The machine shops which stand just northeast of the library building, will be completed by January 1. During the holidays a lot of new machinery, together with the machines now in the building now occupied by the machine shop, will be used by Professor Lyman's classes in mechanical drawing.

Mr. H. L. Nelson, N. 85 of Salt Lake City, visited the university Tuesday. The question: "Resolved, That the Negro is more intelligent than the Indian," was debated before the Social Science club. Speakers for the affirmative were: Hyrum Lyndergaard, George Handall and Vera Lynn. Those for the negative were: John Stewart, Clara Cronshaw, and Val Whitman. The judges gave the decision to the affirmative.

Last week the Zeta Gamma elected the following officers: President, J. T. Warlick; vice-president, J. R. Parson; secretary and treasurer, R. W. Stokes; corresponding secretary, Owen Carter; program committee, L. E. Elgren, Adolph Soderberg.

The classes in chemistry under Professor Acre, are doing work on the oils of the west. They are particularly interested in those of recent discovery. Last Monday, Dr. James E. Talmage delivered a lecture before the Engineering society. His subject was: "The petroleum and its products, their uses and the future." The lecture was beautifully illustrated with the stereopticon.

The new officers for the Normal society are: President, D. P. Howells; vice-president, Ellen Clark; secretary and treasurer, J. T. Warlick; assistant secretary, Nellie Clark; program committee, W. R. Calder and L. E. Elgren.

On January 19, the Zeta Gamma and Current History will meet in debate. The question reads: "Resolved, That reciprocity should be an adjunct to our present tariff system." The Current History speakers are George S. Gibbs, Dr. Roy Sanders and Will Dunn. The Zeta Gamma will be represented by L. J. Muir, Harold Goff and L. E. Elgren.

The Zeta Gamma challenged the Pro Beta Pi of the L. D. S. university for debate. The challenge is accepted. The two societies will meet for debate early in January.

Last night the people of the Nineteenth ward gave a party for Mr. Ben Harker, who leaves for a mission to Germany, January 1. Mr. Harker is one of our leading football men.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Peters were visitors at the university on Tuesday.

On Wednesday afternoon the "Orphans" gave the following program in room 32 of the normal building: Piano solo, Florence Lloyd; talk, "The Living Present," instructor Howard H. Briggs; recitation, Jennie Hill; piano solo, Mary Young.

The basement of the new museum building is being used for practicing basket and hand ball.

Tuesday night a crowd of "Naughty Town" were skating down on Tenth South.

Wednesday evening the third year normals gave a class social in the physical building. The students were served, after which the students played games until time to go home. The committee in charge were D. P. Howells, Annie Wilken and Anna Waddell.

Wednesday at 1:30 a meeting of the college and fourth year normals students was held in the physical building in the interest of the theater. Thursday night, at the same hour a similar meeting of the preparatory and normal students was held in the library building. At these meetings the students decided to attend the theater in a body.

UNIVERSITY TRAINING SCHOOL

Principal J. E. McKnight, who is sick with typhoid fever, is rapidly recovering in health. He expects to return to his work after the holidays.

Mr. Hardy, a prominent educator from the state of Michigan, visited the training school on Tuesday. He has visited a great many normal schools in the United States and says he finds none superior to ours in the regular practice work. He was particularly interested in the department of domestic science, which is under the supervision of Miss Pincumb.

For the benefit of visiting teachers attending the state convention next week, the training school will be in session part of the time. The teachers will thus have a chance to visit the school and examine the work and equipments.

The children of the kindergarten entertained their parents Wednesday evening with a Christmas program. The room was decorated with paper chairs made by the children. In the center of the room was a large Christmas tree lighted and decorated with presents. The program was as follows: Morning song.

Christmas Story, "Birth of Christ".....Miss May Christmas Song.....Children Distributed Presents.

These presents were made by the children for their parents. They consisted of pin cushions, key holders, match strikers and calendars.

The children were next presented with a doll and cradle by the pupils of the fourth grade. The doll dresses, cradle, ticks, quilts, and furnishings were all made by the pupils in their domestic science work.

A card pinned to the doll's cradle upon it the following: "With much love and many wishes for a merry Christmas to the kindergarten from the children of the fourth grade."

The program was concluded by singing the "Good bye Song."

The upper grades have been dramatizing stories for their Christmas entertainments. A series of such were given last week.

SALT LAKE CITY SCHOOLS

The schools of this city closed yesterday for the usual holiday recess.

