

MINES AND REALTY.

outlook at the Indian Creek District, Beaver County.

DEAL ESTATE MEN AND SALT AIR—
The Utah Asphalt—Bingham News,
Beaver Items, Miscellaneous
Matters.

James McGarry, probate judge of Beaver county, came up from the south last evening. He is upholding over the outlook for mining in the Indian Creek district. The camp is located a mile above Judge McGarry's farm on Indian Creek, ten miles from Beaver city. The judge says the claims there are being developed with most satisfactory results; and several good strikes have been made recently. The principal trouble is that most of the owners are without sufficient capital to properly work their claims, but as these are very rich the owners hold them at a good figure for incoming purchasers. There is a grand opportunity, says the judge, for capitalists to make a profit out of Indian Creek mines, as they are gold producers, and have plenty of it at that, and the product is not subject to the depreciation which comes in a silver market.

Begging the $12,000 option which was given on the Rock Bay, failed to come within the fifteen days limit, George McGarry takes the figure as a minimum, and a new one will be set, with forty feet of ore along its entire length. He says that Indian Creek does not in the front in the near future, notwithstanding the fact that comparatively little capital is being invested there at present, as it has no mineral wealth in its veins.

THE EXCHANGE EXHIBITION.—
At the Real Estate Exchange meeting today no business of importance was transacted. One topic of discussion was the establishment of a exhibition hall in connection with the Real Estate association, but nothing definite was arrived at.

The exchange's exhibition to follow on Tuesday next, now about one-half mile distance from the exchange building, who are to be engaged in the exhibition program, were mostly firms, including the leading business houses in the city, have contributed prizes for the successful parties in the various contests which are to be held at the exhibition. The program will be completed this afternoon. It includes swimming contests, foot races, ball and bicycle races, fancy banding, tug-of-war, and other games. The prizes will be placed on view in the auditorium, where the will be full power train over the Salt Lake & San Augustus for the exhibition.

CINTAH RESERVATION LEASE.

A meeting held in Denver on Saturday afternoon the shareholders of the American Asphalt company selected the following officers: President, H. C. Nourse of New York; secretary and treasurer, Michael J. Murphy, director, H. C. Nourse, M. J. Murphy, W. H. Morrison, G. P. Parker of New York city, and William H. Lamont of Denver. The company has leased a tract of land, consisting of 4,000 acres of the Ute and Uncompahgre reservations in Utah.

The news is that the asphalt is the only asphalt in America, since this industrial product coming from Canada and the West Indies. There is also a little found in Egypt. The importance of this lease will be seen at once, as the company has ordered 100,000 barrels of asphalt for its plants, thereby securing control of the material in this country. Another valuable thing on this land is a salt spring known as "saltite," which is the only known substitute for rubber. As an evidence of the value of asphalt, the company has a refinery in New York, with a capacity of 100,000 barrels per year.

John E. Collins committed suicide in Salt Lake City, Saturday, by shooting himself. His wife, Mrs. Collins, whom he married only one week ago, got a divorce on Friday. The reason for the fact that his partner in a mining deal was cast to his fortune him out of the cash sum.

At the meeting of the Utah Mining and Milling company stockholders yesterday afternoon the following officers were elected: President, W. H. Hedges, president, F. A. Virtue, vice-president, J. B. Howell, treasurer, C. J. Pease, secretary, James Johnson.

SALE LANE CLEARING HOME.

Tuesday's clearing house exchange amounted to $200,000.

TODAY'S QUOTATIONS.

New York—Silver, $1.00, lead, $1.00; Lomax—Silver, 30¢.

Ore and Bullion.

Morristown & Co. received today: Bunker bullion, $200; silver and lead ore, $7100. Total, $10,400.

T. H. Jones & Co. received today: Ores, $2000; bullion, $2000. Total, $4000.

Wells, Fargo & Co. received today: Bunker bullion, $1000; ore, $11,000. Total, $22,000.

W. A. Hodges had eight entries.

W. G. Stewart had twenty-four entries.

The statement that the land included in the American company's lease, which, by the way, is not yet confirmed, is "the only asphalt in America," is very much the mark. Last Friday's price of asphalt from the Canadian oil field asphalt from the Canadian oil field, the asphalt beds of the Wasatch company bring some distance from the reservation line. There is an asphalt.

On the other hand, not only does the American company have control of the asphalt "in the country," but it has not control the test, as that now used by the company which is laying East Temple street, is equal to anything that can be on the lesser grounds, being 20 per cent.

INDIAN "MULLETT" FEED.

Family work continues at the Lundy boy and Queen mines in Black Jack city.

Work continues on the rough and ready road, and a mile or two is taken up every day.

An activity at the properties in Beaver county, and the census indicates all are holding in the best of health.

The Miller, concessioner, in Denver, is running steadily and turning out a series of concessions per month.

