and in several places on the road persons wanted me to stay over night, but I refused to do so. I felt that I ought to go and see brother Beutler that night. I arrived there in due time, and brother Beutler said that he had only an hour before that time mailed a letter to me asking me to come up, as there was a family at Convet, near the borders of France, that had expressed a desire to see an Elder from Utah. We shortly afterwards went by train to see the family, all of whom were well pleased. I bore testimony to them of the Latter-day work, according to the dictates of the Spirit of God. They listened with the greatest interest, and at eleven o'clock that night I baptized eleven souls. After that we entered into a friendly conversation, and the father of the family then told me that they had for a number of years inquired about the Gospel, and that they had learned so much that they knew they must be baptized for the remission of sins. They could not, however, find any person who was authorized to baptize them, so they went, and each one of them immersed himself in the water. A few weeks ago, after thinking over the religions of the day, he had a dream in the night, in which he was told to go to Postgasse, at Bern, and buy there a medicine named Brigham. He awoke and got up to write down the name of the medicine, and in the morning he inquired of the family if they had ever heard of such a medicine, (he never had heard the name before,) and the mother of the family told him that that was the name of the 'Mormon' leader. He thought then he would not have anything to do with it, but a voice said to him, 'But what I will, that you shall.' He said he had nothing more to say, and a little while after, by accident, a member of the family went to brother Beutler, who resided six miles distant for some work; they were led to speak about religion, and brother Beutler then gave the man a pamphlet of ours. A daughter of the family also told me that she had had a vision. She thought she was on a great body of water. A large ship was on shore, and a man standing there, calling aloud to the people in the ship to go westward. Another of the family says she has seen President Young in vision, and described to me his appearance. On a preaching trip afterwards, we visited the family, and I baptized three more of them.

"I feel well in health and spirits, as also do brothers Keller and Huber. We are united together, and all goes on very well in the Mission. We have held sixteen meetings, and baptized seven persons in the three weeks while we were together. Brother Naile is in Germany, and brother Keller at Zurich."