The work of the term just closed has been characterized by the same high ideals, the same harmonious working spirit, the same effort to maintain good discipline and also the high standard that the schools have heretofore attained. The record made has been such as to command the respect of all friends of education. Christmas observances formed an important feature of the closing exercises on Friday afternoon. Blackboards were neatly decorated, the day as observed in this and other lands, handiwork under the direction of teachers, as remembrances from pupils to parents, recitations and talks from teachers, all were features of great interest, and will serve as a reminder of the happy days spent in the school room.

At the Lincoln school little departure was taken from the usual class room work, by reason of the fact that nearly all of the rooms observed Thanksgiving, and for this reason, time would not permit. Room 8 rendered the following program:

Music.....Lorrie Myers "How Christmas is Observed in Our Own Land".....Grace Hennessy "How Christmas is Observed in Other Lands".....Alice Field Recitation.....Chas. Kabisins Music.....School Tapes on Madonna.....Miss Bjorklund Quotations.....Alice Smith Recitation.....Joe Thomas Music.....Stella Poulton Reading.....Jennie Cooper Music.....Lily Reiser and Ruby Morley "Concensus of the Competent".....Lorrie Myers, Selma Reiser, Zina Young.

Paper, Editor.....Newell Clayton Music.....Grace Hennessy

Each room at the Whittier had Christmas exercises. The board decorations in some of the rooms are especially pretty, the fifth and sixth grades had a very interesting drama. The beginners had a tree trimmed with gifts, made entirely by the children of the room. It will be sent to the Orphan's Home afterward.

The following programs were rendered at the Franklin school:

In Main hall—music, orchestra; Christmas song by Miss Pincumb; Story of the Christ Child by 20 pupils; music, orchestra; recitation, Fay Ferguson and Eula Hardesty; guitars, Alva Baer and Claude Hardesty.

The Sixth and Seventh grades had learned much of the Christmas story from a set of sixty pictures for that purpose. They sent their parents handsomely decorated invitations to their exercises.

Miss Kimball's First B children entertained their mothers at a Christmas dinner by an action reading. History questions, vials, play tables and chairs made it interesting and real to the children, as well as profitable in the new words learned without assistance.

Superintendent Christensen addressed Prof. Benion's class at the university on Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Bell of the Lincoln school, executed some very neat pen work and presented the same to his students as Christmas remembrances.

Superintendent Christensen held an annual meeting of principals on Wednesday afternoon.

The friends of Principal Martin of the Grant are much pleased to learn that he is rapidly recovering from his illness.

HIGH SCHOOL.

Excellent programs were given in both assembly rooms on Wednesday morning. In the senior assembly room the program was given by the "Recollections of Home," excellently rendered by Miss Ethel Murphy. Mr. Eaton then introduced Judge King, who addressed the pupils on the subject of "Relation to Christendom." The address was exceptionally good and the pupils appreciated it as shown by the close attention given. The program closed with a piano solo by Pearl Rothschild.

In the first year assembly room Miss Emma Weston opened the program with a well rendered piano solo. She responded to an encore with another pleasing selection. Pearl Rothschild then favored the school with two piano solos well rendered. Mrs. William Jennings, one of the High School teachers, then addressed the pupils on the subject, "Greek Art." Mrs. Jennings appealed to the pupils to cultivate the artistic eye and to use their influence toward preventing the erection of public buildings that are not architecturally beautiful. As many of the pupils have been studying Greek history recently, the talk was unusually interesting and instructive to them. Miss Ethel Murphy then played the same solo that she gave in the senior assembly.

Mr. Harwood's classes have been sketching from poses this week. Two very good sketches of heads were done by Louise Earl and Alva Newcomb. The large picture of the wheat field by Mr. Evans now occupies the shadow box.

Miss Goldard's classes in English have been giving quotations from the Bible both this week. Many showed skill in memorizing.

The Junior Class party given Friday night at the Ladies' Literary Club was one of the pleasantest class parties of the year. The hall was transformed into a veritable "vignette" of the past, with the Indian home. Dancing and games formed the principal features of entertainment and dainty refreshments were served in the dining hall. The following were the committees on arrangements: Chairman, Fairchild Sherman, Helen Bamberger, Rhea Barthol, Dr. Roy Bourne, Alice Thomas. The chapters were: Messiaen, Boxrud, Ranahoff, Daviler, Heffron, and Palmer.

The college club met with Miss Peterson Thursday afternoon.

The Pan-Hellenic club meets with Miss Corbin at 92 J street, Dec. 28.

Miss Stokes will spend the holidays in Denver. Miss Goldard will go to her home in Portland for the vacation.