George Lee & Roberts are putting on the old Yampa property and expect great expectations in making that property.

The Old Telegraph mine at the new place, are meeting with varying success. When they are not extracting a lot of ore there is not a little of value left in the tailings.

George Lee & Roberts are putting on the old Yampa property and expect great expectations in making that property.

The day trailing, Cedarwood gulch has been depleted this week, and now the miners are at the new portion of the camp, will be held until the day they are down for shipment, and some of them have nice lots in ship, too.

Charles Bremen and partners, mines and operators, at the U. & I. mines in Durango, are employing workmen to clear out the property, taking out ore steadily. They have something near 100 tons of ore on the dump ready for shipment, which they will send in as soon as teams can be prepared to haul it to the railroad.

BEAVER "STONIANS" IRIS.

That on Bay is working two shifts and is still sinking as well as raising a little more from the ever-increasing level. This is the second level with which we are up as ever, and as of today the evidence indicates that the owners have a mine. The mining is progressing nicely, and the trolley and the east breaker are in operation. In fact the machinery is all in position.

Mike Powers is still pushing his tunnel into the mountain with driving bags of blasting powder. He is in over 150 feet.

W. H. Lewis in company with J. S. Lowman and Dr. H. C. Howell, has been in the hills above the town of Indian Creek, and ten miles from Beaver city. The judge says the claims there are being developed with most satisfactory results, and several good strikes have been made recently. The principal trouble is that most of the owners are without sufficient capital to properly work their claims, but as these are very rich the owners hold them at a good figure for incoming purchasers. There is a grand opportunity, says the judge, for capitalists to make a profit out of Indian Creek mines, as they are gold producers, and have plenty of it at that, and the product is not subject to the depreciation which comes in a silver market.

Angus McMurtry and Dr. Howell are in from the Henry mountains. They do not bring very encouraging reports from that country but are well pleased with the new Indian Creek mine, which is in the rear of the camp between W. H. Lewis and the Bay company. As to the merits of the case for their client, they were very reluctant but indeed exceedingly frank.

The young couple could not have been very young, and daily Kaneson was watching the boy with the eyes of a hawk.

Mr. Howell has been quite busy the past week having as presents before recording them.

Deputy Sheriff Mudford has been quite busy the past week having as presents before recording them.

He says that Indian Creek does not in the front in the rear of the camp, notwithstanding the fact that comparatively little capital is being invested there at present, as it has no mineral wealth in its veins.

THE EXHIBITION.—
At the Real Estate Exchange meeting today no business of importance was transacted. One topic of discussion was the establishment of a exhibition hall in connection with the Real Estate association, but nothing definite was arrived at.

The exchange's exhibition to follow on Tuesday next, now about one-half mile distance from the exchange building, who are to be engaged in the exhibition program, were mostly firms, including the leading business houses in the city, have contributed prizes for the successful parties in the various contests which are to be held at the exhibition.

The program will be completed this afternoon. It includes swimming contests, foot races, ball and bicycle races, fancy banding, tug-of-war, and other games. The prizes will be placed on view in the auditorium, where the will be full power train over the Salt Lake & San Augustus for the exhibition.

THE EXHIBITION EXHIBITION.—
At the Real Estate Exchange meeting today no business of importance was transacted. One topic of discussion was the establishment of a exhibition hall in connection with the Real Estate association, but nothing definite was arrived at.

The exchange's exhibition to follow on Tuesday next, now about one-half mile distance from the exchange building, who are to be engaged in the exhibition program, were mostly firms, including the leading business houses in the city, have contributed prizes for the successful parties in the various contests which are to be held at the exhibition.

The program will be completed this afternoon. It includes swimming contests, foot races, ball and bicycle races, fancy banding, tug-of-war, and other games. The prizes will be placed on view in the auditorium, where the will be full power train over the Salt Lake & San Augustus for the exhibition.

THE EXHIBITION EXHIBITION.—
At the Real Estate Exchange meeting today no business of importance was transacted. One topic of discussion was the establishment of a exhibition hall in connection with the Real Estate association, but nothing definite was arrived at.

The exchange's exhibition to follow on Tuesday next, now about one-half mile distance from the exchange building, who are to be engaged in the exhibition program, were mostly firms, including the leading business houses in the city, have contributed prizes for the successful parties in the various contests which are to be held at the exhibition.

The program will be completed this afternoon. It includes swimming contests, foot races, ball and bicycle races, fancy banding, tug-of-war, and other games. The prizes will be placed on view in the auditorium, where the will be full power train over the Salt Lake & San Augustus for the exhibition.

THE EXHIBITION EXHIBITION.—
At the Real Estate Exchange meeting today no business of importance was transacted. One topic of discussion was the establishment of a exhibition hall in connection with the Real Estate association, but nothing definite was arrived at.

