Are you going to be dictated in these matters? Yes, or you will sooner or later leave the Kingdom of God and go somewhere else. Is it hard to say this to the people? Is it infringing upon their rights? They have the privilege to choose the good or to choose the evil. It is an manty and as praise worthy for an individual to make the choice to do good, work righteousness and love and serve God—it is more noble, than to choose the downard road. One or other will be the choice of every indiother will be the cheice of every indi-vidual. Do not trifle with evil, or you will be overcome by it before you know.

When the bridegroom was coming, the when the bridegroom was coming, the cry was, "Go ye out to meet him."
But while he tarried, they all slumbered and slept. And when they awoke with the cry, "the bridegroom is here," there were foolish virgins among them who had no oil in their lamps. He did Marian. not say that they would be among the ungodly. It is among those who are to conclude with the laughable Musical the bride, the Lamb's wife, that the foolish are to be found. But he never THE SWISS COTTACE has instructed us to call on the ungodly foolish virgins. Some may quote the parable of the wheat and the vares and say they must grow together. Let me tell you, the tares will be in the field, and you will think they are wheat until harvest comes; but at no time has the Lord said, bring the wicked and uncould a manner. godly among my people to scourge them; for they are capable of bringing upon themselves all the evil necessary to perfect the good. The Lord bless, you: Amen.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

THEATRICAL-"Mathilde" last night was a treat, but a fengthy notice of it has been crowded out by a press of matter. Madame Scheller displayed in her impersonation of the title role, those histrionic abilities which have made her a star among stars in Metropolitan theatres. She was excellently supported, To-morrow night she appears as Pauline, in the "Lady of critics of the age give her the credit of personating with rare original grace, power and freshness, Mr. McKenzie will appear as Claude. The cast is good. The after-piece is "The Swiss Cottage," in which Madame Scheller will sustain the part of Lisette, and sing several songs. This alone will be a strong attraction.

Mr. Marketts plays Natz Tells. The programme is most inviting.

TRAIN GONE,-H. P. Kimbali's train often wagons started east to-day for the terminus, where they will load up with freight for Kimball & Lawrence and Walker Bros.

STILL IT RAINS,-It has rained heavily and lightly, regularly and irregularly, gently falling and coming down with blinding force, for several days. The crops are growing beautifully, the grasshoppers are semi-terpid, the grass is springing up strongly, and everything is indicative of prosperity. All good, though the weather is rather uncomfortable and most CARRIERS OF THE OVERLAND MAIL

GONE EAST,-Professor D. O. Calder and Alderman A. C. Pyperstarted east by stage yesterday morning, on business. Bro. Calder has been in failing health for some time, and it is hoped the present journey will benefit him in this respect. Other matter crowded out this item yesterday.

INFORMATION WANTED,-A letter has been received by a gentleman in this establishment from Mr. R. Ebaworth, of London, inquiring after his son Richard Ebsworth, a compositor, who worked at the case in this city over a year tories of DZLINYARY & SHALIH ago. He started from here to go to Montana about tweeve months ago, though he wrote to his father that he was going to California. He had worked previously in Denver, Colorado. NATIONAL HORSE FAIR. - Denver is prepar ing for a National Horse Fair, to be held there commencing the last of June. The programme of proceedings comprises exercises in almost every branch of equestrianism. Among other attractions will be a "trotting elk." A board of officers has been made up, which has a numerous executive committee. Visitors from the gr. at east are expected, and a big time generally S.M. T. H. BRO'S. is looked for. So intimates the Tribune.

BRIGANDS.-The Black Hills are infested by a band of brigands, usually termed in the Rocky Mountain region with unusual politeness "Road Agents." White thieves and murderers should meet less mercy than red savages whose instincts, habits and traditions are destructive-

Why Nor?—A correspondent assures us the seventeen year locusts will be here this year. Why shouldn't they, having been here every year before.—[Denver News.]

Comino.—The Cheyenne Leader says that Seth Wilbur Payne, the traveler, who is on his way west from New York, for a trip round the world, has arrived is that city.
He goes from there on foot to San Francisco, via Sweetwater, Salt Lake City and Nevada. From San Francisco he will take passage to China and Japan; from thence to Europe and, to complete the girdle round the earth, to New York.

When he comes here he can be introduced to numbers who have walked more than twice the distance on foot-and under more disagreeable circumstances—that he has to walk in his "trip round the world."