Misses Mary Snyder, Maria Hill and Jessie Home, former High School pupils, visited Miss Duke's classes this week. Misses Carey, Dolan, and Cabell visited Miss Corbin's class Thursday.

Miss Bain's U. S. History class spent the recitation hour Friday in studying President Roosevelt's message. Each pupil was assigned a certain part to discuss and outline. It formed a very interesting lesson.

BRIGHAM YOUNG ACADEMY.

Provo, Utah, Dec. 17.—Prof. E. S. Hinckley lectured at the Beaver branch on Friday.

Prof. Hickman lectured before the Kane county institute last week.

Apostle John W. Taylor was the principal speaker at last Sunday evening's meeting.

President Brimhall spent Saturday in Salt Lake City, where he attended the meeting of the Church board of examiners.

Four copies of "Black Beauty" and six copies of "Pittman's Decisive Battles" were added to the library today.

Class reunions are very popular again. The 90's extended on Thursday evening and the sub-freshmen on Friday evening. Both socials were highly successful.

President Brimhall lectured before the Wasatch State students in their regular meeting held on Tuesday afternoon.

Among this week's visitors were Miss Christensen, J. P. Nelson, J. P. Nelson, a former commercial student.

An effort is being made to have the holidays not interfere with the publication of the White and Blue. If successful the paper will be out four days after school reopens.

The class in English literature has completed the study of "Hamlet." Many interesting papers are expected on the questions which the work has suggested.

"Religion and Science," by Le Conte, and "Natural Laws in the Spiritual World," by Drummond, are two new books recently placed in the library by one of our students.

Prof. Lund, Prof. Miller and Miss Arvilla Clark, teachers in the music department, assisted by Miss Meriam Neke, our education teacher, will give a number of concerts in the surrounding towns during the holidays.

On Monday a number of pictures were taken of the interior of the school and these will be published in the Christmas edition of the Deseret News. The picture of the study room, showing the students at their work is especially good.

The Utah County Teachers' association will hold their convention in the academy on Saturday. Prof. Cummings, of the University, will give an illustrated lecture on "Greece in Art and Education." A number of our students attend these conventions every month.

Malcolm Little, '02, will leave on Friday for Leland Stanford University, where he will pursue a course in English. Mr. Little has shown great ability and talent in that line and we have no doubt but that he will be highly successful in his university course.

The last meeting of the Literary society for this semester was held on Saturday evening. The program consisted of original oral stories and excellent musical numbers. The society has been very successful this year both financially and educationally.

Prof. Brown lectured before the Pedagogium on Thursday on "The teacher's essential knowledge in grammar, geography and history." The students appreciated the fact that such lectures are worth hundreds of dollars to those who are fitting themselves for teachers.

Warren A. Colton, '05, will leave school this week preparatory to his going to Leland Stanford university. While there Mr. Colton will prepare to become the teacher and trainer in the new gymnasium next year. The students are confident of his success, and send all good wishes with him.

Through the theology teachers of the academy it is learned that ninety-five per cent of the students have limited their amusements to those furnished by the academy. There has been no regulation restricting them and this excellent report is due to obedience to counsel only.

On account of a severe cold, Miss Lucia Gates was unable to give her concert at the academy on Monday night. Many students attended the concert given in the tabernacle last Tuesday and in consequence the disappointment was not so great as it otherwise would have been.

All the grades of the training school will have Christmas trees this week. The decorations will be the work of the pupils only, and will show their progress in sewing, rapha, wood work and cardboard work. All the pupils have been invited to give their prospective teachers, in order that they may see what may be done by the children under the direction of efficient teachers.

Miss Lucia Gates, whose heart is as kind and good as her voice is sweet, has volunteered to give a concert once a year for the benefit of a library of music to be founded in her school home. In whatever part of the world she is, she will remember the academy and every year will send the proceeds of one concert to build up the library.

The class of 1905 has obtained permission to found a library of American antiquities in connection with the general library. This is one of the best moves a class can make, as it will give the academy library a uniqueness and supremacy over many western libraries and will be of special benefit to the Latter-day Saints in helping to prove the authenticity of the Book of Mormon. All the latest books on the subject will be obtained and as the interest in that line of work increases, the 1905 library will grow.

L. D. S. UNIVERSITY.

The Rho Beta Pi will furnish the program on Wednesday morning January 9. Students are getting ready to witness some "flights of oratory" on the occasion.

Instructor Fielding will spend the holidays at his mother's home in the south. Instructor and Mrs. Bird will visit Springfield. Most of the other teachers will be found at the Lion House or Business College during the vacation.