The exchange's exhibition to follow on Tuesday next, now about one-half mile distance from the exchange building, who are to be engaged in the exhibition program, were mostly firms, including the leading business houses in the city, have contributed prizes for the successful parties in the various contests which are to be held at the exhibition.

The program will be completed this afternoon. It includes swimming contests, foot races, ball and bicycle races, fancy banding, tug-of-war, and other games. The prizes will be placed on view in the auditorium, where the will be full power train over the Salt Lake & San Augustus for the exhibition.

THE EXHIBITION EXHIBITION.—
At the Real Estate Exchange meeting today no business of importance was transacted. One topic of discussion was the establishment of a exhibition hall in connection with the Real Estate association, but nothing definite was arrived at.

The exchange's exhibition to follow on Tuesday next, now about one-half mile distance from the exchange building, who are to be engaged in the exhibition program, were mostly firms, including the leading business houses in the city, have contributed prizes for the successful parties in the various contests which are to be held at the exhibition.

The program will be completed this afternoon. It includes swimming contests, foot races, ball and bicycle races, fancy banding, tug-of-war, and other games. The prizes will be placed on view in the auditorium, where the will be full power train over the Salt Lake & San Augustus for the exhibition.

THE EXHIBITION EXHIBITION.—
At the Real Estate Exchange meeting today no business of importance was transacted. One topic of discussion was the establishment of a exhibition hall in connection with the Real Estate association, but nothing definite was arrived at.

The exchange's exhibition to follow on Tuesday next, now about one-half mile distance from the exchange building, who are to be engaged in the exhibition program, were mostly firms, including the leading business houses in the city, have contributed prizes for the successful parties in the various contests which are to be held at the exhibition.

The program will be completed this afternoon. It includes swimming contests, foot races, ball and bicycle races, fancy banding, tug-of-war, and other games. The prizes will be placed on view in the auditorium, where the will be full power train over the Salt Lake & San Augustus for the exhibition.

THE EXHIBITION EXHIBITION.—
At the Real Estate Exchange meeting today no business of importance was transacted. One topic of discussion was the establishment of a exhibition hall in connection with the Real Estate association, but nothing definite was arrived at.

The exchange's exhibition to follow on Tuesday next, now about one-half mile distance from the exchange building, who are to be engaged in the exhibition program, were mostly firms, including the leading business houses in the city, have contributed prizes for the successful parties in the various contests which are to be held at the exhibition.

The program will be completed this afternoon. It includes swimming contests, foot races, ball and bicycle races, fancy banding, tug-of-war, and other games. The prizes will be placed on view in the auditorium, where the will be full power train over the Salt Lake & San Augustus for the exhibition.

THE EXHIBITION EXHIBITION.—
At the Real Estate Exchange meeting today no business of importance was transacted. One topic of discussion was the establishment of a exhibition hall in connection with the Real Estate association, but nothing definite was arrived at.

The exchange's exhibition to follow on Tuesday next, now about one-half mile distance from the exchange building, who are to be engaged in the exhibition program, were mostly firms, including the leading business houses in the city, have contributed prizes for the successful parties in the various contests which are to be held at the exhibition.

The program will be completed this afternoon. It includes swimming contests, foot races, ball and bicycle races, fancy banding, tug-of-war, and other games. The prizes will be placed on view in the auditorium, where the will be full power train over the Salt Lake & San Augustus for the exhibition.

THE EXHIBITION EXHIBITION.—
At the Real Estate Exchange meeting today no business of importance was transacted. One topic of discussion was the establishment of a exhibition hall in connection with the Real Estate association, but nothing definite was arrived at.

The exchange's exhibition to follow on Tuesday next, now about one-half mile distance from the exchange building, who are to be engaged in the exhibition program, were mostly firms, including the leading business houses in the city, have contributed prizes for the successful parties in the various contests which are to be held at the exhibition.

The program will be completed this afternoon. It includes swimming contests, foot races, ball and bicycle races, fancy banding, tug-of-war, and other games. The prizes will be placed on view in the auditorium, where the will be full power train over the Salt Lake & San Augustus for the exhibition.

LIZZIE BORDEN ACQUITTED.

District Attorney Kaneson continues His Argument.

HIS THEORY OF THE STATE OF LIZZIE BORDEN CONCERNING HER DOUBLE HOMICIDE.

Now Kaneson, May, June 24—

At the opening of the trial and the interesting defense made by the defense attorney, he turned his attention to the evidence. He addressed himself to the motives of the murderer and pointed out the family of Lizzie toward her reputation as a callous murderer for the killing of her father. The theory of the double homicide, he said, was that Lizzie had been in love with her father, and that she had been jealous of his attentions to another woman.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother of the child.

The murderer argued that the wife of the deceased was not the mother of the child, and that the wife was not the mother