

BOOSTERS PLAN TRIP TO LOGAN

Get Acquainted Special Will Leave Salt Lake on the Morning of April 24.

PREPARING FOR BIG CROWD.

Board of Directors of M. & M. A. Take Action to Provide for First Outing In Series for the Season.

The game of boosting for Utah by the process of an intermingling of the people in the valley of Salt Lake with the people in the valleys to the north and south, has proven very popular.

A year ago a booster excursion to Logan partially filled a small train.
This year enough requests for reservations are already made to guarantee a successful excursion, and when the M. and M. special, bedecked with banners about the desirability of "getting acquainted," and trading in western goods for western consumption, pulls out for the north on April 24, it is certain that a record breaking crowd will be on hand. The last excursion of 1906 took over 400 people south to Mant in a blinding snow storm, and after the spring rains have made the country look its best to the eye of the Salt Lake who would know what manner of a state he lives in. At a meeting of the board of directors of the M. and M. association held last night, details of the excursion were decided upon.
There will be a glad jubilee, although the official name of the booster signers is "Glad Jubilee," also the juvenile band, a full equipment of "Get Acquainted" badges and buttons, so that everyone to the northward may be tagged, and a bonus for each car trying along with the windows, bearing some legend connected with the best plans for making a greater commercial Utah.

The board of directors is proposing in the art of running successful excursions, as time progresses, in evidence of which, it has been decided to hurry the train through to Logan, so that the crowd will not arrive there too tired for a good time. Then it is planned to get very busy there with the sole object of seeing the town, and having an enjoyable visit. The stops at Ogden, Bountiful, Farmington, Layton, and Brigham, will be brief, so that Logan may be reached before 1 p. m.
The Get Acquainted special will leave Salt Lake at 8 a. m. sharp on the morning of April 24, and dinner will be served at Logan, after which the people will be shown over the town until 4 p. m., when an informal reception will be held in the Opera house. At 6:30 o'clock supper will be served and the return trip will be commenced at 8, the train arriving here in time to connect with the local cars for home.
Ladies will be made welcome as members of the party. A special low rate of $2.50 for the round trip has been secured, with proportionate rates for towns at which the excursionists stop.
As soon as this excursion is over, others will be planned to southern Utah points.

APRIL FOOL JOKE.

One Found Tucked Away Among the City Recorder's Papers.

An April fool joke, which utterly failed to work, came to light yesterday in the office of City Recorder Moreton when a petition which was submitted to the city council Monday night was examined and found to be a petition for the cancellation of the title of the petition which was endorsed by the city clerk and read as follows: "Deborah Hencforth, asking permission to lay a galvanized iron pipe."

Without comment the petition was referred to the waterworks committee by President A. J. Davis. In looking over the petition yesterday afternoon an employee of the recorder's office opened the Deborah Hencforth petition and this is what it contained:

"Deborah Hencforth desires to petition your honorable body to run an iron pipe down Tintock street and connect into Elm club resort to connect with a beer keg—April Fool.

It is not probable that the waterworks committee will waste much time considering the petition, and it will be consigned to the waste basket.

HOTEL GOSSIP.

H. O. Harkness of McCammon, Ida., is at the Willson. Mr. Harkness might be called the founder of McCammon.
He owns the hotel there, the large grist mill, a store, a livery stable, and about everything else. "McCammon has grown very considerably in the last few years," said Mr. Harkness.

town, outside of the station and the hotel and street mill, was all behind the hills out of sight, but it is different now. There is a large church building and several good sized residences right around the depot, and the tourists get a better view and form a better opinion of the southern gateway to the "Glad City," as Pocatello is called. McCammon is really the junction where the Short Line diverges east and south. A great deal of wool, fleece and hay is shipped out of our town, and it is quite a trading center for the farmers for miles around."

Arthur W. Jones of Waukesha, Wis., is a guest at the Kenyon. Mr. Jones home town is on the Little Rock river, 18 miles west of Milwaukee, and is quite a noted summer resort for invalids and pleasure seekers on account of the mineral springs found there.
Waukesha is also a great center for the products of manufactured lumber, especially weather-boarding stiles and fruit and canning and packing boxes. "Wisconsin leads in the production of lumber," said Mr. Jones today, "and naturally lumber product plants are numerous in our state. Our hardwood woods for instance, are not excelled in the northwest, and all kinds of wagons and farming machinery are produced in the state. Besides the soft wood products such as boxes, doors and sash, mouldings, etc."