There will be a vacation of all departments from December 29 to January 6. Bookkeeping, shorthand, and typewriting will continue, however, and individual instruction will be given to those who remain at work during the holidays.

Student Brigham Cleger decorated many of the blackboards with Christmas pictures this week, and his taste and genius in the work were the occasion of many compliments to the artist. One huge Santa Claus in white was a merry Christmas to President Paul and the faculty.

A pleasant surprise on Instructor Larsen was given Thursday evening. At 7:30 p. m. they invaded his rooms on 155 west Second North street and presented him with a fine edition of the works of Shakespeare.

Supt. J. M. Tanner addressed the school last Wednesday morning on the mission and destiny of young Latter-day Saints. He advised a study of the life and words of Christ as the cornerstone of the kind of education that characterized Church schools. The doctor's remarks were in lofty strain and made a good impression.

The officers of the Columbine Society are: Ruby Irvine, president; Florence Grant, first vice president; Blanche Allison, second vice president; Ruth L. Nelson, secretary; Janette Murdock, treasurer; Millie Boyce and Florence Grant are the program committee; and Addie Cannon, Bertha Griffin and Little Nellie are the orchestra. The flower-embellish—the wild columbine.

At a quiet little surprise party in the business college office last Wednesday, a presentation of six beautifully bound volumes of the poems, in flexible morocco and embossed with her name, was made to Miss Pixton, by a number of the young men, in appreciation of the public spirit she has manifested in behalf of the students.

The program given by the Columbine Society on Wednesday morning was a decided success. The singing of Misses Dewey and Grant, the piano playing of Miss Clayton, the cornet solo by Mr. Sweeten, and the recitation of Miss Fox, were all of the highest grade and were thoroughly enjoyed by the assembled school; which the A.O.I.M. B.M.H.M. of Cache county during the winter in the interests of apple culture. From investigations that have recently been made, it is believed that this county is particularly adapted to the production of choice winter apples. During the last two months Professor Wright has visited many of the farmers of the valley, and has made a close investigation of the kinds of apples that thrive best in this region. He will give the farmers the benefit of his study in this subject, and unite with them in an effort to secure the systematic planting of apple trees of the most profitable varieties.

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

Professors Merrill and Wright, of the departments of agronomy and horticulture, respectively, are on a two-week tour of the southern part of the state, doing farmers' institute work. They left on the 9th of this month, intending to visit St. George, Tropicville, Beaver, Cedar City, and other places.

A five thousand edition of Farmers' Institute Annual No. 5 is being distributed.

Professor Swendsen is preparing drawings and plans for the flume system of the new farm.

Arrangements are being made for Professor Wright, the college horticulturist, to visit the different settlements of choice winter apples. During the last two months Professor Wright has visited many of the farmers of the valley, and has made a close investigation of the kinds of apples that thrive best in this region. He will give the farmers the benefit of his study in this subject, and unite with them in an effort to secure the systematic planting of apple trees of the most profitable varieties.

There is a revival of interest this year in the work of the college societies. The Engineering society, devoted particularly to the consideration of engineering subjects, was organized last week with the following corps of officers: Instructor E. P. Pulley, president; Mr. A. P. Merrill, vice president; Mr. Fred D. Pyle, secretary; Mr. William Jardine, treasurer; Mr. G. P. Taylor, custodian. The Progressive Literary society met last Tuesday for reorganization, choosing for president Miss Josie Munk; for vice president, Miss George Hoback; for secretary, and treasurer, Miss Kate Izatt; and for sergeant-at-arms, Mr. Casper Pond. This association and the Agricultural College debating society are open to all students of the college, and are giving their attention principally to debating. Exceptionally good work is being done by the Sorosis Literary society, composed entirely of women.

Although the stormy weather during the past week has retarded the work on the front of the main building, the full force of bricklayers were again at their places Monday morning, and the walls are steadily growing. The steel work for the second story is in place, and the brickwork will reach the second floor level by Saturday. If the weather continues favorable, the completion of this central front will greatly alleviate the present over-crowded condition of the building. It will provide ample room on the first floor for all the administrative offices of the college, the faculty room, and a number of class rooms; on the second floor will be the library, within easy access of all the departments, and well lighted by outside windows on the three sides; the commercial school will be pleasantly located on the third floor; and the basement will be assigned to the military department.

At the station chemical laboratory recently, an experiment has been conducted to determine the effect of different amounts of water on the starch content of potatoes and on the sugar content of beets. During the holidays the station will begin an experiment to determine the effect on horses of feeding lucern cut at different stages of growth. There is considerable discussion in the country at present regarding the effect of this feed, particularly on the kidneys of horses, and the experiment promises to be interesting and valuable.

