FORTY-SIXTH CONGRESS.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, 15.—Davis, of Illinois, presented a memorial from the Chicago newspaper asking the abolition of the duty on unsized paper and paper material. Davis was regretting that it was impracticable this session to reform the tariff as a whole, saw no reason for not making this desirable change.

Messrs. Johnson, Williams, Beck and others presented similar petitions.

Hayard, from the judiciary committee, reported favorably the bill prohibiting the arrest of election officers on election day, by the marshal, his deputy or supervisors, for any offense against the United States election laws, but process may be served after the close of election day, calendar.

Edwards said he and the others did not concur.

Thurman reported a substitute for the bill making rape in the District of Columbia a capital offense. It provides for the death of the perpetrator of death or imprisonment.

Edwards said he did not concur.

After a debate on the bill requiring Colorado to cede to the United States the ground on which the new public building in Denver is located, the morning hour expired, and McDonald submitted the views of the minority of the judiciary committee on the bill to reimburse several States for interest paid on their war loans lately reported adversely. Adjourned.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, 15.—Bills were introduced:

By Singleton—To provide for the protection of senders of telegraphic communications against unreasonable search and seizure, or from the production of their messages as evidence in judicial and legislative proceedings to the same extent as mailed communications.

By Atkins—Proposing a constitutional amendment that the Union of these United States shall be perpetual, and all acts or attempts to destroy it shall be treason against the Federal Government punishable as such. The States' limits and boundaries shall be inviolable, and the right of a State to make and enforce its local laws never to be interfered with by the Federal Government.

By Buckner for an amendment on May 24th.

By Cover—For a scientific commission to protect the seal of butter against adulteration, etc.

By Kelly—A resolution directing the Secretary of the Treasury to furnish a detailed statement of the amount of the public debt, as of January 1, 1880, with full particulars.

By Downey—Appropriating $25,000 to enlarge the Secretary of the Interior to protect and improve the Yellowstone National Park. Adjourned.

CHICAGO, 15.—The police have captured an extensive gang of railroad freight car robbers, whose depredations within two months have, it is believed, amounted to over $30,000. The gang, it is believed, have been the Lake Shore, the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, and the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific roads.

A large quantity of stolen goods were recovered. Tim Moore, a notorious crook, heads the gang. His plan was to rob the cars while on the ground, and to be in possession of being employees of the railroad.

FOREIGN.

European Notes.

LONDON, 15.—Miss Lowell is received with a marked cordiality, unparalled since Mr. Motley was here. He has received numerous calls and invitations from the best people in the city, and is expected to be at several great houses. He was obliged to be absent from Lady Granville's party on Monday, having been called to the city by the wife from Madrid. On Wednesday afternoon he had a formal interview with Lord Salisbury at his house in Arlington Street. In the evening he attended the carriage of letters and on Thursday afternoon he had an audience with the Queen at Buckingham Palace.

An unexpected attempt was made yesterday to haul the steamer Montana off the rocks.

The position of the Montana is unchanged. The receding tides lessen the chances of the vessel. Steam tugs and lighters are getting out the cargo.

Later—The steamer's taffrail is covered at high water, and a large part of the cargo, including all the meat and live stock, is saved. A salvage proceeding vessel lies heavily on the rocks which are under her rollers.

The election campaign is already in full swing. The House is nearly empty; members are hurrying to their constituencies and the session is possible, except temporary measures. Numerous addresses were issued, but candidates are covered at high water, and a large number of candidates in the field for the 732 seats. The Liberals, though surprised at the suddenness of the dissolution are fairly ready and far better organized than at the last election.

Lord Derby writes that he will in future rank himself among the Liberals.

Lord Harrington, in an address repels the charge made by Beaconsfield, that the Liberals are endeavoring to separate the colonies from England by a policy of decomposition.

Information has been received of a rupture between France and Madagascar, in consequence of a misunderstanding between the French Consul and the government. The Consul has hauled down his flag and appeals to his government for support.

Dixon's Colliery, near Glasgow, Scotland, is on fire from explosion. One thousand men are thrown out of employment. One death.

The Golden publishes an unusually outspoken article urging reforms as the most deadly weapon against sedition and anarchy.

The Journal de St. Petersburg says: The very day on which the French Cabinet refused to give up Hartmann to the Russian army, the Russian Cabinet refused to give up Hartmann to the French army.