I. Hillman came from Tonopah last evening and registered at the Wilson. He was met at Salt Lake by Mrs.
Hillman and their two little sons, who had been visiting at Mammoth.
Mr. Hillman's absence in Nevada.
"Yes, I have a claim near Tonopah that I've put some money in," said Mr. Hillman, "and I hope to get some out of it. At present the samples show 20 per cent copper, and getting better all the time. Tonopah is about 30 miles from Goldfield, where the great strike is in progress, and from all I could learn the difficulty is still far from settlement. The I. W. W. still compels the miners to remain away from work and business, and the production of copper is being checked at a standstill. Matters are approaching a crisis, and the public temper will not stand for everything. I understand the business men organization has determined to take a stand with the fair minded miners to straighten things out at Goldfield.
Things have come to such a pass that Vincent St. John, the notorious Crimple Creek and Coeur d'Alene agitator, who is also at the head of the I. W. W., agitation in Goldfield, does not dare show his face on the streets of the town. The people are wrought up over the worse than useless fight, and the miners themselves want to go to work but they can't because they are tied up with the Industrial Workers of the World. A national convention of the I. W. W. has been called for May, at which time the miners hope to break away from the anarchistic organization. Every man in the camp is armed, and it is said thousands of rifles have been shipped into the town in case of need. In case some arrangement is not arrived at soon, it would not surprise me if something would drop over in Goldfield," Mr. Hillman and family will return to their home in the Teton basin tomorrow."

Bartley J. Smithson, a big showman from Black Horse, Nevada, is at the White House.

John Huffer of Eureka is at the White House. Mr. Huffer reports the great central Utah mining camp in a very flourishing condition.

A. M. Sloman of Rochester, N. Y., is at the Willson. Mr. Sloman comes from a prominent manufacturing city in the western part of the Empire state, the production of Kodak being one of its principal industries. "We are also situated on the famous Erie canal," said Mr. Sloman, of which Mark Twain wrote his famous "For-not-But Trust in Dollinger," pilot yarn. I believe the very low bridge at which all the party ducked is just outside of Rochester, and the place where Dollinger "brought them through" is just beyond."

Mr. and Mrs. H. White of Wallace,

Idaho, are registered at the Kenyon.
Wallace is a prosperous mining town in the northern portion of Idaho, and was one of the storm centers of the Coeur d'Alene country in the exciting "bull pen" days. Mr. White says that Wallace is now a very prosperous camp, and that strikes and walkouts are a thing of the long past.

AMUSEMENTS.

Theater—J. M. Barrie's delightful comedy "Alice, Sit-by-the-Fire" was given its second presentation at the theater last night. The audience was even more charmed than the first time, and the opening performance. Miss Knott and her group of players are entitled to high credit for the natural manner in which they render the play. There is no false note struck in the delineation, where there is constant temptation to overdo. Miss Viola Knott, who plays the part of Alice so cleverly, is a daughter of the star of the girl of July 21.
A special word of praise ought to be said for Miss Gibbons, who in the two roles of Leonora and Fanny, was an excellent that very few people in the audience suspected it was a case of "doubling." The final performance goes tonight.

Many people are not aware that prior to her entering upon her career as a star, Rosette Knott was for some time leading lady of the Richard's theater.
Today she played opposite him in all his distinguished roles. Miss Knott read with deep concern the news of Mansfield's serious illness, and in conversation with a "News" representative last night, stated that she felt somewhat ought to be said in contradiction of the many unkind reports with which the country had been flooded concerning Mansfield's temper and his treatment of his leading women. As far as her own experience was concerned, she said that she knew these reports to be grossly exaggerated. She said that she could only look back upon her association with him as having been most invaluable. He was, of course, a strict disciplinarian, as he had to be to present his performances up to the high artistic level he had marked. He was a constant worker and his advice was most helpful to all of his company, but he was neither unkind nor unjust, and Miss Knott said she knew personally a number of instances where he had befriended unfortunates, especially children, who he was always ready to consider. She said she could relate many instances of his kindness to poor orphans, and his wonderful love for little ones was always a trait which characterized him.
She should alone dispel the reports in regard to him, which she felt were unjust and unwarranted.

Orpheum—Alfred Davenport and company, presenting "Now," a problem play, arrived yesterday morning, and they included in their week's bill Miss Davenport, who is a sister-in-law of the late Fanny Davenport, is decidedly better than her support, but at the best the offering is rather heavy for vaudeville.

Grand—The Leighton players will present Royce's popular play, "The Friends" all the week. "Innocent" is now in rehearsal.

Lyric—The new vaudeville bill appears to have struck the fancy of the patrons of this house, as the presentations nightly draw good audiences.

NORDICA-NIELSON SEASON SALE OPENS TOMORROW.

The repertoire of the San Carlo Opera company in Salt Lake has at length been fixed, and tomorrow morning the advance sale opens for the season's tickets.
The first night, Monday, April 15, "La Boheme" will be the bill, with Alice Nielson and the famous tenor, Constantino. Tuesday night will see Nordica's only appearance, with "Faust" as the opera. Wednesday afternoon closes the season, with Alice Nielson and Constantino in the "Barber of Seville," and the remainder of the company in "I Pagliacci." This season the three big stars for the Salt Lake season, and the management state that when Nielson and Constant-ino have been heard, the season's tickets they have no fear as to the house Wednesday afternoon, when they reappear at the same scale of prices. These prices will range from $5, and the house will be so divided that people in all circumstances can consult their purses.

