AMERICAN.

WASHINGTON, 24. - Executive

Mansion, 4.45 p.m. - Up to this point the President has taken 23 ounces of liquid nourishment. The attending surgeons express their opinion that he is doing very well, and has not been materially affected by the opening of the parotid gland.

He is now sleeping quietly.

Official Bulletin.

Executive Mansion, 6.30 p.m. - Shortly after the noon bulletin was issued, an incident was made into the evening on the right side of the President's face, for the purpose of relieving the tenacity of the swelling of the parotid gland, and of giving rest to the parotid, a small incision of which was made. It has taken a larger quantity of liquid food mouth to-day than yesterday, and has been entirely free from nausea.

His temperature this afternoon is lower, higher than yesterday at the same hour, and his pulse somewhat lower, 104, respiration 16, 108, temperature 100, respiration 16.

Dr. Reynolds.

CHICAGO, 24. - Special from Washington: Dr. Reynolds, army surgeon now on the retired list, talking of the President's case said, the physician in attendance had asked him himself, "I don't believe they have yet communicated this opinion to Mrs. Garfield, but they will likely do so to-night or to-morrow if he does not improve, and I regard it possible for him to recover. He is so weak he can not rally. The splendid physique the President started in with his house, and it is impossible for him to recover. He is so

dition of the blood, but the danger of the present inflammation from the wound and the falling strength of his system, and that his mind has become partially if not wholly obscured.

Dr. Agnew replied in effect, he was very weak and emaciated, but that his mind was quite as clear as it had ever been. He was the first to know the result of the physician's examination which preceded every bulletin. He talks very little to attendants, but no one in the sick room knows better than he what is going on about him. All he says is spoken rationally. It is not true that the physicians know much more than is communicated through the bulletin.

"I may say," concluded Dr. Agnew, "the case is by no means hopeless. We do not anticipate any sudden change either in the patient's condition or in the progress of the operation. Our hopes are based on the cooperative power of the President, and the restored strength of his stomach to bring renewed vigor; and in the sure his improvement is permanent, his convalescence will be very long one."

Agnew will not return to Wash-