Two officials of the Russian embassy in Paris are expected to-day with documents explaining the refusal to extradite Hartmann.

The Russian government will be guarded in its further conduct by the interests of the Russian people.

Cape Town, 15.—A committee of the leaders of the Boer party have decided to adjourn their meeting to the 17th inst.

Transvaal. Affairs in the Transvaal are critical in consequence of the determination of the Cape Government to insist upon the disarmament of the natives.

Cable, 15.—The general aspect of affairs is hopeful. No hostile attisweeping and breaking the banks of the Mississippi River. It is the duty of Christians to inquire as to the probable result of the absorption by American people of this immigration from Europe and Asia. It is a fact that these immigrants had, for the most part, and lack of religious and moral training, and upon which the support of the people depended. These immigrants brought with them a wild, ungovernable temper, present various conditions tending to the wreck of nations. We can overcome their poverty, bring them to a comparative order, and we can overcome their ignorance because our schools and our institutions will soon remedy that.

To be Honorable Settled.

SAN FRANCISCO, 15.—A conference of great importance in its bearing upon the present condition of affairs in this city was held in the mayor's office this afternoon, between Mayor Kalkreuth, representing the city, and the representatives of prominent citizens, bankers, merchants, etc., on the part of the Citizens' Protective Union. The conference lasted from 1 o'clock until 3:45, and was very harmonious and satisfactory. The whole situation and the events of the last few weeks were reviewed and discussed. At present various conditions tending to the wreck of nations. We can overcome their poverty, bring them to a comparative order, and we can overcome their ignorance because our schools and our institutions will soon remedy that.

Falling into a Fortune.

The most singular manner of being struck with a fortune in prospecting that we ever heard of occurred at Spring Lake, on Sunday last. Mr. Snow, late of San Francisco, now prospecting in this vicinity for other parties, was out on a hunt with Dr. Drake, of San Francisco. They were returning home, it being stormy, when Snow, who was riding a horse along the shore, was suddenly seized by a companion. Snow's horse had slipped on the bluff, and down he went at an angle of 45 degrees, horse and rider. He was gripped firmly in his hand, rolling over and over in the snow, until he brought up against a mass of stone standing out of the snow, its top covered with moss. He was not hurt, as the cold, soft cushion had saved his bones from the hard ground beneath. Struggling up against the rock, he noticed that it was quartz, and when the horse had been kicked off the moss, something glittered. His eyes "bugged" out, but he did not stop to brush them off. His hands were too busy clawing off the moss. Darkness coming on, he had only time to break off a few specimens, which are filled with pure ore. One small piece exhibited in London, to the satisfaction of the quarters gold. Tons of it are apparently still awaiting its owner. Snow says that the vein is about 30 feet thick, and his impulsive generosity has given away a few shares soon after his arrival. He told us that he "would not look at $25,000 for his interest." It is without doubt the richest mass of quartz ever discovered in this country, except the Divoll bonanza, recently opened here in Sonora. Of course, he told us to keep it out of the paper, but the caution we find to be getting more numerous. Mr. Snow is very well known in San Francisco as an actor of merit and a gentleman well deserving the good fortune he has "bugged" off. Some men are born rich, others have riches thrust upon them, but Mr. Snow has defied through all and snowed his way to riches. He is a man of such a kind that would make old Rothschild's keen eyes turn green with envy.—Sonora (Zuclumme Co.) Independent, February 10.

A Gentleman.

"I beg your pardon," and with a smile and a touch of his hat, Harry Edmond handed to an old man, against whom he had accidentally stumbled, the cane which he had knocked from his hand. "I beg your pardon," and with a smile and a touch of his hat, Harry Edmond handed to an old man, against whom he had accidentally stumbled, the cane which he had knocked from his hand. "I beg your pardon," and with a smile and a touch of his hat, Harry Edmond handed to an old man, against whom he had accidentally stumbled, the cane which he had knocked from his hand.

"Not a bit," said the old man cheerily. "Boys will be boys, and it's best they should be. You didn't hurt me."

"I'm glad to hear it," and lifting his hat he bowed and turned to join the playmates with whom he had been frolicking at the time of the accident.

"What did you raise your hat to that fellow for?" asked his companion, Charley Gray. "He's only Giles, the huckster."

"That makes no difference," said Harry. "The question is not whether he is a gentleman, but whether I am one."