Much interest is taken in athletics at the college. The athletic field has been enlarged and graded. Stable barns, lockers and other conveniences, are at the disposal of the athletic association. The football team has made remarkable progress. For the first time in the history of the institution, a coach was employed, and the services of a trainer were secured to improve the physical condition of the men. Five games were played, of which three were won. The gymnasium has been opened to the boys, and systematic work will be carried on during the winter. Mr. A. C. Nebeker is captain for the coming season, and Mr. J. H. Tuttle, manager. An effort is being made to put a track team into the field for the spring meets.

BRIGHAM YOUNG COLLEGE

Logan, Dec. 18.—The college was sadly deprived of one of its brightest students last Saturday, by the death of Miss Leah Johnson.

Miss Johnson belonged to the class of 1896, graduating last year from the district schools of the city, where she was known as a star among her friends and classmates, and although this is her first year at college, she has gained the same reputation here.

The whole school accompanied the remains from the residence of her parents in the Fourth ward to the meeting house yesterday, the 1800s remaining to the services.

The faculty and students join in sincerely extending their sympathy to Miss Johnson's parents in their great bereavement.

A very nice game of basket ball was contested last Friday evening between the leading teams and the second team, the former winning by quite a number of scores, though the second team put up a very good game.

A fencing exhibition was given by Artist Wright and one of his students, Mr. Allen. After seeing this contest, a great many have decided that fencing is an excellent athletic sport.

HOMES! HOMES!

No Need to Leave Utah to find Them.

These can be found at Abraham, Millard county, Utah, and can be obtained of the Deseret and Salt Lake Agricultural and Manufacturing company. They have in contemplation the construction of a new reservoir to be located on Fool Creek, south of Leamington, and west of Oak Creek. The water to be taken from the Sevier river at Rocky Ford and carried by canal to this excellent reservoir site, which is seven miles long by two miles wide, and which will hold the water to a depth of fifteen feet. This vast body of water will be utilized to fill the present reservoir and to irrigate the exceptionally fine tract of land below it.

The lands to be irrigated and this reservoir and canal system are located on the line of the Oregon Short Line Railway in Millard county, one hundred and twenty miles from Salt Lake. The new reservoir site has been secured as the following telegram from Senator Kearns will show:

Washington, D. C., Dec. 17, 1901. Charles H. Wright, Salt Lake City: Have succeeded in having your matter approved by secretary of interior. Franchise for reservoir site now is issued. Yours very truly, J. H. KEARNS.

The soil of this section is a rich, sandy loam, that has been deposited by the river and elements and is of great depth. It is easily irrigated, while with this the heavy supply of mountainous great returns to locators. The reservoir company own three-sevenths of the Sevier river. The reservoir will contain 10,000 acre feet of water; that is a sufficient quantity to irrigate that acreage. There are canals and laterals to convey the water to the land. All owners of water rights have a voice in the management of the company. The climate is admirable. There is perhaps less variation in climate in Millard county than in any part of the state.

Grains of all kinds flourish. Corn and wheat grow well, while the hay crop is a great product. The first cutting of alfalfa can be gathered and the second permitted to go to seed. It produces from ten to fifteen tons to the acre. The market for this seed is always good and it brings from five to seven cents a pound. Surrounding this land are great tracts where there is good grazing and in the mountains are cedar, balsam and red pine timber, while cedar posts for fencing are plentiful. Fuel is in abundance, and all the materials for building are easily obtained.

This is a part of the country where the question deterred them. It is with the solution of this problem and it is here presented. It offers good openings for those who are seeking homes—and they do not have to leave Utah or her stable communities. Here is an excellent road organization, Sunday and district schools.

The prospects are the best. It has the "Tide lines" to the north, Fish Springs, Deep Creek and Detroit districts on the west, Price, Panguitch, Stateline and all the big mining districts on the south make everything produced marketable at a good figure. The production of alfalfa or lucern has been some of the great revenue to the settlers here, as there are only a few localities where it can be produced successfully. Here it is a great success. The opportunities are bright for so many young men in Utah who are seeking to better their condition. They can do so here. Charles H. Wilken, so long an officer in Salt Lake is the superintendent of the Sevier River Irrigation Company, and he or L. John Nuttal at Box B, Salt Lake, will take pleasure in giving information to home-seekers.

The Sevier valley can be visited in two days. From almost any railroad point in Utah home-seekers can get half rates to visit the locality by applying to W. C. Spence, at the President's office, Salt Lake City.

Come and join us in making a home in a good country.