The company has been playing business, running from $2.00 to $5.00 per night. Manager Piper says that the capacity of the Salt Lake theater is much less than this, even though the houses should be crowded, hence the advance in rates. While there was a general desire to hear Nordica in "Traviata," the management say that they were anxious to have their ballet appear, which it does in "Faust," while in "Traviata" it is not included.
This is said to be Nordica's last appearance in opera on the road, and as it will be the first time she has ever sung outside of concert in this city, there will no doubt be an outpouring to hear and see her.

DEATH OF MRS. W. G. LAMB.

Husband Returns Home to Find Wife Had Passed Away.

When Walter G. Lamb returned home late yesterday afternoon, he was shocked to find his wife had died. Having pursued away while alone in the room, Mrs. Lamb was not considered to be dangerously ill, though for some time she had been in poor health. It was thought that she was on the road to recovery, but yesterday did not feel as well as usual and spent the day in her room. Her aunt, Miss Macomber, was present in the house, but thought that the sick woman was sleeping.

The deceased was married to Mr. Lamb nearly nine years ago. She was at one time a resident of Boston, and was Mrs. Corbin prior to her last marriage. The time announcement of the funeral have not been announced.

A FRIENDLY GROCER

Dropped a Valuable Hint About Coffee
"For about eight years," writes a Mich. woman, "I suffered from nervousness of the sort that comes down in bed with nervous prostration."
"Sometimes I would get numb and it would be almost impossible for me to speak for a few minutes. I would have severe bilious attacks, and my heart would flutter painfully when I would walk fast or sweep."
"I have taken enough medicine to start a small drug store, without any benefit. One evening my grocer was asking Husband how I was and he urged that I quit coffee and use Postum, so he brought some home and I made it according to directions and we were both delighted with it."
"So we quit coffee altogether and used only Post-um. I began to get better in a month's time and look at another person, the color came back to my cheeks, I began to sleep well, my appetite was good and I commenced to take on flesh and become interested in everything about the house."
"Finally I was able to do all my own work without the least hint of any illness. I am so thankful for the little book 'The Road to Wellville.' It has done me so much good. I haven't taken medicine of any kind for six months and don't need any."
"A friend of ours who did not like Post-um as she made it, liked mine, and when she learned to boil it long enough, here was as good as mine."
"I say if you follow directions," Name given by Post-um Company, Battle Creek, Mich. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pige. "There's a reason."

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. O. W. Powers was hostess at a bridge tea at her home in Poperton, about 25 guests being present. The rooms were bright with spring flowers and prizes were awarded the winners at each table. Mrs. Powers was assisted by Mrs. F. J. Fabian and Mrs. B. N.
Smith.

The luncheon and card party given by Mrs. J. T. Clabey yesterday in honor of Mrs. C. B. Williamson was carried out in Indian design, the "swastika"— emblem of good luck—being seen chiefly in the details. The flowers were carners of Seville, and the place cards were of violet ribbon to which tiny bunches of violets were fastened with "swastika" pins. The ladies had the Indian design, and the poems were spoons having the same emblem.

The marriage of Miss Vera A. Felt and Joseph A. Horns will take place today in the Temple, and the reception will be held at a later date owing to sickness in the bride's family.

The regular meeting of the Daughters of Utah Pioneers was held this afternoon at the Lion House, and Bishop H.
E. Clawson continued his interesting pioneer reminiscences. At noon the visitors and a pioneer luncheon of doughnuts and composition tea was served.

April 23 is the wedding anniversary of Judge and Mrs. J. C. Royle and they will celebrate it in an informal entertainment of a number of oldtime friends on the evening of that date.

Mrs. E. A. Wall entertained the Uto-nia club today at her home.

Mrs. J. C. Cutler entertained informally today at her home.

The marriage of Miss Edna Ryan and Ray R. Huffman took place on Monday and yesterday the young couple left for a trip to California after which they will return here to reside.

Another hostess of today was Mrs.
W. W. Amness who gave a luncheon in honor of her mother, Mrs. C. D. Helges.

Mrs. J. H. Belfus entertained at cards this afternoon.

Tomorrow afternoon the card party and tea will be given at the Ladies' Literary club house for the benefit of the Nurses' Home, and much interest is manifest in the event.

ARMAMENTS.

Discussion of Their Limitation to be Taken up at the Hague.

Rome, April 3.—There is practically no doubt in well informed and official circles here that the discussion of limitation of expenditure for armaments will be taken up at the Hague peace conference and that Germany will voice no objection. There is a growing skepticism, however, as to the practical results that may be obtained.
Cautious negotiations are proceeding between the powers concerned in an endeavor to find a formula for the presentation of the matter which all can adopt. While the humanitarian advantages of disarmament are generally conceded, it is not seen here how the limitation of expenditure can be applied without operating in favor of those powers that already have reached the maximum in the matter of armaments.
